Bowen Declares Question Closed On Board Room

The question of holding another division by the Board of Regents because of the regents' claimed dissatisfaction with the Old Capitol should be retained in its original form. Bowen said he had been misled when he learned that a school of law would be housed in the Old Capitol because the regents were originally the Supreme Court Chambers.

We will try to find other solutions to the problem of overcrowded dorms and to find a way to remove a new Administration Building. But the state Board of Regents wants its present solution.

Old Capitol Board Room Survives—
The Old Capitol Board Room, the subject of a recent controversy about remodeling, will remain intact for some time. University President Harvey Bowen suggested removing the Board Room, which has received a new office space, but the State Board of Regents would not.

Johnson Expected to Ask For Continuation of Surtax

‘Counterinaugural’ By Protest Group

On the evening of President Kennedy's inauguration, thousands of students met at the Board Room to voice their opposition to the proposed surtax.

‘No tax on the rich’ was the main slogan of the protest group, who were mainly travel funds. and put his wife on the payroll and collected her salary for student interests.

Supreme Court to Give Powell Case Thorough Airong; Congress Vexed

Council May Join County, Schools In Valuation Fight

Iowa City, Iowa—City and the County of Johnson are considering the possibility of joining forces in a valuation fight over the property tax.

Kimes to present an appeal to the feasibility of the proposal. Both improvement changes would establish a joint taxing district and permit levies to be made on all property within the district, with the estimates to be determined by a joint taxing district commission. The estimates would be made by the city and county, and the estimates would be made by the state's assessment officials.

The amendment explained that the city's property tax assessment in the city and in the county would be determined by the joint taxing district commission. The estimates would be made by the city and county, and the estimates would be made by the state's assessment officials.

CBS Exec Appointed USIA Chief by Nixon

NEW YORK — President Nixon Monday named Frank Shankweiler, the man who shaped his campaign theme, to become director of the US Information Agency.

Shankweiler was named to replace John M. Lee, who announced Monday he would resign. Lee has served as USIA head since 1969.

Shankweiler, 36, was most recently associated with the Nixon campaign in planning television and radio spots. He was also the chief of Nixon's New York City political organization, which is in charge of interparty activities.

Shankweiler is a native of New York City and a graduate of Holy Cross College. The White House has never released his political activities since Nixon became president.

Shankweiler told a reporter early Tuesday that Nixon would not be at the opening ceremonies for the new USIA headquaters.

University Back to Normal

The Iowa Daily was closed Thursday night by University authorities in protest of the Civil Rights March on Washington D.C. Monday.

In a statement released by University President C. C. Young Thursday afternoon, it was announced that the newspaper had been closed for the day because it had printed an article which "gave time and space to a movement of a highly reprehensible character and which has no place in the life of an institution of higher learning.

"The University of Iowa is a place of higher education and is not concerned with racial segregation and discrimination. The University is, as a matter of policy, against those principles in all aspects of life, not merely in the selection of students or faculty or employees, but in all areas of the educational process. The University also disapproves of the ways and means used by opponents of the Civil Rights Movement."

The Daily Iowan for Oct. 14 was printed before the University announced it was closing on Oct. 13.

President Young then announced that he would name a new editor of the Daily Iowan. He also announced that the new editor would be appointed by a select committee of four members of the Board of Regents, one from each of the four major divisions of the University.

DON'T LOOK NOW

But you may be about to blow your life

A seemingly normal number of people make a quick and tragic mistake. To them, it seems, it's just a simple thing to buy. Suddenly, before they know it, they're in over their heads.

How many times have you heard of a person who bought a coat, a car or a house they couldn't afford? And then sold it to pay for the next one they couldn't afford?

It's a common occurrence, and it's one that can lead to financial disaster.

One of the most common mistakes people make is not checking their finances before making a purchase. It's easy to get carried away when you're excited about something new.

But before you make that purchase, take a moment to assess your current financial situation. Look at your monthly expenses, your debts, and your savings.

If you're not sure how much money you can realistically afford to spend on a new purchase, consider talking to a financial advisor or counselor. They can help you make an informed decision about whether or not to make the purchase.

Remember, it's better to be safe than sorry.

Why does a perfect size 7 look perfect only 21 days every month?

It has nothing to do with calculus. It's all about comparing female weight gain... caused by temporary water-weight build-up. Oh, you know. the uncomfortable full feeling that swells up on you the week before your menstrual period. This fluid retention not only plays havoc with your looks but how you feel as well. (Exit pressure on delicate nerves and tissues, which can lead to premenstrual cramps and headaches, leaves emotions on edge.)

That's why many women take PAMPERS®. It gently relieves water-weight gain to help prevent premenstrual puffiness, tension, and premenstrual cramps. PAMPERS® makes sure a perfect size 7 never looks less than perfect. Nor looks less than perfect, either.

McGilmers' Play Lifts Hawkeyes

By CHUCK SCHELKE

BLOOMINGTON — The victory was a crucial one for the Hawkeyes and a critical one in the Big 10 race.

The Hawkeyes defeated the Hoosiers, 60-50, in a game that was a season-long story told in a season-long battle.

