

Patriarch Asks Pope for Talks With All Sects

Two Leaders To Meet Soon In Holy Land

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The spiritual leaders of the world's Roman Catholics and Orthodox Christians agreed Monday to meet in the Holy Land. There were indications they would discuss a possible conference of all Christian church leaders to fight atheism and tyranny.

Patriarch Athenagoras I of Constantinople announced in Istanbul that he was going to Palestine on Friday to meet Pope Paul VI on the Mount of Olives where Christ prayed before his crucifixion.

The date of their meeting was not disclosed, but it probably will be early next week.

AT ALMOST the same time, Vatican press officials disclosed Patriarch Athenagoras had suggested to Pope Paul that he call for a world conference of Orthodox Catholic, Protestant and Anglican leaders sometime in the future.

The purpose would be to discuss "how to protect the church and the peace and freedom of the world, threatened by a common enemy, atheism and tyranny."

VATICAN officials did not say what Pope Paul thought of the suggestion. The fact that it was disclosed by the Vatican press office and the Vatican paper L'Osservatore Romano said they were publishing the suggestion "in the interest of documentation."

Informed sources said the idea undoubtedly would be discussed by the two church leaders at their meeting — the first between a Roman Catholic Pope and an Orthodox Patriarch since the East-West schism in 1472.

POPE PAUL, spiritual ruler of 550 million Roman Catholics, is flying to the Holy Land on Saturday for a three-day pilgrimage. Patriarch Athenagoras, spiritual leader of 150 million Orthodox, expects to be in Jerusalem by then.

Vatican sources said a world Christian conference, as proposed by Patriarch Athenagoras, probably could not be held at least for a year. They pointed out that the Pope undoubtedly would not want to propose such a conference until the Vatican Ecumenical Council is concluded.

A third session of that council, a vast assembly that was in preparation for almost four years before it first met in 1962, will be held next autumn.

Goldwater To Report 1964 Plans on Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a two-paragraph telegram, Sen. Barry Goldwater disclosed Monday that he has called a Friday conference at his Phoenix home to announce "my decision, regarding 1964."

In the book-lined study of his hilltop mansion, Goldwater will tell Arizona Republican leaders whether he will seek the Republican presidential nomination or campaign for re-election to the Senate.

POLITICAL oddsmakers think Goldwater, faltering but still front-runner in polls to head the 1964 GOP ticket, will announce a bid for the White House.

Goldwater told of his date with this wire to Republican leaders across the nation: "FROM time to time during the past year, I have discussed with countless Republicans like yourself our two-party system and our individual responsibility to this concept."

"Because we share a mutual belief in this regard, I want you to know that on Jan. 3, I am asking some of the leaders of the Republican party in Arizona to meet with me at 11 a.m. at my home in Phoenix to hear my decision regarding 1964."

The setting and the audience Goldwater has chosen could be a hint that he plans an Arizona race. But any clue the Arizona scene and state guest list provided seemed offset by the fact his wire went to party leaders far beyond the borders of his native Arizona.

Goldwater did not say how many wires went out, or who got them. REPUBLICAN leaders who want Goldwater to seek the presidency

Despite GOP Faction—

Foreign Aid Bill Passed by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate closed out the 1963 congressional session Monday by passing a $3-billion foreign aid bill after hearing a fresh burst of Republican demands for an independent study of the program.

Final adjournment of the first session of the 88th Congress came at 2:51 p.m.

THE BILL sent to the White House authorizes President Johnson to extend government credit guarantees on sales of American wheat and other commodities to Soviet bloc nations.

The House agreed to this provision at a sunrise session last Tuesday after twice trying to write in a ban on the federal underwriting of credit sales to Communist countries.

Johnson is authorized to guarantee credit whenever he determines it is "in the national interest" and notifies Congress within 30 days.

THE SENATE adopted the compromise $3-billion appropriation, which is $600 million below the ceiling previously authorized by a roll-call vote of 56 to 14.

