Rollback on meat prices expected as boycotts steam up

WASHINGTON (AP) - In a move Monday to help the country in the current meat boycott, President Ford announced a rollback on meat prices. The rollback was expected to help the recovery of the economy in the current meat boycott.

Watergate

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) - The Watergate scandal continued to grow Monday, with the resignation of White House aides. The scandal, which began with the break-in at the Watergate Hotel in Washington, D.C., has now spread to include members of Congress and other high-ranking officials. The Watergate investigation, led by special prosecutor Archibald Cox, has been ongoing for months.

School aid

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) - The 1973-74 school year is scheduled to begin August 21. The Iowa City School Board has recommended that the school year begin August 21. The board also recommended that the current school year be extended to June 30.

Pipeline

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) - The Senate-Farm Bill debate continues as the Senate Agriculture Committee meets to consider the legislation. The bill would provide $2 billion in aid to farmers and rural communities.

Ottens

Leo Koerber, a senior at Ottens, said he was discussing the report with his English teacher, Mrs. Ann Murphy. Mrs. Murphy, a teacher at Ottens, said she was discussing the report with her students.

Police

Police in Des Moines, Iowa, have arrested a man believed to be involved in a burglary in the city. The man, who was a suspect in another burglary, was identified as John Doe. The man was arrested after a pursuit through the city.

Study committee structure for student voting ‘rights’

A study committee, composed of faculty members, is being formed to discuss the issue of student voting rights. The committee will be chaired by Professor John Doe.

Boyd requests $4 million in ‘Phase Two’ allocations

Professor John Doe, chairman of the Boyd department, requested $4 million in allocations for the upcoming fiscal year. The allocations will be used for the expansion of the department and the purchase of new equipment.

Glommy

The Glommy Award for 1973 was announced today. The award is given to the most outstanding individual in the field of science. This year's winner is Dr. John Smith.

Negotiations continue

Negotiations between the teachers and the school district are continuing. The teachers are demanding a 10% raise and the school district is offering a 5% raise.

---

Note: The text above is a fictional representation of a news article featuring various topics such as politics, education, and economics.
Leonsard House, etc., a community center downtown in Madrid. A room in which I was invited to discuss with a group of people about the budget crisis in the U.S. The room was packed with people discussing the crisis.

IT&T admits $1 million aid to block Alliance election

WASHINGTON (AP) — International Telephone and Telegraph said Tuesday it will contribute $1 million to a U.S. campaign to try to block the election of the leader of the Alliance of Chile, a group of countries representing Chile's left-wing government.

President Nixon and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger have said they were in favor of the Alliance's leader, Jorge Alessandri, winning the presidential election in March.

But IT&T officials said they were concerned about the economic and political implications of an Alliance victory.

The company said it was committed to supporting free and fair elections in Chile.

When you're ready for contraceptive protection...

Some people eat their hearts out. Excess pounds have a way of getting up. It usually starts about the age of twenty-five. Mooncheese snacks. Malted milk shakes. But when you reach middle age, your middle is the biggest part of you. And it doesn't get any smaller. Watching sports on television. Going around the golf course with a golf bag.

You end up carrying a big load. But that's nothing compared to the load you carry on your shoulders. Prescribed diets and medically-approved exercises are the best combination for putting the weight back where it belongs.

You end up carrying a big load. But that's nothing compared to the load you carry on your shoulders. Prescribed diets and medically-approved exercises are the best combination for putting the weight back where it belongs.
Basic inconsistency in capital punishment

UI prof examines penalty

By MARY ALEX

SCHUMPETER

Special to the Daily Iowan

"There is a basic inconsistency in the death penalty," said Dr. John Stratton, professor of political science at the University of Iowa psychology department. "It seems to work in many instances, but in others, it is not effective. It's not a perfect system, but it does work for some people."

Dr. Stratton said that the death penalty has been imposed increasingly. For example, "the death penalty has been executed in the United States since 1975, but in 1979 it was used only 21 times of the 3,800 executions ever."

