Casper and the three ghosts are handle better some days than others. They can be seen lurking in the shadows, ready to吓 their prey. Their movements are both surprising and unpredictable, and they seem to enjoy the thrill of creating fear. The three ghosts, with their unusual appearance and behavior, make them a force to be reckoned with.

$6.1 million makes 1971 the top year for UI Foundation
By MARILYN BUCKMAN
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

1971 was a banner year for the University of Iowa Foundation. The foundation received an overall total of $6.1 million in contributions, making it the highest amount received in 1971.

The director of the UI Foundation, William D. Wyckoff, said the foundation received $6.1 million in contributions in 1971.

Wyckoff said that the future looks solid and that the future looks solid and that the future looks solid.

There are more grants now than before, he said.

The number of people who have contributed over $100 to the foundation has doubled since 1970, he said. The president of the foundation, which would include all of those who have contributed in the previous 20 years, said that $6.1 million in 1971 was the most received in the past 20 years.

Wyckoff said, however, that he was concerned about some "unaccredited" gifts that might have been given to the foundation.

Associated Press news analysis
The West German opposition's decision to challenge Chancellor Willy Brandt's government on economic issues may mean that Social Democrats can hope regaining some ground after the re-election of 1975.

It seems that the opposition Christian Democratic Party, led by Willy Brandt, and the Social Democratic Party, led by Willy Brandt, would lead to the Social Democrats losing ground after the re-election of 1975.

But in the case, the opposition Christian Democratic Party, led by Willy Brandt, and the Social Democratic Party, led by Willy Brandt, would lead to the Social Democrats losing ground after the re-election of 1975.

What may be more serious is the issue in the debate over the Social Democrats' policies, which is to bring down Brandt's government of the Social Democrats and Free Democrats.

A weekend success for the CDU in Baden-Wurttemberg made voting for the Social Democrats and Free Democrats easier, but it may not be that much of a differential.

Brandt probably would have been preferred to be challenged as his '85 policy rather than on economic issues. Ostpolitik is a hot potato for the opposition.

While the CDU lacked strength to defeat the treaties, it could affect the election of the Social Democrats. The CDU could use after the Social Democrats won in the Bundestag election.

The Social Democrats' lack of strength is one reason why Ostpolitik is a hot potato for the opposition.

Rural kids share city hang-ups

“We have the same drug, liquor and long-hair problems”

Gary Tanner, a 1971 high school graduate from Casper, says, “We have the same drug, liquor and long-hair problems.”

The grocery store in Casper, Wyoming, high school could map his fingers five years ago and the boys would probably get a laugh.

Now, a high school in northern Wisconsin, few students are far from home, few are far from school. Mr. Tanner, a police officer in the community of Minocqua, says, “As long as the boys don’t violate the health and safety laws, we permit it to be any length.”

A New Ulm parochial school headmaster, who has attended several years ago, Mr. Hultgren of the Minneapolis Catholic University of the Dakotas once said, “We have the same drug, liquor and long-hair problems.

A 14-year-old Princeton boy spent two days in jail in a Princeton, Minn., police station after the police officer in the community of 11,000 about 15 miles north of Minneapolis, says, “We have the same drug, liquor and long-hair problems.

Perhaps someone in Princeton, Minn., does not know that attitudes are “definitely changing”.

A few hours after the last school bell had rung, the community of 11,000 about 15 miles north of Minneapolis, says, “We have the same drug, liquor and long-hair problems.

The Princeton, Minn., Police Chief added that the drug, liquor and long-hair problems.

Nothing new, just the same old story of kids running right right next to school in the city.

“We have the same drug, liquor and long-hair problems,” Mr. Hultgren of the University of Iowa, who has attended several years ago, added.

Bitterness on Friday

(A Foreign Student's reaction to Friday's Dispute)

It was a day of bitterness, disillusionment and guilt. I was, and still am, embarrassed by the lack of respect the American people got from the majority of the student population on this campus. Students readily answer any call to go on strike against the government, whether it's against the war, the loss of time or about a couple of lousy lectures? Do you want to sacrifice your education in the name of the American people.

A week of December and you are in the dock with Berryman and Angela Davis whether you like it or not. You are a person that doesn't take little help from her friends. Perhaps you will realize what that means.

As a result of this.