Then the senators gave voice vote approval to the credit guarantee provision and another House-approved amendment aimed at restricting the employment of third country nationals on U.S.-sponsored foreign aid projects abroad.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told disgruntled members that Johnson wanted the bill passed "during the present session." To have put it off until the next session which convenes on Jan. 7, he said, would have "flown in the face of the President's wishes in a non-partisan matter of foreign policy."

SEVENTY of the 100 senators answered the roll call after three hours of wrangling over the need for prompt action and a Republican-led demand for a non-government study of the whole foreign aid program.

Voting to accept the compromise appropriation approved by the House for the current fiscal year ending next June 30 were 40 Democrats and 16 Republicans. Opposing it were seven Democrats and seven Republicans.

After disposing of the measure in a 4 1/2-hour meeting, the Senate adjourned to resume its holiday. The House, holding a token meeting to await the Senate windup of the longest peace-time session completed the adjournment proceedings at 2:51 p.m.

Despite a suggestion by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois that "We get this show on the road," and Democratic cries of "Vote! Vote!" a group of Republicans pressed their demand for an independent foreign aid study.

THEY contended a special inter-departmental committee set up by Johnson last week cannot do the job objectively.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) backed a proposal by Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) that groups of private citizens be sent out to take a country-by-country evaluation of the foreign aid program.

discounted the Arizona reference and professed confidence he will go after the big prize.

One of them, Sen. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska, told a reporter, "I knew this was coming. I believe he will seek the nomination."

ANOTHER, Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, said a week ago, "If he had decided not to run, I think he would have told us by now."

"I am confident that Sen. Goldwater will make an early commitment to be a candidate," said Sen. John Tower (R-Tex.).

Goldwater dispatched his telegrams from Phoenix, where he has been resting since Christmas Eve. He underwent surgery on his right heel in Washington on Dec. 22.

THE senator could not be reached for comment. His Arizona aide, Paul Sexson, would not elaborate on the Goldwater wire.

Goldwater has done little talking politically since the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., on Nov. 22.

Polls taken after the assassination indicate many Republicans think Goldwater would be a less formidable contender against President Johnson than against Kennedy.

Governor Bid By Hultman

(Special to The Daily Iowan)

DES MOINES — Iowa's Republican Attorney General Evan Hultman Monday became the first candidate to throw his hat into the gubernatorial election ring with his announcement here that he will run for the GOP nomination.

There is speculation that Hultman, an SUI graduate, will be the only Republican candidate and is considered by many GOP leaders to be the strongest candidate available to face Gov. Harold Hughes. Hughes is expected to seek a second term although the Governor has not announced his plans.

"The vastness and scope of state government is so far-reaching in its effect on the lives of each of us today that Iowans must seek the very best leadership Iowa has to offer," Hultman said in making his announcement.

"IOWA'S STAKE in better government is, in great measure, dependent upon a governor who must possess an actual working knowledge of all three branches — executive, legislative and judicial. He noted that Iowa could only achieve the "dynamic growth of which it is capable through positive, farsighted, executive leadership."

"The times demand decision and straight-forward action," he said. "Our Iowa voters want to know where the candidates stand and what to expect of them once elected. I am ready to make my position on the important questions of the day clear and evident and to meet these challenges."

Hultman's candidacy did not come as a surprise as it had been rumored for several months.

IN IOWA CITY, former Republican State Chairman George Nagle enthusiastically endorsed Hultman's candidacy.

"I think the GOP is fortunate to have a candidate with the strength and appeal that Hultman has. He is undoubtedly the friendliest man I have known in public life."

Nagle said Hultman has every qualification needed to be Governor, but noted that being elected would not be easy.

"BEING AN optimistic Republican, I think he has every chance in the world to beat Mr. Hughes," Nagle said. "Gov. Hughes has conducted himself in an appealing way and it will take some doing to beat him but I think Hultman can do it."

HULTMAN said that reapportionment is the most pressing issue facing the state. He promised to do his best to see that the Legislature adopts a fair plan. The Attorney General advocated a special session of the Legislature to pass a reapportionment plan and that the session be limited to reapportionment.

"Reapportionment is so important it should not be confused with other issues at a special session," he said.

IF HE had been governor, Hultman said, he would have already announced his decision to call a special session.