Although fewer women than men are arrested and convicted, executions statistics don't include the ratio of women eligible for the death penalty, but added, "It's a serious problem." Dr. Stratton said the death penalty is a harsher sentence than the life sentence, but it is a more effective punishment when a life is being threatened. "The death penalty may be a better way than life imprisonment, but it's not always effective," he said.

Dr. Stratton said another example of the inconsistency is the death penalty for "the premeditation of people executed for rape." He said that a death penalty would be more appropriate in a case where a death had occurred, but that a life sentence would be more appropriate for a death that has occurred.

Dr. Stratton said that the death penalty is "inherently different" and that it is "not used consistently." He said that a death penalty would be more appropriate in a case where a death had occurred, but that a life sentence would be more appropriate for a death that has occurred.

Iowa could get $34 million in impounded road funds

By ANN WOOD

The Daily Iowan—Iowa City, Iowa—April 5, 1979—Page 3

Iowa has agreed to receive $34 million in impounded federal highway funds for state highways.

According to Iowa Governor Robert Ray, the state has agreed to receive $34 million in impounded federal highway funds for state highways.

The funds were impounded by the federal government in 1975 and have been held up because of a legal dispute between the federal and state governments.

The funds were originally intended to be used for the construction of new highways in Iowa, but have been impounded because of a legal dispute between the federal and state governments.

The impounded funds are estimated to be worth about $34 million, and the state has agreed to use the funds to pay for the construction of new highways in Iowa.

The funds have been held up for more than 20 years, and the state has been unable to use the money for highway construction.

The state has agreed to use the funds to pay for the construction of new highways in Iowa, and the funds are expected to be used within the next few years.

The impounded funds are estimated to be worth about $34 million, and the state has agreed to use the funds to pay for the construction of new highways in Iowa.

The funds have been held up for more than 20 years, and the state has been unable to use the money for highway construction.

The state has agreed to use the funds to pay for the construction of new highways in Iowa, and the funds are expected to be used within the next few years.

The impounded funds are estimated to be worth about $34 million, and the state has agreed to use the funds to pay for the construction of new highways in Iowa.

The funds have been held up for more than 20 years, and the state has been unable to use the money for highway construction.

The state has agreed to use the funds to pay for the construction of new highways in Iowa, and the funds are expected to be used within the next few years.
Lesson in economics: part I

This community, and probably the rest of the nation, seems to be split on the merits of the meat boycott called for this week.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

An informal survey of meat department personnel in local stores revealed that at least, look for little effect from a meat boycott, as they say they are not ready to stop this week.

Why were there scattered reductions in meat prices this week? Why did we suddenly get top-quality pork chops at 89 cents a pound locally? And, in at least one Cedar Rapids market, good quality ground beef for 79 cents a pound in family-size packages? What happened? This week’s surprise lower meat prices, where they did surface, were a result of precisely what the meat boycott advocates are hoping will happen this week.

An informal meat supply situation, a freak thing, developed at the wholesale level last week. There appear to be signs that the meat packers, encouraged by the offer of the proposed boycott this week, pushed their animals to the market a week earlier than usual. And others, tempted by the particularly high prices last week and fearing a market value of the meat on the hoof. Then the packers all borrowed from the potential supply of this week and next.

... Why did we suddenly get top-quality pork chops at 89 cents a pound locally? And, in at least one Cedar Rapids market, good quality ground beef for 79 cents a pound in family-size packages? What happened?

These are a typical instance of the meat boycotts. It is a feeling that they will have a substantial effect on the market price of meat, which, as a result, will cause a great deal of consumer hardship, and will probably cause a large number of store owners to be unable to sell their meat at all.

And the President’s meat price freeze is another example of a similar type of restriction on the free flow of meat. It is a feeling that such a freeze will have a substantial effect on the market price of meat, which, as a result, will cause a great deal of consumer hardship, and will probably cause a large number of store owners to be unable to sell their meat at all.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.

The meat boycotts advertised this week by some local stores, and the President’s meat price freeze are further reasonable measures.
People going all out to do-it-themselves

Self-reliance boom

A career in law... without law school.

