Mr. Willkie and the Egg
We’re heard of meat throwing in political campaigns before, but never before one on an egg. S. P. Bennett gave it a try the other day. It is reported that Mr. Bennett was the only one to take part in the egg throwing. It is a curious way to advertise a candidate. But it is better than the old “throwing the bails” method.

The conditions under which the egg was reported are not so good. We are unable to determine, therefore, whether Bennett had a gaffe or whether he had the egg boiled or not.

Some of the reports say that we have an egg on an egg that was set upon a table for the President’s benefit. We are not sure if it is the same egg or not.

The egg is said to have been placed on a table for the President’s benefit. We are not sure if it is the same egg or not.

It was not the first time an egg has been thrown at a political candidate. In fact, it is a precedent of sorts, as set upon that occasion.

Again, the problem is one of personal taste to which we’re becoming cautious these days.

The President is on the job. They’ve warned that great care is necessary in handling such things (an egg’s delicate nature), and we are led to wonder what kind of sense Commissioner Harriet Elliot of the Post Office Department is on the job. They’ve warned that great care is necessary in handling such things (an egg’s delicate nature), and we are led to wonder what kind of sense Commissioner Harriet Elliot of the Post Office Department is on the job. They’ve warned that great care is necessary in handling such things (an egg’s delicate nature).

What she did do was to place a sign on the wall of the Post Office Department, which read: "Caution: All eggs handled with care."

But perhaps it’s big enough to hold a small, living world.

"Twelfth" football games in Iowa City.

The band is expected to total 150 in its final roll, and will march in Tuesday night, right at each, arranging the "double-barrier" band, 'in corps by every college and school in the nation bands throughout the field.

The new idea of having two "fronts" on the band allows more flexibility and saves away with the combined corps and some weeks of training of the whole performance.

The band has brought the crowds in their best and last years, while Iowa's first men were entertained twice this past month.

For variety, a large number of unusual properties will be used during the football season. In keeping with the spirit of the game, all properties that the front will be used and will be superior.

Adding Professor Righter will be Arnold J. Oebesdorfer, former director of bands at Wabash College, Terre Haute, this fall. Oebesdorfer is the assistant director of the Iowa University band, the only band in the nation to have two part-time assistant directors. Bands personnel at the University of Illinois and Stanford-Wilson of Minneapolis are invited.

Grinnell was granted B.A. and M.A. degrees from Northwestern University, where he was an assistant professor in Iowa City.

For the past four years he has been teaching music and band activities in the land of which is yours from Iowa, bands which played for the one of the Texas oilmen.

HAWKS PREP FOR 1940 GRID SEASON

Badgers Still Hoping For Good Season

Studholme's Squad Plans to Make Up FOR 1939 Deficiency

Only 48 players reported to Coach Harry Studholme at Winter quarter's end, the Studholme contingent of the Badger gridning the Badgers for two years.

Two years ago, the Badgers were rated the fourth in the Ten, leading a few condemned clubs toward the bottom. This year, they have been promoted to the third, their highest standing in the Ten.

In 1940, Eddie Anderson's second year as Iowa coach, the Hawkeys meet the better of the nation's grid teams. It is hoped that this and the pages that follow will give a clearer picture of the coming season.

The University of Iowa has been a storing ground for athletes of the first order since the institution was established in 1859. With little financial support, the early athletes of the early years struggled. They played against each other in six games each fall until it was time to return to the school and take up their studies.

One of the players looking forward to the season is Iowa left tackle Bill Diehl. He will also be one of the leaders in the huddle, where he is expected to be the best blocker in the line.

With 16 lettermen from last year's championship team back, it is expected to be another winning season for the Coyotes. Wayne promises to be back for another year, and his presence will be felt in the huddle. There are several returning starters, including quarterback Roy Kessler, who is expected to lead the team to victory.

The left tackle spot is up in the air, but the offensive line will be solid with Chuck Colgan and Chet South Dakota. Colgan will be at guard, while North Dakota in at center. The right tackle spot will be filled by Wayne Wernli, who is expected to be one of the best linemen in the conference.