He did not take a stand on the Shaff Plan prior to the Dec. 3 election explaining that he thought the Attorney General should represent the state and should not make his feelings known to the public.

Taxes, industrial development, welfare and the administration of the Governor's office were issues that Hultman predicted as campaign issues.

THE ATTORNEY General, who was born in Albia, is a graduate of SUI. He received his B.A. in 1949 and graduated from the College of Law in 1952.

While at SUI Hultman became a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma, Delta Sigma Rho, and Omicron Delta Kappa. He served as president of the student council in 1948 and won letters in track and cross-country. He received the Big Ten Conference medal for scholarship and athletics.

The 38-year-old Hultman served as a Captain in the Infantry during World War II and is a Lieutenant Colonel in the Army Reserve.

Before becoming Attorney General in 1960 he served two terms as Black Hawk County Attorney. He has also served two terms on the governing body of U.S. organization of attorney generals.

Hultman and his wife, Betty, have three children, Susan 11, Stevan 9, and Heidi 8.

Ex-SUlowan Who Threatened LBJ To Mental Hospital

A federal judge Monday committed to a California mental hospital a former SUlowan, who carried a note in his pocket threatening the life of President Johnson.

U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter said a psychiatrist found Robert Beaty Fennell, 29, formerly of Sioux City, Iowa, to be psychotic. The commitment was asked by the U.S. attorney's office.

Fennell, who attended SUI in the 1961-62 school year, was arrested in Berkeley, across the bay from San Francisco, on a vagrancy charge. Police said a note in his pocket claimed he was a member of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee and that it stated:

"My immediate goal: The assassination of President Johnson."

$1 Billion Cut—

Military Loses Bid for Funds

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Monday the new defense budget will trim spending about $1 billion — a cut which means the military commanders lost their bid for a large increase in funds.

A billion-dollar reduction below current spending levels would represent a cut in totals from about $52 billion a year to $51 billion on the basis of latest estimates.

McNamara announced the reduction to a news conference after a budget session with Johnson and the chief of the nation's uniformed forces.

JOHNSON recently said the Joint Chiefs of Staff would be given a chance at Monday's session to appeal reductions in defense spending. They had asked originally for about $60 billion.

No figures are final yet. But the total tentatively set is $9 billion less than the commanders of the armed forces originally wanted.

Defense Department officials said the $9 billion slash was spread among all the services and none got all it wanted. One Pentagon spokesman said he thought the military commanders felt the $51 billion would "adequately and properly defend our nation."

Defense spending for years has accounted for about half the total budget, now hovering around the $100-billion mark.

Many agencies set their financial sights high. Every year the Budget Bureau and White House take whacks at the requests before the budget reaches Congress.

The chief executive boned up for the session on military aspects of the budget at meetings with key economic and fiscal advisers at his home in the Texas range country.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff was doing no forecasting in advance of the meeting with the president.

McNamara flew to the conference from Colorado Springs, Colo. Military planes brought the Pentagon people from Washington.

At the Ranch, Johnson was winding up talks with Budget Director Walter Heller, and special counsel Theodore C. Sorensen.

3,500 Troops Said Involved In U.S. Move

5th Air Force Bombardment Wing To Be Deactivated

TOKYO (Tuesday) (AP) — The United States will withdraw 3,500 Air Force personnel and 2,000 dependents from Japan in a major realignment of air strength in the Far East, it was learned today.

An informed source told The Associated Press the realignment will include deactivation of the 5th Air Force's Bombardment Wing — the last unit of the big bombers on operational status in the U.S. Air Force.

THE 5th Air Force, with headquarters at Fuchu Air Base outside Tokyo, is the nucleus of U.S. military strength in Japan that now totals 46,000 men. In addition, there are 54,000 servicemen's dependents and 3,000 American civilian employees in Japan.

The reduction also will include, the source said, the transfer of F100 fighter squadrons from Misawa Air Base in northern Japan to the United States, and the transfer home of one C124 troop carrier squadron from Tachikawa Air Base.

THE C124 squadron will be returned to the United States by next fall, the source said, but a definite timetable has not been set for the other reductions. It is expected that many of the other changes also will be completed by midsummer or fall.

