Plans For Education Bill Aid Underway Before LBJ Signs

When the $2.3 billion higher education act now on President Johnson's desk is signed into law, a University task force will already have laid the ground work for implementing its provisions.

Pres. Howard R. Bowen, foreseeing that the University should be ready to help augment such a program, last summer established a nine-member ad hoc committee to study how to implement parts of the proposed act.

AMONG THE four titles of the act, two are directly related to efforts now being negotiated between the University and Rust College in Holly Springs, Miss. They are Title 3, which concerns cooperative programs for developing institutions, and Title 4, involved with student aid and loans, the establishment of a national teaching corps, and graduate teaching internships.

The committee will hold two conferences with William A. McMillan, dean of Rust College, during his visit here today and Friday.

Members of the committee are: Donald Rhoades, dean of admissions and records; Willard L. Boyd, vice president of instruction and dean of faculty; Leonard Brcka, University secretary; Margery Hoppin, resource specialist in the Graduate College; John Huntley, assistant professor of English; John Moore, director of Student Financial Aids; Robert F. Ray, dean of the Extension Division; H. Bradley Sagen, assistant professor of education; and Don R. Sheriff, program director of the Bureau of Labor and Management.

THE COMMITTEE, according to Huntley, will discuss possible practical cooperation with Rust College in the areas of curriculum, faculty and teaching; administrative and financial business procedures; and student life, student goals and academic environment.

"It is hoped," Huntley said Tuesday, "that we can come up with a set of practical possible future programs with Rust College to use as a starting point with other colleges."

ALSO UNDER consideration is an exchange with Le Moyne College in Memphis, Tenn., which was founded as a Negro college. Hollis Price, president of Le Moyne, was in Iowa City last weekend to discuss the matter with President Bowen.

Huntley said the committee was also conducting studies with Iowa secondary schools to determine their goals and how the University can work out areas of mutual cooperation with them.

"One such area where we can develop a cooperative program in Iowa is among its many two-year community colleges," Huntley said. "There is a great need in this area to help bring them into the main stream of academic life."

County Health Action Probed By Planners

By SHEILA LUNIN
Staff Writer

The Johnson County Metropolitan Planning Commission (MPC) will soon send a letter to the County Board of Supervisors asking why no action has been taken on a request by all the county communities for a County Board of Health.

The MPC, at its monthly meeting Tuesday, also unanimously endorsed the Hawkeye Area Community Action Program. John C. Garfield, director of psychiatric services and chairman of the program, presented the program.

The County Board of Health inquiry to the Board of Supervisors, proposed by Richard W. Berger, Iowa City mayor, was passed unanimously after he pointed out that the Iowa Code requires the board to take action on a request by all the towns in the county.

The communities' requests for the Board of Health were filed last July.

GARFIELD SAID the Community Action Program, which is being established under the Economic Opportunities Act, was requesting $34,471 from the Federal Government to hire a staff for six months to study the projects available to help the economically deprived.

The Federal Government will grant up to 90 per cent of this amount, and the local group is exploring ways of raising its share by contributions.

"The first two projects will be a program for adult completion of high school in night classes and a sheltered workshop," Garfield said.

THE IOWA CITY School Board has appropriated $10,000 toward the $45,000 cost of the night school classes as the local share for the program.

The donation of land by Iowa City for the sheltered workshop will provide the local share for that program, Garfield said.

"THE NET COST of this program to the community will be a great saving," Garfield said, "because people who are otherwise supported by the community will be made self-sufficient."

Pres. Howard R. Bowen has pledged full University cooperation with the Community Action Program.

U Of Iowa Student Burns Draft Card During 'Sound Off'

Steve Smith, 20, Says His Action Moral Decision

By PAUL BUTLER
Copy Editor

(Ed. Note—Smith will talk to a meeting of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) tonight at 7 in the Yale Room of the Union.) Steve Smith, a slight 20-year old sophomore English major, took the speaker's stand Wednesday afternoon and spoke quietly of what he believed. He then burned his draft card.

The audience of approximately 200 persons had known what was coming. Comments, encouragement and laughter greeted Smith. An emotional debate on the virtue of U.S. policy in Viet Nam had preceded his appearance. But Smith was very much alone in his act of defiance. He said he was "sick to my stomach" at what he was doing.

"I feel," Smith said, "that now is the time, because of my own sense of dignity, of my own sense of morality, to burn my draft card." He took the card from the pocket of his sweater and ignited it.

AS A CONSEQUENCE of his action, Smith faces the possibility of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine under a law signed last Aug. 30. Questioned later, he said he fully expected to be arrested.

"I'm not sure I would have done it otherwise. When I feel a law is wrong, I feel I have the moral obligation to break it. But I also have the moral obligation to pay."

In Omaha, Charles H. DeFord, special agent in charge of the Iowa-Nebraska field office of the FBI, said his office was aware of the incident and had it under investigation.

He said when all the facts are gathered they will be presented to the U.S. attorney for the Southern District of Iowa for an opinion on the appropriate action.

DeFord SAID his office had learned of Smith's announced plans through advance publicity but did not have agents present at the gathering. Agents are now investigating, he said.

YOUNG SMITH's father, a

World War II Navy veteran who lost an eye in a shipboard accident and was partially paralyzed on the right side, said he was "just sick" about his son's action.

"I have no sympathy for the boy in this matter," said the elder Smith, operator of a shoe shop at Marion.

"Steve was in civil rights movements for some time," he said. "I agreed with him on that. But I disagree with him completely in this matter. I just can't understand it."

"I'm no hero but I think all of the boys over there should be backed up at home," the father said.

THE AUDIENCE to Smith's protest action reacted with vehemence. Almost to the point of violence. There was cynicism as well.

"Better drop it," someone yelled as the draft card flamed. "Let him burn his fingers."

Ron Zobel replied. Zobel, 22, Oelwein, is president of the Young Americans for Freedom and a member of the John Birch Society. He had been active in the debate preceding Smith's arrival.

"That's a tough way to get on TV," Zobel commented at another point.

THERE WERE other reactions. "Some of us are in awe of it," one student said. "I personally wouldn't have the courage."

Zobel said he found Smith's action "sickening." "I think he has stabbed his brother in the back," Zobel said. Earlier Smith said he had a brother in the Air Force in Thailand.

Ford Gets Praise From Local GOP For Speech Here

Republican reactions to Rep. Gerald R. Ford's (R-Mich.) views Tuesday night indicate strong agreement with his concern for political balance in a two-party system and his suggestions for the party's future action.

Addressing University Young Republicans, (YR's) the House minority leader said a powerful Democrat majority in Congress had made Congress a hip-pocket for the President, eroding the separation of powers.

HE LISTED UNITY, top candidates, sound party organization and a creative program as the course for Republican action.

"These suggestions are really the ABC's of politics," George Nagle, Iowa City businessman and former state Republican chairman, said in commenting on Ford's speech Wednesday. "But they have always been true and always will be."

Nagle said that although a two-party system was not a law it was an important factor in the political system. Balance is the prime reason we have not had political, military or economic dictatorships, Nagle said.

NAGLE SAID he wanted to point out one thing Ford did not discuss.

"This political pendulum has a habit of swinging from one extreme to the other," he said. "Few people realize that Calvin Coolidge won the presidency with a larger percentage of voters than President Johnson did last year."

"Right now, the pendulum is resting on the Democrats' side, but I truly believe the Republican party will make gains in Congress in 1966," he continued.

Nagle said he was encouraged by the badly-needed leadership Ford has given Republicans.

Lyle Krewson, 22, Van Horn, chairman of Young Republicans, called Ford's remarks very pointed to the central core of the party system.

SDS Suggests Public Service Substitute For Military Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students for a Democratic Society, leaders in recent student demonstrations against the war in Viet Nam, called Wednesday for draft-age youngsters to be given the alternative of some form of public service, such as the Peace Corps.

Until this proposal is agreed to, said the SDS national secretary, Paul Booth, "we have only one choice. We do in conscience object, utterly and wholeheartedly, to this war; and we will encourage every member of our generation to object, and to file his objection through the Form 150 provided by the law for the conscientious objector."

Booth said burning of draft cards, as two students did, "is not particularly an SDS program, although I think the law on the books is clearly unconstitutional."

