Greek Failure to Fulfill Ideals Causes Acts to Exit

The second bank robbery in less than two hours occurred in the Iowa City area on Monday, Nov. 16, when a group of five men held up the Community National Bank, 268 E. 4th St., in downtown Iowa City. The bank was robbed; I've been out since 8:15 a.m. The robbers were described as being in their late 30s or early 40s, wearing dark clothing, and one of them was carrying a hand gun.

The bank robbery came just days after another one in Davenport, where three men held up the First National Bank, 111 E. 2nd St., on Nov. 13, taking $40,000. In addition, there was a bank robbery in Cedar Rapids on Oct. 30, where $50,000 was taken. These incidents are believed to be related.

The bank robbery in Iowa City caused panic and fear among customers and employees. The Iowa City Police Department is investigating the incident and has no suspects at this time.

Graduates Unaffected By Draft

Enrollment Here Up Despite Fear of Drop

The precautions of prevention that have been in effect for many years have not been affected by the draft. "The draft has not affected our enrollment," said Dr. James A. Yager, president of the University of Iowa. "We have received no information that the draft has affected our enrollment."

Despite the precautions taken, enrollment has not been affected by the draft. "The draft has not affected our enrollment," said Dr. James A. Yager, president of the University of Iowa. "We have received no information that the draft has affected our enrollment."

"The draft has not affected our enrollment," said Dr. James A. Yager, president of the University of Iowa. "We have received no information that the draft has affected our enrollment."
Low rent housing is a must

On Nov. 3, the Iowa City area will have a chance to endorse a program of low rent housing for families of inadequate income.

Too often, in the midst of the relative affluence of this community, the problem of housing for the poor is given much consideration. Actually, many persons in this city cannot tell someone else where the poor areas of town are.

The fact is, poor areas in town do not stand out, they are not very pretty. It is difficult to imagine a family living in squalor - with no running water, in every room, garbage and trash piles throughout the house and yard that is so unbelievably that it must be hidden before one can enter.

Poverty is a hard thing to describe. It may be seen in the classrooms of Iowa City where more than 1,000 families who live there have two or more inadequate income to support their families.

The Low Rent Housing Committee has been working to develop a program for Iowa City. The same, the foil on Nov. 3, Iowans will have a chance to endorse a program of low rent housing.

"The needs in this city are so great that I believe there are few people in this community who don't know someone who is living in poverty," said Mrs. Norma Washburn, director of the Iowa City Housing Authority.

"In many cases, the standard of living for these families is so low that the children are living with a higher conception of the difference between what they have and what they need." says Mrs. Washburn. "It's a point of view of the situation."

Mrs. Washburn said that if Iowans endorse this program, a low rent housing commission will be formed to work with the Housing Authority in determining the locations and types of low rent housing that will be needed in the city. The commission will be made up of representatives from the various community groups.

The commission will select a site for the low rent housing in the city where it will be of the greatest benefit to the lowest income families. The commission will also determine the type of housing that will be built, whether it will be row houses or apartment buildings.

The commission will then select a site for the low rent housing in the city where it will be of the greatest benefit to the lowest income families. The commission will also determine the type of housing that will be built, whether it will be row houses or apartment buildings.

"We have many families in Iowa City who are living in poverty and we have a chance to do something about it," said Mrs. Washburn. "I'm optimistic that Iowans will endorse this program and make a difference in the lives of the poor in this city."

Low rent housing is a must for Iowa City. Iowans are urged to endorse this program on Nov. 3.

---

The Daily Iowan

Observations and Comment

Page 2

Tuesday, October 15, 1968

Iowa City, Iowa

Kaleidoscope

by Barbara Halvorson

Vietnam policy shift?

The Soviet policy shift has far-reaching implications for the United States. The shift in policy is in keeping with the détente that the United States and the Soviet Union have been working for over the past several years. The shift in policy is also in line with the opinion of the majority of the American people that the United States should try to work with the Soviet Union on a basis of equality.

For the Soviet Union, the new policy is in keeping with the principles of the Non-Aligned Movement. The new policy is also in line with the principles of the United Nations, which is the world's largest and most representative organization of nations.

Just for information, if you are looking for poverty, take a look down south. Johnnie T. and Johnnie H. live in an area that is so unhealthy that it must be hidden before one can enter. Poverty is a hard thing to describe. It is not easy to see it in the classrooms of Iowa City where more than 1,000 families who live there have two or more inadequate income to support their families.