Tactical Air Command fighter squadrons will be rotated into Misawa Air Base from other bases in the world to avoid leaving any gap in northern Japan's air defenses, the source said.

Four reasons were given for the reduction:

• Washington's desire to cut defense expenditures abroad and reduce the drain on U.S. gold reserves.

• Recent worldwide airlift exercises with strategy based on mobility prove the United States has a capability to defend against communism without so much emphasis on units permanently stationed abroad.

• Recent assignment of three squadrons of F105s, a high performance aircraft, provides necessary attack strength.

• Japan's 273,000-man self-defense force has acquired greater capability of assuming more of Japan's defense.

(Also, Japan's left-wing elements, which continue to gain strength, have called repeatedly for a cutback in the United States' defense posture in Japan. But the AP dispatch carried no hint that any political maneuvering was involved in the decision.)

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman said there would be no immediate elaboration on the Tokyo report.

Viet Cong Troops: Eat, Drink, Scared

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A document found by government forces indicates Communist guerrilla leaders are having trouble keeping their soldiers in keen battle shape, the government reports.

The document reads: "Critique on morale after attack on enemy: Personnel were afraid to die, afraid of aircraft, afraid of rockets and dared not fire their weapons. The men often disputed and fought each other. Sentries abandoned their posts to drink water. The troops drink alcohol and leave without permission. Men lose their ammunition. Taboo 'sleeping hours' have not been observed by the troops, who become lazy the following morning."

LBJ Considering First Major Veto

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is seriously considering vetoing the $4.4-billion public works appropriations bill, it was learned Monday.

Informed sources said the President feels some features pertaining to the Panama Canal previously have been held to be an invasion of rights of the executive department.

The section involves a requirement that requests for appropriations be submitted to a congressional committee for approval, rather than to the President.

It was understood that Johnson made known his doubts about the bill in telephone calls today to Rep. Carl Albert (D-Okla.)

Big New Lava Belt Found in Iowa

Mapping of a new lava bed containing possible deposits of copper and oil in a 10,000 square mile area of central and southwest Iowa was reported here Monday by the Iowa Geological Survey.

The aero-magnetic study discloses a continuation of the belt mapped in north central Iowa last spring, state Geologist H. Garland Hershey said.

He said three federal geologists have discovered the new lava belt running on the western edge through the Harlan area to north of Council Bluffs and then into Nebraska.

THE EASTERN edge, Hershey said, runs from the vicinity of Iowa Falls southwesterly to Redfield near Des Moines and then to Thurman in the southwest corner of the state.

This is an area about 45 miles wide and about 150 miles long, or more than twice the length of the belt announced last April 3 for north central Iowa.

HERSHEY said the federal geologists have mapped sub surface rock formations similar to the copper-bearing rocks found on the Kennesaw peninsula of Upper Michigan.

Oil and gas deposits have been discovered by drilling in the zone from Redfield to Thurman and additional drilling in this zone and along the western belt from Fort Dodge to north of Council Bluffs may prove attractive, the geological study said.

THE STATE geological office here has copies of the studies in both parts of Iowa on file for the use of anyone wishing to explore the possibilities of mineral and oil deposits.

Hershey said copies from which reproductions can be made will be available in the near future.

NASA Offered Office Space at Center

Prof. James Van Allen and President Virgil M. Hancher along with officials of Collins Radio Co., of Cedar Rapids and the Bendix Corp., of Davenport will make a bid for the new Federal electronics research center in Davenport Thursday.

A similar presentation was made in Cedar Rapids last Thursday. Iowa City and Cedar Rapids officials have been stressing the advantages of SUI and Collins Radio in an attempt to bring the research center to this area.

An attempt to improve the chances of this area, which are considered a long shot, was an offer by T. H. Laundre, developer of the Iowa City-Cedar Rapids Executive Center, to reserve space for the NASA installation in the new development.

THE IMMEDIATE availability of the office space in the executive center is considered an advantage in convincing NASA to locate in this area. NASA would build its own office facilities, but they are not expected to be completed until 1970.