The left halfback spot is up in the air, but Jim Wernli is expected to be a strong contender. He will be joined by Ted Johnson, who alternated at halfback last year. Both backs have shown great promise in practice, and it is expected that they will be a valuable addition to the team.

Football Fortunes for Minnesota Again Depend on Power

Sonny Franck, Bruce Smith Top Backfield

Ends, Quarterback are Only Positions To Provide Problems

Improvement over the 1939 record—4 wins—will come on with Coach Bernie Bierman content. A few gains in the lineup made the difference buoyant in the coaching staff, and the University of Minnesota gridiron mentor, the former Notre Dame man, will be the principal reason for the University of Minnesota team's improved record in 1940. The most potent player of this team is the line.

The Bierman system of training under the impression made by Bernie Bierman is quite popular with the players. The University of Minnesota squad of better than 30 men includes three sophomores, two juniors, five seniors, and three freshmen. The line, however, is the backbone of this team.

Strong Attacking Team

In the Minnesota squad, 1939, a strong attacking line was not a problem. The line propelled the 1939 Minnesota team to a record of 7-0-0. The University of Minnesota squad of 1940, however, will be a stronger team, but the line will be the weak spot.

Bruce Smith, Sophomore Halfback

Bill Bauman, Sophomore Halfback

Bob Smith, who will be one of the University of Minnesota squad's most important men, in the opinion of Coach Bierman, is a hard-running back. He was in the lineup a year ago and was the University of Minnesota's leading rusher, an average of 7.5 yards per game. Bob Smith, who was all-region last year at Notre Dame, and at Notre Dame in 1939, was named to the All-American team. Bob Smith, who was All-State and All-South at Notre Dame last year, is a fine place-kicker, and will be the University of Minnesota's leading rusher.

Franck Can Run

Franck, a 5'11½, 175-pound, halfback, is a very fast runner and a very strong runner. He was in the lineup a year ago and was the University of Minnesota's leading rusher, an average of 7.5 yards per game. Franck is a 9.7 flyer, and the University of Minnesota's leading rusher.

Bierman will have no line problem this season, and the University of Minnesota's leading rusher will be one of the most important men on the squad. Franck will be the University of Minnesota's leading rusher, an average of 7.5 yards per game. The University of Minnesota's leading rusher will be one of the most important men on the squad. Radio Station WSUI to Inaugurate New Programs This Fall

Writing to Be Discussed On Air Waves

Faculty Members Will Readings On Varied Subjects

With power increased five times, with new and improved transmitting and receiving equipment, with a greater scope of new programs, and with the addition of a new staff of talented announcers, the first six months of the new station WSUI was a popular and welcome addition to the air waves.

Now new stations on a shorter wavelength of 560 meters are at 360 watts of radiation. All programs will air through the use of magnetic recording and be broadcast to all parts of the city. They are broadcast through the use of the new broadcasting equipment, which was installed in late June and which will be a valuable addition to the station's activities.

Many new features are being inaugurated on the station this fall, which will be made available for the station's regular listeners.

Outstanding among the new features is the "Writing to Be Heard" section, which will be read by faculty members on the station in an attempt to introduce their students to the joy of writing.

Every student who has a literary interest will be encouraged to participate. All students are welcome to submit their writings for possible broadcast.

The program will be broadcast at least once a week, usually on Friday nights, and will feature readings by faculty members.

Professor C. W. Hunt, director of the English department, "The English department looks forward to the new feature on the station. It is a great opportunity for students to share their work with others and to develop their writing skills."

University Theater Gains Nationwide Fame

Students Eager for Theatrical Knowledge Congratulated for S.U.I. Training

Noteworthy Walter Hageman and Bernard Fischbein of the University of Iowa will be the stars of the new program on the station. They will be featured in a special series of radio programs that will be broadcast on the station.

The programs will consist of interviews with prominent members of the theater world, including directors, actors, and playwrights.

"The programs will be an excellent way for students to learn about the theater and to gain a deeper understanding of the art," said Professor C. W. Hunt.
