Moroccan Troops Poised

New Threat to Algeria

Ben Bella Views Move As External Deception

ALGIERS (AP) — President Ahmed Ben Bella charged Monday that Morocco has troops poised 150 miles from his country in an apparent attempt to expand the nation’s influence in the region. He said the move is an act of aggression by Morocco and a violation of international law.

Bella, speaking to the national radio and television, said the Moroccan troops, which are positioned near the Algerian border, are a threat to national security and the peace in the region. He called on the international community to take action to stop what he described as a unilateral and aggressive expansion by Morocco.

Meanwhile, several members of the Moroccan Parliament have condemned the move as a violation of the Moroccan border and called for the withdrawal of the troops. They said the move is an act of aggression and a threat to the stability of the region.

U.S. Senators call for $1 billion increase in the federal budget to fund programs for the homeless and low-income families.

The senators, in a letter to President Johnson, said the increase is necessary to address the growing crisis of homelessness in the United States. They noted that the current budget of $1.5 billion is insufficient to meet the needs of those in need.

The senators called for a $1 billion increase to fund programs such as housing assistance, job training, and health care.

JFK Opens World Bank

Washington, D.C. — President Kennedy opened the World Bank at a ceremony attended by dignitaries from around the world.

The World Bank was established in 1945 to assist nations in the reconstruction of their economies after World War II. It has since become a key institution in the global financial system.

The bank has played a crucial role in promoting economic development and reducing poverty in many countries.

Elites from around the world attended the opening ceremony, including leaders from the United States, the United Kingdom, and the Soviet Union.

Southern Senators Blast

Civil Rights Commission

WASHINGTON — A group of Southern senators has expressed concern about the appointment of a new Civil Rights Commission head.

The senators, including Strom Thurmond and Richard Russell, have written a letter to the President expressing their concerns about the appointment of a new head.

The senators are concerned that the appointment of a new head could lead to a shift in the focus of the Commission and a decrease in its effectiveness.

Gangster Valachi To 'Spill Beans'

At Hearing Today

WASHINGTON — With the trial of Valachi, a former member of the New York City mob, set to begin today, the Senate is expected to hear testimony from the gangster himself.

Valachi, who is serving a 15-year sentence for mob-related crimes, is expected to give details of his involvement in the criminal underworld.

The hearing is expected to last several days, with witnesses testifying about Valachi's role in organized crime and the workings of the mob.

New Eagle Store To Be Built Here

Construction of a new Eagle Food Center in Iowa City was announced Monday, prior to the sale of The Eagle. The new store will be located at the northeast corner of North and Washington Streets. This location is designed to reflect the principles of modern design and the vigorous growth in this area, it is understood.

The new store is designed with modern style in mind, with a light and airy feeling in its atmosphere which can also be reflected in the food sections themselves. The store will feature a large department of baked goods and a large department of produce.

The building will be 11,000 square feet and will feature the most modern and efficient facilities. A combination of business principles as well as the latest in food preparation techniques will be used in the construction of the new store.

The store will be furnished with plastic faced, fluorescent-lighted display cases. Attractive vinyl asbestos flooring will be used throughout the store. Security will be a major concern and the store will be equipped with the latest in security devices.
