On Giving Birth
To a Crippled Baby

The PASSING of the Sibley Reproductive Plan in the Iowa House of Representatives Wednesday was as inevitable as nightfall, but nonetheless we still hopelessly depended upon the story.

The House's 77-58 vote in favor of the bill completes legislative work on the proposal. Under specifications in the Iowa Constitution the Sibley Plan now goes to the people for a referendum and a decision is expected on Dec. 3.

In debate on the measure the present section of the Legislature who has been vitally involved. Several favors have added to the plan in the form of financial contributions, eggs, cattle and chickens as more in kind from a long list of people.

It is IRONICAL that the author of the plan, State Senator David Shaff (D-Chicago), an XUL liberal arts and the reader should be preserving the measure.

In a speech last week in September he labeled his proposal, "The most important legislation for reproductive rights in the last 30 or 40 years."

If so, he seems sincerely concerned in protecting legitimate interests in population control, but superficially his efforts have not been successful. The controversy over the plan itself is a reminder that the issue of reproductive freedom and rights is still important and should be considered further.

By this token, the House acted prudently in passing the Sibley Plan, a potentially beneficial measure that could help to address important public health issues. However, it is crucial that we continue to have open and informed conversations about reproductive rights and the various ways in which they can be promoted and protected.
News Strikers Voted Added Funds by ITU

NEW YORK (UPI) - New York publishers will not change their policy of publishing the Daily Iowan, the University of Iowa's daily paper, under the threat of a strike by the students. The students voted to accept an offer of $5,000 in added funds by the International Typographical Union (ITU), which represents Daily Iowan staff members. The union had threatened to strike after the students rejected an offer of $7,500 in added funds. The students will now negotiate with the union to come to an agreement on a new contract.

Iowa Wrestlers Open Home Season Tonight

Grapplers Under McCuskey Among Greatest in Country

BY BILL PERHOL

Red Sports Editor

Iowa's Wrestling Season - a rather ordinary title, but it means all the championship stuff. Coach Ed McCuskey has his best team in years.

After leading Iowa State Teachers College in Waterloo to a Midwest championship in 1956, McCuskey accepted the call from Iowa in 1957 and in six years of his tenure Iowa has matched the Hawkeyes as strong wresting powers in the nation. McCuskey closed out the "golden era" of 1956 wrestling in 1956 for leading the team to a second place finish in the NCAA. His teams in the previous years had won the national crown twice in 1926, finished second in 1927, and stood third in three years.

The McCuskey wrestlers are also the NCAA champions for 1957. McCuskey has turned out ten NCAA champions by winning in 1957, 1958 and 1959.

Among Greatest Wrestlers in Iowa History...Steve Schilling (112), a 23-year-old 112-pounder from Newton, is a boy from Newton and the coach explained, "Dave was selected to serve as the coach explained, "no man can fill the description of being a great wrestler."

McCuskey in his first home meet of the season at 7:40 tonight will enter the University's "golden era" of wrestling against a strong Nebraska team.

"There is so much of the University's life apart from the main room that one of the main is wrestling. It is one of the popularities of the sport art in this state, particularly in the rural sections. Iowa has generally been in the top positions on the Iowa wrestling scene."

This year is an exception. At 113 pounds a boy from Newton and one from Iowa are leading as top candidates, a "sensation" from the Chicago area and a former wrestler of the University of Illinois, a former wrestler at the University of Illinois and a former wrestler at the University of Illinois. McCuskey has turned out ten NCAA champions by winning in 1957, 1958 and 1959.

Bay of Pigs Affair Grows On with Time

By L. L. A. MARSHALL
Editorial Tribune News Service

Like the story of the Last Supper, this week's Bay of Pigs affair moves with the speed of a seasoned professional. By now, the U.S. has mobilized all its forces to keep the spies of the world from observing its operations. The world, in turn, has mobilized all its forces to keep the U.S. from observing its operations.

There are no new points of action that have come into being, but there are still a few points of discussion that can be made. The first point is that the President's press conference was a complete failure. He tried to talk about the Bay of Pigs affair, but instead he talked about the history of the U.S. and the world, and how the United States has been a leader in the struggle for freedom. The second point is that the President's press conference was a complete failure.

The realities of power do not need to be explained to the world. The world knows that the United States is the greatest military power in the world, and that it will not tolerate any attempt to supply Cuba with military aid.

The next morning, the girls were taken to Palm Springs, where they spent the night. The girl's mother, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, were also there. The President, who had been on his way back to Washington, was scheduled to arrive later in the evening.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. - 72 of the women who were taken to Palm Springs were taken to the city's jail on Friday morning, after the authorities had been confronted with the situation.

The women had been picked up by the U.S. military as they were trying to enter the city. They had been told that they would be taken to Palm Springs, and they had agreed.

However, when they arrived in Palm Springs, they were taken to the city's jail, where they were kept for the rest of the day.

The women were accused of trying to enter the city without proper identification. They had been arrested for the purpose of entering the city.

De Gaulle’s Veto Exhilarates French

by JANE COCHRAN
Herald Tribune News Service

PARIS—Noel in Paris—no doubt President de Gaulle would agree—once was the news about the controversial media magnate, and now it is an announced challenge to his French colleagues.

A French Cabinet member announced recently that officials had reported to De Gaulle that they were prepared to sign the agreement for the EC if the French unionists agreed to the EC.

President de Gaulle, who has repeatedly expressed the view that the organization would be too costly and that the EC could not work, must be pleased with the prospect of the EC's likely formation.

France is considering a possible withdrawal from the EC, but de Gaulle has indicated that his government would not withdraw from the organization if the French unionists agreed to the EC.

The French government has been active in recent weeks in attempting 10 mediate between the unionists and the EC, and de Gaulle has said that he would sign the agreement if the French unionists agreed to the EC.
