It's a relief to know that The newspapers are giving the answer you asked for. It prevented us from making the best use of our talent, and that is not something we are willing to do. We have a plan to produce a good cooking show, and we are really looking forward to it. We hope you will enjoy it.

The only hint of a story among the candidates and their campaigns is the revelation on July 16 at Iowa City that the Sioux City White House himself was responsible for the resignation of Government. The President has now resigned, and the government is now in his hands. However, it is understood that the President declared a state of national emergency, and that he did not want to see it happen.

The incident occurred in the White House, where the President ordered a state of emergency. The President declared that the country was in danger, and that he would not allow it to continue. He ordered the troops to be brought in, and the government to be run by the administration.

But he's a sailing man. And if he should ever decide to leave this country, he will take his best man with him. The President is a sailor, and he is not afraid to take risks. He is ready to go whenever he chooses, and he will not be held back by anything.

It's very clear that the President is ready to go. He has ordered the troops to be brought in, and he has declared a state of emergency. He is not afraid to take risks, and he will not be held back by anything.

The only thing that is not clear is how far he will go. He has declared a state of emergency, and he has ordered the troops to be brought in. He is not afraid to take risks, and he will not be held back by anything.

The President has ordered the troops to be brought in, and he has declared a state of emergency. He is not afraid to take risks, and he will not be held back by anything.

Victory of Season

Ray Blasser, Cleveland, Sept. 16—Cincinnati Manager Yetton put the fourth American League flag close to the Baker Bandit by dispatching the Tribe to a 3-2 defeat with a six-hitter today. The Browns, who had a three-game lead over the Indians, sponsored an all-star team to split a doubleheader with the Tribe. The Tribe, behind Bob Loder, won the first game by a 13-10 decision. The Indians, with Jimmy Rowson on the mound, won the second contest by a 9-3 margin. The Indians' loss should open the door for the Ex-Cis to get near the Indians in the American League.

Judge J. P. Gaffney Will Proceed Over Johnson County Court

Seven grand jurors for the September term of District Court in Johnson County were chosen yesterday by Judge J. P. Gaffney, president of the District Court in Johnson County. The grand jury will begin its sessions Monday.

A panel of five grand jurors was presented to Judge Gaffney in the courthouse at 9:30 a.m. The list included two members each from the districts of West, Center, and East, and one member from the District of South. The panel was selected by the five grand jurors from a list of 14 names submitted to them by the county attorney.

The panel was sworn in by Judge Gaffney, and the grand jury was then adjourned until Monday.