"I believe the draft should be suspended for everybody. I think there are better things to do for young people than fighting and killing."

Booth, speaking for the SDS, told a news conference, "We are fully prepared to volunteer for service to our country and to democracy."

He said SDS members had volunteered to work in the Watts section of Los Angeles after last summer's riots. He also suggested the Peace Corps, Job Corps, VISTA the domestic peace corps, the proposed new teacher corps and work in hospitals and schools in the slums as possible alternatives to military service.

Senate Members Discuss Pros, Cons Of NSA Debate

Some persons involved in the Student Senate's decision against rejoining the National Student Association (NSA) expressed approval of the action Wednesday.

The Senate voted unanimously Tuesday night not to re-affiliate when its temporary membership expires Oct. 31.

George Soukup, A3, Sioux City, who was Senate NSA coordinator, said that NSA membership was rejected because the sounder and more logical arguments in the discussion of the issue were against NSA.

THE BEST ARGUMENT for re-affiliating with NSA was that Senate had not been a member long enough to give NSA a fair evaluation, Soukup said. But he added that this argument was refuted by the fact that NSA had been tried and discussed at the University several times in previous years.

Since NUSA has never been accepted here for any long period, Soukup said, "evidently Senates before ours felt the same way he did."

"It was unfortunate that almost 50 per cent of our membership time was during summer vacation," Soukup said, "but I think there was enough time allotted to it to make a fair evaluation, particularly since we've been in it before."

Another Student Senate member, Dick Pundt, A4, Homestead, said the Senate voted against NSA for several important reasons, the most important being the cost of NSA membership. Paying dues and sending representatives to conventions would cost about $1,085 a year, he said.

PUNDT SAID another argument against NSA was that the information and services the organization offers were inadequate for the University or could be better provided by the Student Senate itself.

The political aspect of NSA was another reason the Senate voted against re-affiliation, he explained.

"Student Senate should not be compelled to take political stands," he said. "If Student Senate thought it was within its perspective to become national politicians our membership in NSA would have been in order."

The opinion of some senators that there is little chance for minority expression at NSA national conventions was another reason NSA was turned down, Pundt said.

SEN. DEAN DEERBERG, A3, Lowden, said he felt the senators were adequately informed about NSA to make a fair judgment on membership. He said the Senate had been informed about NSA national activities by George Soukup, whom he called a "very unbiased representative."

"I just didn't think it was worth the money," was the reason Sen. Dan Nicol, A3, Milford, gave for voting against NSA. He pointed out that many of the NSA services will be available to the University even though it is not an NSA member.

There were some senators who did not completely agree with the Senate decision. One of these was Merle Wood, G, Iowa City. Wood said it was true that the University did not receive benefits from NSA, but that was because many senators had a negative attitude toward NSA to begin with.

"I don't think the issue was fully explored," Wood said.

Ron Zobel, A2, Oelwein, who is president of Young Americans for Freedom (YAF), said he was very happy with the Senate decision.

"I THINK THE Senate acted wisely in that this decision to dis-affiliate with NSA will act to the benefit of the students of this school," he said.

Zobel said he thought the senators were very well-informed about the issues involved in the NSA discussions.

YAF had circulated pamphlets against NSA.

Straw Poll Shows Students Favor Beer In Union

By YALE WOODFORD
Staff Writer

A straw poll taken Tuesday indicates that a majority of students favor the serving of beer in the Union.

Eighteen of the 25 students asked approved the proposal that is currently under study by the Board of Regents. Jonathon Richards, a Red Oak regent suggested the idea at a Regent meeting Friday, after seeing many students in Iowa City taverns. After a short discussion by the Regents, Richards asked that the issue be brought up in the Board's November meeting in Cedar Falls.

John Vust, 22, A4, Sioux City, said, "There's no reason not to serve it. Beer is a collegiate drink and should be available where students congregate."

Tom Sheridan, 22, A4, Bettendorf, agreed, "I think they're hurting themselves by making students go elsewhere."

A TYPICAL ATTITUDE of those in favor of the idea was expressed by Paul Bernstein, 23, G, New York City, "Why not?"

An opposing view was taken by Dan Rockwell, 23, G, Broken Bow, Nebraska. "It's not necessary. It's not that far downtown," he said.

Diane Nelson, 22, G, Davenport, said, "Since three-fourths of the student body are minors, there's no point in it. And not that many over 21 go to the Union."

Mick VonBergen, G, Ames, agreed. "It would be a waste," he said, "Iowa is not an '18' state."

AMONG STUDENTS over 21, ten of fifteen supported the sale of beer in the Union. This margin was even greater in minor students, where eight of ten agreed the idea was good.

Said Judy Cornwell, 20, A3, Burlington, "The Union could check drivers' licenses as easily as I. D.'s. It wouldn't hurt if disorderly conduct could be restrained."

"Now that there are guest rooms upstairs (in the Union)," said Pam Cabot, 19, A2, St. Louis, Mo., "it would be more convenient for visitors to get beer in the Union."

Scott Schuelke, 18, A2, Storm Lake, said, "Beer is everywhere else. The Union has a cafeteria, it might as well have a bar."

A NEGATIVE POSITION was taken by Steve Smith, 19, A2, Des Moines. "If students get beer in the Union, they will want liquor next."

Many of the students who approved the issue felt that strict control of sales was the most important factor.

Dave Cook, 20, A2, Des Moines, said, "With birthdates on ID's, the Union could regulate beer more strictly than can be done at Joe's."

The general feeling of the students was summed up by Otto Rajtora, 22, A4, Cedar Rapids. "It's not a bad idea if it can be controlled," he said, "but it's all up to the Board of Regents."

Senator Hits CIA 'Actions' In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio), says he has learned the Central Intelligence Agency hired persons to disguise as Viet Cong and discredit Communists in Viet Nam by committing atrocities.

The CIA and Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher (D-N.Y.), said it isn't so.

Young, who recently returned from Viet Nam, at first told newsmen a CIA man informed him the CIA hired South Vietnamese who dressed as Viet Cong, then committed such acts as killing men and raping women.

WEDNESDAY night, however, the senator denied saying the information came from a CIA man, but said he got it from an American officer whom he did not name.

Nevertheless, Young said, "I confirmed through the CIA to-day that it employed some South Vietnamese nationals to pose as Viet Cong — and I take a dim view of that."

Gallagher said "it may well be that he spoke to a Viet Cong disguised as a CIA man."

A CIA spokesman, asked for comment, said that "as far as our agents having done such things, the statement is absolutely false."

GALLAGHER said Young's statement "is appalling, and it reflects a carelessness with facts."

Gallagher is a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and said that like Young, he was briefed when he was in Saigon, about four months ago.

"It is obvious," Gallagher said, "that he misunderstood the essence of the briefing or failed to distinguish between the terms of identification of the opposing forces in Viet Nam. No one could possibly conceive such an exercise as Sen. Young describes."

Young is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Idealist in action

STEVE SMITH is an idealistic student. He has been involved in numerous worthwhile causes. Last winter he even spent several days without eating camped out in front of the Post Office because he wants to help the Negro in the South, and this project raised much money to serve that end.

Wednesday Steve had had it. He burned his draft card. Like many students, Steve is unhappy with his Government and its policies in Viet Nam.

When Congress passed an act making it illegal to burn a draft card a few months ago, that body made a challenge to idealists like Steve. Congress took the insignificant act of burning a piece of paper and made it a big deal. It suddenly became the ultimate act of protest.

For people who are highly idealistic and sincere in their beliefs, picketing, writing letters of protest, sitting in — nothing can quite compare to burning a draft card, because that shows they are truly dedicated. Anything less makes them wonder.

It is unfortunate that Congress passed such a law which will persecute only the most sincere of the protesters, but many things which Congress does are unfortunate.

Steve Smith has made his move; what will follow is uncertain. The move was ill-advised, but sincere.

It is unfortunate the Government of the United States is unable to approach its most idealistic critics with something other than a challenge and a threat, but perhaps this is asking too much.

A shoddy record

WHAT'S WITH SOME student senators? Tuesday night — for the second meeting running — the Senate did not consider approval of Students for a Democratic Society as a legitimate campus organization.

