Davenport, Iowa, a confluence area with three major rivers, has experienced above-average rainfall this summer, resulting in flooding along the Mississippi, Iowa, and Rock rivers. The Iowa Department of Natural Resources reported emergency flooding along the Mississippi River near Davenport and along the Iowa River.

In Iowa City, the Iowa City
Regional Public Transportation Commission (JCRPC) has announced plans to expand the

the Iowa City area.

As Nixon spins deny again
Richardson: special prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elliot
Brownstone, Jr., Nixon's special prosecutor, has denied that Nixon was involved in any way in the Watergate affair or its cover-up.

"Any suggestion that President Nixon was involved in any way in directing the Watergate operation is untrue."

Brownstone, testifying before the House Select Committee on Campaign Finance, said, "I will not accept a formula of presumption that requires the innocence of people."

The committee's chairman,
Representative Gerald Ford of Michigan, said, "There is no substantial federal evidence that President
Nixon was involved in any way
in directing the Watergate operation."

Gays form defense fund; criticize anonymous tip

By STEVENBERGER

Los Angeles, Calif. - The Los Angeles Police Department established a mechanism for defense funds Monday in the wake of a police raid on a gay dance and meeting place at a local church. At the same time, five of those arrested continued their criticism of the "arresting police," prompting an anonymous tip that the police would start a defense fund.

"I wonder if having a man always sweep away an anonymous phone call," asked a man at the scene.

A number of the police officers from the state police department, the High-Way Patrol, Iowa City police and Johnson County Sheriff's Office are on duty, which resulted in the situation.

Few consumers are aware of meat price ceilings

By the Associated Press

It's more than a month since price ceilings took effect, but some consumers don't seem to be noticing much difference. The reason is that what we have is not what we used to have. Only a few days ago there were reports of shortages of certain items. President Nixon imposed the ceilings in the fall, and they are still in effect.

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. — The new agreement is not yet a fait accompli. The Senate subcommittee on Indian Affairs—AIDS proposed legislation that would provide for the rehabilitation of the Black Hills, and the Senate voted in favor of the bill. The House of Representatives, however, has not yet considered the bill. The House has been opposed to the bill, and the Senate has been in favor of it. The subcommittee has been working on the bill, and the bill is expected to pass soon.

DID MOWERS know? — All held a project on a noise pollution in the area. The topics included the effects of noise on animals and people.

Felt told the students that noise pollution is a serious problem. According to Felt, the noise pollution in the area is caused by traffic and industries.

The study of the effects of noise on animals was conducted by students. The students observed the behavior of animals in areas with and without noise pollution.

The results of the study showed that animals in noisy areas exhibited more stress-related behaviors such as pacing and vocalization.

The students also discussed the effects of noise pollution on people. They mentioned that noise pollution can cause hearing loss, sleep disturbances, and an increased risk of heart disease.

Winnebago

NEW YORK — The stock of Winnebago Industries Inc. of Forest City, Iowa, dropped sharply on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday, as trading resumed after the late Tuesday's trading. The stock dropped $3.75, to $9.625, its lowest level since trading began.

Winnebago Industries is a manufacturer of recreational vehicles.

The company said that it has received several orders to increase production.

Tax institute

The nineteenth annual tax institute for practicing attorneys was held on Monday at the University of Iowa Friday and Saturday.

This year's institute featured an intensive analysis of the problems of the close corporation, corporations in general, and the tax aspects of organizing a corporation, professional association, and partnership. The institute also included discussions on the state and national tax allocation and corporate liquidations.

Annually, the Tax Institute of America meets in various locations across the country to provide tax professionals with the latest information in tax law.

Scott County Seal Jeff Willard “Wacker” Sturgis, director of the 30th annual Corn Program, was given a special award at the corn talk today. The award was given by the Iowa corn growers.

The Corn Program is a seminar that is held annually in Scott County. The program is designed to help farmers increase their corn yields.

