Prostitution

DESA MOORE, Iowa (AP)—The National Council on Crime and Delinquency presented prostitution as a major social crisis to state lawmakers in the opening session of the 86th General Assembly. The state's criminal code is over 100 years old and in desperate need of reform, the council said.

It said that state governments have turned a blind eye to the problem of prostitution, which is often linked to child abuse, domestic violence, and human trafficking. The council's report calls for the decriminalization of prostitution, the establishment of licensed brothels, and the provision of services to prostitutes such as healthcare, education, and job training.

Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of the Agriculture Department's Commodity Research Bureau, a federal agency with jurisdiction over agricultural futures markets, was caught on tape discussing with a state law enforcement official about the suspicious activities of a broker who was involved in the sale of illegal drugs.

The bureau's director, John Doe, said that the broker, an employee of the bank of the future, had been involved in the sale of illegal drugs for several years. The bureau had received complaints from several states about the broker's activities, and Doe said that the bureau was investigating the matter.

The bureau's investigations were ongoing, and Doe said that the bureau would take appropriate action when the investigation was complete. He also said that the bureau would work with law enforcement officials to ensure that the broker was brought to justice.
Candidates clarify ‘profiteering’

City Council candidates Kevin Carper, Peter and Robert Dever are scheduled to appear Monday evening at Central High School. The candidates were asked to clarify if they support the move to charge a fee for students who attend Central High School. The move was first proposed by the Iowa State Board of Control and was later approved by the Iowa State Board of Education. The candidates were also asked to clarify their position on the current school board's decision to cut the number of teachers and non-teaching staff.

Chambers: Pedestrian campus not dependent on Metrolseo diagonal

Chambers: We because alternative plans could be submitted for a pedestrian oriented campus. We have navigated through this proposal and we would hope it would go forward with a better plan. This is a plan that we are imbeded in in a certain way.

Question: Is the university at the gate committed to the city growth?

Chambers: No, the university did not make a formal or official proposal for the widening of the road. We made it clear that we expected from early on that we would have to get into some more deliberations with the city.

We did not get into the refined meetings thought we would have to, should the pedestrian campus, or even the general planning of the area.

Chambers: Almost certainly changes will happen.

QueUon: What is the reason for delay of the pedestrian campus proposal?

Chambers: The delay is due to the city's deliberations and the result of the pedestrian campus plan.

Chambers: I might raise the question a bit as to the tourism and what might be considered to be a pedestrian campus.

Those of you who have been following the case very closely have already heard details that I won't repeat here. Let me simply say that it is clear that those who created the video did not do so with the intent of promoting or glorifying violence. Instead, they were providing information and education about the dangers of drugs and the importance of seeking treatment. This information can be used by individuals to make informed decisions about their own health and well-being.

I want to emphasize that the media has a crucial role to play in shaping public opinion and influencing behavior. The way in which we cover events and present information can have a significant impact on how people understand and respond to them. Therefore, it is important for media professionals to be accountable for the content they create and to ensure that it aligns with ethical and moral standards.

In conclusion, while it is understandable that some people may be concerned about the potential implications of recent developments, I believe that it is important to approach these issues thoughtfully and with an open mind. Let us continue to work together to ensure that our communities remain safe and supportive of each other.

Automobile Maintenance: Lesson 1

Today we introduce the third segment in our three-part home-to-automobile-maintenance series. We’re starting with some advice on how to check your oil because it’s a key operation for anyone with a car.

When you go to your local auto parts store or service station, you’ll find a couple of tools needed to check your oil levels: a funnel and a dipstick.

1. Inspect the Oil Pan:
   - Check the oil level in the oil pan by looking through the dipstick hole.
   - If the oil level is below the lower mark on the dipstick, add oil to bring it up to the upper mark.

2. Check the Oil Pressure:
   - Use an oil pressure gauge to check the oil pressure.
   - If the oil pressure is too low, add more oil or check for oil leaks.

3. Check the Oil Temperature:
   - Use a thermometer to check the oil temperature.
   - If the oil temperature is too high, add oil or check for oil leaks.

4. Check the Oil Quality:
   - Use a dipstick to check the oil quality.
   - If the oil is dirty, change it.

5. Check the Oil Pump:
   - Use a stethoscope to check the oil pump.
   - If the oil pump is making noise, replace it.

6. Check the Oil Filter:
   - Use a filter wrench to check the oil filter.
   - If the oil filter is clogged, replace it.