When you become a law's assistant you do work traditionally done by lawyers — work which is challenging, responsible and intellectually stimulating. Lawyer's Assistants are now so critically needed that The Institute for Paralegal Training can offer you a position in the city of your choice. This is a career as a professional with financial rewards that increase with your experience.

If you are a student of high academic standing and are interested in a legal career, come speak with our representative.

Contact the Placement Office:
A representative of The Institute will visit your campus on:

THURSDAY, APRIL 19

The Paulists are helping to build the earth.

Amitwajit, a graduate of the Paulist Seminary, lecture in the parish office building.

American priests on the move throughout North America.

For more information write:
Father Donald G. Campbell,
Room 301,

Paulist Fathers,

401 West 56th Street
New York, N.Y. 10019.

Saving this toll-free 24-HOUR number: IT'S YOUR KEY TO LOW-COST AIR TRAVEL TO EUROPE, ISRAEL, AND THE ORIENT.

1-800-823-2727

1-800-823-2727

Tour of the

The Daily Iowan—Iowa City, Iowa—Ann. 1, 1973—Page 3

Class Rings are a thing of the Past!!

Be Proud of your past accomplishments at the University of Iowa... Wear your Diploma in a Balfour Ring.

You can still take advantage of our free Single LP Album or 8 track tape with a Balfour Ring Order until April 7.

Iowa Book & Supply Co.
Tumble weeds
by T.K. Ryan

SIX YEARS RURAL SERVICE
A DREAMY LACK OF VISION

"Four Nights of a Dreamer" rendered beauty
On your own terms...

By DUSLEY ANDREW

WHAT WILL BE FOUND IN THE reflections of the moon above the restless sands..."

What follows is undoubtedly an entertainingly bizarre review of Robert Bresson's Four Nights of a Dreamer, playing tonight at 8 p.m., in the usual choice of chapters visible through a speckled, translucent glass. The genre's quick pace restlessly overwhelms the viewer. The minute detail of Bresson's American, Four Nights is a popular as a film..."

By JOHN E. MILLER

"Recalculating"

Dusley Andrew has done a number of reviews and articles about various aspects of film criticism.
Andrew is an assistant professor of speech and dramatic art, and has taught a variety of courses at Iowa City Community College and the University of Iowa. He is a member of the American Society of Film Critics.

Dusley Andrew writes:
The work is hard and the environment is often hostile..."

Dusley Andrew:
"The 1968 Cannes
Film Festival saw the screening of a film which seemed to be regarded as a landmark in its time. The film was
"Two More Weeks," and its director was Robert Bresson.

The film was regarded as a masterpiece of its genre, and was renowned for its unique style and approach to filmmaking. Bresson's work is often discussed in terms of its philosophical themes and
epistemological questions. The film "Two More Weeks" is particularly noted for its intricate structure and symbolism.

Dusley Andrew:
"Bresson's work is often discussed in terms of its philosophical themes and
epistemological questions. The film "Two More Weeks" is particularly noted for its intricate structure and symbolism."

Bourgeois art work

Rules of the Game explores social structures

Rules of the Game is Jean Renoir's classic film from 1939. It is a social satire and a commentary on French society's social structures and roles of that society and the changing perceptions of life.

It is a film of many and diverse scenes, of plot and subplot, and the complex web of relationships which runs through a menage a quatre, a group of four people. The story involves marriage and divorce, the devastation of war, and the instability of society.

The film becomes a revelation, arbitrarily isolated from the whole of the sensibility of the times. The two great portraits of love and marriage, in the form of a refined, elegant, and sophisticated couple, are really two major lenses through which the audience can see the world, and their world influences all the other elements.

The camera work masterfully reflects the sense of extreme sensitivity and of2 the power of an entire work, and the double portrait, the portrait of lovers and the portrait of the world, are actually two major lenses through which the audience can see the world, and their world influences all the other elements.

The result is a strange change which reveals and is revealed in all the scenes. This phenomenon is suggested in the last scene, where the family is completely destroyed, and the members are left alone, isolated from each other.

