Sales Tax Dispute Hotter Now Than Before Passage

DE MISTY -- Four days before it is scheduled to go into effect, a tax dispute between the state and the city of Des Moines finally has been settled.

An agreement was reached between representatives of the state and city on Wednesday. However, it is not clear how the state will enforce the tax, which is scheduled to go into effect on Thursday.

The deal represents a major victory for the city, which has long been fighting the state over the tax. The city has said the tax is unconstitutional and has refused to collect it.

Mexican Officials Trace Cause Of Poison Cases

TALARRA, Mexico -- A Mexican government official said on Wednesday that the cause of the recent food poisoning outbreaks in the country have been traced to the use of contaminated ingredients.

The official said that the cases are being investigated and that the responsible parties will face legal action.

Senator Claims Military Brainwashed President

WASHINGTON -- The vice president has been critical of the government's handling of the Vietnam War.

"We can't go on forever fighting a war that we don't understand," said the vice president, who was speaking at a conference of military leaders.

The vice president's remarks were prompted by a speech last week by President Johnson, who said that the war is a "necessary evil."
Liberian's exit from Western zone of influence called incalculable loss

By STEPHEN GRAY
Per The Daily Iowan

The path of Liberian nationalism has been placed on a new footing, as a result of events near the Liberian capital, Monrovia. The Liberian government has taken a firm stand against outside interference in its affairs, and has declared its intention to maintain complete sovereignty over its own territory. This development marks a turning point in Liberian history, as it is the first time since independence that the country has asserted its independence from foreign influence. The move has been hailed as a victory for Liberian nationalism and a declaration of the country's willingness to stand up for itself in the face of external pressure.

P. Albrecht, an expert on Liberian affairs, commented: "This is a significant event in Liberian history. The government's decision to stand up for its own interests is a direct challenge to outside interference. It is a testament to the strength and determination of the Liberian people."

The move has also been welcomed by other African nations, who see it as a positive development in the region. The United Nations has expressed its support for Liberia's decision, and has called on other countries to respect its sovereignty.

"This is a historic moment for Liberia," said UN Secretary-General. "We commend the government for its bold and courageous decision. We urge all countries to respect Liberia's sovereignty and to refrain from any actions that might undermine its stability and development.

The development is also seen as a potential setback to the efforts of some countries to exert influence in the region. The US, for example, has been accused of interfering in Liberian affairs in the past. The government's decision to stand up for its own interests is seen as a signal to other countries that it will not tolerate interference in its affairs."

The move has also been welcomed by Liberian citizens, who see it as a step towards a stronger, more independent Liberia. The government has been praised for its courage and determination, and its decision has been met with widespread enthusiasm.

"This is a moment of pride for Liberia," said a Liberian citizen. "We are proud of our government for standing up for what is right. We trust that Liberia will continue to stand up for itself in the future.

The development is also seen as a potential boon to Liberian economic development. The government's decision to stand up for its own interests is seen as a signal to investors that Liberia is a stable and attractive destination for investment. This could lead to increased foreign investment, which could help to boost the country's economy.

The development is also seen as a potential setback to the efforts of some countries to exert influence in the region. The US, for example, has been accused of interfering in Liberian affairs in the past. The government's decision to stand up for its own interests is seen as a signal to other countries that it will not tolerate interference in its affairs.

The move has also been welcomed by Liberian citizens, who see it as a step towards a stronger, more independent Liberia. The government has been praised for its courage and determination, and its decision has been met with widespread enthusiasm.

"This is a moment of pride for Liberia," said a Liberian citizen. "We are proud of our government for standing up for what is right. We trust that Liberia will continue to stand up for itself in the future.

The development is also seen as a potential boon to Liberian economic development. The government's decision to stand up for its own interests is seen as a signal to investors that Liberia is a stable and attractive destination for investment. This could lead to increased foreign investment, which could help to boost the country's economy.

The development is also seen as a potential setback to the efforts of some countries to exert influence in the region. The US, for example, has been accused of interfering in Liberian affairs in the past. The government's decision to stand up for its own interests is seen as a signal to other countries that it will not tolerate interference in its affairs.

The move has also been welcomed by Liberian citizens, who see it as a step towards a stronger, more independent Liberia. The government has been praised for its courage and determination, and its decision has been met with widespread enthusiasm.

"This is a moment of pride for Liberia," said a Liberian citizen. "We are proud of our government for standing up for what is right. We trust that Liberia will continue to stand up for itself in the future.

The development is also seen as a potential boon to Liberian economic development. The government's decision to stand up for its own interests is seen as a signal to investors that Liberia is a stable and attractive destination for investment. This could lead to increased foreign investment, which could help to boost the country's economy.

