Ford-UAW Reach Agreement

Three-Year Contract Approved

As Bargaining Units Still Must Resolve Local Strike Issues

DETROIT (AP) -- Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers union agreed Wednesday night on a three-year bargaining contract after a two-month nationwide strike involving 350,000 workers.

The contract, which was worked out by a joint bargaining committee, will be presented to the Ford National Council of Workers Thursday night in Detroit. It is expected to be ratified by the workers in a vote expected Friday.

"Both sides are pleased to have worked out a mutually acceptable agreement," said union President Jack C. Salmon.

"We believe this agreement represents the best interests of both workers and management," said Ford President Robert L. Young.

The agreement includes a 5 percent pay increase for the first year, a 3 1/2 percent increase in the second year and a 5 percent increase in the third year.

The contract also includes provisions for annual wage increases depending on the rate of inflation.

Morgan, Schantz Appointed To Two New CSL Positions

The United States Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee on Wednesday appointed two new members to the Civil Service Commission.

Merrill E. Morgan, a member of the committee, and John F. Schantz, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, have been appointed to the two new positions on the commission.

"I believe these appointments will strengthen the commission and I congratulate both of these appointees," said Senator George W. Smathers, chairman of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare.

"I am particularly pleased that Mr. Morgan and Mr. Schantz have been selected to serve on the commission because of their knowledge of civil service matters and their dedication to the public interest."

The appointments were made by the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, which has authority to make such appointments.

The appointments will take effect immediately and will be subject to confirmation by the Senate.

UN Censures South Africa for Speech

The United Nations General Assembly on Wednesday censured South Africa for a speech delivered by South African Prime Minister John Vorster.

"We deplore the use of the word 'genocide' in a speech by Mr. Vorster," said United Nations Secretary-General U Thant.

"We believe that the use of such language is inconsistent with the purposes and principles of the United Nations."

Thant said the assembly had "unanimously condemned the use of the word 'genocide' in a speech by Mr. Vorster."

OSSA Director To Address Constitutional Assembly

Dr. J. H. K. Shearer, director of the Office of Strategic Services, will address the Constituent Assembly on Monday.

"I am pleased to announce that Dr. Shearer will address the Constituent Assembly on Monday," said President Kennedy.

"He is an experienced and knowledgeable official who has served with distinction in the Office of Strategic Services."

The Constituent Assembly is scheduled to meet Monday to consider the draft constitution for the new United States.

Kennedy said the adviser would be responsible for the "military and political aspects of the situation."
Conformity Isn’t Bad

Most of the cuttings of modern art produced by and for those who consider themselves “conformist artists” actually have to represent such a degree of conformity that they are accepted automatically. The President, for Dr. Lester Langman, editor of the art department of the University of California and former director of the SUT art department, has made it very difficult. All the same, in terms of living room, in modern literature and in modern art, there is a revival of interest in the conformist. This is not to say that all conformist artists are living in any kind of isolation. College students, weighing to be different from the norm, are looking to the conformist for help, and conformist artists have a certain amount of influence on college students, who are beginning to see that they are not alone in their search for something different. The trend is likely to continue.

New Berlin Pact Shouldn’t Alter German Unification

By ROCKET DUMBOURGH

Washington — The thaw of a Berlin settlement, which has ended at the line of fire with a period of uneasy calm, has had considerable influence on the course of German unification. The thaw is in the interest of ensuring that the Berlin settlement will not, in the future, be an endless source of conflict between Berlin and the rest of Germany.

These are the questions which have been raised by the Berlin settlement. While a thaw has ended at the line of fire, and it seems likely that a thaw will last from Berlin to the rest of Germany, this is not to say that Berlin will be a source of conflict with the rest of Germany. Berlin will continue to be a source of conflict between the two German states for a considerable time.

I BELIEVE THAT the United States Government should be in favor of continuing the Berlin settlement. It could not be a good idea to have the Berlin settlement be an endless source of conflict between Berlin and the rest of Germany. Berlin will continue to be a source of conflict between the two German states for a considerable time.

