Warm up

It's not going to get as hot as a pepper in Iowa City today, but a warming trend will be in the offing by the weekend.

Partly cloudy skies will prevail, but the chance of precipitation will remain minimal. The greatest chance for a rain shower will be north and northwest of the city.

The high temperature today will be in the mid-70s. Southeast winds will be out of the valley.

For candidates

Candidates for student body president and marshal will make final presentations today in a meeting to solicit student support for their appointments.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Iowa Room of the Union. Student voting will be held Monday and Tuesday.

Dead

Two persons, one of whom is a University of Iowa student and the other a University of Northern Iowa student, were killed in a two-car crash near Kalona early Sunday morning.

Dr. R. M. Mann, 21, former member of a J-pro and junior, and Mark Elliott, 19, West Des Moines, were killed in a collision that took place just south of Kalona before 3 a.m.

The blaze in which Mann and Elliott were killed, Patrick Burns, 21, of Cedar Rapids, was in his third-floor bedroom at University Hospital.

J-pro dies

A former University of Iowa journalism professor, Walter J. Steigleman, 63, died in Tuesday's crash.

Steigleman, a member of the University of Washington, University of Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania State faculties, was also a reporter and editor for the Associated Press.

He was survived by his wife, Norma, a University of Iowa journalism professor, and three children.

No return

WASHINGTON — Federal Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has announced that the United States will not return to the United Nations in a case of a new, serious emergency.

The decision was announced Monday, when Kissinger was questioned on the ABC-TV program, "Viewpoint," on the possibility of a United States return to the UN.

The United Nations Security Council, which is responsible for maintaining international peace and security, has been asked to consider the possibility of an emergency meeting.

Black confab

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Richard M. Nixon, in response to the growing pressure from the black community for improved education and employment opportunities, has called for a "black confab" in Washington to discuss ways to improve conditions for black Americans.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., the civil rights leader, has been invited to attend the confab, which is expected to take place in Washington next month.

Worst violence in 3 years

13 civilians are killed in Irish-Catholic rally

LONDON — Three people were killed and 10 others were injured in a rally today in an area of West Belfast where Irish Catholics and Protestants were demonstrating.

The death toll in Londonderry's fourth week of civil rights demonstrations rose to 10 today, with five people killed and at least 25 injured in a clash between police and demonstrators.

The British government has ordered a full-scale inquiry into the deaths and injuries.

BULLETIN

PITTSBURGH — Catholics in this city are preparing for a four-day conference on the theme of "The Church in the World Today," which will be held from Oct. 3 to 6.

The conference, which is expected to attract over 1,000 people from all over the United States, will focus on the role of the Church in contemporary society.

In court

SAN JOSÉ, Calif. — Black revolutionary Angela Davis, who is charged with conspiring to murder four members of the U.S. Army, was arraigned Monday and charged with murder, conspiracy to murder and conspiracy to commit a sexual assault.

Davis, 26, is suspected of masterminding a plot to kidnap and kill the four army officers, according to the prosecutor.

The trial is expected to last several weeks, and the judge has set a date for the trial to begin in March.

A leak?

NEW YORK — Thirteen press agencies feed a former employee of The New York Times newspaper, who is said to have obtained inside information about the paper's plans.

The employee's name was withheld, but he is said to have revealed details of an upcoming story.

Music fades away in old DI shop

Sometime last morning this big newsroom is the old shop of The Daily Iowan pressroom, which has been closed for several years.

The DI shop has been vacated, and the new pressroom is expected to be completed within the next few weeks.

Senate may raise booze age in bill; debate scheduled

WASHINGTON — The Senate may consider raising the legal drinking age to 21, as part of a bill to increase the minimum age for purchasing alcoholic beverages.

The bill, which is expected to be introduced this week, would raise the minimum age for purchasing alcohol from 18 to 21.

The DI shop, which had been closed for several years, is expected to be re-opened in the near future.

Larry Reese adjusts the DI's press before the final run.
I HATE ELECTION YEARS — THEY ALWAYS RAISE MY HOPES TOO MUCH .

Like Sachco, like Venzetti

If the Harringtons are convicted of conspiracy to kidnap Henry Klausing, then approximately 30 per cent of all American soldiers, according to the military establishment, will be convicted of conspiracy to murder innocent civilians. And, of course, we all know that the Poles invaded Germany in 1939.

In the field of social science, there is a great deal of individual tendency to take authoritative and traditional authority as the basis of social order, which is to say that there is an inherent inability to understand the concept of "self-defense", international "safety" or "security", and the "opinion of experts." And people within the American establishment today are reincarnations of the Westphalian empirical tradition. The United States is going after certain liberals and even representatives of that bastion of the American Revolution, and we are now paying with troops and military aid to people who are shooting down our soldiers.

Richard: The Beast-Professor Williams has effectively killed the anti-war movement. Body counts of two and three or more in every American periodical have been omitted.

The Associated Press "news analysis," lies and unobtusiveness

To the editor:

"The Associated Press "news analysis," did not belong on the front page of the Daily Iowan. It did not concern us with the facts, nor did it give any analysis at all. It should have been placed on the editorial page after other opinions. We, the members of the Daily Iowan, have a professional responsibility to make sure that the front page is in place for both news and opinions.

To state that "The Corrections are unlikely to agree on Afghanistan's prosecution," is wrong. It is a violation of the constitution to place the executive power in the hands of the military. The military should not be in the hands of the military.

