Fate of Reorganized French Government in Balance as—

Hitler's Envoy Goes to Vichy

The British government had decided to make an effort to obtain a new armistice with the German-controlled Vichy France. The decision was made following a meeting between Foreign Secretary C J Swazey and Hitler in London. The British government hoped that the new armistice would secure the release of British prisoners of war and prevent further German advances in the Mediterranean. However, the French authorities were not forthcoming and the negotiations were unsuccessful. Despite this, the British government remained committed to the policy of non-aggression and continued to seek a peaceful solution to the conflict.

Washington, Dec. 16 (AP)—The British government, it was revealed last night, had made a formal request of the United States government to supply Britain with gold and securities for the purchase of additional U.S. government bonds. The British government had no intention of seeking a loan from the United States government, but was seeking to obtain a larger share of gold and securities for the purchase of U.S. government bonds. The United States government had already agreed to supply Britain with a large share of gold and securities, but the British government wanted to obtain a larger share of these assets.

Lanny Breslau, children's book author, has written a new story about the life of Abraham Lincoln. The book is titled "A Man About MANHATTAN" and is set during the time when Lincoln was a young lawyer in New York City.

The Anti-Freeze Solution Was Unfortunately Anti-Freeze

New York—Lanny Breslau, who has been writing children's books for over 20 years, has released his latest work, a novel about the life of Abraham Lincoln. The book is titled "A Man About MANHATTAN" and is set during the time when Lincoln was a young lawyer in New York City.

The story follows Lincoln as he navigates the challenges of his legal career, including a court case in which he defends a man accused of murder. The trial is a disaster, and Lincoln is left despised and disfigured. However, he uses his experience to fuel his determination to become a great lawyer and eventually a great president.

Lincoln's legal career is not his only challenge. He is also struggling with his personal life, including a difficult marriage and the loss of a child. Despite these struggles, Lincoln perseveres and becomes one of the most influential figures in American history.

The book is praised for its engaging narrative and its vivid portrayal of Lincoln's character. The author has done extensive research to ensure the accuracy of the historical details, and the result is a compelling and thought-provoking read.

The book is available now and is being hailed as a must-read for fans of children's literature and history. It is recommended for ages 10 and up.

Volunteers May Fill Local County Quota

Local Draft Board Must Supply 77 Men To Nation by June 30

It was virtually assured yesterday that volunteers would not fill the Johnson county quota for the general selective service, and if not, the local draft board must supply them.

Volunteers may fill the quota, but one must be sure that they come up to the standards laid down by the Army. The volunteers would be subject to the same inspections as men drafted from the county.

It was explained further that the local draft board had been informed that the quota would have to be filled by June 30, which in turn, means that the men must be turned in for induction as early as possible.

City Damages Mount to Hundreds of Dollars Following Storm

Still lacking in the grip of winter, the city was basking in the warmth of a sunny day yesterday. The weather was beautiful but the city was hit with a storm that caused thousands of dollars in damage.

The storm started yesterday night and caused the city to lose power for several hours. The loss of power caused the city to lose money in the form of lost business and a decrease in property values.

Key to the puzzle of the storm is the fact that the city was not prepared for such an event. The city has not had a plan in place for such a storm and as a result, the city was caught off guard.

Local Group Asks Embargo On Japanese

In a gesture last night to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, 200 residents of the Iowa City area signed a letter asking for an embargo on Japanese merchandise.

The letter was sent to the Secretary of State with the request that he take action to prevent the importation of Japanese goods into the United States.

The letter was signed by a group of residents who are concerned about the Japanese invasion of China and the threat it poses to the United States.
