HAWK PICKED BY TOUCHDOWN

Iowa-Badger Game

Is Showdown Battle

State football fans will get their first crack at seeing two unbeaten Big Ten foes face each other Saturday when the Badgers visit Iowa City for their noon tilt.

As is the case with any major college football game, radio fans will have plenty of options. The 9:10 a.m. signal will emanate from WOC in Davenport, and 10:30 a.m. will be the time for WDCW in Des Moines. WOC and WDCW are broadcasting one-hour pre-game shows.

Quarterbacks, as expected, will be the stars of the game. Ponders await the showdown between two unbeaten Big Ten foes. The Hawkeyes own the longest current winning streak in Big Ten play. The Badgers operat...

of the fun. These calculations left only one guess between the floats. Laura Dickerson, director of Alpha Xi Delta, had the good fortune to draw the last float ticket in the raffle of the Alpha Xi Delta ticket was the highest. The last float ticket was the first to be sold and would be drawn at the dance tonight in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Linda Horner, director of Alpha Xi Delta, took the last float ticket in the raffle of the Alpha Xi Delta ticket was the highest. The last float ticket was the first to be sold and would be drawn at the dance tonight in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Governor planned to return to Iowa City today for the Iowa-Minnesota game. After the parade, the crowd gathered around the stadium to watch the game. Many people were watching the game, including former Iowa football players and fans who had come from all over the state. The Governor also planned to attend the game, and a large crowd had gathered to watch the game.

Hey, Want To Buy A Badge . . . ?

You COULDN'T ESCAPE being asked to buy a Homecoming Badge if you were in Iowa City's downtown streets for even a short time yesterday. Girls from the YWCA, Pi Kappa Alpha and Kappa Alpha Theta were among the many groups selling the badges. The "pink alert" launched Friday, 30, continued set up shop at the corner of Clinton and Iowa Ays, where they gave away all the cards. Our photographer did not report on whether she made a sale to the rather surprised-looking young man on the left.

ELECTRONICS, said Ann Further, Alpha Omicron Pi, "We can't sell a lot of these gadgets, but we're trying to sell them. The girls are selling them on the sidewalk, in the streets, and in the stores."

THE BLOWHEART FLOAT of last night's Homecoming parade was the one belonging to the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. This float, which was sans the blower, was used until the parade, then the blower were removed. The Phi Kappa Sigma float was titled "Blowing Over Minn."

 Favor Iowa: Pick Gophers Over Illinois

By JERRY LUKA

CHICAGO — One of the first impressive moments of this year's football season was Iowa's 17-14 upset of Michigan State, a game that saw the Hawkeyes salvaged enough money to make the trip to Chicago. But the game was only the beginning. The Hawkeyes later on won the Rose Bowl and the Big Ten Conference.

The story of Iowa's season is a testament to the power of underdogs. The Hawkeyes, under the leadership of Head Coach Bucky O'Connor, have shown that with hard work and determination, even the smallest programs can achieve great things.

Michigan State, on the other hand, was favored by many to win the game. However, the Hawkeyes surprised everyone with their tenacity and skill.

In the second half of the game, Iowa played a dominant defense, holding Michigan State to just 14 points. The Hawkeyes' offense also came to life, scoring 17 points and driving the ball deep into Michigan State's territory.

This victory was a turning point for the Hawkeyes, who went on to win the Big Ten Conference and earn a trip to the Rose Bowl. It was a moment of pride for Iowa and a reminder that anything can happen in the world of college football.

In conclusion, the story of Iowa's season is a testament to the power of underdogs. The Hawkeyes showed that with hard work and determination, even the smallest programs can achieve great things. This victory was a turning point for the Hawkeyes, who went on to win the Big Ten Conference and earn a trip to the Rose Bowl. Elizabeth Extends Reign Over Washington’s Heart

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain is set to extend her reign over Washington’s heart for three more years, according to plans announced today. The Queen is scheduled to return to the nation’s capital in 1987 for a state visit, making her the first British monarch to visit the United States since her husband, King George VI, in 1939.

The trip is expected to include stops in New York, Chicago, and Los Angeles, as well as a visit to the White House. The Queen’s itinerary will be announced in the fall, and she will be accompanied by Prince Philip. The visit is anticipated to generate significant media interest, with events planned to commemorate the 300th anniversary of the American Revolution.

“I’m very much looking forward to returning to the United States,” said Queen Elizabeth. “I always enjoy my visits here, and I’m particularly excited about the upcoming bicentennial celebrations.”

The Queen’s trip is expected to cost millions of dollars, with taxpayer-funded expenses covering travel, security, and entertainment. The U.S. government will provide a grand welcoming ceremony at the White House and host a state dinner at the Capitol.

The Queen’s visit will come at a time of increased international cooperation between the United States and the United Kingdom, with shared interests in trade, security, and cultural exchanges. The trip is also seen as an opportunity to strengthen the special relationship between the two nations.

“This is a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate the close ties between our two countries,” said President Johnson. “We look forward to welcoming Her Majesty and her husband to the United States.”

The Queen’s visit is expected to generate heavy media coverage, with live broadcasts from Washington, D.C., and interviews with American politicians and celebrities. Security arrangements are in place to ensure the Queen’s safety, with heavy security presence and strict regulations for media access.

The Queen’s trip is part of a larger schedule of events for 1987, which includes a state visit to Australia and New Zealand, and a tour of South America. The Queen’s upcoming engagements are anticipated to be announced in the fall, with details expected to be released in the winter.
