Boynton Speaks On City Managers

The "young professionally-minded" college students in Chicago met with City Manager H. I. Poole Monday night and heard him speak of the problems of city management.

Mr. Poole, former president of the New York Chiropractic College, is now in his second year as City Manager of Chicago, and is known as an expert on the problem.

The students, who were met by the University Tailgate Club, had an opportunity to question Mr. Poole about the problems of city management.

He said the city was trying to solve the problem of traffic congestion by building more streets and by having more police in the city.

Mr. Poole also spoke about the need for better public transportation.

He said the city was planning to build more subways and buses to help solve the problem.

The students were interested in hearing about the problems of city management and were excited to meet Mr. Poole, who is known as an expert on the subject.

Boyd and Johnson, two college students, were killed in a car accident yesterday.

The two students, who were both majoring in engineering, were on their way to a party when their car collided with another vehicle.

The students were killed instantly, and the other driver was seriously injured.

The accident is still under investigation, and no further information is available at this time.
Twins Bounce Mele, Name New Skipper

ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA—Toni Mele, President Gilbert of the Twins, got his answer to the problem of finding a new manager. He announced Friday night that he had fired Sam Mele as the head of the Minnesota Twins and named Norm Griffith as his replacement.

Norm Griffith, a former Twins player, was named team manager. He was the team's batting coach for the past two years and had been the Twins' coach in the minor leagues.

Mele, who had been with the Twins since 1955, was fired after the team's poor performance this season. The Twins are currently in last place in the American League.

Griffith was a popular figure with the fans and was expected to do well in his new role. He was known for his strong batting and his ability to manage games effectively.

The Twins are hoping that Griffith can lead the team to a turnaround in the standings and help them become a competitive team again.
