Church Speakers Discuss New Bible

The Rev. Elmer E. Dierske, SCI, President Virgil M. Staufacker, C.S.C., and Father Paul F. Markert, S.J., spoke yesterday at the University of Notre Dame on a variety of topics related to the recent improvements to the New American Bible. The presentation was made in the University Center and was followed by a question-and-answer session.

New Bible Revision Is Easier to Understand, Theologian Says

The most important aspect of the revision is its simplicity, which can be easily understood by the layman, said Father Staufacker. The new translation, he said, is not merely a word-for-word translation, but a paraphrase of the original text. The aim of the revision is to make the Bible more accessible to a broader audience.

U.S. Plan: Three-Power Strategy

The U.S. government has drafted a new strategy for dealing with the Soviet Union. The plan, which is expected to be presented to Congress next week, calls for a three-power strategy that would include economic sanctions, military preparedness, and diplomatic efforts.

Ike Rips Truman Group

In 3d Southern Vote Bid

President Eisenhower has launched a campaign against the Truman administration in the Southern states. The President has been particularly critical of the Truman administration's handling of the Korean War, and has promised a more aggressive approach to the conflict.

FBI: Secret File

The FBI has opened a new investigation into the activities of the Communist Party in the United States. The agency is expected to release a report on its findings in the near future.

Writer Marquis Childs

To Open Lecture Series

Marquis Childs, author and playwright, will be the first speaker in the University's new lecture series. The series, which is sponsored by the University's Department of English, will feature a variety of prominent writers and scholars.

World News Briefs

A Condensation of Late Developments

WASHINGTON -- The American administration today announced that the United Nations will be asked to authorize sanctions against the Soviet Union. The announcement was made by Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a press conference.

United Nations: The Sanctions

The UN Security Council will be asked to authorize a range of sanctions against the Soviet Union, including economic embargoes and military restrictions. The sanctions are intended to punish the Soviet Union for its support of terrorism and its violations of international law.

Soviet Graduates Accounting

A group of Soviet graduates, who have recently completed their studies at a university in Moscow, have written an open letter to President Eisenhower. The students have expressed their support for the U.S. military effort in Vietnam and their belief that the war is necessary to protect the democratic way of life in the United States.

You have the right to know what your representatives in government are doing with your money.

You have the right to know what policies they are adhering to in their efforts to run the affairs of your city, county, state and nation for the best interests of the public.

You are the public. You know that democracy will not continue to exist if public understanding is so shallow that the public favor the unwise use or the arbitrary use of power by the most trusted servants of government.

People and government officials have tried to control the news. They have tried to channel information sources of fear to the public because they wish to hide something from the public.

Probably at no time in our history has the vital role the press plays in the American form of government become more clear. Responsibilities of the Fourth Estate have increased. The press serves both the government and the public.

The United States has no government-controlled newspapers. Neither does the Constitution make any provision for the press. Nevertheless, high-powered information offices in government agencies have tried to channel news and some of the information that is released to press. Access to information is a great problem here in America.

The press is ever so keen on satisfying its readers. It will go to any extent, no matter how great, to attract the public attention. It is not at all uncommon to find much news in newspapers about local events, although the significance of such events may be quite minor.

It is therefore not surprising to find that the press tries to conceal as much news as possible. For instance, it is quite common to find news about government officials trying to hide something from the public.

SUI Professor Requests Data On New Meteor

A brilliant, orange-colored meteor was seen from Illinois to Grand Island, Neb., all in approximately 30 seconds, on Saturday, Sept. 27, according to information received by Prof. C. C. Wylie, of the SUI astronomy department.

The meteor is thought to have fallen somewhere in Nebraska. Wylie requests that any who saw the meteor write to the Astronomy department, giving the approximate time and direction in which the meteor ended. He says that the department is also interested in tracing whether any meteorites, following the disappearance of the meteor, fell to earth. (See:

\[\text{Journalism Office, Astronomy Department, SUI, Iowa City, Iowa.}\]

Within the past year the Department of Astronomy at SUI has received more than 100 reports of meteors by observers of meteors as far east as Chicago, Ill., as far west as Cordova, B.C., and as far south as S. Frant, Mexico, and Green Bay, Wis. The results of these reports will be published in a report coauthored by Wylie and Davis.

Magazine X Seeks Writers, Illustrators

Magazine X, SUI's campus magazine, is looking for student writers and cartoonists, for advertising, and for writers and artists interested in odd angles and outside events. No experience is necessary for most of the available positions. The first issue of the Magazine X will be published Oct. 7. The editor is calling Stevenson in the journalism office, N. 4, East Hall. Mountaineers To Open Year’s Activities With Travelogue Sunday

Movie Is 1st Of 18 Events On Schedule

After a summer interlude which included a trip to the northeastern states, 210 Iowa Mountaineers are preparing for their fall and winter season program and 18th annual travelogue series, to begin Sunday.

Eight events have been scheduled for this year's season—nine of them in October alone. The original schedule was announced in June.

