How You Can Better Enjoy Christmas

To Miss Jane Hoba, IA., Ought, we said in our "Many Thanks"
While the rest of us plotted our Thanksgiving Weld, rerif, and trip. Miss Hoba was thinking along a less selfish line.
She was planning a trip of fifty miles in Ought, her hometown, but she was quite afraid of the arctic weather. These were students representing 17 foreign countries. Each was a potential guest with the comfort of home. From After their four-day holiday at Ought, we see that these students are better equipped with a better American Miss Hoba was happy to report that she enforced these students to think of the comforts of home when they left. The question of how much Christmas can be enjoyed in Ought was raised.

At the time of year, with Christmas less than three weeks off, many of us get what is referred to as the "Christmas Fret."
It causes people to start spending money. And sometimes it is pretty rough trying to balance the budget—especially when you work in a small town.
There will be the trip home and maybe parties. It all costs money.

The real key to Christmas is the realization that there is another Christmas just ahead.

That is how you can enjoy Christmas.

Stop, Look, Listen—and Think

The next time you find yourself confronted by a situation, try to analyze it. It may prove to be a helpful lesson in surgery.
Truly medical people are called to the scene of a situation. They are to bring back the sick and dead. It is true that on an extraordinary occasion such as the last one, with great excitement and with the people who are there, they may not be able to solve the problem. But, the next time we find ourselves in a similar situation, do we get a crying situation—especially larger number of traffic deaths.

From an Authority—

TO THE EDITOR:

After reading the December 4 letter, I would like to offer a few thoughts. I believe that the issue of censorship and freedom of speech is a crucial one. If we fail to recognize the importance of free speech, we risk losing our liberty. The Public Interest has always been a key component of American society. It is to the Public Interest that we must look for guidance.

Good View—

TO THE EDITOR:

I am very glad that Mr. President is firm in his resolve to preserve our freedoms. The recent events in Europe have highlighted the importance of these freedoms. We must be wary of those who would try to剥夺 them.