Two weeks ago the Senate did not consider the SDS question because of parliamentary snags. Tuesday there was no excuse.

The Senate Standing Committee had met, considered the SDS constitution, and voted to pass it. This was before Tuesday. When Dan Nicol, chairman of the Senate committee reported Tuesday, there was a different tale to be told.

Even though his committee had passed the SDS constitution, Nicol said the Senate could not consider approving SDS until a hearing is held Saturday. Why? Because Nicol read in the papers where SDS may be investigated by the great white fathers in Washington for hanky panky.

Even after the senator who made the committee motion to approve SDS and send the matter to the floor of the Senate told everyone that this was the purpose of his motion, committee chairman Nicol said this was not the purpose of the motion. Nicol did not let the Senate debate the question, and Senate leaders let him get away with it.

Thus, members of SDS have attended two Senate meetings without even having their organization discussed.

It would appear some senators, especially Nicol, are not fulfilling their obligations to the students of the University.

Interested?

AT TUESDAY'S SENATE MEETING representatives of the Central Party Committee, Union Board and Interfraternity Council announced that all those organizations had voted to support the Senate's resolution backing a large auditorium.

These organizations made the decisions after Pres. Howard Bowen said the issue is closed and will not be reopened.

There is a real student interest in a larger auditorium, and the fact that the administration does not agree with student opinion has not dampened that interest.

On a campus where the stock complaint is "too much apathy," it is unfortunate the powers that be do not take advantage of real interest when it is shown. But maybe apathy is appreciated — more than we know.

Homecoming budget listed

To the Editor:

The Homecoming Committee is responsible for the activities listed in the 1965 budget given below. This budget is a representative sample of Homecoming expenses over the past few years.

| 1965 Homecoming Budget | |
|------------------------|---------------|
| Badges | $2000 |
| Parade floats | 350 |
| Bands | 185 |
| Parade Organization | 1700 |
| Alumni coffee hours | 350 |
| Monument | 400 |
| Publicity | 455 |
| State Officials | 50 |
| Exhibits and displays | 175 |
| Administrative | 150 |
| Union open house | 400 |
| total | $6215 |

Income from badge sales is the sole source of revenue to the Homecoming Committee. In 1962 and 1963 the Homecoming Committee authorized a commission of 20 per cent of sales to selling units and in each year it incurred a sizable deficit. In 1964 and 1965 prizes were offered to the most successful selling units. The results of this system was a sizable increase in net receipt. Not only were more badges sold in 1964 and 65 but the cost to the badge committee was reduced from approximately 40 of sales in 1962 and 1963 to between 20 and 25 per cent in 1964 and 65.

The badge sales campaign for 1964 and 1965 have each been an outstanding success. Credit for this must go to the exceptional student leadership we have had in these two years and to the aggressive campaign carried on by the selling units. The Homecoming Committee feels that these units have rendered a fine service to the Homecoming tradition. We believe the units

Is it worth it?

To the Editor:

By all reports Coach Jerry Burns is a good man. He goes to church, takes care of his wife and family, speaks regularly at service organizations.

In 1964 he was paid $17,499.96 plus $1,765.96 as traveling expenses by the University of Iowa.

His teams have set an Iowa record of eight straight Big Ten losses.

Is this man worth the money the University is paying him? Or, as has the University of Chicago, should we abolish intercollegiate football?

How a group condemns itself

By MAGGIE FONES
Assistant News Editor

Although many spectators apparently felt that Tuesday's Student Senate meeting was another circus, I must say that it was an improvement over their first regular meeting of the year. Senate business was made more efficient by the attendance of a parliamentarian, more pertinent by the interest of senators, and more exciting by the presence of about 40 spectators, whose jeers and cheers often interrupted the proceedings.

One angry observer, Jim Walters, A1, Iowa City, shouted a tirade of insults to Senate and its officers after the meeting was adjourned. I picked out such phrases as "hack politicians" and "Senate should dissolve itself" from his impromptu speech. Walters, who was bitter because Senate was not allowed to vote on the recognition of Students for a Democratic Society, (see editorial), had a valid reason to complain. And complain he did.

But such emotional outcries sound impertinent to the rational observer. Simply because a committee affiliated with a group acts unjustly, the entire group and its leaders need not be condemned. Such a group, if it permits such unfair action will inevitably condemn itself.

Demonstrators 'disgrace'

To the Editor:

Saturday our Iowa campus was disgraced, as were many other fine schools and cities across the U.S. by the actions of the anti-war groups.

These protest demonstrations seem to serve no other purpose than adding to the internal decay of our democratic society and the moral decay of dedicated fighting forces in Viet Nam.

The few who have been influenced to participate in these anti-American movements have also increased the degradation of the U.S. image abroad.

This is evidenced by the fact Communist China and North Vietnamese news sources have used the protests as instruments for the purpose of spreading the "American dissension" to many uninformed people throughout the world.

It has been evident that the protest activities have been futile attempts to gain public support, but orderly and sincere negotiation might result in accomplishments that cannot be secured in any other way.

Museum defended

To the Editor:

As a student in the art department I was surprised and saddened by the administration's recent proposal to close the University's Museum of Natural History. There can be little doubt that the museum has served as an invaluable reference for me and other art students both past and present. Its true value, however, supersedes the aid it gives just to art students.

Disregarding the countless years of painstaking labor involved in its assembly, the museum represents a unique pool of visual reference surely as valuable as the numerous volumes of printed reference dedicated to this same subject.

It would seem to me that this proposal to dismantle the school's only stock of visual reference on this subject would be as questionable as the creation of classrooms from corresponding library space dedicated to written natural history reference.

If the administration's proposal is carried out, it must also be remembered that the eventual alleviation of the current classroom shortage will in no way help to bring the museum back.

On the contrary, if these facilities are dismantled, stored, or sold they will be permanently lost, for unlike the building of classrooms, a natural history museum of any aesthetic quality cannot be replaced by a crash program of heavy construction.

After I voiced the problem to a natural history student from another school who was visiting the museum recently, he made a statement which in my opinion sums up the prime reason for a renewed interest in this facility.

In effect he said that at Colorado State University, an area abounding in wildlife, there was no comparable establishment, and that we at Iowa who are so far removed from many of the habitats displayed should jealously guard the privilege we now take for granted.

An interest must indeed be generated which will dispel any impression on the part of the administration that our museum of natural history is nothing more than a place for children to amuse themselves.

Museum lovers urged to express views

To the Editor:

I vehemently protest the possible closing of the Macbride Museum. One of the few nice things on this campus that people of all ages can enjoy President Bowen wishes put on the list of long-range building plans.

Where are art students going to find animals to draw? Where are parents going to take their children on Sunday afternoons to learn of monkeys, antelope, owls and rabbits?

Many enjoy the museum, and I only hope they put their angry pens to paper and voice their protestations.

Protests should indicate clear view of alternatives

To the Editor:

To those students and faculty who seek extensive participation and approval of their Viet Nam protest I offer only this comment.

A fearful situation may cause concern and variant attitudes. But a basic premise in protest would seemingly be a clear view of alternatives that serve better the cause at hand. Mere dissent offers nothing to the people who are affected.

The Days of Protest ought, then, to be enlightening to all who seek these new proposals for Viet Nam, thus giving greater assurance of success, of achieving peace, safety, etc., of which they are in favor.

If these proposals are not to be offered, then mere protest cannot be constructively justified, but merely viewed as demonstrative emotion-letting.

There is education

To the Editor:

How many classrooms will be made available by the proposed removal of the Museum of Natural History from Macbride Hall? Is the number great enough to justify the banishment of this University landmark from the campus? I doubt it.

The museum DOES serve an educational purpose for those students enrolled in courses in Anthropology, Art, Life Science, and Earth Science. But even if this was not the case, is there no room in the big university for those things which, although not connected directly with the classroom experience, do deal with the total educational experience of the student, no matter what his age or educational level? Let the museum go on attracting children from across the state. It would seem that this is an educational function in itself.

If the space which the museum presently must be converted into classrooms, could not some other place within the University be found to house the museum collection? It would be a pity to watch the collection disappear piecemeal in preference to the few classrooms that could be built in its place.