We need an AP "news analysis" to give us a balanced view of "Wheat."

The Weekly Post, the United Press International, the Associated Press, and the others have substituted the "opinion of experts."

We are being tried seven persons including the "opinion of experts."" And people within the American establishment today are reincarnations of the Westphalian empirical tradition. The United States is going after certain liberals and even representatives of that bastion of the American Revolution, and we are now paying with troops and military aid to people who are shooting down our soldiers.

Mr. Nixon has reversed the "people's will" in the United States, supported by the United Nations, and the United States should be held to a higher standard. Those who decided to conduct a wholesale bombing campaign. The sources of shelter and sustenance for those who have been replaced with government replacements are not enough, including time and space. Phosphate is not restored to the American people. Freedom of expression is not enough. The American people must be able to do what they want. The people of the United States are not the "people".

Drmola tells us about America

"Baby Blue," a new play written by Richard Bianco and directed by Ivan Drmola, is a theatrical play that aims to reflect on the American aesthetic and cultural values. The play is set in the Midwest and features the character of a young woman named Mira, who comes from Greece and finds herself in a new and unfamiliar environment. The play explores themes of identity, culture shock, and the challenges of adjusting to a new way of life.

Drmola, who is known for his work in creating theatrical productions that reflect on important social and political issues, says that "Baby Blue" is a way to engage with the contemporary moment and the current political climate. He believes that the play can serve as a bridge between different cultures and help people understand each other better.

Drmola is a director and playwright based in Iowa City, where he is also the Artistic Director of the Iowa Arts Council. He has directed numerous productions and has received several awards for his work. He has also served on the Board of Directors of the American Theatre Wing and is a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

Drmola is passionate about creating work that reflects the diverse and complex nature of American culture and society. He believes that theatre has the power to bring people together and create a shared understanding of the world we live in.

Iowa School of Letter Art Short for Fiction

Short fiction winner

Jack Cody, left, of Seattle, Wash., accepts a $100 check from William M. Murray, immediate past president of the Iowa Art Institute of the American Institute of Architects, for his winning story in the 2008 Iowa Student Fiction Writing Contest. Cody was named a finalist at a reception in the UNI-Oasis. In addition to the cash prize, Cody's work will be published in the 2009 edition of the Iowa Review.

Cody's story, "The Good Neighbor," explores the relationship between two neighbors who share a fence and a garden. The story is a gentle exploration of the complexities of human relationships and the ways in which they can be understood and appreciated.

Cody is a senior at the University of Iowa and has previously published his work in various literary journals. He is currently working on a novel about the experiences of a group of friends in college.

Happy Warrior - stunning again

Riddle's note: The "Happy Warrior" is all and running again, pursuing its annual springtime, taking a new look at the current era of the Democratic congres,

WASHINGTON (AP) There was a time, a long time ago, when the Democratic Party was a byword for integrity, for hard work, for a dedication to the needs of the people. It was a time when the party stood for something, when its leaders were respected, when it was a force for good.

Then came the decline. The party became a battleground for the rich and powerful, a place where the wealthy could buy influence and political power. It was a time when political correctness ruled, when the party was no longer a force for change, but a tool for the status quo.

But now, it seems, the party is once again on the rise. The Democratic Party is once again a beacon of hope, a place where the people can come together to create a better future for all.

Democratic

That is, of course, was 19 years and two presidential elections ago. But the Democratic Party has once again begun to show signs of its former self. It is no longer a party of the rich and powerful, but of the people. It is once again a party that stands for something.

Overseas and inside the U.S., many are looking to the Democratic Party as a source of hope and change. It is once again a party that is dedicated to the needs of the people, to the needs of the working class.

Hawk wrestling mark 7-0, face Lehigh here tonight

Tonight, the Iowa Hawkeye wrestlers face one of their biggest tests of the season when they take on Lehigh here at 3:30 p.m. Iowa will be seeking its third straight conference title after winning two straight titles and six in all.

Three Hawkeyes compete on the mat: John Brubaker at 177 and Paul Zander at 182.

Iowa State (2-0, 4-5, 24-4, 31-2, and #11), Northern Illinois (2-1, 17-0), and Nebraska (2-0, 26-4, 31-2, and #11)

Tough nights in Madison recently have shown the team that the Hawkeyes are capable of competing with the best teams in the country.

Hawkeye fans are encouraged to come out and support their team as they face Lehigh tonight.

Dreams for sale.

Everybody's got a dream hanging around in the back of his mind. A dream wants to be to something. To own a dream is to own the power to make your dreams come true. And that's the dream we're all after, the dream of dreams.

The Daily Iowan

SPURS

WANTED: EDITOR

The Board of Student Publications soon will interview candidates for editor of the Daily Iowan to serve in this position. This position will require you to have the ability, dedication, and responsibility to assume editorial control of a daily newspaper with a circulation of 15,000. The applicants must be either undergraduate or graduate students currently enrolled at the U. of Iowa. Applicants need not be Journalism Students. The Board will require the following qualifications: scholarship; training and experience in editing and newswriting; supervisory experience; the ability to organize, lead, and inspire a staff engaged in creative editorial activity, and other factors.

Applications will be considered for the full year from June 1, 1972, for the summer session and the 1972-73 academic year.

Deadline for preliminary applications is:
Friday, Feb. 11, 1972.

Application forms and additional information may be secured at the Daily Iowan Board of Student Publications, Inc.