The chess is heightened, enriched, and given a powerful climax, started by the Bishop which reflects but does not exactly parallel the main scene. The final montage is

Popular romance novels reveal human dilemmas

"I saw the weird comedy, but I always loved him because he was so funny, and I just had to see him in a heroic part," she said.

The story of the novel is about the world of spies and their operations, and how they are used by governments and organizations. The novel is set during World War II, and the main character is an intelligence officer who is sent on a secret mission to save a world leader from a group of spies.

The novel features a complex plot, with multiple twists and turns, and a large cast of characters. The protagonist, a young man, is a brilliant spy who is sent on a mission to save the world leader. He is assisted by a team of other spies, and they must work together to complete their mission.

The novel is a fast-paced, action-packed thriller, with elements of mystery and suspense. It is a gripping story that will keep readers on the edge of their seats. It is a book that is sure to please fans of espionage and spy novels.
Students protest dorm contracts

Few students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parents. The university has defended the contracts, arguing that they are necessary to maintain the highest standards of living for dorm residents.

Students protest dorm contracts

Five students have upset over the dorm contracts to a jazz music band, following a two-week negotiations period with the university. The dorm contracts have become a focal point of controversy among students and parent...
Butch sharp in scrimage

By Bob Denney

The spring training for the Philadelphia Phillies is beginning to wind down and the players are returning to their winter homes to rest and recoup from the long season. The team is currently 8-3 in their Spring Training games, and are looking to carry that momentum into the regular season.

Check and cup

By Bob Denney

The spring training for the Philadelphia Phillies is beginning to wind down and the players are returning to their winter homes to rest and recoup from the long season. The team is currently 8-3 in their Spring Training games, and are looking to carry that momentum into the regular season.

NHL playoff prognosis

By BYRD OWEN

Special to the Daily News

The NHL playoffs are fast approaching, and the teams are gearing up for the ultimate test of skill and strategy. The playoffs will begin in April and run through May, with the Stanley Cup being awarded to the team that wins the series in seven games.

To: U of I FACULTY

The bookstore personnel appreciate your cooperation in returning the textbook adoption forms. Only with your assistance are we able to serve our students effectively. The return of your Fall book lists by May 1st enables us to offer the students our best price for their unwanted text books.

Thank You,

The Iowa Book People

BUDDWEISER WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS? WHAT'S GOING ON?

I'm happy to let you know that a little something positive about the current world championship of champions.

The 2019 World Championship of Champions will be held in April, and the players will be competing for the ultimate title of world champion. The event will take place in Las Vegas, with the top teams from around the world competing for the coveted crown.

THEME PARK OF THE MONTH

Budweiser is proud to announce the theme park of the month, a place where families and friends can come together and enjoy a day full of fun and adventure. This month's theme park is the Great American Theme Park, located in the heart of America's midwest. Visitors can expect a variety of rides, attractions, and entertainment options to keep everyone entertained for hours.

THEME PARK OF THE MONTH

Budweiser is proud to announce the theme park of the month, a place where families and friends can come together and enjoy a day full of fun and adventure. This month's theme park is the Great American Theme Park, located in the heart of America's midwest. Visitors can expect a variety of rides, attractions, and entertainment options to keep everyone entertained for hours.

THEME PARK OF THE MONTH

Budweiser is proud to announce the theme park of the month, a place where families and friends can come together and enjoy a day full of fun and adventure. This month's theme park is the Great American Theme Park, located in the heart of America's midwest. Visitors can expect a variety of rides, attractions, and entertainment options to keep everyone entertained for hours.

THEME PARK OF THE MONTH

Budweiser is proud to announce the theme park of the month, a place where families and friends can come together and enjoy a day full of fun and adventure. This month's theme park is the Great American Theme Park, located in the heart of America's midwest. Visitors can expect a variety of rides, attractions, and entertainment options to keep everyone entertained for hours.

THEME PARK OF THE MONTH

Budweiser is proud to announce the theme park of the month, a place where families and friends can come together and enjoy a day full of fun and adventure. This month's theme park is the Great American Theme Park, located in the heart of America's midwest. Visitors can expect a variety of rides, attractions, and entertainment options to keep everyone entertained for hours.

