Darkness, Rain Stop Search For Plane Carrying Refugees

ORIO, NORWAY (UPI) -- Rains and darkness halted the search for survivors of the North German-owned "Hotel Victoria," which crashed on a remote mountain and left 30 people dead and 1,600 others aboard.

The Canadian search leader in the region said there was no indication of survivors.

Four nations help

Norwegian authorities said the plane had crashed on a mountain near the border with Sweden, Denmark and The United States.

Four nations were involved in the search, including Norway and Sweden. The United States and Canada said they would send help to find the 1,600 people who were believed dead.

Five passengers were rescued but the plane's communications system failed immediately after takeoff.

Judge City's Faults Of Captain, Owners

IN TRAGIC SHIP FIRE

OTTAWA, ONT. (AP) -- Justice Frederick MacEachen has ruled that the owners of the "Canadian Flyer" are not liable for damages caused by the captain of the ship.

The judge said that although the captain was negligent in allowing the ship to proceed in rough seas, the owners were not responsible for the accident.

Coast guard on call

There was no indication of a coast guard on call during the accident, although there were reports of both the ship and crew.

Pilots, crew get help

The crew was able to communicate with the coast guard by radio and were given instructions on how to proceed.

Press conference

A press conference was held on the ground where the "Canadian Flyer" was moored.

U.S. urges nations to ask ward's release

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The United States Monday asked 30 nations, including Soviet Russia, to bring pressure on the United Nations to release Ward A. Ford, the Canadian station wagon owner who was arrested in China.

The request followed a statement by the United States that it would not release any persons held by the Chinese as political prisoners.

Court rejects Eisler appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The court Monday rejected the request of Robert Eisler, a New York Times editor, to have his conviction reversed.

Eisler was convicted of libel in a case that involved the publication of an article accusing a former U.S. government official of being a spy.

UN Free's Libya

With 48-1 Vote

Assembly's Decision Effective by 1952; Somaliland Set to Follow in 1960

FLUSHING, N.Y. (AP) -- The United Nations general assembly Monday adopted a resolution clearing the way for U.N. observers to travel to Libya to observe the presidential elections.

The vote, which was 48-1, reversed the previous year's 22-11 vote against the resolution.

The vote was held on the recommendation of the United Nations, which has been monitoring the situation in Libya.

One Solution, But --

On the reading of the An I'la, Croatia, out, medical profession. It has now reached the stage where the medical profession is no longer willing to accept the treatment to the lower hierarchy without requiring it to assume certain responsibilities.

The plan was elaborately described in a current article in the "Wheat Farming Club" and the "Good Farming for Small Farms".

The plan, which was recently put into effect in a number of counties, is being carried out in several states. It is a device which is not only a benefit to the medical profession but is also a step toward the constructive solution of the medical problem.

The county medical association, composed of "two good doctors" and "two good farmers," is a device which does not have to be "sold" to the medical profession.

Much of the resounding "I'm going to quit" is the picture of a doctor for the sake of the profession. If anyone wants to know the true story of the medical profession, he is bound to be shocked by the fact that he has to look to a man he does not know for this information.

The result is, not an upheaval but a return to the past. The medical profession is now as firmly established as ever.

The medical profession is not only the greatest of the arts, but it has also been an essential part of our educational system. The medical profession has had a part in the development of the arts and sciences.

Perhaps a combination (conspicuous or private set-up) is the answer to the medical profession's anxiety. The county medical association is a step toward the proper organization of the medical profession. It is likely to be a success.

NEW YORK (AP)—California has taken over the job of fading Notre Dame in the Associated Press football poll. The next-to-last edition of the season finds Notre Dame still out of the top 25, while California is headed for the polls, which means it is easily the best school in the country.

California moved into 1st place with 88 points after taking 3-1 Notre Dame. The Hawkeyes were labelled as the second-best school in the country, with 81 points, for the first time in their history. The third-best school is Texas, which received 76 points. Oregon and Southern California are tied for fourth place, with 71 points each.

The Associated Press poll is made up of 38 members, each of whom selects the 10 best schools in the country. The points are then added up to determine the ranking of the schools. The top 25 schools are then announced in the Associated Press football poll, which is published on Sunday.

The Associated Press poll is considered the most prestigious of the polls, and is used by many coaches and team management as a guide in determining who is the best school in the country. The poll is also used by many fans and media outlets as a guide in determining who is the best school in the country.

The Associated Press poll is not the only poll used to determine who is the best school in the country. The United Press International poll, the Daily Telegraph poll, the Inter-Mountain poll, and the United Press poll are all used, but the Associated Press poll is considered the most prestigious.
SUI Law Student 'In Stitches' Over 'Stop the Music' Prize

Here's a pre-Thanksgiving gift for you. If you were an SUI law student living in student center housing conditions, would you do with an old sewing machine you had in the corner?

That's the question facing Dick Musay, U. Iowa, who was called Sunday night on the nationwide NBC program "Stop the Music." He identified the preliminary segment which he thought was a commercial for sewing machines and everyone else I've asked said they didn't know what you would do.

Not Sure

"We can't come to that conclusion who was blasting the song and who was doing the talking, but I think we're about to be told what's going to happen here," Musay said.

I could see my future in the small black box in front of me, the NBC announcer saying, "For the benefit of our listeners who are not familiar with the rules of the game, let me explain that the student who identifies the record correctly wins the entire collection of sewing machines, sewing machine cabinets, and other prizes.

"They played the record and the piano and I was about to win the whole thing, but it was a tie," said Musay, "so we had to go to a tiebreaker round which we didn't even know existed until we saw it."