Nazi party's legal existence questioned

To the Editor:

It may not be my business, as a foreigner, to argue on what is written in an American newspaper, but I feel that as a student of the University of Iowa, I may do so with what is published in The Iowan.

Such an article as "Nazi leader lashes at rights movement" (Oct. 13) should have never been published in a non-Nazi newspaper. It is giving the Nazi organization a publicity they really do not deserve. It would be much better to write a little bit more about such an organization as SNCC or any other one with the same spirit.

When Bishop says that "no one gives any thought to protecting the white people, the Indians, Mexicans, Japanese, Chinese" I am sure he knows what he is talking about for he must be the first one to do so, and I should like to know how many Indians, Mexicans, Japanese, or Chinese have been accepted as a member of the Nazi organization.

The whole article shows once more that the only ideal of the Nazi organizations is hate and segregation, hate of anybody who does not think like them. That is why I do not understand that such a party is not forbidden, when the Communist one is, or that a Nazi leader is allowed to speak in front of hundreds of students, when a Communist leader has not the right to do so.

Criticize, if you will, but don't ever blush

To the Editor:

There are probably few discussions as sterile as the Viet Nam issue. There are probably few discussions as concrete and (as interest-rousing) as the question of whether someone you know at the University is a "pinko" or a "sympathizer" or a "supporter" relative to the Viet Nam issue.

It is noteworthy, I think, and certainly discouraging, that students fail to make any distinction between policy formation and policy execution. So if you're asked the question of whether you favor our present commitment, you can be sure your answer reflects both your judgment on the war and on your country. "Critical judgment has somehow become confused with disloyalty." Freedom of thought and treason are in the same bed.

Criticize the Johnson Administration just for the sake of polemics — but don't blush — they will think you are pink.

New projector lens needed, reader says

To the Editor:

The Union spends approximately $1,200 on films to be shown each year. Is it asking too much that they spend another $40 to purchase an anamorphic lens which the films such as "The Prize" require to be shown without distortion?

There are 80 16mm projectors on campus according to Audio-Visual. Couldn't the Union get another one on Saturday and Sunday nights? There aren't too many classes using them at that time.

In order to do a great service to the University film audience Robert Rose has agreed to conduct a short course in Film Projection. If any individual or group is interested, they may contact Mr. Rose at the TV Center.

Booing cheered

To the Editor:

At the risk of heresy, I would like to inject a dissent into the wailing and gnashing of teeth over the booing of the Hawkeyes last weekend.

Why not boo the Hawkeyes, or any other college football team? Al Randolph was quoted in today's Daily Iowan as saying: "They (the fans) think the price of admission entitles them to play coach." This statement is asinine in the extreme. What DOES buying a ticket entitle one to? By the reasoning of those who bewail the booing it entitles one to sit there burbling happily over the fact that "our boys" are down there on the field.

No! What it entitles one to is some sort of gratification. When one feels cheated of that one has the right to protest. Must we endure in silence a poor public performance that we have paid to see? The criticism and comment that we apply to professional artists and athletes attests to the fact that we don't have to and won't.

If a college team, or any individual on it, is not performing as well as might reasonably be expected then boo it, I say. Perhaps this was just the stimulus the Hawkeyes needed.

Smith—

Other members of the audience accused Smith of publicity mongering, of mental illness and of communism.

"I am here," Smith said, "because I want to spend five years (referring to the possible prison sentence) for my country. I feel I have a duty to my country. I feel that I owe to my country what the Germans owed in 1939, not because I side with the communists."

Smith tried to explain further after he left the glare of the spotlight. His hands were still shaking as he lit a cigarette with the same lighter he had used on his draft card. He said he did not expect others to join him.

"I DON'T THINK the majority of people will understand," he said. "I hope the majority will begin to sympathize and perhaps later understand."

Other students who hold the same ideals which led to Smith's act of civil disobedience are convinced that draft cards are being burned on other campuses. More will be burned in Iowa City, they maintain.

Smith's protest was mounted on a wave of anti-Viet Nam demonstrations that swept the country last weekend. He was the second person reported to have burned his draft card publicly.

DAVID J. MILLER, 22, of Syracuse, N.Y., burned his card Friday near an armed forces induction center in New York City. Six FBI agents arrested Miller in Manchester, N.H., on Monday charging him with destroying his draft card. According to Smith, Miller's arrest helped precipitate his decision.

Viet Cong Forces Attack Tribesmen In Plei Me Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Hard hit by daylight, a Viet Cong battalion pressed an attack with mortars and small arms Wednesday night on a special forces garrison of 300 Montagnard tribesmen and 10 U.S. advisers at Plei Me, in the central highlands.

The garrison held out with the help of heavy air strikes at the Red guerrillas. U.S. planes flew 100 sorties in support of the defenders, and dropped them ammunition.

The Viet Cong attacked Plei Me, in hills 210 miles northeast of Saigon, in one of two big strikes Tuesday night, both of which cost them heavy casualties.

They were estimated to have lost from 60 to 100 men around the special forces camp throughout the day. Twenty died on the perimeter barbed wire. Casualties among the defenders were reported light.

But four Americans were killed when a U.S. Army helicopter was shot down during the battle. A B57 bomber believed to have been involved on a mission to Plei Me crashed and one crewman was injured.

The Viet Cong's other major move was an attack by two battalions on a government post in the Ba Long Valley, about 400 miles north of Saigon and only a few miles from the frontier of North Viet Nam. That drive was repulsed.

U.S. advisers reported at one point officers had counted 94 Viet Cong bodies on the wire and in the mud around the post and "they're still counting." Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

The troops captured a wounded man who said he was a North Vietnamese regular. He said he joined a Viet Cong grouping in the area Monday.

U.S. Marines in the Da Nang area, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, announced they killed nine guerrillas and captured 25 suspects in operations Tuesday. Marine casualties were reported light.

Marine planes, which dumped 16 tons of bombs and 40 rockets on guerrilla holdings, were credited with destroying eight buildings and damaging three.

Iowa Dentist Will Attend Club Meeting

Dr. Wallace W. Johnson, associate professor of operative dentistry, will attend a meeting of the Woodbury Study Club at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, today and Friday.

Johnson describes the Woodbury Study Club as a "working club." He said members of the club will spend the two days in Nebraska working with patients at a dental clinic.

The dentists will perform gold foil restorations on the patients, which is filling tooth cavities with tiny pieces of gold foil. This is one of the oldest dental techniques, Johnson said, but is more complicated than filling cavities with more commonly-used materials like plastic.

The Woodbury Study Club was organized about 40 years ago by Charles Woodbury in Council Bluffs. The club works exclusively with gold foil restorations. The club's membership includes practicing dentists and faculty members of dental colleges. Most of the club members are from Iowa and Nebraska.

Yale Professor Scheduled For 3 Shambaugh Lectures

Karl W. Deutsch, professor of political science at Yale University, will deliver three lectures in this fall's Shambaugh Lecture Series next Tuesday through Thursday.

His first lecture, "The West European Experience," will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The second lecture, "The Central and East European Experience," will be at 4 p.m. Wednesday and his final lecture, "The Experience of the Developing Countries," will be at 8 p.m. Thursday. All three lectures will be in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

James Murray, chairman of the Political Science Department, said Wednesday that Deutsch was one of the "leading students of international affairs in the United States" and one of the most "original thinkers" in the field. Murray pointed out that the Wednesday lecture was scheduled at 4 p.m. intentionally to avoid conflict with the evening appearance of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. Tickets are not required for any of the lectures.

Letter Collection Completed

A special collection of presidential letters, collected by the University Library during the last 5 to 6 years, was completed last week with the acquisition of a letter by Lyndon Johnson.

Bound in special leather bindings and kept in the humidity and temperature-controlled Special Collections Department of the Library, the collection is available to all University students. It also has been viewed by classes of high school students.

The University previously possessed many presidential letters scattered throughout the library system. Leslie W. Dunlap, director of University Libraries, originated the idea of the collection.

The value of individual letters varies from time to time and from president to president, according to Frank Paluka, head of Special Collections. Short notes by obscure presidents may be purchased for $10-$20, but letters by presidents Washington, Lincoln, Madison and Kennedy may bring $600-$1,000 or more, depending on content, condition and date of writing, he said. Letters written during or after a president's administration bring more than letters written before he took office, he added.

