Chicago's Malcolm X ...

College places faith in students

By CHEYL M. HIAM of the Chicago Tribune

In Chicago, millions of dollars are being spent to ensure that the city's universities are fully functioning. The University of Chicago, one of the country's top research institutions, is spending $250 million on a new medical school, while the University of Illinois at Chicago is investing $150 million in a new engineering building. These investments are essential to keep up with the competition and maintain the city's status as a center of higher education.

Droolings by Foxcroft Swinder III

The cheerleaders were cheering for their team, but the crowd was silent. The scoreboard showed that the team was down 10 points. The pressure was on, and the players knew it. "We can't lose," one of the players said. "We need to win this game." The crowd started to get into the game, and the atmosphere was electric.

For peace

by ARTHUR ROSS

ARTHUR ROSS - "The answer is in the Bible." He was a religious man, always looking for guidance. But this time, he felt lost. The war was raging, and he didn't know what to do. "I can't keep fighting," he thought. "I need to find a way to stop this madness." He turned to his Bible, and found the answer he was looking for.

"You need more than faith and hope to get clarity. CZint, calm, steady and aim at the four dimensions which define a desirable white.

"Clarity comes at the degree of precision of the action. A diamond cut the same as a face, but not in the same way.

Iowa Falls to 20ths in AP Poll

Despite Win; Drake No. 16

The Hawkeyes closed out the season with a 20-10 record after defeating #4 Purdue, 75-74. The victory avenged an earlier 78-61 loss to the Boilermakers in West Lafayette, and gave the Hawkeyes a 12-8 record in the Big Ten conference. Iowa's senior guard, Chad Calabria, led all scorers with 32 points, including 7-13 from behind the arc.

The Hawkeyes' season was marred by injuries, with star forward Nicholas Baer being out for the final six games. Despite this setback, the team managed to win 12 of their last 16 games, including a 66-64 win over #14 Penn State in the Big Ten tournament final.

Iowa head coach Fran McCaffery praised his team's resilience, saying, "We didn't have a lot of depth, but we found a way to win. We played hard every night and never gave up. We played hard every night and never gave up."

The Hawkeyes will be looking to carry this momentum into next season, as they look to build on their recent success and make a deep run in the NCAA tournament.

CLEVELAND, Ohio -- Paul Warfield, considered one of the best wide receivers in professional football, was traded Monday by the Cleveland Browns to the Dallas Cowboys for cornerback Ernie Newkirk.

The trade is expected to be an exception in the 1974 draft, which is widely expected to be dominated by quarterbacks.

Here's a reminder for Pepsi fans: winter is here and hot, cold beverages are most appealing. In this case, we're talking about Pepsi, and its new look: Pepsi Max. This Pepsi Max is designed to be more refreshing on a cold day, and less fattening on a hot day. It's available in two sizes: 12 oz and 20 oz. And, of course, it's the same great-tasting Pepsi that you love. So why not give Pepsi Max a try? You might find it just the thing you need to get through the winter's chill.

3 UI Professors Suggest News Media Reforms

EDITORS NOTE — Report appears by Vice President James E. Meeks that news coverage and commentary broad cast by the networks are not representative of groups or public opinion in the United States. It is an editorial piece by Professors Charles Stites, associate professor of government, and John W. Spalding, professor of radio-television and communication, for the University of Iowa, to discuss the proposed reforms in the broadcasting industry.

PARIS, France — The French government has launched a major offensive against corporate media, announcing its intention to break up the broadcasting monopoly of SNCF, the state-owned railway company.

The move comes amid growing concern over the concentration of media in the hands of a few large corporations, and follows a series of similar initiatives in other countries, including the United States and Canada.

According to the announcement, the French government is planning to introduce legislation that would force SNCF to divest its media assets, including its television and radio networks.

The move is seen as a significant step in the fight against media concentration and the erosion of independent journalism.

The French measure would ensure that media ownership is more diverse and that the public interest is better protected.

The announcement was welcomed by media reformers and human rights groups, who have long been calling for greater media diversity and stronger regulation of the media sector.

However, some critics have expressed concern that the move could lead to increased state control of the media, and that the legislation may not go far enough in breaking up the concentration of media power.

Despite these reservations, the move is seen as a significant milestone in the fight against media concentration and the erosion of independent journalism.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield do two things:

- we pay hospital and doctor bills
- and we worry about you.

Have you ever worried about what a really long illness would mean to you? Not days or weeks, but months of expenses.

We have worried about it. That’s why Blue Cross and Blue Shield extend most coverage periods to 365 days five years ago.

Not just a few dollars a day for up to 365 days, but the same broad Blue Cross and Blue Shield benefits day in and day out.

It’s coverage aimed at letting you think only about getting well, and not about how you’re going to pay the bills. That’s pretty comforting as the weeks stretch into months.

We can worry about things like long illnesses because we don’t have to worry about making a profit. The only thing we have to gain is the well-being of our nearly 72 million members. To us, that’s more important than money.

There is a big difference in Blue Cross and Blue Shield, and we worry about you.
