Chinese Up India
Border Incursions

NEW DELHI, July 16--A force of nearly 500 armed Red Chinese troops launched a five-hour incursion into Indian territory on the border between the two nations, a government spokesman said yesterday.

The troops, who were reportedly armed with rifles and machine guns, entered a small river valley near Machilipatnam, a border town of 10,000 people, near the town of Baroda in the northwestern Indian state of Gujarat.

The Chinese action was said to have been brought about by a border dispute over a river that separates the two countries. According to reports, the Chinese had been occupying the area for several days before the incident.

In the Indian capital, New Delhi, a spokesman for the Ministry of External Affairs said the Chinese had crossed the border without giving any prior warning.

The spokesman appealed to the Chinese to withdraw their troops and restore peace along the border. He added that the Indian government would take all necessary steps to ensure the safety of its citizens in the area.

The incursion was the latest in a series of border clashes between India and China. In recent months, both countries have been engaged in a tense stand-off over a long-disputed area along their border.

In response to the Chinese incursion, India has deployed additional troops to the border area. The Indian government has also warned that it would not tolerate any further aggression from the Chinese side.

Ike, Macmillan Discuss Peace, Summit Tactics

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan met at the White House on Monday to discuss the possibility of a summit meeting between the two leaders.

The meeting was reportedly held in an effort to prevent a possible armed conflict between the two nations, which have been embroiled in a border dispute for several months.

During the talks, the two leaders agreed to work towards a peaceful resolution of the conflict.

The meeting also included discussions on a range of other topics, including trade, security, and international cooperation.

Nixon Favours Ike's Red Toss Ball

To the American people, Nixon has been a consistent and strong supporter of the American military, and has often been criticized for his hard-line stance on foreign policy.

In recent weeks, he has been seen as a possibility for the Republican nomination in the 1960 presidential election.

School Integration Gradually Cleared Into Deep South

Schools in several southern states have begun to integrate, following a series of legal challenges and judicial orders.

In Alabama, the Supreme Court ruled in favor of integration in Montgomery County, paving the way for the implementation of a federal court order.

In Mississippi, the state has agreed to desegregate schools, and a federal judge has ordered the state to do so.

In Louisiana, the courts have ordered the state to provide equal educational opportunities for all students, regardless of race.

Reported Revolt Against Mao's Agrarian System

In recent weeks, there have been reports of a potential revolt against Mao's agrarian system in China.

While the government has not officially commented on the reports, there are signs that the Chinese government may be facing challenges in implementing its policies.

The government has faced criticism for its policies, which have been characterized by strict controls on the economy and the suppression of dissent.

Media reports suggest that there may be growing discontent among the Chinese population, particularly in rural areas.

Nixon in India

President Nixon is expected to visit India later this month, as part of his tour of Asia.

The visit is seen as an opportunity for the two leaders to discuss a range of bilateral issues, including trade, security, and regional cooperation.

Negotiators Work For Contract To Avoid Meat-Packing Strike

CHICAGO — Negotiators bugged Monday night to form a contract for the 1964-65 marketing year, a pact that would end a two-day old rail strike by 6,000 packing plant workers. WASHINGTON — The world's nations are facing the same problem of living standards, a report said Tuesday.

The men are working in a world of their own making. They have the capacity to create the future, but it is not within their power to design a world that will never be.

A prime time statement during the weekend said, "We don't want a strike. However, we are ready for such action if we cannot reach a settlement that is satisfactory to both sides."

PITTSBURGH — What would you do if you were told you would soon become the richest woman in the world? Mrs. Helen D. Stewart of Pittsburgh, a 43-year-old cancer sufferer, was told she was going to become a rich woman and she was told she was going to become a rich woman and she did not tell anyone about it.

The estate of J. Henry Pitcairn, Jr., a former Westinghouse executive, was divided among seven beneficiaries, including his wife and five children, and one of them was Mrs. Stewart.

Problems At Quarterback, Guard--
Evy: 2nd Division Likely

By JOHN MATTHEWS
Sports Editor

Pittsburgh has a succession of quarterbacks and guards and a lack of depth in the backfield and midfield that the fans are finding both a constant curiosity and a bit of frustration, particularly if you look at the losses to come over the next few games.

On the quarterback situation Evy said, "Our line is as good as the Haws and -- and -- as good as our guards. It's just our problems at quarterback, our strength at quarterback. We should have good backs or guards, and 11 of our seniors are back. That's 80.478 leader in homers and runs batted in with 38 and 122, respectively.
