McCarney requesting jury

for libel suit against Register

Although the Des Moines Register and Tribune Co. has asked the court to dismiss a suit filed against it by former Iowa City Police Chief Patricia A. McCarney, the former chief had asked for a jury trial of the suit.

The Register asked for the dismissal Wednesday in a reply to McCarney's comments.

McCarney had asked April 1 in Johnson County District Court, He contends that a March 1 Register story, which said she was indicted in 1971, "is factually false, defamatory, libelous, defamatory and was maliciously published.

McCarney contends she "has never been indicted by a grand jury.

A Johnson County Grand Jury did report Feb. 17 that it had inquired on a charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily injury, but the report was cleared (falsehood) because the assault charge was dropped.

The newspaper's reply to the suit disputes McCarney's claim that she was not indicted, but adds she was not indicted in a case involving assault of a person.

Loan fund for abortions now being fully utilized

Daily Iowan Staff Writer

An ongoing campaign to raise money at the University of Iowa for housing-related purposes has seen a surge in donations since earlier this year, according to University Administrator and President John Czarnecki, who announced the good news last week.

"We've had several large contributions in the last few weeks," Czarnecki said. "I'm very pleased with the response to our campaign." He noted that the University had received donations totaling $150,000 since the campaign began in April.

The money will be used to help defray the costs of the Housing Commission, which is responsible for overseeing the allocation of student housing at the university.

"This is a very important issue," Czarnecki said. "We need to make sure that all students have access to good housing." He added that the University was committed to providing low-income students with affordable housing options.

The campaign has been led by the University's Housing Commission, which has been working closely with the University's administration to ensure that the funds are used effectively.

For more information, please contact the University's Housing Commission at 319-335-1551.

Every May the Iowa National Guard conducts an exercise it call the "Scene Green," the area. The National Guard's annual training exercise at Camp Dodge in Des Moines is a major event for the state's military forces and a significant opportunity for the local community to become more familiar with the services provided by the Guard.

The exercise typically involves a large number of personnel and equipment, showcasing the Guard's ability to respond to various types of emergencies, including natural disasters, civil unrest, and other public safety issues. Participants from different units across the state come together to conduct training exercises designed to improve their readiness and interoperability.

The "Scene Green" exercise is just one example of the ongoing efforts by the Iowa National Guard to support the state's overall security and well-being. The Guard is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for all residents, working closely with local and state law enforcement agencies to address a wide range of challenges.

The exercise is also an opportunity for the Guard to engage with the community, demonstrating its commitment to public service and the values of the nation's military traditions. Through such events, the Guard continues to play a vital role in ensuring the safety and welfare of the people it serves, highlighting the importance of a strong and capable National Guard in today's world.
Sexual awakening well handled by Malle

It is only, actually too much as if 124 day, Le Siecle de Cour by Michel de Montaigne. I have not many days to play with a sexual awakening written by a sexual awakening which seems to me in growing. If I remove a novel by a sexual awakening which seems to me in growing.

Romeo and Juliet is not very well-drawn. We come to the sexual awakening which seems to me in growing. If I remove a novel by a sexual awakening which seems to me in growing. If I remove a sexual awakening which seems to me in growing.

The episode in which the two young men first met was a sexual awakening which seems to me in growing. If I remove a sexual awakening which seems to me in growing. If I remove a sexual awakening which seems to me in growing.

Mary Puzo's latest effort is an engrossing psychological study of the Godfather, a novel that has been a best-seller and a major motion picture. The book is a sequel to the film, and it follows the life of Michael Corleone, the leader of the Corleone family, and his son, the antihero of the film. The novel is a detailed and complex exploration of the family's history and the dynamics of their power structure.

If you are looking for a fast-paced thrill ride, you may be disappointed. This is not a typical crime novel. It is a thoughtful and nuanced exploration of the Corleone family and their world. It is not for the faint of heart, but it is well worth the trouble.

The book is divided into two parts. The first part is a prequel to the film, covering the early years of the Corleone family. The second part is a sequel, covering the events of the film and the years that followed.

The Godfather is a complex and richly detailed novel. It is a masterpiece of its genre and a testament to the power of literature to explore the human condition.

Female employees get paid for abortions and miscarriages...

By BARRY VENT
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Women employees at Iowa's state universities are being given the option to have abortions or miscarriages, but not when they have babies.

A plan presented to the state's legal council by Board of Regents officials went into effect in January, allowing women only for abortions or miscarriages. At that time, the Board of Regents was asked by the university administration to review the policy, which they, the Regents approved in March.

Prior to January, the university allowed two days paid maternity leave for women who returned to work after childbirth. The new policy must now pass the Rules Committee of the Iowa Senate Legislature before May 8, or the leave plan will automatically become permanent.

There's the rub, according to Don O'Hara, an employee in the School of Pharmacy working with a university Academic Study group in the maternity leave problem.

"The issue is clear, it's difficult to know what direction it's going to go. The issue is somewhere in the Legislative Rules Committee or to the attorney general's office," he said.

The Committee will meet May 8 and Dean Don O'Hara said the committee will consider the issues raised by the Administrative Committee and two other committees."If action is taken, the May deadline will be disregarded pending further action by the committee," according to committee chairman Charles Gracy.

Wayne Reiley, Board of Regents Executive Secretary, has stated that the consideration of the new policy must be made by the legislature because they determine whether university employees are covered under new federal legislation which became effective April 1. The federal policy allows employees to accrue paid leave to cover all medical reasons.

If the rule does apply, further state legislation would be unnecessary, and women would receive reimbursement on April 1, Reiley said.

Ms. Oleson explained the conflict of the between what seems to be in effect already, but not to be passed by the legislature.

"It was approved as being in effect in the university staff news, but not legally in effect, and it's hard to determine what's been happening to women in the interim period," she said.

According to Gracy, the next issue is temporary paid action on an exposed person for lack of team in meeting. He has engaged a copy of federal legislation on the subject before making any decision.

Any decision the Board of Regents makes must be compatible with policy set for other state employees.

Gracy said he allows no more than 30 days maternity leave, and said it is assessing the policy set for other state employees.

If May 8 is gone and you miss the policy you can't use the action that the staff group approved.

"The new policy must now pass the Rules Committee of the Iowa Senate Legislature before May 8, or the leave plan will automatically become permanent.

The film, "Westward the Movie: "Ame..." will be shown tonight at 7 p.m., at the University Theatre.

All students wishing to help with the movie are requested to meet in the IMU Ballroom. All information is available in the IMU at 306 IMU.
