King Names Kotzias To Form New Cabinet

ATHENS, April 19 (AP)—King George of Greece named Konstantinos Kotzias, former military governor of Athens, to form a new government today. He was the candidate for Premier against the duke after the sudden death of Premier Alexandros Zettas last night.

Kotzias, who served as governor of Thessalia from early March until the German occupation, was expected to present a new cabinet list this morning, it was reported by the agency.

Kotzias addressed a radio message to the Greek nation to stand firm as an example to the "excellent Greek troops who have borne the sword for six months and who continue with the same heroism under the most difficult conditions to fight in an ascended battle," he said. He pledged to the "courageous Greek people" that his government would continue in the war.

British-Greek Lines Hold Germans Back

New Entrenchments Said to Have Held

ATHENS, April 19 (AP)—A short-lived, solid British-Greek defensive line in the Argos-Patras region was strengthened today. The British, according to the London Times, had succeeded in building the line with the assistance of Greek laborers. The Germans were reported to have sustained heavy losses.

The Greek troops in the Argos-Patras region were reported to have held their positions for several days, according to the London Times. The British, however, were said to have been reinforced by Greek laborers, who were said to have been giving them valuable assistance.

Two Plus Two Is Seven!

By Paul Mallon

A clarification of the trends in the wars in Europe, from the point of view of the Bulletin, is given in this issue. The Bulletin is a German magazine that is known for its anti-Semitic and pro-Nazi content. The magazine is published in Germany and is read by a significant portion of the German-speaking population.

The first paragraph is in English, which is unusual for a German magazine. It may be that the magazine is being translated for an English-speaking audience or that the text is being extracted from a different source. The second paragraph is in German, which is more typical for the magazine.

The text is written in a way that is typical of the Bulletin, with a focus on anti-Semitism and German nationalism.

The text is difficult to understand without additional context, as it contains many references to specific events and figures that are not well-known to non-German speakers. It is also written in a style that is characteristic of the Bulletin, with a strong emphasis on propaganda and rhetoric.

Overall, the content of the text is not suitable for casual reading, as it requires a deep understanding of the political and historical context in which it was written. It is likely that the text was intended for a specific audience, such as German-speaking readers who support Nazi ideology.