The letters in the collection by Franklin D. Roosevelt and James Madison are the most interesting, Paluka said. Roosevelt's letter is a humorous reply to a request by Jay "Ding" Darling, of Des Moines, chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey, who had requested more money for his department. Madison's letter is to his father. He refers to the elder Madison as "Honored Sir" and mentions the price of wheat and other commodities.

The letters by presidents Hoover, Lincoln and Wilson were written to Iowans.

Lyndon Johnson's letter is a short note concerning a Federal Judge appointment.

Navy Will Honor Viet Nam Casualty

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy escort ship under construction in Seattle, Wash., has been named "Roark" for Navy Lt. William Marshall Roark of Omaha, Neb., who died in an air combat mission over Viet Nam in April, it was announced Wednesday.

Rep. Glenn Cunningham, (R-Iowa) said Robert H. Baldwin, undersecretary of the Navy, formed him of the designation. Roark, born in Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 23, 1938, attended high school in Omaha prior to entering the U.S. Naval Academy as a Nebraska appointee in 1956. He was killed in action after a bombing mission from the carrier USS Ticonderoga.

His widow and children and parents live in Omaha.

Baldwin wrote that it was appropriate to name the ship for

Roark, noting that shortly before his death Roark wrote his wife a letter containing the statement: "I will not live under a totalitarian society and I don't want you to, either. I believe in God and will resist any force that attempts to remove God from society, no matter what the name. This is what we all must do if we believe in what the founding fathers stood for."

Cunningham last May called the attention of Congress to Roark's letter to his wife.

Baldwin told Cunningham the keel of the Roark will be laid on Dec. 1, 1965, and is scheduled to be launched Nov. 1, 1966, with commissioning shortly thereafter.

Has 630 Members — Credit Union Growing By One-A-Day Rate

By OSMO VATANEN
Staff Writer

One University employe a day on the average joins the University Credit Union, says Harvey O. Thompson, representative of the Iowa Credit Union League. Backed by assets of $143,918, the credit union offers its more than 630 members fully insured, low-cost loans, different types of regular insurance, and a guarantee that the money deposited does not get lost.

The credit union, a cooperative non-profit savings and loan association, grew 25 per cent in membership in 1964 compared with 1963. According to Thompson, this trend is expected to continue.

The growth potential is great. All the University's 5,000 full-time employes are eligible for membership. Also eligible are all students employed part-time by the University.

"The Credit Union has been slow in accepting them," Thompson said. "Students usually stay only for a short time and sometimes leave behind them delinquent loans. Often it is difficult to locate them afterwards."

The union is now housed in a small room on the third floor of the Old Dental Building, but Thompson said they plan to build a house in a couple of years.

"We may also change to computerized operations soon," he said. "This would cut costs and speed up things. This little room we have here is anyhow inadequate."

"If we had an elevator, we would have twice as many customers," Thompson said laughing. But a prospective member needs only to walk up the stairs to the Credit Union room, sign an application, pay 25 cents and deposit $5 when the application has been approved. As long as his money is left there, the member is in good standing. His savings interest is 4 1/4 per cent and the loan interest on the unpaid balance of a loan is 1 per cent.

These benefits are shared with 190,000 Iowans in 392 credit unions, organized in government, transportation, utilities, farming, religious groups and many other places. Credit unions have existed in Iowa for 40 years. Their combined assets total $124 million.

The idea of credit unions goes back to Germany, where Mayor Frederick Raiffeisen of Flammersfeld founded the first credit union in the 19th century. The first one in the United States was founded in 1909 at St. Marie Parish, Manchester, N.H., by Alphonse DesJardins, a Canadian reporter.

The credit union idea applied four principles taken over from the cooperative movement.

- A credit union is a non-profit organization. This is why it is able to charge its members a low interest on loans and give them a limited return on their deposits, or shares.
- The membership is limited to certain group of people, like the employes of the University, the staff of a hospital, the farmers in a county, fraternal organizations and the like.
- Each member of a credit union possesses one vote, regardless of the amount of money he invests.
- The management is voluntary and unpaid. Often, however, the treasurer and his staff are paid.

Workshop Discusses Nurse Teams

A significant development in hospital care — team nursing — is the topic of a five-day workshop which began Monday at the University under the sponsorship of the College of Nursing. Attending the workshop are 118 nurses from 11 states.

Team nursing is an approach to utilizing professional nursing skills designed to give patients the best care possible, according to Eva Erickson, associate professor of nursing and principal speaker at the workshop. She added that she is pleased with the high workshop enrollment because it indicates the "interest and awareness among nurses of the need for good patient care."

In a hospital using team nursing, registered nurses act as team leaders of a group of people — practical nurses, nurses' aides and orderlies — assigned to take care of patients. The efforts of the team are coordinated to match the skills of hospital personnel with the needs of the patient, providing a program of care which is both efficient and flexible, Professor Erickson says.

At the week-long workshop, Miss Erickson and Betty Grimm, assistant professor of nursing at the University of Missouri, are lecturing and leading group discussions on the philosophy, objectives, and implementation of team nursing.

In a special demonstration on Wednesday afternoon, Margaret Armstrong, instructor in nursing at Iowa, and a group of her students will show team nursing in action.

A FOLDER PUBLISHED by the Iowa League of Credit Unions defines a credit union as "a group of people who agree to save their money together and make loans to each other at a low rate of interest, not for profit, not for charity, but for service."

The prerequisite for founding a credit union is that several persons agree to apply for a $10 credit union charter from the Iowa Department of Banking or the Federal Government. The members then put in their money, perhaps $10 each, limiting the size of the first loans to perhaps $100 as the University Credit Union did. When the union grows, the ceiling goes up.

The University Credit Union elects a board of nine members at its annual meeting in January. The director, Douglas M. Hieber, head of circulation at University Library, serves for three years. The treasurer is Emmett Potter,

Hoffa Charged With Usurping Union Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa tapped the union's treasury for $570,396 to pay his lawyers in three criminal trials in the past three years, the Labor Department said Wednesday.

"That's only the top of the iceberg," said Seymour Spelman, attorney for a group of anti-Hoffa Teamsters suing for restitution of the funds.

Spelman claimed the total is probably closer to $1 million for Hoffa's numerous criminal cases since 1959.

HOFFA WAS reported in conference at Teamsters headquarters here and unavailable for comment.

The Labor Department said the Teamsters' money was spent for Hoffa's legal fees in his 1962 kickback conspiracy case in Nashville, Tenn., his 1964 jury-tampering trial in Chattanooga, Tenn., and his Chicago trial the same year for defrauding the Teamsters' pension fund.

The Nashville kickback case ended in a mistrial, but Hoffa was later convicted of tampering with the jury and sentenced to eight years in prison. He was sentenced to another five years in his Chicago fraud conviction. He also was fined $10,000 in each case.

HOFFA IS appealing the two convictions. His first appeal, in the jury-tampering case, is due in the Supreme Court by Dec. 6.

The Labor Department said its investigators made no attempt to verify the figures given in Teamsters' records and emphasized it has not passed judgment on whether the use of union money to defend its officers in criminal cases was proper.

"The law provides that union officers must hold the money of a labor organization for the benefit of its members and provides for suits to recover misused funds or property," the department's report said.

IT IS UP TO union members — such as Spelman's anti-Hoffa clients — to establish in a civil suit whether the Teamsters violated the Landrum-Griffin law governing union finances.

Hoffa, under pressure of the suit and rebellion of some of his fellow Teamsters union high command, stopped using union funds to pay his lawyers early in the Chicago trial.

The suit by the 16 Philadelphia rank-and-file members seeks to make the entire 15-man Teamsters Executive Board, headed by Hoffa, liable for paying back the money.

GERMAN — ISRAELI TALKS BONN, Germany (AP) — A Foreign Ministry spokesman says contacts have been established with the Israel Embassy to prepare for talks about expanding trade between the two countries.

Communists Facing Death Without Sukarno Reprieve

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian Communist party — PKI — is in effect standing on a scaffold with a rope around its neck, but still hoping for a reprieve.

A reprieve does not seem likely. However, anything is possible in this Southeast Asian nation of 105 million, which President Sukarno has tried to run with new theories of government.