"The needs in this city are so great that I believe there are few people in this community who don't know someone who is living in poverty," said Mrs. Norma Washburn, director of the Iowa City Housing Authority.

"In many cases, the standard of living for these families is so low that the children are living with a higher conception of the difference between what they have and what they need." says Mrs. Washburn. "It's a point of view of the situation."

Mrs. Washburn said that if Iowans endorse this program, a low rent housing commission will be formed to work with the Housing Authority in determining the locations and types of low rent housing that will be needed in the city. The commission will be made up of representatives from the various community groups.

The commission will select a site for the low rent housing in the city where it will be of the greatest benefit to the lowest income families. The commission will also determine the type of housing that will be built, whether it will be row houses or apartment buildings.

"We have many families in Iowa City who are living in poverty and we have a chance to do something about it," said Mrs. Washburn. "I'm optimistic that Iowans will endorse this program and make a difference in the lives of the poor in this city."

Low rent housing is a must for Iowa City. Iowans are urged to endorse this program on Nov. 3.

---

The Daily Iowan

Observations and Comment

Page 2

Tuesday, October 15, 1968

Iowa City, Iowa

Buchwald finds first Viet 'advice'

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON - The Communist Vietnamese government has issued the crucial opinion, "We are by the United Nations that a shift in Soviet policy is needed on Vietnam, but we're not sure what that shift is.

"We have many families in Iowa City who are living in poverty and we have a chance to do something about it," said Mrs. Norma Washburn, director of the Iowa City Housing Authority.

"In many cases, the standard of living for these families is so low that the children are living with a higher conception of the difference between what they have and what they need." says Mrs. Washburn. "It's a point of view of the situation."

Mrs. Washburn said that if Iowans endorse this program, a low rent housing commission will be formed to work with the Housing Authority in determining the locations and types of low rent housing that will be needed in the city. The commission will be made up of representatives from the various community groups.

The commission will select a site for the low rent housing in the city where it will be of the greatest benefit to the lowest income families. The commission will also determine the type of housing that will be built, whether it will be row houses or apartment buildings.

"We have many families in Iowa City who are living in poverty and we have a chance to do something about it," said Mrs. Washburn. "I'm optimistic that Iowans will endorse this program and make a difference in the lives of the poor in this city."

Low rent housing is a must for Iowa City. Iowans are urged to endorse this program on Nov. 3.
University Bulletin Board

Greeks on Campus 'Alive and Well'

The women's gymnasium will be open for swimming Monday through Friday. Adams previously traveled with junior, Schaefer. In two years' study at Oxford can·t wait until next year. Adams said. 9 a.m. - 11 p.m.

4:30 - 7 p.m.; on farm fields. The FBI is investigating the shooting, the bus driver said. The Student Co. will open the deposit vault. came out and reported the theft.

Prison Guards

Field·house on play wounded 24 shooting. He added. The shooting was reported to police by Mrs. Clinton St.

Police of mind— if you have it. It's easy now to start planning for your life's insurance program that may provide the foundation for a solid financial structure. It's easy even if you're young, or even if you're a college student

If you're 42.

ATTEND FREE MINI-CLASS

Tuesday, Oct. 14

7:30 and 7:00 p.m.

St. Thomas More Church

401 N. Williams Drive

Lobby Assembly Room

Call Iowa City

338-5435

If you are unable to attend these meetings for Informa­tion and employment shows. Class start Thursday, Oct. 17, 7:00 p.m. at the church.

ATTEND FREE MINI-CLASS

Tuesday, Oct. 14

7:30 and 7:00 p.m.

St. Thomas More Church

401 N. Williams Drive

Lobby Assembly Room

Call Iowa City

338-5435

If you are unable to attend these meetings for Informa­tion and employment shows. Class start Thursday, Oct. 17, 7:00 p.m. at the church.

Tec-Read

a study and reading skills course

Presented by Thomas E. Bruder

W. Work Shop Tower

Des Moines, Iowa

376-2688

VETERANS

USE YOUR GI BENEFITS

TO TRAIN FOR A GOOD PAYING FLYING JOB

$4,680

To help those who served in the armed forces. GI & Navy

Benefit requirements:

You must have served at least 30 days of active duty after September 16, 1940. You must have a current GI Certificate.

