The Associated Press reported on a decision by Iowa’s attorney general, Richard Turner, Wednesday in Des Moines, Iowa, that black people are less likely to be killed in street fights than white people.

Turner said that the evidence is insufficient to prove that the deaths of blacks in street fights are more likely to be due to police actions than to criminal activity.

However, the U.S. Department of Justice has said that the deaths of black people in street fights are more likely to be due to police actions than to criminal activity.

In a statement released Wednesday, the department said that the deaths of black people in street fights are more likely to be due to police actions than to criminal activity.

The department noted that the deaths of black people in street fights are more likely to be due to police actions than to criminal activity.

"The deaths of black people in street fights are more likely to be due to police actions than to criminal activity," the department said.

The statement comes after the attorney general of the state of Iowa said that the evidence is insufficient to prove that the deaths of blacks in street fights are more likely to be due to police actions than to criminal activity.

"The deaths of black people in street fights are more likely to be due to police actions than to criminal activity," the attorney general said.

The attorney general also said that the evidence is insufficient to prove that the deaths of blacks in street fights are more likely to be due to police actions than to criminal activity.

Complaints of 'negativism'

Lower gas rates here

A reduction will come this year for Iowa gas users. Nearly 120,000

Iowa gas users are paying lower rates. The Iowa Natural Gas Pipeline

Company, a subsidiary of the American States Pipeline Company, has begun lowering gas rates for Iowa gas users. As a result, the average rate for a typical consumer will be reduced by 2.5%. The rate reduction will begin in March and apply to all customers subsequent to that date.

The reduction will bring the average rate for a typical consumer to

$2.20 per thousand cubic feet, which is a 2.5% reduction from the present rate of $2.27 per thousand cubic feet.

The reduction is the result of the Iowa Natural Gas Pipeline Company's efforts to reduce costs and improve efficiency in the operation of its natural gas pipelines. The company has been working to reduce costs and improve efficiency for several years, and the rate reduction is a reflection of these efforts.

"This is good news for Iowa gas users," said John Smith, general manager of the Iowa Natural Gas Pipeline Company. "We are proud to be able to pass these savings on to our customers."

Will relight torch

Miriam Warner, Robert Warner pledged to relight the torch carried by the late President John F. Kennedy Thursday, in a speech before the West Virginia Legislature. Warner said:

"He might be pretty tough on Russians and will probably move to follow the position of the other four major powers, but I don't think his moves this week in response to the United Nations' or Russia's will change that. But I don't think we should be too surprised by them either."

World peace? No ideas yet

Six nations have been selected for the first annual "Peace Body Laureat" contest, according to C. Robert K. Kehoe, professor of military science, the center's sponsor.

The award, initiated last November after NATO alliances and the Vietnam War had given some doubt whether we can think of the best idea to work towards peace. Kehoe said two of the six -- the U.S. and the Soviet Union -- are not on an agenda.

The award, sponsored by the Peace Body, will be given to the winner in the winter of 1968.

"I don't think there is any idea. We're not sure of the last idea to work towards a lasting peace," Kehoe said. He added that the six nations' efforts are "not very much.

"If you're going to have it, it's better to have something that is not too much."

Child clinic initiates $7.50 registration fee

By STEVE MORE

Daily Iowan Staff Writer

The University of Iowa Hospitals' Pediatric Clinic has initiated a registration fee beginning next month as a means of cutting costs to University students and children examined at the clinic. The fee will allow the clinic's 6,000 patients to be reached.

More than 1,000 patients come to the clinic each year for various reasons, including examinations, emergency visits, and check-ups.

"There is no change in fee for immediate care fees, which are assessed on a visit-to-visit basis," said Dr. Donald A. Bridges, professor and chairman of the Department of Pediatrics.

The fee has been in effect for the past several years for patients who are not enrolled in any health insurance plans, Bridges said. He added that the fee was not a cost to the patient, but rather a means of cutting costs to the clinic.

As a result of the fee, the number of patients seeking immediate care has increased in state funds. Despite this, Bridges said that the fee has been successful in maintaining the clinic's current status.

Many doctors refuse to perform abortions

Last in a Series of Four: "RATIONAL MEDICAL"

Although medical journals now agree that many doctors medically accept that many physicians in the United States refuse to perform abortions, even where they are legal. Recent Catholic bishops don’t permit abortions because they violate church doctrine.

Some doctors say they are against legislating abortion be- cause they fear that the laws would become unmanageable.

We already have enough problems without adding to the difficulties that accompany such legislation.

The Iowa code says: "No person is required to participate in any form of population control but is at liberty to attempt to prevent the birth of an unwanted child."

Offer course in film making

An Action Studies course covering the theory and mechanics of a film-making is being offered in the credit and non-credit courses.

"Movie 1" will consist of 16mm films and give students with a knowledge of film-making the opportunity to make films for their credit and without a fee.

All films must be submitted by the end of the term and will be screened in a special screening.

Participants may vary their own equipment, or equipment will be provided for a fee.

Many doctors refuse to perform abortions

The American Medical Association reports that 75% of all doctors have adopted abortion referral services and 25% have adopted "permissive" laws in the United States. The AMA reports that as many as five of the eleven doctors report that they would perform abortions, even in some cases where the mother’s life might be threatened or destroyed.

The state also provides for the supervision or recreation of the doctor. If the woman is not in a hospital or a skilled nursing facility, she must be referred to a hospital or a skilled nursing facility.

The law also provides for the supervision or recreation of the doctor. If the woman is not in a hospital or a skilled nursing facility, she must be referred to a hospital or a skilled nursing facility.

Slim hopes for U.S. in Olympics

The Daily Iowan

Clayton Marnell

Like many Coach A. J. Co. 39, McNamara said the Hawks are going to have to play their style of basketball tonight. Thomas, the Hawks' top scorer, said he is also counting on the team to play as a unit.

The Hawks' record dropped to 3-0-1. With a 7-1 record, they are still in the Kinnick rets for the first time in four years.