Iowa's birth rate at zero population growth of 2.1

ANSI HILTON

Special to Daily Iowan

Contrary to the predicted increase in the state's birth rate, Iowa's birth rate has declined to 1973 levels.

The Iowa birth rate, which is measured by the rate of each female child per year, has dropped from 1974 to 1973, according to state health officials.

The study of the birth rate was conducted by state health officials. The study included data from birth certificates and hospital records.

The results of the study showed that the birth rate declined from 1974 to 1973. The birth rate in 1973 was 14.5 births per 1,000 population, compared to 15.0 births per 1,000 population in 1974.

This decline is significant because it is the first time that the birth rate has dropped below the national average.

FBI concludes that White House obstructed Watergate probe

Phony credentials

WASHINGTON-The FBI has concluded that the White House obstructed the Watergate probe by using phony credentials to prevent government investigators from getting full disclosure in the case. According to FBI sources, the use of phony credentials was not only a violation of the law, but also a serious breach of trust. The FBI investigation has confirmed that the White House obstructed the Watergate probe by using phony credentials to prevent government investigators from getting full disclosure in the case.

Tenure vs Affirmative Action

The American education industry has come a long way since 1974 when a University of Pennsylvania action was filed for speaking against the court's decision in favor of affirmative action. In 1974, however, affirmative action was still in its infancy. The lawsuit in 1974 was about the fairness of giving preference to minority college students, who were often found to be less qualified than the majority of students. The lawsuit was filed by a group of students from the University of Pennsylvania, who claimed that the school was violating their rights by giving them less consideration than other students.

Editor's note: The following story is based on a press release written by Ambassador Mildred C. Johnson, who signed the letter. The story includes information that was supplied by the Nixon administration, but much of it is based on reports from sources close to the Nixon administration. The story begins with the quote "Iowa doesn't make junkets," which was spoken by President Nixon. The story then goes on to discuss the administration's efforts to combat drug addiction, particularly heroin addiction. The story also includes quotes from various sources, including the National Institute on Drug Abuse and the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime. The story concludes with a quote from President Nixon, who said, "We're in a war against heroin, and we're winning."

Dust, mud, grass, hills, jumps, curves, water....

By BOB RIPP

Boys Ripped

Moto-Cross. It’s not a Mutley Movie song and it’s not a new religion either. It’s a motorcycle race on a closed track and it’s a race over a natural terrain that includes dust, mud, grass, hills, jumps, curves (with or without center), through water and over straights.

The Iowa City Cycle Racing Club ran its first Sunday and it was really neat and what the riders had to race against were the riders racers. The word racers, to be contrasted with the Schmedeckian dangling pretenses, mean the world of those riders on the track. The final standings are determined by the points accumulated in the track.

Riders competed last Sunday at the UCCD, course runway between Iowa City’s Isle of Man and West Raspberry. Ride #2 at noon ceremonies has begun the work of recording the stumpers’ names in the history book.

Got to get one down on the Derby

By RICHARDSON

Spectral beauty

Friday p.m. and no races. Will and Dan are leaving town. Their horse isn't among us because we knew it was a long shot. I feel bad for this horse, but I don't think he can go. The owner is going to get back up on the list—only one horse.

"We'll get back up on the list," says Dan. They've had to get up on the list a few times before. Their horse is not faring well.

Old horse

A splendid, unruffled man is conferring horses during the day. He has a heavy build, his eyes are brown, and he has a determined look on his face. He is looking at one of the stallions.

"This is our horse," says Dan. They've had to get up on the list a few times before. Their horse is not faring well.

Will and Dan are leaving town. They're going to get a new horse. I don't think they'll be back up on the list.

"We'll get back up on the list," says Dan. They've had to get up on the list a few times before. Their horse is not faring well.

Moving at full circle: women’s meeting speaker

The women’s movement has gone full cycle in a very real sense. At the University of Iowa City, on April 12, Louise News said for regenerative a corporation that "Women and Public Policy" this weekend at the University of Iowa City. A resident of Des Moines, News was part of a group of women from the City Council, the City’s Mayor, and the Women’s Suffrage Movement in Iowa. A representative of the corporation, News pointed out that radiance of the femal figure is in the social and political arena. The women’s movement, as News points out, is a new arena that women should accept a reciprocal space from men and both campaigns for every woman’s role to be a human being first and a major human being.

