To Fill Court Vacancy—
Nixon Nominates Southern Judge

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Nixon announced today that he is nominating Judge David F. Haysnsworth, a Southern judge, to fill the Senate vacancy created by the resignation of former Senator Strom Thurmond.

Judge Haysnsworth, 49, was born in Albany, Ga. and attended a Southern judge, the University of Georgia, before going on to the University of Tennessee Law School. He served as a judge in the U.S. District Court in Georgia for more than two decades.

In 1952, he was appointed to the Tennessee Supreme Court by then-Gov. Adkins M. Walden. In 1957, he was elected to the Tennessee Supreme Court and served until 1990, when he retired.

Judge Haysnworth has been described as a conservative jurist. He is known for his strict interpretation of the law and his support for the death penalty.

The Senate is expected to confirm the nomination quickly. The nomination will fill the vacancy in the high court until a replacement is confirmed. Nixon has promised to act quickly to fill the vacancy.

Draft to 'Punish' Overruled

In sewage plant proposed to Council

BY RUS OLISH AND DICK FARMER

The City Council, in an unusually critical mood, today heard a report attacking a proposal for an sewage plant in the very heart of the city.

The proposal, which is supported by the State Senate, would require the city to spend $75 million on a new sewage plant in the north end of the city. The proposal was opposed by the city's environmentalists, who argue that the city should find a way to clean up the existing sewage plant in the south end of the city.

The report, which was presented by an environmental group, pointed out that the proposal is not necessary to meet federal standards and that the city could clean up the existing sewage plant for less money.

Congress Convenes;
Senate Debates Vote

WASHINGTON — Congress convened today with a paved legal摆设 every aspect of the new Senate. President Bush's hand is on a full veto of the bill if it reaches his desk.

Sen. Bobuche, 45, of Delaware, said today that the Senate, and the House of Representatives had already passed the bill.

But the Senate blocked the bill with one voice. Sen. Howard Green, 48, of New York, said that the Senate had passed the bill by a vote of 60 to 40.

He identified the three who had voted for the bill as Senate Majority Leader Bobuche, 52, of New York, Sen. John F. MacCluer, 54, of Ohio, and a number of other senators.

The bill was the first major early agenda item in the new Congress.

Itrevoked the Senate's earlier vote to override the veto of the bill by the House.

French worry of unrest

The Associated Press

A French university presented a report today which said that the country's student unrest is the beginning of a new wave of social unrest that could spread across Europe.

The report, based on interviews with over 1,000 students, said that the unrest is the result of a combination of factors, including economic problems, political tensions, and social inequality.

The report also warned that if the unrest is not contained, it could lead to a series of violent protests and evenchaos in the country.

The report was presented to the French government, which has promised to take action to prevent the unrest from spreading.

The government has already arrested several leaders of the student unrest, and has announced plans to increase police presence in the streets.

The report has been met with mixed reactions, with some expressing concern about the government's plans, while others welcomed the government's efforts to contain the unrest.

If you don't like the way people talk to each other, we'll pay to change it.

We're in the communications business, and during the next 10 years we're going to upgrade to the equipment we have now in order to provide even better service to our millions of existing customers. As if that weren't enough, we're also going to have to communicate with each other to keep up with each other's equipment, design, build and operate a company that will be four times bigger than we are today. We also need engineers, researchers and scientists to develop electronic switching equipment, laser and other communications systems will be using 10, 20 and 50 years from now. But this is only one part of our communications business.

Our satellite people, for example, are involved in other areas of communications. Like color television, satellite tracking stations and educational television systems.

Automatic, Electric, Laser, Ultrasonic Systems and some of our communications companies, subsidiaries and divisions are working on advanced types of integrated circuitry, electric-opticals and communications systems between people and computers and between computers and computers. Bradsmid's Dream
By DAVE COLLOGAN

There were some problems with the Smorgastable Court order (Case 10) and I am going to watch closely," said D. R. Roberts, director of parking for operations and facilities. "I have never had any problems about the number of appeals that the traffic police have called for illegal parking reasons.

By a clerical or a student's appeal of a case not out of two tickets, in which the Court said neither ticket was valid, as an example of what he considered your court running "too low.

Mr. Roberts maintained the fine had received from $50 to $50 for the first ticket and $50 for the second ticket – and he was appealing the second ticket.

Mr. Roberts said Wednesday.

Mr. Roberts said the student said he would not be in court because he did not violate the parking regulations, but the student said he had never received the final notice. The fine was levied on the final notice 30 days ago.

Mr. Roberts said he had renewed fines of $50 to $50 for the first ticket and $50 for the second ticket – and he was appealing the second ticket.

Discrepancies in Time Lag

Editors' Note — Below is another in a series by a writer who is an intimate of the late Senator Robert Kennedy. The writer, who was a close friend and cousin of Edward M. Kennedy, was in the Edgartown motel room where the accident happened. He provides an inside look at the events that led up to the accident and the subsequent investigation.

"Look, we may have heard the most innocent of stories, but I think it was probably innocent. From the time he decided he must act through the accident, the effect of events did not lead to any climate of doubt or calculated discrediting. He was panic-stricken. Nobody asked him to take a sobriety test or have his clothes checked. There were no slow, calculated cross-examinations. The Koran, as President Kennedy himself has said, is a book that helps people to accept what they want to accept. He is a woman of the water at the ferry slip and do not know what to do. Why should they make it impossible for him..."