The army, since the abortive Communist-backed coup of Sept. 30-Oct. 1, has conducted an elimination campaign against the PKI. The drive centers mainly on the two most important islands, Java and Sumatra.

The ailing president, 64, is using every man at his disposal to save the Communists, whom he refuses to condemn for their part in the uprising.

Sukarno would like to commute the sentence of the Communists, but the army will not buy the idea. It has temporarily suspended the activities of the PKI and its affiliated organizations, while the crackdown continues.

English Mass Will Begin In 4 Months

ROME (AP) — American Catholics will soon be able to participate in mass recited almost completely in English.

The announcement was made Wednesday by the Vatican in response to a request by the U.S. bishops. The change from Latin will not come into effect for at least four months, which will be the time needed to publish an official English supplement to the Catholic missal.

All parts of the mass recited aloud or sung will be in English, the Vatican said. The change will bring the United States into line with other English-speaking countries, where mass has been recited mostly in English for the past two years.

Iowa Professor To Speak Before Beirut Meeting

Dr. William K. Hamilton, professor and head of the Department of Anesthesia in the College of Medicine, will attend a meeting of the newly established Middle East Society of Anesthesiology in Beirut, Lebanon, Oct. 30-Nov. 2.

While at the meeting, Dr. Hamilton will present three papers, the subjects of which include manpower problems of anesthesia throughout the world, surgery on patients in shock, and respiratory problems in newborn infants.

A Moslem party publication, Nusa Putra, said the other day Aidit has been arrested. But that story still has not been confirmed. It appears that Aidit — friend of Sukarno and enemy of the army — is still at large.

Dhani was the first high military commander to support the coup publicly. But he quickly retracted when the rebels failed. Now he has left the country, ostensibly on a mission for the government.

M. H. Lukman and Njoto, the second and third ranking leaders respectively in the PKI, have not been arrested. Both appeared at a Cabinet meeting Sukarno held in his summer palace at Bogor, 40 miles south of Jakarta, five days after the coup was crushed.

Lukman is deputy chairman of Parliament.

Njoto is a Cabinet minister and also a state minister attached to the highest policy-making body in the government. He has been editor of the Communist paper Harian Rakjat, now banned.

Hawkeye Marching Band To Play At Northwestern

The 120-member Hawkeye Marching Band will perform at the Iowa-Northwestern football game Saturday at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

The band's halftime program, titled "Spectrum of Sound," will be similar to the show presented last Saturday at the Iowa-Minnesota football game in Iowa Stadium.

Country and western music will be depicted by a formation of a cowboy spinning a rope as the band plays "Good Ol' Mountain Music." Moving to the opposite end of the music spectrum, the band will form an organ and play J. S. Bach's "Tocatta and Fugue in D Minor."

Equipment Stolen From Currier Site

Two Cedar Rapids workers reported to police Wednesday that $600 worth of glazing equipment was stolen from the Currier Hall construction site.

Evan Heldt and Jim Kelly, employees of the D&S Glass Company of Cedar Rapids, said the various tools were taken sometime after 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The third formation will be a computer, representing the field of electronic music. A drill routine to "I'm Gonna Go Fishin'" by Fisher will end the show.

The Iowa musicians will also appear in pre-game activities at Northwestern.

Frederick Ebbs is director of bands at the University.

Murder Suspect Freed On Bond

GRANT CITY, Mo. (AP) — Clifford Stevens, a Worth County farmer charged with first degree murder in the death of an Iowa boy, was released Wednesday under $25,000 bond.

Stevens is charged in the fatal shooting, Oct. 7 of Gail L. Worthington, 17, of Mt. Ayr, Iowa. His preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 9. Worthington died in a Mt. Ayr hospital a short time after he was shot in the back of the head.

Missouri Highway Patrol officers said Stevens told them he fired after he surprised four youths at his farm near Denver, Mo.

Plans For Museum Move Not Discussed With City

The University has not talked with state and local officials regarding the possibility of transferring Macbride Hall museum to the city, Phil E. Connell, assistant to the president, said Wednesday.

Pres. Howard R. Bowen said in his presidential report the "green book," that the development of the liberal arts campus would be facilitated by the removal of the museum. However, there are no immediate plans to close the museum.

Connell said that new exhibits would likely be added to Macbride Hall if classrooms were to replace the museum.

State Rep. Minette Doderer (D-Iowa City) has sent a letter to the Iowa City council recommending that the city study the possibility of preserving the museum. Mayor Richard W. Burger read the letter at the council meeting Tuesday night.

Councilman William C. Hubbard suggested the Post Office as a possible museum site if a new Post Office building were built. The matter was referred to the Citizens Advisory Committee for study.

Escape Virtuoso Vanishes Again

CHICAGO (AP) — A prisoner who once battered his way out of a paddy wagon escaped again Wednesday by picking the lock on his manacles and leg irons.

The escape virtuoso is David Wainwright, 24, of Chicago. He had been in the Cook County Hospital, in shackles, for treatment of infectious hepatitis.

Jail Warden Jack Johnson said Wainwright picked locks on his handcuffs and leg irons that confined him to his bed. Then he apparently fled down a rear fire escape.

Michel Halbouty To Give Economics Lecture Tonight

Michel T. Halbouty, consulting geologist, petroleum engineer, independent operator and producer, from Houston, Tex., will speak on "Economics, the New Dimension in Geological Thinking" at 7:30 p.m. today in the Geology Auditorium.

The talk is the first in the Program of Distinguished Lecturers sponsored by the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and the Graduate College.

Halbouty served as chief of the petroleum production section of the Army-Navy Petroleum Board during World War II. He has had wide experience in scientific and financial aspects of petroleum geology.

The lecture is one of 50 that Halbouty will give to geological society and university groups before Dec. 15.

Tickets are not required for the program.

53 Graduate Students Receive 3-Year Grants For Study From NDEA

Fifty-three University students have graduate fellowships available under the National Defense Act (NDEA) at the University for the 1965-66 academic year, Dean Duane Spriesterbach of the Graduate College has announced. Twenty-three are new appointees, while 30 are receiving fellowships for the second or third year.

The NDEA fellowships are three-year programs to assist the student in earning a Ph.D. or equivalent degree. Each awardee is given a stipend of $2,000 for the first year, $2,200 for the second, and $2,400 for the third year of graduate work. The fellow also receives an annual allowance of $400 per dependent and has all tuition and fees waived because of a $2,500 cost-of-education grant given by the NDEA program for each NDEA student.

Through the office of education, the Federal Government grants support to new or expanded graduate programs throughout the United States.

FOLK SINGER Glenn Yarbrough, formerly featured soloist with the well-known Limelighters, will bring his bright tenor talents to the University Oct. 28. Accompanying him will be his seven-man group. Yarbrough made popular such songs as "Baby the Rain Must Fall" and "One More Round."

Hunters Escape Drowning

Two Cedar Rapids men nearly drowned Wednesday afternoon when their boat capsized on Coralville Lake.

James Neagle and Fred Garner, both 22, were duck hunting when the boat overturned. The pair clung to the capsized boat for more than an hour, yelling for help, before rescue came, the Johnson County Sheriff's office reported.

The pair was about 100 yards from shore when they were rescued by the sheriff's boat.

Both were taken to Mercy Hospital where they are being treated for exhaustion and exposure.

Glenn Yarbrough To Perform In First 1965 CPC Concert

Singer Glenn Yarbrough will appear at the first Central Party Committee (CPC) concert of the year at 8 p.m. Oct. 28 in the Union Main Lounge.

Tickets are on sale at Whetstone's, Campus Record Shop and the Union information desk at a cost of $3 and $2.50 for reserved seats and $2 for general admission seats.

About 2,000 people are expected to attend, according to Becky Huxtable, A2, Glen Ellyn, Ill.

Yarbrough will be accompanied by his seven-man group. The singer made famous such songs as "Baby the Rain Must Fall," "It's Gonna be Fine" and "One More Round."

Yarbrough was the featured soloist for the Limelighters until 1963 when he broke away from the group. Since that time he has broken several attendance records that the Limelighters set, including one at the Hungry i in San Francisco.

CPC will sponsor five more concerts this year.

