WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) -- Three veterans of the American Legion were arrested Tuesday night at a demonstration aimed at blocking the entrance to the Urban Renewal Board.

The demonstrators were attempting to prevent the board from hearing comments on a proposed plan to replace the existing low-income housing in the area with a new high-rise project.

The veterans were among several hundred people who gathered outside the board building in protest of the proposed plan.

To the Editor:

I think it is about time that we, Christians acknowledge our responsibility to the oppressed. One of my new year’s resolutions is to write to several prominent Christians and ask them how they think Bible prophecies about the end of the world concern them. We cannot turn a blind eye to the plight of those who are suffering.

Confusion After Lon Nol Resignation—

Cambodian Crisis Grows

SAIGON—Cambodia's staunch ally, Vietnam, and its government on Thursday set a deadline of Sunday for the fall of Royalist government forces, which it is threatening to eliminate by force. The deadline was issued by Saigon's ambassador to Phnom Penh, who is believed to have been inserted into the Cambodian government to make the announcement.

The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla army based in North Vietnam, has been fighting a long war against the Royalist government, which has been supported by the United States and other Western countries. The Vietcong has gained significant ground in recent months, and its forces have launched a number of successful attacks against Royalist troops, including a recent raid on the Royalist capital of Phnom Penh.

The United States has been providing military and financial support to Cambodia, but it has been unable to stem the tide of Vietcong advances. The United States has threatened to withdraw its support if the Royalist government does not comply with its demands, which include the resignation of President Lon Nol and the withdrawal of foreign troops from Cambodia.

The Royalist government has thus far refused to comply with the United States' demands, and it has continued to receive support from foreign countries, including Vietnam. The United States has been crucial in maintaining Cambodia's stability, but it has been unable to prevent the Vietcong from gaining ground. Saigon Relocates Tribe

By D. Gersh Porter

The American embassy has ordered the relocation of 1,500 Montagnards in Regions 11 and 15, as part of the Montagnard relocation campaign being conducted in Vietnam.

The campaign is aimed at encouraging the Montagnards to move to resettlement areas, and to overcome what the Nixon administration is billed as the "theater of change." and has seen wide-scale action on both sides of the past two years.