We're in agreement with other employers of GI flight training programs in the nation to give priority to veterans who have not already accepted the maximum benefits of their

GI Certificate.

To learn more about the benefits of GI flight training, call

Bob Shores, Iowa City Veterans, 224 E. Washington St.

224 E. Washington St.

IOWA CITY FLYING SERVICE

Monticello Airport

339-7543

Free Second AnnualUES

$500

66 SWEEPSTAKES

Each month one student will receive a $500 Scholarship, with the complements of your friendly Phillips 66 Dealer.

HIPPEE OIL COMPANY

Your Phillips 66 Distributor

22 E. Burlington St.

227-7224

Iowa City

Iowa City Flying Service

Monticello Airport

339-7543

Thieves Rob Bank, Station in Coralville

There were two major rob­ber·related incidents last week in Coralville. Both took place at gun point.

The Coralville Bank and Trust, 103 Center Ave., was robbed early Monday morning. The teller was seated at a teller window with a gun and demanded the money in the cash register.

The bank was entered through a side door and the robbery was over in about a minute. The teller complied with the demands and handed over the cash.

The second robbery happened at the Coralville Central Station, 100, Phillips Hall.

The station phone: 353-3580; Problem Analyst phone: 353-5761. Please apply for S. Clinton St.

Questions or comments should be directed to the Liberal Arts Advisory Committee. For more information, call the Liberal Arts Counselor, or visit the Liberal Arts Counselor's office in the Liberal Arts Center. The Liberal Arts Counselor's office is open Monday - Thursday, 8 a.m.-noon, and Friday, 1-5 p.m.
Southern Cal Tops Poll; Ohio State Climbs to 2nd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Los Angeles: Southern California toppled Notre Dame from the top spot in the University Sports Writers' Poll and Ohio State moved into a tie for second place with Notre Dame and Texas, it was announced yesterday.

The top 20 with first-place votes in parentheses:

Notre Dame, which went over escapades on eight teams, had 26 first-place votes, giving it a total of 1,406 points. Southern California, which climbed over Michigan State, had 13 first-place votes and 1,395 points.

The Trojans, who are unranked, will play at Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas, which had five first-place votes, had 1,290 points. Ohio State, which moved up two places, had 11 first-place votes and 1,278 points.

Iowa, which had two first-place votes, had 1,135 points. Michigan State, which dropped out of the top 10, had six first-place votes and 1,130 points.

California, which moved up five places, had six first-place votes and 1,077 points. Arizona, which moved up four places, had four first-place votes and 1,074 points.

Penn State, which moved up five places, had two first-place votes and 1,030 points. Wisconsin, which had five first-place votes, had 1,020 points.

Washington State, which went over an eighth place, had six first-place votes and 991 points. Washington, which went over an eighth place, had three first-place votes and 981 points.

Michigan State, which dropped out of the top 10, had six first-place votes and 975 points. Michigan, which went over an eighth place, had two first-place votes and 974 points.

Iowa State, which went over a fourth-place finish, had five first-place votes and 965 points. Florida, which went over an eighth place, had two first-place votes and 962 points.

Penn State, which moved up five places, had six first-place votes and 936 points. Purdue, which went over a second-place finish, had four first-place votes and 924 points.

Missouri, which went over a second-place finish, had three first-place votes and 913 points. Colorado, which went over an eighth place, had two first-place votes and 910 points.

Arizona State, which went over a second-place finish, had three first-place votes and 907 points. Northwestern, which went over a third-place finish, had two first-place votes and 893 points.

Vanderbilt, which went over a fourth-place finish, had one first-place vote and 891 points. UCLA, which went over a second-place finish, had one first-place vote and 881 points.

Washington State, which went over a second-place finish, had one first-place vote and 878 points. Kansas, which went over a second-place finish, had one first-place vote and 875 points.

California, which went over an eighth place, had one first-place vote and 873 points. Iowa State, which went over a third-place finish, had one first-place vote and 870 points.

Penn State, which went over an eighth place, had one first-place vote and 867 points. Michigan, which went over a second-place finish, had one first-place vote and 864 points.

Penn State, which went over an eighth place, had one first-place vote and 861 points.
Ruggers Down Quad Citys

The Iowa rugby team was too strong for Quad City's Saturday.