Law Testing Set For Nov. 13

The law school admission tests, compiled by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J., will be offered Nov. 13 in Iowa City, Ames, Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Dubuque, and Grinnell.

Persons planning to enroll in the University College of Law are required to take the test. Prospective law students at other schools should check with the particular school to find out whether the test is required.

Application forms for the tests are available from the office of Charles R. Statler, director of the U of I Examinations Service. Information also can be obtained by writing Educational Testing Service, Box 944, Princeton, N.J. Registration forms and fees must reach ETS by Oct. 30.

In addition to the U of I, the tests will be given on the same dates at Iowa State University, Coe College, Drake University, Lorain College, and Grinnell College.

The tests will be administered again on Jan. 29, Mar. 26 and July 23.

POLICE RECRUITING DRIVE—LONDON — The Home Office says it will spend $980,000 by the end of 1965 to recruit policemen. The campaign is aimed at men and women with good education.

Intramural Chairman Named By Town Men

Rocky Zuendel, 2730 Wayne Ave., has been appointed intramural athletics coordinator for the town men. A schedule for touch football has been set up with all teams beginning play Friday at 4:15 on Old Finkbine fields.

Town Men's golf tournament will be held Saturday. Entries may be phoned in to the intramural office in the Field House.

Town men wishing further information may call the intramural office or 353-2187.

Ken Boyer Traded To Mets; Cards Get Smith, Jackson

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals traded veteran Ken Boyer to the New York Mets Wednesday for third baseman Charley Smith and left-handed pitcher Al Jackson.

Bob Howsam and Met President George Weiss closed the deal in Chicago. It was announced here.

In New York, the Mets said they would also receive a minor league player to be named later.

"We hate to see a player of Ken's caliber go," Howsam said, "because he has been great in his 11 years with the Cardinals. But we had a chance to get a man in Smith who is a power hitter and a good fielder, and a fine starting pitcher in Jackson.

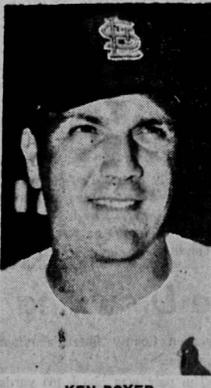

The trade may be the first in a series for the Cardinals, who finished seventh in the National League this year after winning the world championship in 1944.

Boyer had a bad season after suffering a back injury in an exhibition game.

Boyer hit .295, batted in 119 runs and hit 24 home runs in 1947 and was named the league's most valuable player. This year, the 34-year-old Boyer slumped to .260, batted in 75 runs and hit 13 homers.

Smith, 28, hit .244 this past season for the Mets, had 62 RBI and 16 home runs.

Jackson, 29, has won more games for the Mets than any other pitcher in the team's four-year history — 40. Last season he won eight and lost 20.

Hawks Prepare For Northwestern

The Iowa defense worked Wednesday against offensive plays used by Northwestern as the Hawkeyes drilled for what they hope will be their first Big Ten football victory of the year Saturday.

Offensive players stressed both passing and running in preparation for the game at Evanston.

The team drilled in sweat clothes for about an hour and a half. Steady rain marred the last half hour of practice.

Iowa, Wildcat Jr. Varsityes To Play Friday

A junior varsity football game between the University of Iowa and Northwestern has been scheduled to be played at Evanston, Ill., Friday.

Although complete records are unavailable, it is believed to be the first game for an Iowa JV squad since 1929. In 1928 and 1929, the Hawkeyes played Indiana, Illinois and Notre Dame each season.

Director Evashevski said the game would serve as a competition stimulus for the players who do not make the 38-man traveling squad for the road games or who do not get in the Iowa stadium games.

The affair is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. The players will remain in Evanston to attend the Iowa-Northwestern varsity game Saturday afternoon.

It is possible, Iowa officials believe, that such competition might develop players who could help in the varsity games and if such men show necessary ability they could be made available for later Hawkeye contests.

SCARPITTO HONORED

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Scarpitto, Denver flanker, does not rank among the top receivers in the American Football League but his 90-yard touchdown pass reception from John McCormick earned him The Associated Press' nod as offensive Player of the Week.

Scarpitto is only 5-foot-11 and 190 pounds, but he has chased away a platoon of candidates who were looking for his job.

Rector Out, So — N.U. May Pass More

EVANSTON, Ill. — The Northwestern Wildcats, known primarily as a running team, may rely on passing to fight fire with fire against the Hawkeyes Saturday. The Northwestern aerial game opened up for the first time against Wisconsin as the Wildcats passed 30 times, completing 12 for 130 yards.

The likelihood of a stepped-up passing game will be greater now that sophomore Denny Boothe has been named to start at quarterback in place of Dave Milam.

Greater pressure will be placed on Northwestern's own passing game by the loss of the team's leading rusher, halfback Ron Rector, for the game. He suffered a sprained shoulder in the Wisconsin game. Before being sidelined he boosted his team-leading rushing average to 4.3 on 204 yards in 48 carries. Ready to step in for Rector will be junior halfback Larry Gates, the team's punt return specialist.

One other major change in the lineup will find linebacker Denny Yanta moving back to offensive center in place of Mike Shea in an effort to strengthen the offensive line. Yanta lettered at offensive center last year.

Fullback Bob McKelvey ran for 62 yards against the tough Badger defense to lift his team-leading yardage total to 247.

Tight end Cas Banaszek still leads Wildcat receivers in receptions with 13 for 127 yards. But split end Mike Donaldson caught five passes against Wisconsin to lift his total to 11 and give him the yardage lead with 143. Banaszek is a brother of Ken Banaszek who played on the baseball and basketball teams at Iowa for the past two years.

It will be Homecoming at Northwestern, with the game highlighting activities that include the annual parade up Sheridan Road Friday evening and a Jamboree in McGaw Hall Saturday evening. The parade will start at 7:15, winding its way northward to Long Field.

The game will mark the third time this season the Wildcats will be faced with the task of having to lift themselves back up to the .500 mark. Last Saturday's upset loss to Wisconsin, 21 to 7, left the Wildcats with an overall record of 2-3, with a mark of 1-1 in Big Ten play.

History Of Football—

Teams Start Running More, Kicking Less By Mid-1880's

By RON BLISS Staff Writer (fourth in a series)

By the mid-1880's, the game of American football had shaken off nearly all resemblances that it had had to the games of rugby and soccer, and established itself as a major sport.

Unlike the kicking games from which it originated, football had become predominantly a running game which was fast and hard-hitting. Its players were stout and aggressive and its play was gruelling.

John W. Heisman, a player in that long gone era, described play in those days in the following manner:

"WE HAD GOTTEN down to 11 men on a team even so long ago as that, but, as a rule, teams carried only four substitutes, even while on a trip, and trips sometimes meant playing two or three games on successive days, so as to be sure to take in enough money at the gate to defray the expenses of the trip."

"The time of the playing halves of a game in those days was 45 minutes, not 30 minutes, as now. Furthermore, the game was not divided into quarters as now, so there is today a rest period we never had in the old days. Players of my time had to be real iron men, because we played two games each week — Wednesdays and Saturdays."

"Once a game started, a player could not leave unless he actually was hurt, or, at least, pleaded injury. Accordingly, whenever the captain wanted to put a fresh player into action, he whispered, 'Get your arm hurt, or something'. In one game my captain whispered to me: 'Get your neck broke Heisman.'"

"WE WORE JERSEYS and shorts of great variety. We had no helmets or pads of any kind; in fact, one who wore home-made pads was regarded as a sissy. Hair was the only head protection we knew, and in preparation for football we would let it grow from the first of June."

"We didn't have many sweaters in those days, but we all wore snug fitting canvas jackets over our jerseys. You see, the tackling in that day wasn't clean-cut, and around the legs, as it is today. All too often it was wild, haphazard clutching with the hands, and when runners wore loose garments they were often stopped by a defensive player grabbing a handful of loose clothing. Some players wore pants, or jackets, of black horsehair. When you made a fumbling grab, you lost your fingernails."

"IN THOSE pioneer years, arguments followed most every decision the referee made. The whole team took part, so that half the time the officials scarcely knew who was captain. More than that, every player was privileged to argue as much as he pleased with any and every player of the opposition. The player who was a good linguist always was a priceless asset."

