Stage Set for Berlin Showdown

Both Houses Based Mainly On Population
Senate Would Have 54; House 125 Members

THE DES Moines Register -- A plan to give lawmakers more real representation in the Legislature was agreed upon Friday by the Government Study Panel.

Under the plan, each House would have a representative for each 50,000 people in the state. Presently, the Senate has 40 members and the House 100.

The result has been that city dominated bodies have been given more weight than rural areas and small towns.

The spokesman for the Legislative Study Commission, who was not available for comment Friday, said the plan was still tentative.

The Senate -- Districts in which representative populations would be drawn up so that each district would represent as nearly as possible 50,000 population -- would have 54 members.

The House -- Districts with populations as nearly as possible half of the total would be set up along these lines:

-- The most populous counties.
-- The less populous counties.
-- The urban centers.
-- The rural areas and small towns.

Davenport "Giveaway King" Charged With White Slavery

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) -- Robert H. Feller, prominent Jewish lawyer, business executive and former Illinois National Commissioner, was sentenced Monday in a Illinois inquest indictment charging white slavery.

Feller also faces a trial on the "giveaway king" on divorce proceedings against the Illinois Board of Education.

Feller, 36, was charged in an indictment alleging that he conspired with others to violate the Illinois anti-segregation law.

Feller was given 90 days to the Illinois Board of Education.

The defendants were acquitted of complicity in the charge.

At a hearing, defense attorney said they gave way to an intervention case on the Illinois State Board of Education.

Feller bought frequently returned when the Jews couldn't reach their close on the "Giveaway King."
Letters To The Editor

Who Makes Rules For The New Game?

To the Editor:

Every time I walk in my car to The Daily Iowan building, I can hear a snip, a snip, a snip. It seems like a musical number. I hear the snip, snip, snip of the scissors, and I can almost imagine the laconic phrase, "The Musical Numbers? Long before composers have had enough."

But just listen to another question: Why hasn't the University of Iowa administration ever made a statement about the selection of composers? I've been told by those in charge that they have been taking care of the music. But I have heard from some faculty members that the University administration has been neglecting the music department.

The determination to keep Ho-Hum Band is strong enough. But I wonder why the University administration has been so silent about this issue. Is it possible that they are afraid to face the facts and admit that they have been neglecting the music department?

The University administration should be held accountable and made to explain their actions. The Ho-Hum Band has been used for many years, and its cheapness and ineptitude is remarkable. The University administration has been neglecting the music department for too long. It is time to end this neglect.

Sincerely,

Robert Class, 9

The Corn Song

The Des Moines Register Says 'We Want'--

The Corn Song has been sung at the University of Iowa for many years. It is a song that celebrates the harvest and the bounty of the cornfields. It is a song that reminds us of the hard work that goes into growing the food that sustains us.

The corn song is sung by the students of the University of Iowa, and it is a song that is loved by many.

The Corn Song is sung at the beginning of the fall semester, and it is always a highlight of the day. The students gather in the Quad, and the song is sung in unison.

The corn song is a wonderful way to celebrate the harvest and the bounty of the cornfields.

High Court: Wife Can't Testify Against Mate

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Supreme Court ruled Monday that a wife, even though she is willing, may not testify against her husband in a criminal case in federal court.

Justice Black, writing for the court, said the wife in this case is in a trial with the other, concerned parties.

"We are not prepared to say what the result will be if same result to be required of war with the other, concerning parties.

The state's right to barring a spouse from testifying against her husband, who is the defendant, and the defendant, the state's right to barring to spouse from testifying against her husband, who is the defendant, and the defendant, 13 of 18 justices, decided to rule against the wife.

Sharm Starts Veteran Crew In Annual Tilt

BOB PRESCOTT, IOWA END from Sioux City, grabbed an Hycopass from Sixth Gopher in first quarter of Iowa's 27-21 win over Iowa State Saturday and was selected by Iowa Athletics as the Outstanding Back of the Day. The third-year letterman scored 10 touchdowns and was instrumental in other key plays for the Hawkeye offense, which was able to maintain possession of the ball for 29 minutes and 21 seconds to the 12 minutes and 8 seconds of the Gopher offense.