Laundre, in a letter to James E. Webb, NASA administrator, said:

"I would be pleased to consider leasing the entire office facility, or as much of it as you might desire, to your agency for as long as might be required for NASA to construct its own buildings for the site of the electronics research center.

"IT IS our intention to begin construction of the remaining buildings for the executive center in the spring (a motel and restaurant have already been constructed). The initial office structure is planned to provide 60,000 square feet, but we are prepared to build additional space in whatever quantity required. Actually, by a minimum conversion of part of our new motel space, we could make up to 15,000 square feet of space available at any time from this moment forward.

"Please be assured that our present plans are sufficiently flexible to adapt to any of NASA's anticipated needs at any time in the Iowa City-Cedar Rapids area.

The site of the executive center is located on the east side of Highway 218 and north of Interstate 80. The development will include, in addition the office building, a 120-unit apartment house and a shopping center.

Area Man Guilty On OMVI Charge

A 53-year-old Hills man was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated in Johnson County District Court Monday.

George R. Parizek, who waived his rights to a jury trial, was found guilty by Judge Clair Hamilton. He was fined $300 and had his driver's license suspended for 60 days.

Parizek was arrested in Iowa City July 1 following a minor accident.

Tax Change Causes Rush For Plates

Taxes do funny things to people. Thus the threat of license plates being dropped from the income tax deduction list prompted Johnson County residents to rush to the Courthouse Monday to buy their 1964 plates.

Those who do not buy their plates before the end of 1963 may not get the chance to deduct them from their tax bill. The Federal tax cut bill that is before Congress would eliminate auto license plates from the deduction list.

The lines that formed at the Johnson County Treasurer's office was reminiscent of either the first day plates go on sale or the final day plates can be purchased without penalty.

The Treasurer's Office reported that approximately 425 plates had been sold by closing time Monday. This brings the total to 5,000 for the year.

Tobogganing Fun Turns Into Painful Injury

A broken collar bone was the result of an afternoon of tobogganing Sunday for Barbara Robb, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Robb of 1825 High Street.

Miss Robb and a group of friends had just finished a run down a hill on Finkbine golf course and were returning when they were struck by a youngster on a sled. Three of the group were knocked to the ground, but Miss Robb was the only one injured.

Greeks, Turks Sign British Peace Plan on Tense Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriot factions have accepted a British peace plan calling for a buffer zone in Nicosia and free movement of British troops to enforce a truce.

The agreement, reached just before dawn Monday after a 12-hour meeting of all interested parties, promised to calm the communal strife of the past nine days on Cyprus.

The battles in Nicosia streets had threatened to explode into full-scale civil war and possibly a major eastern Mediterranean flare-up dragging in Turkey and Greece, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but traditional enemies.

UNDER the agreement, British troops will again patrol Cyprus where they once served as imperial masters. They would be invited back only three years after Cypriot independence, with memories still fresh of the 1950s when the bloody fight for union with Greece was at its height.

British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys said the agreement accepting his proposals was signed by Archbishop Makarios, the island's Greek Cypriot president, and the Turkish Cypriot vice president, Dr. Fazil Kutchuk.

SANDYS added leaders of the two Cypriot communities will meet daily under British supervision in an effort to resolve the differences that erupted into street battles.

They were also considering Sandys' other immediate proposals which call for:

- Return of refugees, hostages and prisoners;
- Re-establishment of telephone communications and mail service in the Turkish sector;
- Removal of Turkish dead from the Greek-held area; and
- Return of Turkish language broadcasts on the government-controlled Cyprus radio.

Greek King Calls Elections To End Crisis

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Faced by an unbreakable Cabinet crisis, King Paul on Monday ordered a new national election for Greece — the second in this nation since Nov. 3.

He chose Ioannis Paraskevopoulos, 63, an economist, to head a non-political caretaker Cabinet to govern until the election Feb. 16.

It meant the "fourth" government for Greece since Constantine Caramanlis resigned in June after eight years in office.

IT ALSO marked a new stage of growing political uncertainty for Greece, caught up once more in a Cyprus crisis endangering Greece's relations with Turkey, its ally in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

King Paul tried to stave off another election so soon, hoping that a new government could be formed to replace the Cabinet of outgoing Premier George Papandreu.

