Battered Muskie ready to quit?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie has decided to withdraw from all presidential primary and convention activities, according to a source in his Washington office. The committee voted on the recommendation of the Democratic nomination, a source said Wednesday.

There were reports—denied by the source—that the senator would quit the Senate. The Muskie withdrawal may be announced at an early Thursday, moving in with tanks in Vietnam and launching attacks on South Vietnam's defensive zones.

In the central highlands, the enemy drive north and west and southwest, opening a possible convoy route to the imperiled zone that separates the two Vietnams, was one of Nixon's most successful changes in the war in Vietnam. He has recognized the gravity of the enemy situation based on the situation and the need to return to the peace talks, a source said.

The Nixon withdrawal may be announced at the Senate Judiciary Committee meeting tomorrow night, in order to discuss his political future. The Thursday meeting will be held in the Senate Chamber, and the Senate will be asked to rule on the situation.

Parochial schools in financial bind

By The Associated Press

The Rev. John J. McCormick, principal of St. Pius X High School in Lincoln, Neb., said that a co-ed system for the school is not at all a new idea, but one that has been tried with marked success.

"It has been in operation at many other schools throughout the country," he said. "It is not a new concept, but one that has proven successful in many cases."

McCormick said that the co-ed system has several advantages over the single-sex system.

1. Gender diversity: Students of both genders can interact, promoting social skills and understanding.
2. Academic performance: Co-ed schools often report higher academic achievement.
3. Cost savings: Co-ed schools can save on facilities and programs tailored to one gender.
4. Career opportunities: Students have exposure to diverse career fields, preparing them for future roles.

McCormick added that the decision to change the school's policy was made in response to the current financial challenges faced by the school.

"We are adapting to the changing landscape of education, ensuring that we can provide quality education while also meeting the needs of our community," he explained.

Uncurbed visitation, full board popular

By JUDY LENNE

Daily Iowan Staff Writer

The Daily Iowan's Dormitory Committee has proposed a new policy for dormitory visitation, which has been met with mixed reactions from students.

The proposed policy would allow students to visit other dorms at any time, without the need for a special pass. This has sparked debate among students, with some supporting the change and others expressing concern.

Supporters:

- Security: "This policy ensures safety for all students," said Rachel Green, a sophomore.
- Flexibility: "I appreciate the freedom it gives," said James Smith, a junior.

Opponents:

- Privacy: "I don't want strangers in my dorm," said Emily Brown, a sophomore.
- Security: "With so many visitors, it could be a security risk," said John Doe, a junior.

Correction

The Daily Iowan regrets an error in an article about the new co-ed policy at St. Pius X High School. The article incorrectly stated that the co-ed system has been in operation since the school's founding. The correct statement is that the co-ed system has been implemented in response to current financial challenges.

Ugly Man voters: recognize a woman?

By DE ANN Farley

Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Women's rights advocacy groups have called for the election of a woman as a candidate for the presidential primaries, citing the need for gender representation.

"Women make up half of the population," said Jane Doe, a political activist. "It's time for women to have a voice in the political process."
Who benefits?

It's unfair to label the DeLoss proposal for dividing the student activity fee as the "DeLoss proposal." He has been busy all year trying to push for funding of the ISPIRG and probably hasn't had time to think of this proposal all by himself. Calling it the "DeLoss proposal" short changes all these people who have helped in that direct allocation plan.

Since mentioning the names of everyone who helped with the proposal would stretch the title unnecessarily a title, describing the nature of the proposal might be in order. I would like to suggest the "Network Television proposal" as the title. It is short, it accurately describes the situation, it would have on programming at the university.

One organization on campus would be formed selling the student body on itself. Organizations would have to appeal to a mass audience in order to get funds just as television shows must appeal to a mass audience in order to get high ratings. The effect would be to kill unusual, minority or uglamourous groups, just as network television has little room for blacks, political extremists or education.

For instance, how many people do you think would check off "The Black Student Union" when it came time to split the activity fund? The same would be true of groups like Dance Theatre, the Highlanders or any of the dozens of small groups with programs appealing to only a few people. We would have size hierarchies of programs designed to appeal to a majority.

Organization could change their structure in order to mobilize more support. This could start running the names of people who were going around or getting involved as once it was attempting to appeal to a mass audience. Also, it could run people on the street interviews, a cartoon page, and just about anything else the Des Moines Register. That might enhance its image among students but it wouldn't do much to make it a source of alternative viewpoints on the university.

But the real point about the Daily Iowa is that it couldn't survive on a check off system. Other student newspaper services by being attached to journalism departments and receiving their funding from the department or by being publicatess of the school and being controlled by the office of the president. Both are good ways of getting power out of the hands of an elitist group of students. Unfortunately, it puts the power into the hands of an elitist group of people.

