Yankees Win Series, Beat Bums, 5-2

Joe Page's Relief Pitching Throttles Dodgers for Crown

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)--Spectacular relief pitching by left-handed Joe Page set up a 5-2 final score as the New York Yankees rumbl- ed to another World Series championship last night. The triumph was the Yankees' 27th in the major leagues.

It was the first time in the World Series' history that a team used a left-handed pitcher to win all the games of the series.

Page, who was the relief star of the game, came in to bat in the seventh inning, after the first two innings for the Dodgers. His single through the legs of second baseman Bill Skowron was the only hit the Indians batted against Page.

Page's first hit was a single in the seventh inning. His second hit was a double in the ninth. He also scored a run.

The 7-1 loss was the first time the Dodgers have been shut out in the World Series.

The Dodgers had 10 hits, the Indians 11.

Page's relief appearance was the first time a left-hander has ever held the Dodgers to a scoreless inning in the World Series.

The game was over in the first inning, after the Yankees scored four runs. The Dodgers scored one run in the ninth.

Page, who had been scheduled to start tomorrow, was called to the mound in the seventh inning to replace reliever Johnny Lindgren, who gave up a double to pinch hitter Frank Thomas.

Page, who has been called the greatest relief pitcher in baseball, was named the series' most valuable player.

The game was played in front of a capacity crowd of 53,000 at Ebbets Field.

The Yankees had the edge in hitting, scoring, and fielding.

Page pitched for 7 2/3 innings, allowing only one hit and no runs. He struck out three batters and walked one.

The Indians' only hit was a single by Enos Slaughter in the first inning.

Howard writer,

I showed Lee's public relations manager, Ruark, the charges against Lee on unverifiably prompting General Dwight D. Eisenhower to investigate. He would apply as soon as he heard the unburied evidence to force General Eisenhower successfully investigated any charges brought against me.

Iowa City Can Help
President Truman's appeal to the nation Sunday night to ensure that the voluntary food sales programs certainly deserves the whole-hearted support of the nation's people. The need for food shipments to Europe is urgent and the necessity of shipping as much as possible to Europe during the autumn months is of the utmost importance.

The President apparently has made the decision that adequate funds be supplied to enable the voluntary program to carry on effectively. That decision will prove to be correct.

There is some evidence to the contrary; "voluntary" programs have a habit of drifting when the need is not clearly defined and it is not clearly seen that the President's appeal reflects the will of the people.

The need to ship as much food as possible to Europe during the autumn months is of the utmost importance.

Fears Marshall Plan a Waste

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said the Marshall Plan is a "waste of time," adding that the United States should use its military power to prop up its allies.

He said American business would be better off if the United States concentrated on rebuilding its own economy rather than spending money on a European recovery program.

Ellender said he was concerned about the growing socialist trend in Europe and believed that American companies should be encouraged to invest in the United States rather than in Europe.

Ellender is a member of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, which has jurisdiction over the Marshall Plan.

Ellender said the Marshall Plan was a "waste of time" and that the United States should use its military power to prop up its allies.

The Marshall Plan, which was created by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1947, is a program that provides economic assistance to countries rebuilding after World War II.