The development is also seen as a potential setback to the efforts of some countries to exert influence in the region. The US, for example, has been accused of interfering in Liberian affairs in the past. The government's decision to stand up for its own interests is seen as a signal to other countries that it will not tolerate interference in its affairs.
U.S. Airmen Aided By Weather

Floods Hurt North Vietnam

BAGNIO, Fla. — Flash flooding across Florida's far southern peninsula apparently spared Bagnio, the small town near the Georgia line. The latest of several storms that have been battering U.S. troops.

In other areas of the state, however, the rain has been devastating. At least 10 people are reported dead in southwest Florida alone.

In Bagnio, the narrow southern part of the state received only about 4 inches of rain in the past week. The town has been hit by a series of storms in recent weeks, and residents said they were relieved that this one didn't cause any major damage.

Marina Leon, 40, a Bagnio resident, said she was glad that the town didn't receive more rain. "It's been a real relief," she said. "We've had so much rain lately, and the streets were already flooded."-

The rain in Bagnio was a welcome change from the hot, dry weather that has been prevalent in recent weeks. The temperature reached a high of 90 degrees Fahrenheit on Monday.

In other parts of Florida, however, the rain has been causing problems. In west Florida, for example, a state of emergency was declared in several counties due to flooding.

In central Florida, the National Weather Service reported that several rivers were at flood stage. The agency warned that the rain could cause further flooding in the coming days.

In the south, the rain has been causing problems for farmers. Some crops, such as corn and cotton, are at risk of being damaged by the heavy rainfall.

In conclusion, the rain in Bagnio has been a welcome change from the hot, dry weather that has been prevalent in recent weeks. However, in other parts of Florida, the rain has been causing problems for residents and farmers alike.

Alcoholism Seen As Major Threat

Alcoholics in the third largest U.S. city were described as "at the mercy of a disease" by William B. Wray Jr., chairman of the Metropolitan Carabacho Foundation (MCF).

Wray spoke Tuesday at a conference on alcoholism in New York City. He said that alcoholics are in a "constant state of denial" and that they are often able to function normally for long periods of time.

"The disease is insidious," Wray said. "Alcoholics often resist admitting they have a problem and will often say that they can control their drinking."

Wray said that alcoholism is a chronic disease and that it can be managed, but not cured.

Alcoholics Anonymous (AA), the nation's oldest and largest organization for the treatment of alcoholism, is currently celebrating its 75th anniversary.

Seydel Remains Behind Bars

Donald M. Seydel, 36, of Des Moines, Iowa, was arrested Monday by U.S. Postal Service agents in connection with a $5,000 theft.

According to reports, Seydel was arrested for his alleged role in a scheme to defraud the government of $5,000.

Seydel is currently being held in the Polk County Jail in Des Moines. He is scheduled to appear in court on Monday, October 26.

While in custody, Seydel was reportedly cooperative and answered questions from investigators.

According to a law enforcement official, the investigation began after authorities received a tip from a concerned citizen.

The official said that the tip was based on a tip that the individual was involved in a theft.

The official added that further details of the investigation would be released at a later date.

Egytp, Israel Battle Again

By the Associated Press

Egypt and Israel have agreed to hold peace talks, the two nations said in a joint statement.

The statement comes after a series of meetings between the two countries, which have been ongoing since the summer of 1975.

The talks have focused on a range of issues, including the future of the Sinai Peninsula, which was occupied by Egyptian forces in 1967.

Canadian Warns Viet Peace Hinges On Halting Bombing

United Nations—Canada warned Wednesday that a U.S. bombing campaign could derail a proposed peace conference.

The warning came as the United Nations Security Council met to discuss the situation in Vietnam.

The Canadian ambassador to the U.N. said that the bombing campaign was "inappropriate" and that it could "derail" the peace efforts.

The ambassador added that Canada was "deeply concerned" about the situation in Vietnam and called for a "prompt and effective" end to the bombing.

The embassies of Canada were also called to the U.S. ambassador in Washington, D.C., to protest the bombing.

One plus one = campus peace

Knit for your individual tastes with Olton*

FEATURES AT 1:59—3:30—5:00—7:00—9:00

 Beneath a palms tree, a white tent was set up on a hillside. The tent was made of white canvas and had a large opening at the front.

Inside, there were several tables and chairs, and a group of people were sitting and talking. The atmosphere was relaxed and informal.

One of the people, a woman, was knitting a white sweater. She was using a black yarn and a silver knitting needle. She was talking to someone else, who was also knitting.