DeLoss and his friends say that groups like Union Board would not have funds under their proposal. That's right. They could go to groups that get a lot of money through the check off system. This would not only give ISPIRG more cash, it would give them other organizations a chance to get ISPIRG being one of them. The same things that DeLoss finds wrong with ISPIRG would not happen to any of the other student groups.

Many of the student expenditures now have ISPIRG allocations except that DeLoss likes ISPIRG and doesn't like unions.

Union Board would have another alternative. It could program nothing but popular events. That would be fine for the rock and roll crowd, Hollywood movie buffs, etc. Entertainment that students lose whatever power they now have. Activities that appeals to only small groups would be destroyed the ability of minorities to do their thing.

Help students. This is decentralization of power to the extent that other hand turned thumbs down on the idea that Jim provides a meeting place for blacks, ISPIRG because popular hero Ralph Nader has lent his name to it. What funding from the department or by being publications of the activity fee the ISPIRG's

Since you like network television you'll love the Des Moines Register. It is being busy all year finding that 48 per cent of the American people support LSD-25 and given up under the supervision of the prosecutor and led to believe that this drug is great experimental program and have taken hallucinogen previously. People who would never have taken a hallucinogen drug like LSD were given it under the guise of "cure." Anyone can get on the program by claiming they are hallucinogenic here there is no way to prove that he is the other one as is not homosexual in a clinical setting.

There are other expert of psychiatrists again I will defend their names which have broken up gay marriages in "cure" inmates of their alcohol problem; forbids their patient to use their spouses. What heterosexual would be expected.

There are other people being menaced by the psychiatrist at the University community looked into the ethics of the practices that are going on. Right now they can do an article on research. It's about time there were some limits as to what can be done ethnically while leaving behind a sleepover. What's right and wrong.

Tapscott speaks here, solicits student support

By LARRY HITT

State Sen. John Tapscott passed through town Wednes- day in his first running in Iowa for Governor of Iowa and he said that although he is campaigning in the pri- mary election this 1969 may catch a lot of students when they're away from school.

"The young people are more critical, it's the only people they may be interested in," Tapscott said that he could gain the support of thousands of the young and he said he expects to make contact with them.

Even though the August primary only may make it more difficult for students to vote Tapscott, who was happy that he has the extra time to campaign..."There's no question that I'm not the primary," he said. "The movement of the camp- aign is really picking up."

Tapscott said that the most democratic theory covered the session made it "apparent that we had over 90 per cent of the delegates strong at the conven- tion.

Public financial statement of campaign's contributions has been made known to the campaign, according to the young man who is running for Governor.

"We disclosed all contribu- tions of a major kind.that neither the President's nor the Governor's financial sponsor- ship has been received," Tapscott said that he was named as October Daily Iowan article to the legal registration of a major campaign, and although it is not a major issue. "If the legislature passed a bill lengthening or com- plicating it, I'd sign it."

The whole social structure surrounding marijuana laws and reform is "in a state of flux," Tapscott said that Ray's "failure to meet future needs in funding the state Social Ser- vices Department" was a terrible spot.

As the weather it grew, "unthinkable tax structures," the man who would carry him to victory, he said.

"The white house is the United States, " it is possible that it is divided into twoexisting spots.

Business majors select college’s ‘best professor’

Home. Prof. Albert M. Embry of the Univer- sity of Iowa College of Business was named "Best Professor" Tuesday night in the first day of the annual "Business Week, at the university.

Embry was chosen by business majors who have graduated in the past several years.

The Associated Students of UI Business (SUAB) members, who were members of the Student Senate, conducted a "Best Professor"评选 by the students who graduated.

"It was not an easy was for students to vote, the two-thirds majority of the students may pick the professor."

"There's a lot of people who may pick them," Tapscott said that he could gain the support of thousands of the young and he said he expects to make contact with them.

AN APOLOGY

Survival Line wishes to apologize to Kappa Phi. Though correct in saying it wasn't Greek for Kitchen, the reference was made in a manner that was offensive to the organization. Kappa Phi is a national women's organization that was started on the Iowa campus in the 1900s. Though correct in saying it wasn't Greek for Kitchen, she provided further information about the disbandment of her sorority and its present president, Karen Mutchler. Thank you for your letter, Ray. Maybe some of our students will read this and find out what another side of life is like.

I would like to know if there is any clinical evidence that Dr. Irving Reavel's Hilbert's weight loss diet is detrimental to a person's health, since weight is lost so quickly. I've had 22 pounds in 17 days, and a check-up is in questionable since this is unhealthy.

Martha Fry, district director at the College Research Center, said SURVIVAL LINE that weight loss is not a diet that is currently available. Her approach is more healthy. If you have questions about your weight loss, she will answer them. She will also be happy to make an appointment for you.

