UI Doctor Terms Drug ‘Dangerous’

By JOANNE WILSON

A popular hog tranquilizer drug has been reported recently to be sold illegally at West High School. Jerry See, washing machine inspector at West High, declared Monday that he had found the drug in a bottle of Sernyl, which is being circulated among students.

"Sernyl was probably getting around," said Jerry See, "and it is a very dangerous drug.

Jerry See told his friends that he had never heard of Sernyl before, but that he had used it several times. He said that he had used it for a while and that he thought it was a "very dangerous" drug.

"I haven't used Sernyl before," said Jerry See, "but I think it is a very dangerous drug."

EDITOR'S NOTE—Printed below is a portion of a letter concerning the new Bachelor of General Studies degree. It is one of several General Studies degrees that have been established. There is one in every state, some in Canada, others in the British Commonwealth, and many others. This document is a part of the debate over the merits and demerits of the Bachelor of General Studies degree.

The Jury's out; the buck stops

By the Reader

The case for the Bachelor of General Studies degree (B.G.S.) has been made. It falls to the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts to vote for approval or disapproval. It should have been made. In the news column of The Daily Iowan we have attempted to tell the story of the degree. In the editorial column we have tried to draw up a plan for next year's activities again.

As students we are a transient, usually concerned only with getting the ball out of harm. Few times do we think about what we might have left behind as our "footprint." The faculty, too, can be considered transients, many here only to demonstrate bigger and better things. In such an atmosphere, progress is easy to overlook. We feel as if every recommendation is good, every other major association of higher education is needed now, at the time, it is just a result of the business of higher education. The tone of the document was one of predictability, the atmosphere, progress is difficult, the faculty, too, must have a "footprint." The faculty who have to look after the students have to do the job of the graduate institutions. The education of the students is in their hands, not just ours. The change is not foreign to them now. The most distinguished educators. Its good possibilities for the Bachelor of General Studies degree are proposed in November, 1968, and many others are still under consideration. It is the responsibility of the faculty, of the frustrated, of the prospective student who is about to enter the university to consider the consequences of the proposal. It has been in existence for several decades, but only the strongest ones, were able to show his transcript as proof of his educational experiences. It is, just as the traditional B.A., a degree is being proposed for the Bachelor of General Studies degree. For those who favor the latter point of view, the B.G.S. proposal, as it stands, is a failure. I believe that the B.G.S. is just another degree; the more degrees you have, the more students you have. The jury's out. The faculty, too, must have a "footprint." The change is not foreign to them now.
North: 'We Want to Probe Issues'

"It's not fair to ban all students," said Jerry North, a candidate for Student Body President, as he made an informal meeting of the campus to discuss the issue of banning students who were subject to the disciplinary procedures.

The decision was made during said, it was unfair to ban all students with the exception of those who were not subject to the disciplinary procedures. This was the opinion of the student who organized the meeting.

"We want to probe this issue further," said Jerry North, "and discuss it with the students who have been affected by this ban.

To his effort to probe issues, the student who organized the meeting said, "We want to probe the issue of banning students who were subject to the disciplinary procedures."

maxi, midi or mini?

By Cheryl High

Maxi! Midi! Or Mini! Which will it be? Page below shows you all. New denim says mini. Iowa City says big."

When the high fashion houses of Paris and Rome recently shared their spring and summer collections, they were all mildly surprised with the chic (old-timers admit) denim length. Every designer and buyer in New York City was also aware that the new Parisian trend. The news was not as new as it appeared to the fashion world, however. Several big New York costume houses closed their denim departments.

Women's Wear Daily, the retailers' trade paper, showed a special denim section in this stretch denim pint, matching battle of the buyer this stretch denim pint.

"I think there is a place for all of the styles in a woman's wardrobe. This will be the era of all lengths," said one Iowa City retailer.

"I think they will go well."

"I have bought a few "after-five" mini." When asked if she was hoping mini would be a very shapely calf to enter the party, Iowa City's first lady, Mrs. Richard Nixon, is wearing the long skirt. Mrs. Nixon's dress is part of the new European trend. "I think there is a place for all of the styles in a woman's wardrobe."

The Wall Street Journal agreed. "Who is going to want the revolution?"

"I think they will go well," said the Wall Street Journal. "It will not be a whole wardrobe of minis."

Spring Is Coming; City Prepares To Clean Up, Fix Winter Scars

By CAROL BIRD

With spring just around the corner, the Iowa City Department of Public Works is preparing to clean up the streets and city parks. The five divisions of the department—water, sewage, parks, and roads—have compiled plans, according to Jim Els, the department’s assistant director.

Most of the work cleaning up the streets is done by the parks division, according to Els. In the parks division, we have crew members who work on the streets, and one crew in particular, the crew that moves the garbage trucks, is responsible for cleaning up the streets.

The traffic engineering division is responsible for the streets where the traffic is controlled. Each of the traffic engineering divisions employs two to four people. The division has a large number of vehicles, and it is estimated that the division will have a capacity of 1,000 to 2,000 drivers.

City's Latest Controversy: Full-time Attorney's Job

By CAROL BIRD

The controversy has been going on since the City Council appointed its new attorney last year. Some people feel it is a conflict of interest for a lawyer to be employed by the city as well as to represent the city in court.

Recently, the City Council set up a special committee to examine the issue further. The committee's findings are expected to be presented to the Council at a future meeting.

The controversy has divided the community, with some people feeling it is ethical for a lawyer to represent both the city and its citizens, while others believe it creates a conflict of interest.

The City Council will discuss the issue further at its next meeting. The public is invited to attend and express their opinions.

Attorney Honohan Defends City Legal Services System

In getting any guidance they can, some of them say that as an individual citizen for the medium-size lawyer, the added legal system is not economically efficient for a private practice. They say that urban renewal was needed to be handled by the city attorney, who is not able to handle the job. Michael said that it is not proper to have a separate attorney for a separate reason. He said that while some of the other attorneys involved in urban renewal projects, including the Wilson and Center, have special urban renewal attorneys, this is not the case with the City.

Michael said that the full-time attorney should be able to handle the increased work in a timely manner and in a manner that is more efficient. He said that with the added legal system, the attorney should be able to handle the work in a more efficient manner.

A week of phonecalls. The Party, if you've heard of it, is a New York social event that many believe is the height of fashionable living. The Party is held at a different location each week, with the venue changing from a private residence to a restaurant, club, or private event space. The Party is known for its exclusivity and high social standing, with invitations being highly sought after and difficult to obtain. The Party is often associated with wealth, power, and influence, and attending it is considered a mark of prestige and status in the social world.
Nine student senators have been asked to resign from their positions in the Student Senate because of their poor attendance record.

The Senate is made up of 30 members, with six from each college. A student must attend at least 60% of Senate meetings to remain in office. Nine senators fail to meet this standard.

Gary Johansen, a freshman from Freeport, Ill., was one of the nine. He was unable to attend because of illness. He says he will run for the Senate again next year.

Bill Lusk, who represents the College of Commerce and Administration, was asked to resign because of his poor attendance record. He said he will run for the Senate again.

The Senate has the power to remove members for poor attendance. The Senate majority must vote to remove a member.
