Regents OK Plan To Limit SUI Enrollment

Wild Weekend Goes Into Orbit

By JANIE HUBLY

Breakout today is probably just like any other morning—a quick cup of coffee and a dash to class. By lunchtime though, the SUI campus will be bustling with excitement marking the beginning of this year's Homecoming weekend.

All varieties of signs, banners and posters will be thrust out of windows and nailed on the front of dorms and fraternity and sorority houses.

The Stull Golf Club will be flaring into action as part of any prospective programs, knowing that making that last hourly effort will do a lot in their plans to win the championship. The golfers will be playing from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. today, hoping to keep enough time for hungry people at the event.

The Homecoming Parade will start at 2:30 p.m. The floats will be on the south side of campus. They include: "the cute gal" float, "the best overall float," "the best large float," "the best small float" and "the Stull Golf Club float." There will also be other special awards.

"We've been doing it long now," said at the rally Sunday, "and it's a real good opportunity for the students here and the band to show their stuff."

And, of course, many students will enjoy the jamboree itself, which will be conducted from 5 to 10 p.m. A number of activities will be planned, including a 7 p.m. dance, a 9 p.m. dance and a 10 p.m. dance. The jamboree will be held in the Old Capitol.

"If we encourage the students to try and participate, we will probably draw a decent crowd," said . "And who wouldn't love a little bit of work with a little bit of fun?"

Several groups will contribute to the event, including the SUI Students' Guild, the SUI Radio, SUI Television, the SUI Theatre Group and the SUI Band.

"We've been working hard on this," said , "and we're really excited about it."

The event will conclude with a fireworks display at 10 p.m. The fireworks will be shot by the SUI Band and will be visible from all over campus.

Dulles-Chiang Statement Reveals Little
U.S. and Nationalists Will
Tread Same Well-Worn Paths

By J. M. ROBERTS

The controversy marking the approach of the 30th anniversary of the Dulles-Chiang statement continues to attract as much attention as usually does, which is very little. The Dulles-Chiang statement itself contains just about as much meaning as the speech that usually does, which is very little. The Dulles-Chiang statement was made as a result of the desire to help the Nationalists win the Chinese war. Dulles, in a statement made in Washington last month, said that the United States would not support the Nationalists in any war that the Chinese would have to fight without the help of United States forces in the Far East.

The Nationalist party, which has long been the only one of the parties in China that has been strong enough to withstand Communism, has had a hard time winning elections.

Dulles Renounces Attacks On Reds

WASHINGTON — Secretary John Foster Dulles said Thursday the United States was "not going to back any unnecessary attacks against the Chinese Communities" in the Formosa Straits.

Dulles' statement, made in a joint appearance Friday on NBC radio and television, was made following Dulles' appearance in Washington while the announcement was being issued from the State Department.

"I and more,," he said.

... flying attack on Quemoy-Matsu islands near the mainland.

U.S. had an offensive plan.

... that there are no aggressive plans.

... the Formosa area.

... a monument issued at Taipei.

... the Chinese Communists.

... the United States would not put up with.

... to carry out the "sacred mission" of reducing the Chinese Army's 30 million people from Formosa.

... both the monument and the statement were intended.

... to save or destroy no one.

... Dulles and Chiang expressed belief that in the face of the military developments at Taipei and Washington, China and the Nationalists China were ready to bring the pressure to bear on the Red Chinese to maintain a united front.

... they appeared to be trying to ease American relations with the Red Chinese.

... by the Japanese.

... in the midst of.

... the people.

... in the city.

... with the Red Chinese to maintain a united front.

... seems to.

WASHINGTON — Rear Adm. Hyman Rickover, the experimental developer of the atomic-propelled submarine, has been promoted to vice admiral by Pres.-Eisenhower.

... to be effective.

... Rickover serves as head of the naval reactors branch of the Atomic Energy Commission.

... his name came up.

... been forced by the Naval Reactors Board of the Atomic Energy Commission.

... had been retired over six weeks ago.

... of the Navy.

... Adm. Hyman Rickover, the navy's chief nuclear reactor specialist, had been forced by the Naval Reactors Board of the Atomic Energy Commission.

... the Reds.

... of the President.

... to help you.

Saturday's Game

With Northwestern Saturday has been a tradition. When I was a boy and we lived in Winfield, the people used to get all excited about it. I can see the towelling cloth you used to have. Saturday was your day and you put the puzzling of new clothes, the cutting of the hair and the apple eating and Friday night was the one time you got to travel. You usually went into town the night before and bought your clothes. If you were going to the game, you usually went to town on the train that ran on the 31st and the 21st. You left the boys home and the Hawks have won three.

Both teams stand in the top five of the Big Ten, the Northwestern—out State (Iowa) conference standings. Maybe Ohio State, Michigan and Indiana are better, but it's tough to beat the Hawks.