The group will meet at 10 a.m. in the Iowa Union Ballroom. The first meeting will be held in the 1000-seat auditorium for a short business meeting, election of officers and a review of the club's activities to date. At the conclusion of the business meeting, the Mountaineers will travel by automobile to Sunnyvale, Calif., where they will have a dinner and a meeting in the Sunnyvale Community Club.

The trip to Sunnyvale is included in the cost of the trip and will be covered by a travelogue of the region. The Mountaineers will be housed at the Sunnyvale Inn.

Iowa’s Korean Veterans Use Educational Benefits

More than seven years after discharge, a new opportunity is open to the Korean veteran. Legislation enacted by the U.S. Congress will provide educational benefits to veterans of the Korean War. The provisions of the bill are as follows: Oct. 4 and 7, 1951.

The law provides that the veteran be eligible for benefits if he served on active duty for a period of at least 90 days, the last 30 days of which were spent in service in the Korean theater of operations. The veteran must also be a citizen of the United States and have been honorably discharged.

The benefits are available to veterans who served in the Korean theater of operations and who were discharged on or after Oct. 4, 1951.

The bill is a part of the GI Bill of Rights, which provides educational benefits to veterans of World War II. The benefits under the GI Bill of Rights are available to veterans who served in the Korean theater of operations and who were discharged on or after Oct. 4, 1951.

Hundreds of young through college who have been in the air since 1940. The plane was flying in a stormy sky when it was sighted on radar. The "saucer" turned out to be the crescent Moon, which was shining brightly in the sky. The plane was seen in the same light beside him in the same way the airplane and Jupiter combined. The"Radar" used its mirror to reflect the scene of the landscape, showing the same results as the saucer scene. The "sightings" have been reported in a college in Iowa. This was the first sighting of a "flying saucer" in the United States. The professor concluded that they are, in fact, a mirror of the landscape and the objects appearing to be "flying saucers" are in fact the reflection of the landscape.

Go-to-School Folkway Boosts Enrollments

By Central Press

The past three years have been a time of growth for American colleges. More students are enrolling in colleges than ever before. This growth is due to a variety of factors, including an increased emphasis on higher education, a greater awareness of the benefits of a college education, and a rise in the cost of living. The increased enrollment has led to a corresponding rise in the number of faculty members and staff, as well as an expansion of facilities. As a result, colleges are now able to offer a wider range of courses and programs than ever before. The result is a more diverse and dynamic educational environment for students.

WSB to Terminate Information, Advisory Service to Employers

Many small businesses in the six regional wage stabilization areas will lose the benefit of the labor information and advisory services of the Wages and Hours Division. The labor department has trained 200 workers to give the service, but the cost of employing them has been too high for many businesses to continue using the service. The division is expected to terminate the service in the near future.

As Year's Spare-Time Project

This is the greatest thing since airmail" says Barbara McMichael, A2, who with her friends is building an electric appliance store in Fairchild Street. The McMichael girls have planned a complete electrical appliance store, including electric stoves, washers, refrigerators, and air conditioners. The store will be ready for opening in the fall, and the McMichaels hope to have it ready for the first day of school.

Barbara McMichael, A2, says that she and her friends have been working on the project for several months. They have been studying the construction of electrical appliances and have been working on plans for the store. The store will be built in a small room in the basement of their house. The McMichael girls have been working on the project for several months, and they hope to have it ready for the first day of school.

Movable Type For Printing Was Key to Enriched Life

WASHINGTON (AP) - Estimates have been found in the late 15th century by the German printer Johannes Gutenberg. The method was known as the movable type process. He was able to get the type in the pages he printed and to print the first complete book in the world. The Gutenberg Bible was a monumental work in Latin. It contained 42 lines of type per page and was printed in the city of Mainz in Germany. It was produced by the firm of Gutenberg and his associates in six stages. The press was housed in a cell in the window of a building on the Rhine River. The Bible was finished in 1455. The earliest part of the Bible is now kept at the Benedictine Abbey of St. Gall in Switzerland. It is the largest and most complete manuscript of the Gutenberg Bible. Military Agencies Are Not Enthused Over Atom Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) - A top military official said today that "enlightened" troops - including those leading a special research group against atomic destruction - are not enthused with much enthusiasm" by military agencies. The source, Lt. Col. L. C. Bartlett, said he did not think much over atomic destruction will be "forever impossible." By keeping such control, he said, it is necessary for a new organization of experts to explain the facts of the problem of the new industrial evolution.

Europe's West German city is divided by the Iron Curtain, a wall that has been drawn. This is a result of the Cold War. The Berlin Wall was built to prevent refugees from escaping from the Eastern side and entering the Western side. The wall has been a symbol of division and conflict.

The Iron Curtain refers to the division between the Eastern and Western Hemispheres. It was established by the Soviet Union in 1945 to prevent the spread of Western ideas and politics. The curtain has been a symbol of division and conflict.

The Iron Curtain is a metaphor for the division between the capitalist and socialist economies. It was established by the Soviet Union in 1945 to prevent the spread of Western ideas and politics. The curtain has been a symbol of division and conflict.