BUT WITH no party in the 300-member Parliament in command of an outright majority and with Papandreu opposing any coalition, the king ordered the new vote.

Papandreu resigned last Tuesday, hours after his government won its first vote of confidence. The victory came only because the Communist-front United Democratic Left threw its support to Papandreu's Center Union Party.

Hoover Sees Crime Rise Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime will flourish in the new year unless Americans change their ways, J. Edgar Hoover said Monday.

"Unless we witness a radical change in the behavior patterns of our more than 180 million population," the FBI director said, "1964 will bring another sharp rise in crime."

Writing in the FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover said "an alarming number of persons not only are not doing their part but are overtly aligning themselves with violators against law enforcement officers who are discharging their sworn duties in upholding the law. This is over and above the large segment of society which stands by with indifference and apathy."

"It's funny, wayward, beautiful in a loose and sometimes argumentative way that only Renoir could make spellbinding. His sylvan rapture is wholly infectious, it at times held too long; the spree exhilarates, wears this, revives; like an April day it chases mood with mood, and delight gets a wetting. Mixed joy, but the impulsive burst of the kind shortcomings can damage. A lyricism in which fat men and food play their part as well as the black-browed Renoir beauty in the glade, brings us the liveliest spirits and the best colour we have had even from Renoir. Hope To End Controversy—

U.S. Astronauts Sell Motel Stock

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The seven original U.S. astronauts have ended their controversial business association with a luxury motel near Cape Kennedy, selling their stock for nearly double the price they paid two years ago.

C. Leo DeOrsey, their non-salaried attorney, reported Monday the astronauts each received $13,500 for their shares in the Cape Colony Inn and convention hall. He said the original investment was about $7,500 each.

DEORSEY said he also sold his shares in the venture, reporting his initial investment was more than $50,000. The buyer was Miami attorney W. T. Rose, majority stockholder in the Cape Colony Inn. The 129-room motel, built for $1.6 million, opened in Cocoa Beach on June 1, 1962.

Rose made a down payment on Dec. 18, with the remainder due in April, DeOrsey said.

The attorney said the decision to sell was a reluctant one and indicated it was prompted by newspaper and magazine criticism of the astronauts' involvement in a commercial enterprise only seven miles from the Cape Kennedy rocket-launching center.

"IT'S A good investment and we'd like to keep it," he said. "But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) did not think it was a good thing for us to stay in. So we felt that if it's distasteful to the boss, let's get out."

He said he believed NASA was pushed into its position by the press criticism, which he termed unfounded.

DEORSEY said the seven astronauts plan to retain their interest in a Washington, D.C., apartment project, Oak Crest Gardens, which he described as 100 per cent occupied.

The astronauts are Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter, Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom, Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., and civilian Donald K. Slayton. All but Slayton have made space trips.

Hawkeyes Rally To Defeat Cougars In Far West Meet

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Iowa came from behind in the last half to defeat Washington State, 74-66, and take seventh place in the Far West Classic basketball tournament Monday afternoon.

Washington State took a 31-28 lead at halftime, and the score was tied five times in the second half before Iowa went ahead to stay with four minutes remaining on a 20-foot jump shot by 6-6 Dave Roach.

Iowa owed much of its victory to free-throw accuracy. The Hawkeyes sank 14 of 15 free throws in the first half, and ended with 24 of 31. Washington State, meanwhile, could sink only 21 of 39.

Roach was the high scorer with 18 points. George Peoples of Iowa and Dennis Kloke of Washington State had 12 each.

The win saved the Hawkeyes from what had been a fruitless trip to the coast. Iowa lost to Colorado State in the opening game of the tourney, and fell to Louisiana State, 92-81, in a frustrating game Saturday afternoon. LSU's point total was the highest ever run up in the eight years of the tournament.

Making matters worse Saturday was a series of violent arguments between Iowa Coach Sharm Scheuerman and the officials which ended in three technical fouls against Iowa and almost led to Scheuerman's being ejected from the coliseum, as he was when the Hawks played Arizona State in the same tournament a year ago.