The 11-0 shutout in two weeks, its bid for a half-time winning margin, on 14 carries. He drop kicked a 30-yard goal on an unbalanced line on the first half.

The Hawk...deld another touchdown, but Bream...the load on the first half.

As the scoreboard, 11-3, gel, who had seen two fenders in the corner, fit full to the end the edge in the final two quarters. He caught an important 48-yard Iowa 33-yard line. He beat out last year at that one.

It's not unusual at IB.
University's 'Steppleder' Grade Points Allow Most Students to Stay Enrolled

Although 17% or one student enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts last year was not able to escape probation, only 2% per year were dropped from enrollment because they were not able to raise their grade points to a position of good standing.

Several students had graduated this year from the College of Liberal Arts, the outcome of their work in the Spring of the previous year.

Seb has said that academic probation has been a successful method of motivating students to better their academic performance. Last year there were only 13 students in the College of Liberal Arts who were declared probation after the Spring semester, and only 7 of those were declared in their first year.

Commenting on the effect of academic probation, Seb stated that the concerned students were given a chance to prove themselves. He added that the greatest percentage of those students on academic probation were high school graduates, and that most of them were not enrolled in the college at the time of the first year.

The course, which is aimed at helping students who have difficulty in meeting the academic standards of the college, is open to all students who have been on academic probation for the past three years.

Freshmen must be in the upper half of their class to have the opportunity to take the course. They must also have three or more courses to choose from among the courses available.

In addition to the credit hours, freshmen who have been on academic probation for the past three years must also take two courses from among the courses available.

The course, which is designed to help students who have struggled academically, begins with the basic concepts of the subject and then moves on to more advanced topics. The course is taught by experienced faculty members.

The course aims to help students who have been struggling academically to improve their grades and to help them prepare for their future academic endeavors.

The course is open to all students who have been on academic probation for the past three years.

The course is taught by experienced faculty members and is designed to help students who have struggled academically to improve their grades and to help them prepare for their future academic endeavors.

The course is open to all students who have been on academic probation for the past three years.

The course is taught by experienced faculty members and is designed to help students who have struggled academically to improve their grades and to help them prepare for their future academic endeavors.
Blind Trying to Clear Others’ View

The University’s blind students have been getting more attention this year after a decision to de-emphasize their program. The University Association for Blind Students (UABS) had been formed in 1969 to give blind students a voice on campus. Last year, the UABS was dissolved due to lack of interest.

The UABS is now being revived under the leadership of Edward J. Snyder, a senior history major, and Janet P. Koch, a senior psychology major. They are working with the Illinois Association of the Blind and the National Federation of the Blind to provide a forum for blind students to express their views.

The purpose of the meetings is to provide a safe space for blind students to share their experiences and concerns. The meetings also aim to educate non-blind students about the challenges faced by the blind.

"We want to promote awareness and understanding of blindness among the general population," Snyder said. "Our goal is to clear any misconceptions or stereotypes that blind people may face.

"We are trying to help parents of blind children to better understand their children’s needs and expectations," Koch added.

The meetings are held every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Union Board Room. All are welcome to attend and participate.

The UABS is a student-led organization that is dedicated to empowering blind students and promoting inclusion on campus.
Holderness Still Awaiting Trial

A busy hearing room at the courthouse was crowded as the attorneys for Mr. John Smith argued yesterday for dismissal of murder charges against their client. The jury, which began deliberating a week ago, has not yet reached a verdict.

It is alleged that Mr. Smith killed his wife in a fit of passion during an argument over a personal matter. The defense attorney said that there was no evidence to support the charge of murder.

Iowa Setting Records

The State of Iowa has set new records for grain production, as well as for other agricultural products. The record-breaking year ended at the end of July, and the total production of corn, soybeans, and wheat exceeded all previous years.

4 Challenge Indictments

A grand jury has charged four top officials of a large corporation with fraud and embezzlement. The charges include misappropriation of funds and violation of state laws.

The Republican Team for 1968

Proudly presented by the Johnson County Republican Central Committee

The Battle of Treasure Money

A group of parents has filed a lawsuit against the school district, claiming that their children were forced to work for free in order to raise money for a school trip. The parents are seeking compensation for the child labor.

The Daily Iowan

Copyright © 1968