INSIDE OF RUSSIA BY JOSEPH STALIN

NEW YORK—[All in capital letters]

BY GEORGE TUCKER

Up until Thanksgiving, John Williams, the music critic of this paper, said: "You don't know a man until you hear him conduct." There are some people who say that the same is true of a man's wife. However, since the Thanksgiving dinner, it has become evident that Mrs. Williams has been a pronounced political leader for some time.

The Williams' had invited some relatives to dinner, and the conversation turned to the question of Russia. Mrs. Williams, after a thoughtful pause, said: "You know, we've been reading a lot about Russia lately. It seems to be a fascinating country, full of interesting history and culture."

Mr. Williams, who has always been interested in politics, replied: "Exactly. And it's also a country that has been through a lot of changes in recent years."

Mrs. Williams continued: "Yes, and I think it's important for us to understand what's happening there."

Mr. Williams agreed: "I completely agree. It's important for us to be informed about the world around us."

The conversation continued in this manner for some time, with both the Williams' expressing their thoughts on the subject. The evening ended with a discussion about the future of Russia and its role in the world. The Williams' are known for their informed and insightful conversations, and this particular evening was no exception.

Garcia knocked Ward down three times in the bout, all in the seventh round, and scored a 10-count to win the decision.

The Garden series is sponsored by the New York Athletic Club and is the first of 10 doubleheaders in the Garden series.

Hawkeyes Start Week With Limber-Up Drill

Hawkeye coach Fritz Crisler, who is preparing his team for the Big Ten tournament, planned to take advantage of the week's break in games to have a sectional meet today in place of a regular game.

Crisler said the meet would be an important one in the team's quest for the national championship.

The Hawkeyes are scheduled to play Maryland tomorrow night, and Crisler said the team would have a chance to work on its weaknesses and improve its strengths.