The woman said, "I'm knitting a sweater for my husband. He loves it when I knit." She then turned to the other woman and said, "Isn't it great to have a hobby that you can share with someone you love?"

Another man, who was sitting next to the woman, was working on a blue scarf. He was using a white yarn and a silver knitting needle.

He said, "I'm knitting a scarf for my girlfriend. She's always cold, so I thought a scarf would be good for her." He then turned to the woman who was knitting and said, "Isn't it nice to have a hobby that you can share with someone you love?"

The woman who was knitting replied, "Absolutely! Knitting allows you to create something beautiful and share it with someone you care about. It's a wonderful way to express love and affection."
Sanders Sentimental Favorite
To Win Atlanta Golf Classic

ATLANTA, Ga. — Doug Sanders, Georgia's top PGA tour golfer, gave the IMAH state's seed for the 1971 Atlanta Classic on the professional tour, saying he was looking forward to playing in Atlanta.

The couplied, southern-bred Sanders, who has picked up his seven backers and second PGA tour in 1970, is expected to be opening his 1971 season in Atlanta. He is expected to play in the tournament in Atlanta, which is scheduled for late April.

ROD BARNHART

Rod Barnhart, 56, will talk for the first time since his retirement from the NFL to a football audience in Atlanta. He is expected to talk about his career in football. He is a starting linebacker for the Heisman Trophy winner in 1969, and was a key player on the team.

HUGUE BILLY

Hugue Billy, 35, will speak for the first time since his retirement from the NFL to a football audience in Atlanta. He is expected to talk about his career in football. He is a running back for the Heisman Trophy winner in 1969, and was a key player on the team.

MINNESOTA SAGS, 5-1, Bosox Fail Too, 6-0

MINNEAPOLIS- (Pui fences): The Minnesota Twins' hopes for breaking their string of poor starts were ended by the Boston Red Sox in a 6-0 defeat Wednesday, April 21.

The Twins, who had won three of their last five games, dropped to 5-1 for the season. The Red Sox, who had lost three of their last five games, improved to 6-2.

The Twins' losses have come in a series of close games. They have lost six of their last seven games.

The Twins' only win in the series came in the second game, when they beat the Red Sox 5-4. The Twins have won only two of their last nine games.

The Twins' next scheduled opponent is the Detroit Tigers, who are 4-1 for the season. The Twins have lost two of their last three games against the Tigers.

The Twins' next scheduled opponent is the Detroit Tigers, who are 4-1 for the season. The Twins have lost two of their last three games against the Tigers.

The Twins' next scheduled opponent is the Detroit Tigers, who are 4-1 for the season. The Twins have lost two of their last three games against the Tigers.
Coach Comments—Lee Discusses Iowa's Next Foe

Lee, Iowa's Iowa State head football coach, has been in Iowa State head coach Joe Kennedy's seat in the last two games. Lee, the key to Iowa State's success, will play a key role in the upcoming game against Oregon State.

Oregon State head coach, Bud Wilkinson, has been Lee's mentor and will be a key player in determining the outcome of the game. Lee's coaching style is similar to Wilkinson's, and he has been successful in guiding the Iowa State football team.

American League Contenders Busy Dressing Up For Series

The Associated Press—The Detroit Tigers have had their hands full again this season. They have been struggling to keep up with the other teams in the American League. But they are not giving up hope. They have been fighting hard to stay in the race.

College Football Seer Sees Snarling Michigan State Rebound This Weekend

Associated Press—A football seer sees Michigan State rebounding this week. The team has been struggling in recent weeks, but the seer sees a strong performance in the upcoming game.

College Football Seer Sees Snarling Michigan State Rebound This Weekend

Associated Press—A football seer sees Michigan State rebounding this week. The team has been struggling in recent weeks, but the seer sees a strong performance in the upcoming game.

The Daily Iowan
18 Professors Appointed To College of Medicine Staff

Eleven new faculty appointments have been announced in the College of Medicine. Three have been assistant professors, two have been associate professors, two have been associate professors of medicine, one has been appointed chief of the division of pathology, and three have been named assistant professors of medicine.

Dr. James E. Sturrup, assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed chief of the division of pathology. Dr. Sturrup received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1964. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1964.

Dr. James E. H. Warren, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Warren received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1962. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1962.

Dr. John A. K. Hall, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Hall received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1961. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1961.

The College of Medicine has also announced the appointment of three new faculty members to the division of pathology. Dr. John A. K. Hall, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Hall received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1961. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1961.

Dr. James E. H. Warren, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Warren received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1962. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1962.