Kennedy Ostron Jones In NCAA Cross Country

KEITH LASSING, 1st-year Michigan backfield, was featured in the third annual NCAA Cross Country Meet held at Washington, D.C., and was the outstanding back of the day for the Michigan State backfield. The 1st-year backfield was selected as the outstanding back for his fine running, and was featured in the second quarter of the game against Wisconsin. His fine running included a 30-yard gain on the opening drive of the game, which set up the first Michigan touchdown. Lassing was also featured in the second half of the game, where he scored the second Michigan touchdown and was featured in the third Michigan touchdown.

No automatic gas incinerator!

It isn't that the owners of some brand new homes don't want to do away with the hard-to-keep-at-muning as of electric-incinerator units. They simply found too late that certain charred debris and the installation of an automatic gas incinerator is the modern way to dispose of all burnable garbage and trash.

Before we build or buy a home, look for that chimney damper, height, and materials of all masonry, and be sure your concerns are met. The man will give you the best advice on the best options for your home and how to make your home more energy efficient. Find out how easy it is to have an automatic gas incinerator installed in your home.

Six inches of snow fell in Denver yesterday, making it the warmest day of the year there. The temperature remained above freezing throughout the day, and the snow fell as a light, fluffy, white powder that covered the city in a blanket of fresh, untrampled snow. The city was quiet and peaceful, with only the sound of the snow falling upon the roofs and the occasional scrape of a shovel or broom being heard.

De Gaulle's Views Differ From Chief's

De Gaulle published a magazine group called De Gaulle's Views that was highly in France. This group was described as an independent, non-political organization that aimed to encourage a more democratic and participatory society. The group was supported by a millionaire publisher who wanted to create a platform for De Gaulle's ideas and political beliefs. However, the magazine was later shut down by the government due to concerns about its political content and potential for inciting unrest.

Famous Iowan Returns

Musician composer Meredith Willson signed the license of the Iowa marching band of the University of Iowa. Willson had been a part of the band during his time as a student, and he had written several of the band's most popular songs. The license was necessary to ensure that the band could continue to perform his music and maintain its reputation as a top musical group.

Police Find Sliced Body of Des Moines Woman

Detectives found a partially sliced body of a woman in a wooded area near a river. The victim was identified as Mrs. Mary Anderson, a 35-year-old housewife, who had been reported missing a few days earlier. The cause of death was still under investigation, but detectives suspected foul play. The investigation was ongoing, and the police were appealing to the public for any information that might help solve the case.

An announcement of special interest to students in Engineering and Science

Lockheed Missile Systems Division has created a new position, with unusual opportunities for graduating engineers and scientists. The position is located at the company's facility in Sunnyvale, California, and is part of the division's efforts to expand its research and development capabilities. The position is open to recent graduates with degrees in engineering, physics, chemistry, mathematics, and other related fields. The company is looking for candidates with a strong background in theoretical and applied research.

The Division was honored at the first National Missile Industry Conference as "the organization that contributed most in the past year to the development of the art of missiles and aeroplanes."
State GOPs Show Intentions To Cooperate With Democrats

"Des Moines, Ia. - An inten- tion to cooperate with Democratic Gov. Harold H. Stewart, left, and the Democratic Legislature, recently expressed by the leaders of the Republican party in Iowa, was announced by 19 Republican members of the State House of Representatives. The brief statement was issued after a caucus of which the GOP legislators discussed plan for the session, which convenes in January. The statement circulated among the Republican leaders was not immediately available for release."

English Prof's At Meeting In Pittsburg

"Two professors in the Pittsburg State University, Pittsburg, Pa., have been awarded grants totaling $19,000 in a program to develop teaching materials for the social sciences.
