\textbf{WASHINGTON — President Johnson and Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain are expected to open a two-day summit conference here on a host of issues, including a potential truce in the Viet Nam war, with a speech tomorrow by the Prime Minister on the theme of "International Unity in the Fight Against Communism." The speech, Johnson's first as President, will be delivered at the opening session of the conference, which is being held in the Capitol Rotunda.

"The President appreciates the Prime Minister's generosity in coming to the United States to participate in this important conference and in continuing the long tradition of friendly cooperation between the United States and Britain," a White House aide said. "The President is looking forward to this opportunity to meet with the Prime Minister and to discuss the current situation in Viet Nam and other issues on the agenda of the conference."

"The President also appreciates the Prime Minister's statement that he is prepared to open a new chapter in the relationship between the United States and Britain," the aide said. "This is a most welcome development and one that the President hopes will help to strengthen the bonds of friendship between our two nations."
A state motto for our plates

While ladies was hungry, the property tax, the state legislature has found another playing - a state motto for our plates. It would be time to realize that the state legislature is doing even a great deal to protect the "Beautiful Land." It was a day for the beautiful, it was a day for the beautiful, and what is the State of Iowa doing to protect the "Beautiful Land."

On Wednesday, April 7, the University of Iowa Student Senate passed a resolution that they would like to have a state motto for the state of Iowa. The Senate passed the resolution by a vote of 16-0, with one abstention.

The resolution calls for the establishment of a committee to study the state's current motto, "The Land of the Sky," and to make recommendations for a new state motto. The committee would be composed of members of the Senate, as well as representatives from the student body and the faculty.

The Senate resolution states that the new state motto should reflect the values and traditions of the state of Iowa, and that it should be meaningful to the citizens of the state.

The Senate resolution also calls for the state to consider the creation of a state song, and to study the possibility of developing a state flag.

The resolution was introduced by Senator John Smith, and was supported by Senator Jane Doe and Senator John Doe.

The Senate resolution was approved by a vote of 16-0, with one abstention. The resolution will now be sent to the governor for his consideration.

Police Arrest Pair For Meter Theft

The Moline Dispatch - Police said the two men in custody were charged with stealing $1,600 from three electric meters in a residential area.

The two men were taken into custody after a three-hour search that began at 1 a.m. on Monday.

"They were located and arrested without incident," said Police Chief John Johnson.

Both men, who are in their 30s, will have a court hearing on Monday afternoon.

Court Houses Might Close On Saturday

The Moline Dispatch - County supervisors are considering a proposal to close county courthouses on Saturday mornings. The proposal would have an impact on the way the county handles criminal cases.

"The idea is to reduce the workload on our staff," said Supervisor James Hamilton. "We have a limited number of staff, and closing on Saturdays would give us more time to focus on other tasks."

Heart Disease History Given

"Ancient primates possessed a peculiar mixture of short legs and apelike characteristics that may have been the result of body shape changes due to changes in the environment."

Dr. Connor, a professor of Cardiovascular Research Laboratories at Iowa, discussed the ancient ancestry of human heart disease in a recent paper.
He suggested that the shift in dietary habits over the years has contributed to the rise in heart disease cases.

"Heart disease is a major public health problem and it is crucial to understand the factors that contribute to its development," he said.

Dr. Connor also highlighted the importance of cholesterol levels, blood pressure, and diabetes in the development of heart disease.

"These lifestyle factors can be modified through diet and exercise," he added.

FOR LACK OF A BOOK HE LOST A KINGDOM

We don't believe in horsehoe-nail determinism. Our knight lost his kingdom because he did not have the proper knowledge — after all, he only had six books in his library and one-third of those were the Bible and a book of heraldry. But you can have at little expense most of the world's knowledge at your fingertips with books from Iowa Book & Supply. You won't lose that career kingdom in store for you in the future through lack of preparation — or a book.

We have every textbook you will need for your second semester courses, plus hundreds of other titles that you might not need but will enjoy. If you know your courses, come in and let us outfit you for your next academic campaign — the second semester. (And get rid of that pole of nails.)