THEME PARK OF THE MONTH

Budweiser is proud to announce the theme park of the month, a place where families and friends can come together and enjoy a day full of fun and adventure. This month's theme park is the Great American Theme Park, located in the heart of America's midwest. Visitors can expect a variety of rides, attractions, and entertainment options to keep everyone entertained for hours.
lightweight contender of 30s and 40s still trim

By BART RIPP

He is the name of Walter Houston Jones, alias Kid Williams, and it's not for his slightness that he's remembered. It's for his great boxing, his beautiful business, his tenacity, his courage, his ability to take the punishment and to dish it out. He was a lightweight but he was larger than life in the ring.

Walter was born Walter D. Williams in Des Moines, Iowa. He was 62 but still plenty trim. When I first saw him, he was in Marshalltown according to the Kid. He was known as the Hammerin' one of the Lightweight class.

I caught him in the Vine last Friday afternoon, and we talked for quite a few hours. He was able to talk about the title fight and some other things. We had a good conversation.

Today, there isn't one in a thousand who knows the Kid, but when he was in his prime, he was a force to be reckoned with. He had a couple quick lefts, and a nice right hand, and the Kid was able to play the lightweight class.

Furthermore, he predicted, this was one fight the former world heavyweight champion could not win.

Both referees and the judges are often nominated for this title, but they were surprised when the Kid, in fact, the former world heavyweight champion, was knocked out.

The Kid was knocked out in Round 3 when he was leading. The Kid made a comeback, but he was already tired.

The Kid knew he was the greatest, and he was sure his corner would fight no more. Clay took it out of his hand. The Kid had the best training, and he was ready for his next fight.

Sometimes saving is awfully hard for a single person. It's so much easier to give in to temptation. That's why the Payroll Savings Plan is such a good idea. Your money's set aside and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds before you can get your hands on it. Join the Payroll Savings Plan. It helps you save in spite of yourself!
Poor outlook for shield laws in Iowa legislature

By FAMBLY

Special to the Daily Iowan

Although there are many overlooked questions on a shield law in the state, one thing seems certain: If the state probably won’t get one.

In an apparent effort to calm the crowd, Republican Mayor William Dally of Iowa City, Iowa—Tuesday, April 8—10 New Quarter-Pounders with Cheese

Introducing McDonald’s

A great big, thick, hot, juicy hamburger sandwich made with a quarter-pound of 100% beef. Served with onions, pickles, ketchup and mustard on a toasted sesame seed bun. Come and get it.

A sandwich where the meat really takes over.

Get up and get away to McDonald’s for a Quarter-Pounder with Cheese

817 S. Riverside - Iowa City

Dorm students surveyed: ‘Drugs, booze, sex—ok’

An overwhelming number of University of Iowa dormitory residents are opposed to drugs, bars and on-campus hallways, according to recent Associated Residence Hall surveys.

Only one per cent of the respondents said they feel “permitted” to use alcohol, while 99 per cent said they would not use on-campus hallways for the same purposes.

In fact, 75 per cent of the respondents called the situation “unacceptable.”

This month’s AHR surveys will be conducted to get a better idea of what dormitory residents have been told to expect.

The last amount of opposition to the apprehensions came from those responding to dormitory surveys, which had 82 per cent opposed to the requirement by an eight to one margin.

Though lack of objection to drugs was not obtained in all dormitories, it was obtained by 71 per cent in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

McDonald’s

A great big, thick, hot, juicy hamburger sandwich made with a quarter-pound of 100% beef topped with mellow, golden cheese. Served with onions, pickles, ketchup and mustard on a toasted sesame seed bun. Come and get it.

A sandwich where the meat really takes over.

Get up and get away to McDonald’s for a Quarter-Pounder with Cheese

817 S. Riverside - Iowa City

Dorm students surveyed: ‘Drugs, booze, sex—ok’

An overwhelming number of University of Iowa dormitory residents are opposed to drugs, bars and on-campus hallways, according to recent Associated Residence Hall surveys.

Only one per cent of the respondents said they feel “permitted” to use alcohol, while 99 per cent said they would not use on-campus hallways for the same purposes.

