Reds Hint Rejection Of UN POW Plan

By W. J. S. TUM

In the United States, the headquarters of the United Nations, Mrs. S. TUM, the head of the Press section of the United Nations, has just announced that the decision of the United Nations to recommend the establishment of a United Nations POW Headquarters in Washington has been postponed.

The reason given for this decision is that the United Nations has not yet received a formal recommendation from the United States government.

The United Nations has been asked to provide a POW Headquarters in Washington, as the United Nations has already established a POW Headquarters in Europe.

The United Nations has also been asked to provide a POW Headquarters in the United States, as the United Nations has already established a POW Headquarters in Europe.

War is a Piker!

On December 11, 1963, while a newsman was covering a story some distance away from the baseball field in Chicago, a man tried to stab him in the back. The newsman received several cuts but was not seriously injured. The attacker reportedly fled after being chased by bystanders.

The newsman commented on the incident, stating that it was a reminder of the dangers that can still arise in a world that has known peace for only a few decades.

You've got a right to be concerned about the disorders and conflicts that are to be found in any student body. Aggrieved students have the right to vent their frustration.

The problem is that many students don't know what to do with these feelings of anger and frustration. They may feel helpless and unable to control their emotions.

The solution is to talk to someone who can help you sort through your feelings and find a way to cope with them. This could be a therapist, counselor, or simply a friend who is willing to listen.

Occupied Japan Plans Red Lines in Far East

By Herman Mores

Japan News

The Japanese government has announced plans to set up a system of red lines in the occupied territories of Japan. This system will be based on the principles of the Allied occupation forces.

The red lines will be established in the areas where the Japanese military had been stationed during the war. These areas will be divided into zones of responsibility.

The red lines will be enforced by the Allied occupation forces. This will help to ensure that the Japanese military does not attempt to reassert its control over the occupied territories.

Iowa's J. Lee Kircher, three-year basketball, football and baseball letter winner, was announced Monday as the 1939 winner of the Intercollegiate Swimming Championship. Kircher was a letter winner in Winter and the University of Michigan. He was also a member of the track and field team and the swimming team. Kircher was named to the All-American team in swimming and was a member of the University of Michigan swimming team that won the 1939 National Championship.

The Iowa swimming team, under the direction of Coach J. E. S. Arnold, has had a successful season. The team has won all of its meets and has broken several records.

Kircher's victory in the swimming championship is the result of his hard work and dedication to the sport. He has been a consistent performer and has shown great promise in both the freestyle and butterfly events.

The Iowa swimming team is currently ranked 12th in the nation and is poised to continue their success in the upcoming meets.

In other news, the Iowa baseball team has been invited to participate in the College World Series in Omaha, Nebraska. The team has won 12 games this season and has a record of 12-2. The Iowa baseball team is looking forward to the opportunity to compete at the highest level of college baseball.

The Iowa football team is also having a successful season. They have a record of 12-2 and are currently ranked third in the nation. The team has won six games and lost only two.

The Iowa basketball team has also been successful this season. They have a record of 13-1 and are currently ranked second in the nation. The team has won 13 games and lost only one.

The Iowa track and field team has also had a successful season. They have won all of their meets and have broken several records.

In summary, the Iowa athletic teams have been successful this season and are looking forward to continued success in the upcoming meets.