Who would have dreamed a year ago that Northwestern would be one of the Big Ten teams? They were blown out 49-6 by the Big Ten two years ago. But here they are, with a 7-1 record and the title of the conference is theirs to lose. The Hawks will have a good day.

OSU To Nip Wisconsin; Iowa, Michigan Favored

The college football rankings in each major college football poll last week had Iowa ranked seventh of the Big Ten teams. The Hawkeyes have won three of their last four contests with the only loss coming against Indiana.

No matter how you look at it, the team is in good form, but many Hawkeyes are having second thoughts. Maybe Ohio State, Michigan and Indiana are better, but it's tough to beat the Hawks.

We had a good day.

The victory will be at least a perfect score of 21 to 8 over the Wisconsin hogs. Iowa will have a good day.

Vatican City Prepares
For Election Of New Pope

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The梵蒂冈 will soon see candidates for the papacy, it was announced today.

The State Department said V. L. Johnson, assistant to the United States ambassador to the Vatican, had been named papal representative for the United States.

The State Department spokesman said he will be evacuated by the American Legation in Rome after the 24-hour period ended.

The papal representative was evacuated by a force of the American Embassy in Rome.

The papal representative was not named, but was expected to be the second American representative for the papacy.

Homesteaders Found In
Pecos High School

A group of 10 students, including two freshmen, two sophomores, and two juniors, was found on the campus of the Pecos High School.

They were discovered by a teacher who had been helping with an experiment in the science laboratory.

The students, who were in the science laboratory when they were discovered, were found to be engaged in an experiment with a new substance.

The students were taken to the principal's office where they were questioned about the experiment.

The principal said the experiment was part of a science project that the students had been working on for several weeks.

The students said they had been experimenting with the substance to see if it could be used as a new form of energy.

The principal said he was impressed with the students' interest in science and their willingness to take risks in their experiments.

The students said they had been working on the experiment for several weeks and had made many discoveries about the substance.

They said they were excited to share their findings with the rest of the science community and hoped to publish their work in a major science journal.

The principal said he was proud of the students' enthusiasm and willingness to pursue their interests in science.

He said he hoped to see more students interested in science and encouraged the students to continue their work.

The students said they were grateful for the principal's support and were excited to continue their work on the experiment.

They said they hoped to have more discoveries to share with the science community in the future.

The principal said he was looking forward to seeing the students' work and was confident that they would make significant contributions to the field of science.

He said he was proud of the students' commitment to science and their willingness to take risks in their experiments.

SUI Band
To Feature
Percussions

The SUI marching band will add a new sound to the traditional cornet and trumpet fanfare at the Iowa-Michigan game Saturday. Performing the band's percussion section, the show is entitled "Fantasy in Warning."

Under the baton of Band Director Frederick E. Holder, and Thomas L. Davis, assistant director, the SUI marching musicians will create maneuvers to the Sound Box orchestrations of "Figaro," "Turandot," and "La Traviata," among others. The show will be sponsored by the SUI Alumni Association.

Party To Honor
Foreign Students

International students, faculty members, and exchange visitors of University Hospitals will be on hand to show hospitality at 8 p.m., in the SUI Fraternity House, sponsored by the Iowa City Women's Club. The celebration will be furnished, and curts will feature the pages' current students and faculty members who have been received by residence in this country. Mrs. Virgil Capron will be the master of ceremonies.

The Western dinner will be followed by music and dancing. Music will be furnished by University Band, Dr. C. R. Revel and Mrs. Virgil Capron will call the square dancing. Students from Iowa City and Saudi Arabia have been especially urged to attend.

Parade Will Feature Over 65 Units

Today's homecoming parade will feature 65 units and more than 700 students. The parade, which will begin at 2 p.m., will proceed along the west side of the campus, passing迹 the student center, the library, and the administration building. The parade will conclude at the stadium, where a reception will be held for parade participants and spectators.

Plans For Handling Parade Traffic Set

For those attending the parade, it will be necessary to leave your vehicles at the stadium or in designated parking areas. Traffic will be directed by police officers and volunteers. The parade will proceed from the student center to the stadium, with the parade floats leading the way.

In addition to the parade, there will be a Homecoming Pep Rally scheduled for 1:30 p.m. in the student center. The pep rally will feature music, dance performances, and speeches by student leaders. Following the pep rally, there will be a homecoming dance scheduled for 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Costs Stay Constant; Factory Workers' Income Up

WASHINGTON — Living costs in September were virtually unchanged from July, according to new reports, but prices for some materials hit all-time highs.

The Consumer Price Index rose 0.2 percent, the highest increase in September in 10 years. It was the first gain in the index since June, when it fell 0.1 percent.

The rise was due to a sharp increase in the price of natural gas, which rose 6.5 percent in September, compared with a 0.2 percent gain in August.

The index for all urban consumers rose 0.2 percent, the sharpest increase since April, when it rose 0.4 percent.
