India, China Haggles Over Tense Border

NEW DELHI — India and Red China arrived on the threshold of a new war on Monday night in a dispute spanning 13 days over the tiny town of Chhusang, high in the Himalayas.

The dispute began over the construction by India of a road that would cut across Chinese territory. It flared into a full-scale war on March 21, when Chinese troops attacked Indian positions, killing 35 Indian soldiers and capturing 11.

India, which claims that the road was begun by itself, said it was resumed after Chinese troops were withdrawn from the area. China said it was resumed without the consent of Chinese officials. The situation is now extremely tense, according to diplomatic sources.

JFK Says U.S. Ready for Cuban-Red Threats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is ready for any possible action that might threaten its national security, President Kennedy said yesterday.

In a speech at the State Department, Kennedy told reporters that the United States was prepared to take any steps necessary to protect its own security.

Kennedy also said that the United States would not be drawn into any new conflict unless it was necessary to do so. He added that the United States would not take any steps that would risk the lives of American soldiers.

Kennedy's remarks came in response to recent reports that the Soviet Union was building a nuclear missile base on Cuba. The reports have raised concerns about a possible threat to American security.

Some fresh facts and figures, an attuned sense of where the arrows of destiny are pointing, and a cool-headed approach to the problems of the day are the chief contributions of the University's '99.
Georgia Primary Winner Spurns Use of Racial Issues

ATLANTA, Ga. — Victory in the Georgia primary in March was just the beginning for州 Senator Sam Nunn. But the challenge that lies ahead is a major one: how to use his new political clout to influence national policy on race. Nunn's campaign and his words since the primary reflect a philosophy that blends the liberal and pragmatic approaches of the two parties.

The Georgia senator's departure from his former running mate,
former Rep. John Taylor, is not without its cost. The two campaigns, which ran largely
concurrently,
might have shared key endorsements
and financial resources.

Nunn's victory
in March
reflects a national
trend,
as other
Democrats
also have won primaries
in recent months.

Nunn's strategy
is to build
coalitions

parties
and regions
to support
legislation
that addresses
issues related to race.