George Halas May Continue As Bear Coach

CHICAGO (AP) — George Halas, hale and hearty at 68, spoke and acted Monday like a man who expects to continue indefinitely as owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, newly-crowned champs of the National Football League.

HALAS still rode high on cloud nine, savoring the taste of another title after 17 long, lean, hungry years of frustration. The 1963 coach-of-the-year had just received the John F. Kennedy Memorial Trophy from Mayor Richard J. Daley and the City Council on behalf of the Bears, 14-10 winners over the New York Giants in Sunday's championship game.

"IT TOOK US two years to put in our defense," Halas told newsmen in his cluttered downtown office. "The first year we tightened up our pass defense. This year we also led in defense against rushing. Next year we're going to work more on offense."

This didn't sound like a man who expected to retire.

"Let's wait until after the Pro Bowl game in Los Angeles," Halas said when asked about his plans for the future. "Where else would a fellow like me get a job? I feel fine. It could be that I will coach again. In fact, I can think of no reason why I should not. I'll take about six weeks in February to go to Arizona, but the football films will go with me."

WITHOUT coming out and saying positively yes, Halas indicated as strongly as possible that he would stay on the job. His parting remark was: "I'll see you in July at Rensselaer." That is the Bears' training camp in Indiana.

Injured Tittle Out; East Squad Seeks New Quarterback

NEW YORK (AP) — Y. A. Tittle probably will have to be replaced as a quarterback on the East team for the clash against the West in the National Football League's Pro Bowl game at Los Angeles, Jan. 12.

The 37-year-old star of the New York Giants suffered a torn ligament in his left knee in the second quarter of the championship game with the Chicago Bears at Chicago Sunday.

"I will give serious thought in the next 24 hours over the question of a replacement for Tittle," said Allie Sherman, the Giants coach, Monday. "It could be Ed Brown of the Steelers or Frank Ryan of the Browns."

Sherman, who will coach the East, still has Charley Johnson of the St. Louis Cardinals. Johnson was picked No. 2 behind Tittle.

Tittle, still heartbroken over the loss to the Bears, left after the game for Texas. Meanwhile several of the battered Giants were scheduled for surgery Friday.

Tight end Joe Walton, defensive halfback Allan Webb and sub line-backer Micken Walker will undergo knee operations for removal of loose cartilage and other minor obstructions.

Athletics Stay in Kansas City — At Least Until Jan. 10

KANSAS CITY (AP) — For the first time in weeks of wrangling, Kansas City and Charles O. Finley agreed on something Monday: He will keep his Athletics' office and equipment at Municipal Stadium until Jan. 10 — with no strings attached.

Finley literally had his team's effects packed and was prepared to vacate the premises by Jan. 1, the date his lease on the stadium expired.

FINLEY asked to stay. The city said he could.

It was no indication, however, that a thaw was in the making between the club owner and the city administration.

City Manager Carleton Sharpe said the request was honored because Finley's attorney Thomas Keane, had hinted a new proposal might be in the offing.

The mayor of Louisville, Ky., William O. Cowger, invited the Athletics to make their home there. Finley said, rather dejectedly, that there seems no other place to go and that Louisville is the best city in territory that does not already have organized baseball.

Mayor Ius W. Davis of Kansas City asked for help from the American League. But the league's president, Joe Cronin, said "this is not a league matter. I recommend very strongly that Mr. Finley and the city continue their negotiations."

THE CITY AND Finley are apart on one major issue. Finley wants four 4-year renewal options after a 5-year contract that would give him the stadium for nothing if attendance didn't reach 900,000. The Athletics haven't done that well in years.

In Cotton, Orange Bowls— Southern Teams Hope To Continue Winning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Football teams from the South and Southwest have done well so far in post-season bowl competition and chances are they won't do too badly in the games that remain. But there could be trouble on New Year's Day.

North-South competition, something of a tradition in these late games played in sunny climates, continues in Wednesday's two big ones — the Texas-Navy clash in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas and the Auburn-Nebraska meeting in the Orange Bowl at Miami. In addition to the Cotton and Orange games, Wednesday brings the traditionally important Rose Bowl game, pairing Big Ten champion Illinois and Big Six winner Washington, and the Sugar Bowl meeting between Mississippi and Alabama.

