Come next Saturday, 6, and the football headlines will turn to Madison, Wisconsin, for their first conference game battle of the year. Against the Northwestern Wildcats, the Badgers will be fighting for a clean sweep of their home games. It’s the same old story, but this year it’s a little bit different. The Badgers have lost only three times—and twice was by the huge margin of a combined 60 points. The third loss was a 33-20 defeat to the third-ranked team in the Big Nine, Notre Dame.

Only in 1934 were the Badgers a factor in the championship race, and no way Notre Dame will sit out a game this season. The team has played in seven consecutive conference tournaments and has finished in the top two three times—and twice has been by a big margin of victory.

Sanitary Check ‘Commendable’

But Infractions Are Found in Some Places

A sanitary check of 74 city restaurants, taverns and drugstores conducted by City Health Officer Robert Hoyt and Health Inspector Charles J. Opstad, revealed a commendable overall grade.

However, in one “infestation” of a building and in some places the health officers believed “sufficient action” should have been taken.

There is no place where we found a single violation of the law, perhaps some carelessness, was noted.

Partial phase of the inspection will not be revealed for reasons that it might give the unscrupulous a chance to make some improvements in the city that handle food, especially prepared food, will be thoroughly examined. Improvements and suggestions will be made.

A list refusing all day will also be compiled for the health officers, who will visit the places at irregular intervals, make further visits as warranted.