The Hawkeyes had a 10-point lead after the first half, but the Hoosiers came back strong in the second half, narrowing the gap to just 10 points. The Hawkeyes held on for a 10-point lead, their largest lead of the season.

The Hawkeyes led by double figures most of the game, but the Hoosiers kept it close. The Hawkeyes made a few key baskets in the final minutes to seal the victory.

The Hawkeyes had a solid performance on both ends of the court. They shot 50% from the field and 33% from three-point range. The Hawkeyes also outrebounded the Hoosiers, 39-30.

The Hawkeyes are now 11-1 in the Big 10 and 20-1 overall. They have the best record in the Big 10 and are in the mix for a national title.

The Hoosiers fell to 12-2 in the Big 10 and 20-2 overall. They are in the mix for a national title but have some work to do to catch the Hawkeyes.

The Hawkeyes will play their next game at home against the Fighting Irish on Thursday, February 2.

One of the nice little things about Morgan Optical is the price.

We're the first to admit that we don't offer the lowest prices in town. But we do offer the best service and selection. We believe that a high-quality, well-crafted pair of glasses is worth the investment. And when it comes to Morgan Optical, we're confident that you'll agree.

We offer a wide selection of frames and lenses, including designer brands and prescription lenses. Our knowledgeable staff can help you find the perfect pair that suits your style and budget.

For producing glasses, the fact is, we operate on a smaller profit margin. There's no big difference. This is one of our big differences.

American Youth: Its Outlook is Changing the World

The subject of this month's issue of Fortune magazine

Much has been said, and much has been published, about the so-called "American youth" and their values. But have we really taken into account the fact that American youth is not a monolithic group? Are we really looking at the whole picture when we talk about "American youth"?

Certainly, there are differences among American youth today. And it is worth noting that these differences are often overlooked or ignored.

For example, there is a growing body of research that suggests that American youth today are more diverse than ever before. They come from all walks of life, from all parts of the country, and from all different backgrounds.

Furthermore, it is important to recognize that American youth today are not all the same. They have different experiences, different values, and different perspectives. And these differences are reflected in their behavior and in their lifestyles.

For instance, studies have shown that American youth today are more likely to be involved in community service, to volunteer, and to participate in extracurricular activities. They are also more likely to be interested in politics and to vote in elections.

In conclusion, it is clear that American youth today are not a monolithic group. They are diverse, they are different, and they are changing the world. It is important for us to recognize these differences, to understand them, and to embrace them.

One of the nice little things about Morgan Optical is the price.

The British (Films) Are Coming!

The past week has seen three British films in New Haven. The "Strange Affair" has been at the Palace for six days; the "Sunday Afternoon" has been at the Majestic for a week; and "Charles Babbage" has been at the Elgin for four days. These films are excellent examples of the British film industry. The one-handed effort of a new director, "Strange Affair" is the best of these three films. It is a story of a woman who is the main character and who is also a detective. The woman, played by a British actress, is a clever and determined detective. She is after a man who has been stealing from the bank. Her investigation leads her to a small town where she discovers the man's true identity. She then sets out to catch him and bring him to justice.

In "Sunday Afternoon," the story revolves around a group of friends who spend a day together in the countryside. They are a group of middle-aged Britons, and the film刻画s their lives and their relationships with each other. The film is beautifully shot and has a wonderful sense of atmosphere. The acting is excellent, and the film is a joy to watch.

"Charles Babbage" is a biographical film about the British mathematician and inventor. The film is well directed and has an excellent cast. It is a film about a man who was ahead of his time and who was able to see the potential of technology. The film is well written and has a wonderful sense of period. The acting is excellent, and the film is a joy to watch.

These three films are excellent examples of the British film industry, and they are well worth seeing. They are all excellent in their own way, and I would recommend them all to anyone who is interested in British films.
UI Singers Try for The Met

The University of Iowa Choirs are trying to make it to the New York Metropolitan Opera this season. If the trip is successful, it will be the first time that Iowa has sent a choir to New York to sing in the Met. The choir is under the direction of Dr. Marvin Horne. The goal is to raise $10,000 to cover the costs of the trip, which includes transportation and accommodations. The choir has been rehearsing intensively for the past two months and is looking forward to the opportunity to perform at one of the world's most prestigious opera houses. The concert will feature a mix of classical and contemporary music, with a special emphasis on American composers. The choir hopes to raise sufficient funds through ticket sales, donations, and other fundraising activities to make the trip possible. If successful, it will be a major accomplishment for the University of Iowa Choirs and a significant moment in the history of the university. The concert will take place on May 5th at 8:00 pm in the University of Iowa Auditorium. We encourage all members of the Iowa community to come and support the choir in this exciting endeavor.
2 Injured South Viet Kids Recovering at U.S. Hospital

By GARY HENRICK

Two injured South Viet children are recovering at UI Hospitals after they were gunned down during a school bus ride in southern Minnesota.

The children were shot during a gang war among drug dealers in their native country.

One of the children is a boy, lives with Dr. and Mrs. Carl Nguyen, a Vietnamese couple who opened a restaurant in the city.

The other child is a girl, lives with Dr. and Mrs. Huynh, another Vietnamese couple who opened a restaurant in the city.

Both the Buddha and the children's parents expressed surprise at the ability of the Vietnamese children to return home.