Campanella Tops Hall of Fame Hopefuls

BOSTON (AP) — Roy Campanella, a sentimental favorite, joins Charles (Red) Ruffing and Luke Appling among the leading candidates in the Baseball Hall of Fame balloting now under way.

Members of the Baseball Writers of America, active for a decade or more, are being polled in the biennial search for possible additions to the game's elite.

SECRETARY Hy Hurwitz of the BBWAA announced Monday an unprecedented second ballot will be taken if no one is elected on the first.

To be eligible for election, a candidate must have been an active player no more than 20 years ago and been retired at least five years. Any player who is named on 75 per cent of the completed ballots is elected.

CAMPANELLA, the slugging Brooklyn Dodger catcher whose career was cut short by an auto accident which has confined him to a wheelchair, heads the list of 26 players who have just become eligible. The imposing list also includes third baseman George Kell, six-time 20-game winning right-hander Bob Lemon, Sal (The Barber) Maglie, shortstop Pee Wee Reese and pitchers Dizzy Trout and Virgil Trucks.

Ballots were mailed to 286 BBWAA members of 10-year standing and must be returned within 20 days of receipt. Tabulation is expected to be done the final week of January.

If no candidate gets 75 per cent of the vote, a supplemental ballot will be taken listing the top 30 candidates on the first poll.

Owens, whose Huskies ripped the Big Ten's Wisconsin, 44-8, in 1960, and Minnesota, 17-7, in 1961, said that he was proud to be here again.

DALLAS (AP) — Navy's leading rusher, fullback Pat Donnelly, has an injured thigh muscle and is not expected to be at top speed for the Cotton Bowl football game with national champion Texas on New Year's Day.

Donnelly, who scored all three touchdowns against Army, may appear for only a few plays against the Longhorns, Navy Coach Wayne Hardin said Monday.

"He went down like shot during practice yesterday," Hardin said. "It's a stretched hamstring muscle in the back of his left thigh."

Donnelly will rest the leg until game time Wednesday.

"He is going to start the game," Hardin said. "We won't know what he is going to be able to do until the game starts."

"If he can go, we'll have to get along without him."

Hawk Relay Team Breaks Record; Still Finishes 2nd

"We broke the record and still got second," Iowa Track Coach Francis Cretzmeier said Monday after the Hawkeyes were beaten by Oklahoma State in the 1,600-meter relay at the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans Sunday.

Cretzmeier said he was pleased with the performances of Gary Richards, Bill Frazier and Gary Hollingsworth, but "Scott Rocker ran a disappointing .50 race."

Iowa was timed in 3:13.7, almost a half second faster than the old record of 3:14.1 set in 1951. Oklahoma State's winning time was 3:12.7.

Cretzmeier said he was not seeking an alibi, but the Oklahoma State anchorman Charles Strong, had finished college competition, but still competed in the meet. He mentioned that Iowa's speedy quarter-miler Roger Kerr, who has also finished college competition, might also have been eligible for the Sugar Bowl meet, which would have helped the Hawks' chances.

Nash, Kentucky's high scorer, led the Wildcats with 28 points.

Drake Finishes Third

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Drake University, taking advantage of its superior height, trounced Georgetown 89-61 Monday night and finished third in the annual Quaker City basketball tournament at the Palestra.

Drake had five players in double figures as the Iowa team romped over Georgetown, upset winner against top-seeded Loyola in the opening round Friday night.

McCoy McLemore, 6-foot-6 senior scored 21 points and Gene Bogash hooped 20 for Drake, which led 46-31 at halftime.

The victory was the sixth against two defeats for Drake and Georgetown's fourth loss in 10 games.

Kentucky Wins Ninth

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Second-ranked Kentucky overcame Loyola of New Orleans in the second half Monday night and won the opening game of the Sugar Bowl Basketball Tournament 86-64. It was the Wildcats' second lowest point production of the season.

Nash, Kentucky's high scorer, led the Wildcats with 28 points.