In fact, 75 per cent of the respondents called the situation “unacceptable.”

This month’s AHR surveys will be conducted to get a better idea of what dormitory residents have been told to expect.

The last amount of opposition to the apprehensions came from those responding to dormitory surveys, which had 82 per cent opposed to the requirement by an eight to one margin.

Though lack of objection to drugs was not obtained in all dormitories, it was obtained by 71 per cent in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

McDonald’s

A great big, thick, hot, juicy hamburger sandwich made with a quarter-pound of 100% beef topped with mellow, golden cheese. Served with onions, pickles, ketchup and mustard on a toasted sesame seed bun. Come and get it.

A sandwich where the meat really takes over.

Get up and get away to McDonald’s for a Quarter-Pounder with Cheese

817 S. Riverside - Iowa City

Dorm students surveyed: ‘Drugs, booze, sex—ok’

An overwhelming number of University of Iowa dormitory residents are opposed to drugs, bars and on-campus hallways, according to recent Associated Residence Hall surveys.

Only one per cent of the respondents said they feel “permitted” to use alcohol, while 99 per cent said they would not use on-campus hallways for the same purposes.

In fact, 75 per cent of the respondents called the situation “unacceptable.”

This month’s AHR surveys will be conducted to get a better idea of what dormitory residents have been told to expect.

The last amount of opposition to the apprehensions came from those responding to dormitory surveys, which had 82 per cent opposed to the requirement by an eight to one margin.

Though lack of objection to drugs was not obtained in all dormitories, it was obtained by 71 per cent in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

McDonald’s

A great big, thick, hot, juicy hamburger sandwich made with a quarter-pound of 100% beef topped with mellow, golden cheese. Served with onions, pickles, ketchup and mustard on a toasted sesame seed bun. Come and get it.

A sandwich where the meat really takes over.

Get up and get away to McDonald’s for a Quarter-Pounder with Cheese

817 S. Riverside - Iowa City

Dorm students surveyed: ‘Drugs, booze, sex—ok’

An overwhelming number of University of Iowa dormitory residents are opposed to drugs, bars and on-campus hallways, according to recent Associated Residence Hall surveys.

Only one per cent of the respondents said they feel “permitted” to use alcohol, while 99 per cent said they would not use on-campus hallways for the same purposes.

In fact, 75 per cent of the respondents called the situation “unacceptable.”

This month’s AHR surveys will be conducted to get a better idea of what dormitory residents have been told to expect.

The last amount of opposition to the apprehensions came from those responding to dormitory surveys, which had 82 per cent opposed to the requirement by an eight to one margin.

Though lack of objection to drugs was not obtained in all dormitories, it was obtained by 71 per cent in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

McDonald’s

A great big, thick, hot, juicy hamburger sandwich made with a quarter-pound of 100% beef topped with mellow, golden cheese. Served with onions, pickles, ketchup and mustard on a toasted sesame seed bun. Come and get it.

A sandwich where the meat really takes over.

Get up and get away to McDonald’s for a Quarter-Pounder with Cheese

817 S. Riverside - Iowa City

Dorm students surveyed: ‘Drugs, booze, sex—ok’

An overwhelming number of University of Iowa dormitory residents are opposed to drugs, bars and on-campus hallways, according to recent Associated Residence Hall surveys.

Only one per cent of the respondents said they feel “permitted” to use alcohol, while 99 per cent said they would not use on-campus hallways for the same purposes.

In fact, 75 per cent of the respondents called the situation “unacceptable.”

This month’s AHR surveys will be conducted to get a better idea of what dormitory residents have been told to expect.

The last amount of opposition to the apprehensions came from those responding to dormitory surveys, which had 82 per cent opposed to the requirement by an eight to one margin.

Though lack of objection to drugs was not obtained in all dormitories, it was obtained by 71 per cent in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

McDonald’s

A great big, thick, hot, juicy hamburger sandwich made with a quarter-pound of 100% beef topped with mellow, golden cheese. Served with onions, pickles, ketchup and mustard on a toasted sesame seed bun. Come and get it.

A sandwich where the meat really takes over.