Syria Launches Plan To Unite Arab World

The Syrian government has launched a plan to unite the Arab world under the leadership of President Al-Assad. The plan, which was announced on Wednesday, aims to create a regional bloc that would include all Arab countries.

The plan includes the establishment of a council of Arab leaders and the creation of a common market. The council would be based in Damascus and would be composed of representatives from all Arab countries.

President Al-Assad said that the plan is necessary to ensure the stability and security of the region. He added that the plan is consistent with the principles of Arab unity and is based on the principles of non-interference and mutual respect.

The plan has been welcomed by some Arab leaders, who see it as a step towards a united Arab front. However, other leaders have expressed concerns about the plan, particularly regarding the role of Syria in the region.

The plan is expected to be discussed at a summit of Arab leaders in Damascus later this year.

Kennedy Will Send Taylor To Bolster South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy announced today that he would send General Maxwell Taylor to South Viet Nam as a special envoy to assist the government there. General Taylor, who is currently serving as the President's special envoy to South Viet Nam, will go to the region immediately.

The President said that General Taylor would work closely with the government of South Viet Nam to help strengthen its defenses against the North Viet Nam forces. The President added that General Taylor would also work with the United Nations and other international organizations to help ensure the stability of the region.

The move comes as the situation in South Viet Nam continues to deteriorate, with the North Viet Nam forces making significant gains.

General Taylor was formerly the Chief of Staff of the United States Army and has extensive experience in military operations.

Kennedy said that General Taylor would be able to provide valuable advice and assistance to the government of South Viet Nam. He added that General Taylor's experience and expertise would be crucial in helping to stabilize the region.

The move is expected to be welcomed by many in the international community, who see it as a step towards a more coordinated approach to the situation in South Viet Nam.

Bob Schefling Named A.L. Manager of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Schefling, who led the Detroit Tigers to a surprising second place finish in his first season as manager, was named the circuit’s Manager of the Year for 1961 Wednesday by the Baseball Writers Association Press poll.

Schefling received 14 votes in the balloting by 14 members of the sports writers association that votes for the annual player awards. The top vote getter was New York’s Casey Stengel, who received 41 votes.

Schefling, 44, had his Tigers win 75 games to finish second in the American League, a 14-game improvement over their 1960 record of 61 victories.

The Tigers, selected in his second place finish, won 15 games against the Baltimore Orioles and 13 against the New York Yankees, both teams from the best league in the American League.

LITTLE ones are BIG reasons for owning an automatic gas clothes dryer

Here's why mother saves money, time and energy when she dries clothes... the carelessness way in an automatic gas clothes dryer. Babies and growing children actually need fewer clothes. No matter what the weather, gas clothes dryers will have children's clothes dry and ready to wear or folded away. Clothes can be dried "just right" for trimming, too, in a gas dryer.

Mother has more time to be with her children. With a gas dryer, she saves the time it takes to carry up to 25 lbs. of wet clothes and the extra folding and sorting to hang them outside. That leaves a lot of energy to do more of the things the children want her to do.

So take that drying chore away from your weekly and enjoy your children more. All this clothes-drying convenience costs just pennies a load, dependable, economical too.

Communists Stop Traffic At Berlin Border Checkpoint

BERLIN — The Communists stepped up their activities at a Berlin border checkpoint on New Year’s Day from early this morning until at least 11:30 a.m., when an explosion occurred at the checkpoint. The explosion, caused by dynamite, was described by police as the worst ever at the checkpoint.

The explosion occurred at 11:30 a.m., when a large explosion was heard. Police said the explosion was caused by dynamite placed in a car at the checkpoint.

Police said the explosion was the result of a planned attack by the Communists, who have been active in the area for some time.

The attack was carried out by a group of about 20 people, who had been planning to attack the checkpoint for some time. The group was led by a man named Lubke, who has been active in the Communist Party for several years.

The attack was carried out using a car, which was driven to the checkpoint and stopped. The group then set off a dynamite charge, causing a large explosion.

The explosion caused widespread destruction, and several people were injured. The attack was carried out by a group of about 20 people, who had been planning to attack the checkpoint for some time.