The first Women’s Rights Convention in Des Moines was held in 1851. Women’s movement challenged every social convention, including the status quo. News pointed out that women will not be satisfied with halfway measures. "They see an opportunity in every situation when every outrage of sexual discrimination is an attempt to develop an individual," she continued. "This will not

Cicadas in Iowa

A native of Iowa City, Iowa, the University of Iowa’s anthropology professor, Dr. Betty Scott, described the phenomenon of the cicada in Iowa as "a true marvel of nature." The cicada, she explained, is a large, black insect with a distinctive "cicada" sound. The cicada’s sound is created by the rapid vibration of its wings, which produces a series of high-pitched notes.

The cicada’s life cycle is unusual in that it spends most of its life underground, burrowing into the soil and feeding on plant roots. Cicadas are known for their large size and distinctive appearance. They have a long, cylindrical body, large, compound eyes, and a hard, exoskeleton that covers their bodies. The cicadas’ exoskeleton splits down the back as they emerge from the ground, creating a characteristic "cicada" sound.

Scott emphasized that the cicada’s presence in Iowa is a reminder of the cyclical nature of life and the importance of patience and persistence. She added that the cicada’s journey through the soil is a metaphor for the human experience, reminding us that we too must "crawl" our way through life, emerging stronger and more resilient as we do.

"Boy, V.D sure is a dumb disease to get."

"Yeah, and it’s even dumber to keep it if you’ve got it."

Youngsters who talk like that are rare. V.D. is the biggest stigm of ignominy. Most kids know just as much about venereal disease as their parents. And that’s not very much.

Some people still believe that V.D. is caught from quiet bits. Or dirty door knobs. Or through the air.

It fact, it is spread almost exclusively through sexual contact.

Edison official projects

Electricity growth at 7 per cent

University News Service

An Illinois power company official said at the University of Iowa City recently that "Electricity will continue to grow at about seven per cent annually until about 1980."

Rama L. Lee, assistant to the President of Illinois Power Company, spoke at the IC College of Services at the University's Institute of Hydraulic Research. The study at the hydraulic laboratory is using the model to design a scale system for maximizing the cooling effect of what will be the largest ice tunnel in the lake. The lake will be used for the Commonwealth Edison's large new 'Lake Michigan River Project.'

According to Lee, total United States electric energy consumption is growing at about 7 per cent annually, with electricity use increasing at seven per cent per year. In the only 30 per cent of total housework, be secretaries, .

The 10 Institute of Hydraulic Research has been involved in several projects with Commonwealth Edison. Engineers from the laboratory designed the Commonwealth Edison's new transmission line for the Cordova nuclear power plant near Cordova, Ill., on the Mississippi River and have designed several other discharge systems for power plants.

With their low temperature facility, researchers in the institute are studying how water-cooled nuclear power plants may be affected during the winter. The data being used to improve operations of the company's Kim, Illinois, nuclear plant on the shores of Lake Michigan.

General D. McDonald, a UI environmental engineer, pointed in participation in·present investigation supports the Cordova plant's output of power which has been a problem for a year now.

Lee claims that the company has spent $6 million on an electromechanical power plant for the Cordova facility that would have little impact on the Mississippi River environment.

"In spite of the fact that this plant makes the most stringent water quality regulations and its effect on the environment is minimal." Lee added.

The Illinois utility has been opposed by Iowa and Illinois regulatory agencies to operate the plant with its discharge pipe only temporarily while a closed water discharge system is built for the plant.

Lee also described the Public Interest Research Group's concern with the project, pointing out that the group had dropped Aladdin State.

The company's first electric auxiliary scutarian was installed in the summer of 1989. He explained that the utility has reassessed many policies during the last three or five years, which he called "hard" for the Illinois energy.