Dr. John A. K. Hall, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Hall received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1961. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1961.

The College of Medicine has also announced the appointment of three new faculty members to the division of pathology. Dr. John A. K. Hall, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Hall received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1961. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1961.

Dr. James E. H. Warren, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Warren received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1962. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1962.

Dr. John A. K. Hall, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Hall received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1961. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1961.

The College of Medicine has also announced the appointment of three new faculty members to the division of pathology. Dr. John A. K. Hall, associate professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, will be appointed assistant professor of medicine. Dr. Hall received his M.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1961. He has been assistant professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota since 1961.
Little Rock's Integration Battle
Inspired A 'Quiet Revolution'

Ralph A. Collier

CHILDREN IN AND NEW WAVERLY, 01.

0330 'that violence, Creger became interested in working as chief dispatcher RALPH

399. Because of this, Creger became interested in working as chief dispatcher RALPH,

W., then the best for the representative of Action-

Road," he says. Creger's interest in psychology developed in a similar manner, with a

LOOK DOWN THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Includes Iowa, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and as the children's behavior of various nationalities is characteristic of various nationalities,

Harry D. Hixon, now at the University of Washington, spent more than 30 years in the lab, working on how to encourage

To be sure, the federal support for educational psychologists at the University of Bridges, said they are very characteristic of various nationalities.

Iowa, now at the University of Wisconsin, worked on how to encourage

The fields of water psychology, dances, etc., are psychology are also associated with Leo.

Weinberg, then at the University of Wisconsin, worked on how to encourage

Schwenk's 'Leaky' Cellar

Roushes Schmidhauser's Ire

John R. Schwenk, professor of political science, outlined a

The days of political science and psychology are

Roushes Schmidhauser's Ire

Schwenk told Wednesday of the political science and psychology

Schwenk, a Democrat, was defeated in the

Roushes Schmidhauser's Ire

Schwenk campaign, the most of the one-time "Moss

Schmidhauser, a Democrat, was defeated in the

Rev. J. H. Schwenk, professor of political science, outlined a

The days of political science and psychology are

FRENCH SUPPORTED:

Schwenk, a Democrat, was defeated in the

Rev. J. H. Schwenk, professor of political science, outlined a

The days of political science and psychology are

This past August, 10,000 teachers were

Richard Wilkins was a member of the

Richard Wilkins was a member of the

Richard Wilkins was a member of the

Richard Wilkins was a member of the

Richard Wilkins was a member of the

Richard Wilkins was a member of the
String Quartet To Perform At University Club Meeting

The Iowa String Quartet, using primarily original works and compositions written for the medium, will give a recital at the Graduate Library of the University Club at 12:30 p.m. today in the Iowa Memorial Union.

This international—known group of university friends maintains a high level of musical standards, according to their first violinist, John Farrell, second violinist, William Pettit, violist, and Charles Wood, cellist. The quartet, a set for string quartet made by Adolphus Hensel in the 19th and 18th centuries, has been in existence since 1938.

The recital will be held in the library of the University Club at 12:30 p.m. today.

Men's

Men's Sweaters

reg. to 19.95

NOW 8.88

Women's Skirts, Sweaters and Slacks

reg. 13.00

NOW 5.88

Women's Blouses

Roll-up sleeves, long sleeves. Some permanent press. Solid colors, stripes and prints. Sizes 32 to 42.

reg. 5.00

NOW 2.27 or 2 for 4.00

Women's Briefs

All nylon. Elastic leg white and pastel colors. Solid colors and prints. Sizes 5-6-7.

reg. 7.95

NOW 2 for 1.00

Women's Slip & Sleepwear

All nylon. Famous label. Various styles. Some reversible. All colors. Sizes: Junior, Misses and half sizes.

SAVE 40% AND MORE

2 7/8 to 3 7/8

4.00

Women's Stretch Driving Gloves

Weave with all leather palm. Wide selection of colors. Sizes 3.00 and 4.00

NOW 9.99

The University ROTC gives Men 2 For 1 for purchases made this month. The ROTC program offers benefits in a concentration on military science, said Wednesday. An entering freshman who has completed one year of college can be a candidate for the ROTC program.

The ROTC program involves a career in the military or a college major in applied science, said Wednesday. An entering freshman who has completed one year of college can be a candidate for the ROTC program.

The ROTC program offers benefits in a concentration on military science, said Wednesday. An entering freshman who has completed one year of college can be a candidate for the ROTC program.

The ROTC program offers benefits in a concentration on military science, said Wednesday. An entering freshman who has completed one year of college can be a candidate for the ROTC program.