"Line charging? Very little scientific thought had been put on that department of play before the dawn of the present century. Nearly all linemen, as a rule, lined up squarely against those who played the same positions on the opposing team. They didn't crouch or squat or play low. They mostly stood bolt upright and fought it out with each other hammer and tongs, tooth and nails, feet and fist. Fact is, you didn't stand much chance of making the line those days unless you were a good wrestler and fair boxer."

So, football in those days was more of a game of brawn, and was not much played along the lines of strategy that it is today, but nevertheless, it made the sport highly interesting, a quality which it has carried up until the present day.

Griese Is Top Passer; Snook Fourth

CHICAGO (AP) — The climactic football clash between Michigan State and Purdue at LaFayette, Ind., Saturday will pit two quarterbacks who are Big Ten statistical leaders.

Official conference computing Wednesday — certified Purdue's Bob Griese as the top passer and Michigan State's Steve Judday best in total offense.

Iowa halfback Al Randolph leads in kickoff returns with seven for an average of 23.6 yards, and Dan Hilsabeck of Iowa has intercepted three passes to tie with Bob Grossman of Michigan for the conference top.

Gary Snook of Iowa ranks fourth in passing behind Griese, Judday, and John Hankinson of Minnesota, and fourth in total offense behind Judday, Griese and Grabowski.

Snook has completed 23 of 73 attempts for 311 passing yards, and in total offense has 338 yards for 102 plays.

University Doctors To Attend Anesthesiologist Meeting

Five physicians at the College of Medicine will attend the annual meeting of the American Society of Anesthesiologists in Denver, Colo., Oct. 23-27.

Dr. William K. Hamilton, professor and head of the Department of Anesthesia is chairman of the program committee, and Dr. Jack Moyers, associate professor of anesthesia, will serve as the delegate from Iowa.

A paper on postoperative respiratory adequacy will be presented by Dr. Azmy R. Boutros, assistant professor of anesthesia. Dr. Jackson Ver Steeg, resident in anesthesia, will present a paper on "A Comparison of Respiratory Effort of Infants Anesthetized with Several Adult and Pediatric Systems." Co-author of the paper is Dr. Wendell C. Stevens, assistant professor in anesthesia. He is not attending the meeting.

A paper on the "Central and Peripheral Venous Oxygen Saturations During High Spinal Anesthesia" will be given by Dr. William E. Cain, former anesthesia resident and now of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md. Co-author of the paper is Dr. Hamilton.

Dr. Francis M. Abboud, associate professor of internal medicine, will present a refresher course at the meeting titled "Regulation of the Peripheral Circulation."

Hunters Rescued After Accident On Swan's Lake

Two Cedar Rapids men were rescued from Swan's Lake near North Liberty shortly before 1 p.m. Wednesday, one and one half hours after their boat upset.

The men, James Neagle and Fred Garner, both 22, were hunting geese on the lake at 11:15 a.m. when the accident occurred. Kent Elder, another Cedar Rapids man, told Johnson County sheriff's deputies he heard screams from the lake, saw the men and then called officials.

When the deputies arrived on the scene, Neagle had climbed a dead tree in the lake and Garner was holding onto a rope attached to the overturned boat. Sheriff's officers said Neagle had been in the water fifteen minutes and Garner, nearly an hour and one half.

The men were taken to Mercy Hospital where Neagle was treated for exposure and released.

Dr. Francis M. Abboud, associate professor of internal medicine, will present a refresher course at the meeting titled "Regulation of the Peripheral Circulation."

Law Of Commerce To Be Discussed

Miss Soia Mentschikoff, noted lawyer and professor of law at Chicago Law School, will be the featured speaker at the College of Law's annual Fall Legal Institute here Friday and Saturday.

The topic of the institute is the Uniform Commercial Code, which has been adopted by 43 of the states and will become effective in Iowa next July.

Miss Mentschikoff will deliver a Murray Lecture "The Future of Commercial Law" at 8 p.m. Friday in the Union Main Lounge. According to Clifford Davis, professor of law and chairman of the institute, the address will combine law and commerce and be of general interest to the public.

Miss Mentschikoff was the associate chief reporter in drafting the Uniform Commercial Code. She has been professor at the University of Chicago since 1963. She received her B.A. degree from Hunter College, New York City, in 1934 and her LL.B. degree from Columbia Law School in 1937.

HER LAW practice began in New York City in 1937 and she remained there for ten years. In 1947 she became the first woman professor of law at the Harvard Law School.

Miss Mentschikoff is a member of the Bar Association of the City of New York, the Illinois Bar Association, the Chicago Bar Association and the American Bar Association.

Bowen To Talk At Conference On Urban Policy

Pres. Howard R. Bowen, chairman of the National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress, will present a special report on the commission to representatives of municipal governments during their second annual Urban Policy Conference on campus Nov. 4-6.

More than 100 representatives of the Iowa City Manager's Association and the large cities group of the League of Iowa Municipalities are expected to attend the three-day conference.

The conference will include seminars, speeches and panel discussions on such topics as urban extension and development, the politics of urban development, the federal government and urban development, electronic data processing in municipal government and coordination of community development.

THE CONFERENCE is sponsored by the League of Iowa Municipalities and the U of I Institute of Public Affairs.

Participants in the Nov. 4 evening session include Willard L. Boyd, U of I vice-president for academic affairs and dean of faculties; John E. Bebout, director of the Urban Studies Center, Rutgers University, N.J.; Cornelius Bodine, Jr., city manager, Sioux City; Robert F. Ray, U of I dean of Division of Extension and University Services, and Park Rinard, executive director, League of Iowa Municipalities.

Speakers Nov. 5 will include President Bowen; Harvey E. Brazier, professor of economics and research associate, Institute of Public Administration, the University of Michigan; Coleman Woodbury, professor of Urban and Regional Planning, University of Wisconsin; Scott Greer, director, Metropolitan Studies Center, Northwestern University, and George Belknap, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Edwin H. Allen, Jr., city manager, Grinnell, will lead panelists Gene Abbott, Data Technics, Des Moines; Robert W. Marker, director, Iowa Educational Information Center and Howard Weiner, director of finance, Sioux City, Nov. 6, in a discussion on the use of electronic data processing in municipal government.

Children Will Give Marionette Show For UNICEF

A puppet show prepared, staged and enacted by nine Iowa City grade school children will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the children's room of the Iowa City Public Library.

The free performance will be given on behalf of the 1963 "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" drive to be held in Iowa City and Coralville Oct. 30.

The hand puppets were made by the students, under the supervision of Miss Miriam Taylor, 320 Willis Dr. Miss Taylor also costumed the puppets, wrote the script and constructed the stage.

Castro's Plans Puzzle U.S.

WASHINGTON — Cuba sent a second note to the United States on Wednesday amid mystery here over Prime Minister Fidel Castro's real intent on letting freedom-seeking refugees leave his country.

One puzzle for Washington negotiators is the release by anti-Castro exiles in Miami on Tuesday of the contents of the first, hitherto-secret, Oct. 12 note from Havana on arranging for a mass refugee exodus.

Some U.S. sources figured the Cuban prime minister deliberately leaked the note this way in a move to score propaganda points and foul up arrangements being worked out in the privacy of diplomatic channels.

OTHERS SPECULATED that the document was slipped to newsmen without Castro's consent. The United States is making a private inquiry to the Castro government as to whether this was the case.

Another question unanswered so far: Why did the arrival of refugees fleeing Cuba in small boats suddenly stop Wednesday?

More than 600 refugees had shown up in small craft in the Florida waters since Castro let down escape barriers Oct. 10. Some Washington authorities thought that Castro probably halted the flow temporarily pending arrangements for safer transportation. Others speculated that he had become alarmed about the prospective size of the exodus — perhaps 50,000 or more wanting to leave and is having second thoughts about his promise to let all those depart who want to. In Havana, a Foreign Minister official denied that the Cuban government had cut off refugee departures. "It is possible that boats being to leave have been delayed by weather, but there has been no cut off," he said.

MOVIE REQUEST FORM Requests for movies to be submitted on suggestion form available at the Union news information desk. The movie committee will study these requests in deciding future movies.