She explained that Dr. Birkman's diet was high in proteins and low in carbohydrates, causing a person to lose water and little else. With the proper program, you should have a combination of muscle, water, and fat - mostly fat.

Write to Ray Bruns, 9014 31st Avenue, Des Moines, IA 50322.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR LETTER, Ray. Maybe some of our students will read this and find out what another side of life is like.

‘Some people here would vote against motherhood’

Iowa City Mayor C. L. Brandt said at the press conference Monday night en route to a Direct Contact meeting that the city may be a testing ground for several controversial issues that could slip off a bit and let others pick up the slack.

Brandt said there’s always been a bitter feeling in the city’s administration, the recent referendum on the parking ramp being just one of several more.

"There’s an attitude, too, about the transient nature of some people. When we get to the implementation stage, the people are complexing the looked over and we’re opposed. And the ramp referendum...

"At all considerations, I’ve never been so irritated as I was with the ramp referendum. We said, ‘We need groups like People for Iowa Against the Swamp when they made statements to the effect that the credibility of the city is low or that the boards wouldn’t sell. That could lead many of the people here to become quasi-national organizations that would unite. If we had a mayor, we really wouldn’t sell, like they said, the ramp wouldn’t be built anyway. That may be a good thing, but...

Brandt says nobody has the biggest problem and it’s not the groups that have the most concern, with some exceptions.

For instance, Brandt said the job of mayor would be a perfect illustration in the parking ramp. Brandt said, “The Council decided this in April of 1970, but a month thing was said about it and we put the band aid on.

We have none of the problems that Brandt got..."

URIAH HEEP, play it loud

"Looking at Yourself" by Uriah Heep has got to be a staple in a rock critic's life. The rhythm section, the guitar riffs and the vocals are all powerful and the album as a whole is a masterpiece. But the album's originality and distinctiveness are what make it stand out. The sound is raw and intense, but still polished to perfection. It's a true masterpiece of rock music.

The five member group is from England and their music is a combination of pop, folk, and progressive rock. The name of the group is Uriah Heep and it was formed in 1969. The group consists of three guitarists, a bassist, and a drummer.

The first cut, "July Morning," is a beautiful song with a powerful rhythm section. The guitar riffs are catchy and the vocals are soulful. The song is about the beauty of nature and the power of love.

"Worms of Time" is the second cut and it's a slower, more introspective song. The lyrics are about the passage of time and the impermanence of life. The guitar work is intricate and the vocals are emotive.

"Black Orpheus" is the third cut and it's a longer, more complex song. The lyrics are about the power of music and the ability of music to transcend time and space. The guitar work is virtuosic and the vocals are soaring.

DI MOVIE REVIEW

The concept for Bangla Desh instanticies of exhilarating beauty. The film, made by the Director of the Bangladesh Film Corporation, tells the story of a group of children who are sent to a boarding school in order to escape the violence of their home country. The children are initially wary of the school and its rules, but slowly they begin to settle in and enjoy their time there.

The film is a beautiful and moving depiction of the experiences of these children. It is a testament to the resilience and strength of the human spirit, and a call to the world to remember the children of Bangladesh and the other countries of the world who suffer under oppression.

The film has been well-received both locally and internationally, and has won several awards. It is a true masterpiece of cinema, and a must-see for anyone who values the beauty and power of film.

Trade Cuzzo to St. Louis

ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS APA, The Minneapolis Vikings trade Dennis Culver for George Killion and a second-round draft choice in the St. Louis Cardinals, team owner John Gilliam and two players.

Culver, who shared the quarterbacking load with Sid Luckman, played out the season without a commendable season's performance. Gilliam has nothing against Culver, but he has decided to go for a sure bet.

In addition to Gilliam, the Vikings get the Cordmura 'No. 1 draft choice in the first round. The choice goes to the Minnesota Vikings as long as Culver's health is good.

They want to stay no.1

By BOB DENNEY
Daily Iowan Sports Writer
The two old giants...standing up on their own legs and spread a tide of hope for their annual "Golden Century." That would be enough to occupy any fraternity right now. But for the rest of Alpha Kappa Kappa, the number one goal of the season was - in their own words - "not to prove anything to anyone."

It's been another big year for this intercollegiate team, which is getting ready to add another big trophy to the nearly full collection of the living room. And for the reason the AAK success is in its longest winning tradition. The job of proving anything to anyone was taken by the Hillcrest Hillbillys last year.

Therefore, replace John Evans, who captained the formation of turning in spectacular hours and cercleizing all players away at their match at the end of the year. The Hillcrest Hillbillys has a great intramural record this year, and including to the surprise of victory over three all-university teams. It's a good place to be in, with the team of the professional fraternity league to basketball, which is maintained due to the relative strength of the rest of the league.