7. Check the Oil Pan:
   - Use a pan to check the oil pan.
   - If the oil pan is damaged, replace it.

8. Check the Oil Pan Gasket:
   - Use a gasket wrench to check the oil pan gasket.
   - If the oil pan gasket is damaged, replace it.

9. Check the Oil Pan Seal:
   - Use a seal wrench to check the oil pan seal.
   - If the oil pan seal is damaged, replace it.

10. Check the Oil Pan Bolts:
    - Use a wrench to check the oil pan bolts.
    - If the oil pan bolts are loose, tighten them.

These steps should help you keep your car running smoothly and safely. Always check your oil regularly and make sure your car is ready for any trip.

Hungry Hawks host Arizona

BY ROBERT CRAIN

Victory-starved Iowa will be out to tarnish Arizona's unblemished record when the two teams meet at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at Kinnick Stadium. Kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 CDT.

"We won't have to worry about the weather this week," said Iowa Coach Fred Larson. "The rain didn't stop us from winning last week. Our offense played well and our defense held our opponent to only 7 points."

Utah State, which Arizona beat 17-7 in Salt Lake City last week, is expected to have its way with the Wildcats on Saturday.

"The Wildcats have been fortunate to have a winning record in conference games," Larson said. "They have a strong running attack, but our defense is equally strong."

The Hawks are headed into Saturday's game against Arizona with a 2-1 record. Larson said the team is prepared for a tough game against the Wildcats.

"We've played some good teams this season," Larson said. "Arizona is a good team, but we're ready for the challenge."

Oakland, Cincinnati DL’s playoff picks

By CHUCK HICKMAN

If you’ve ever been to Baltimore, you know about the fans. A few days ago, the Orioles were playing their third game of the season at their new home, the new Memorial Stadium, and the fans were still ready to cheer. But they were also ready to boo, and they did.

In the first inning, after Baltimore center fielder Bill North hit a home run, the crowd roared. In the second inning, after the Orioles scored two runs, the crowd roared again. But in the third inning, after the Reds scored two runs, the crowd roared in response. It was a war of words and numbers, and the Reds came out on top.

On the other hand, if you’ve never been to Baltimore, you might be surprised at how much the city has changed since I was last there.

But it’s time to get back to baseball. The Orioles are in New York today to play the Yankees, and I’m sure the fans will be there to cheer them on. But I hope they also remember to boo, because the Yankees are good, and the Orioles need to show them they’re not to be taken lightly.

Let’s get back to the baseball. The Orioles are in first place in the American League East, and they’re looking good. But don’t forget, they’re only three games ahead of the Yankees, and the Yankees are strong. So while the fans are there to cheer, they should also be there to boo, and they should do it loud.

IM Corner

You’ll be breaking out that old flip-flop again in about four or five days, and you can thank the weather gods for it. By Sunday, the temperatures are expected to reach the low 70s, with a high of 80 degrees. That’s perfect for a day at the beach, or a day of shopping.

But that’s not all. The Orioles are also in town, so you can catch a game and enjoy the sunny weather. It’s a win-win situation.

In other news, the Orioles have announced that they will be playing a doubleheader on Saturday, with the first game starting at 1:00 PM and the second at 7:00 PM. That’s going to be a long day, but it’s going to be worth it. We all know that Orioles fans are some of the best in the world, and they’re going to show it.

Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs retired Whitey Lockman as manager for 1971 Thursday, a day after owner Phil Wrigley expressed “dissatisfaction” with the club’s 107-performance and need for a rebuilding.

In his first full season, Lockman’s Cubs started on an eighth-place June 30 and then finished third, five games behind the division champion New York Mets in the National League East race.

Gambling

BEND, Ore. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles were installed as 5-1 home favorites Friday, too, after finishing the 1969 season in first place with the first game of their American League playoff with the Minnesota Twins.

Scully

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vin Scully, longtime “voice” of the Los Angeles Dodgers, has been selected to broadcast the National League baseball playoff series between the New York Mets and Cincinnati Reds over a special worldwide radio network that will include nearly 400 stations.

Sources said Scully on the broadcast will be Bob Gibson, star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Bear Bryant

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Coach Paul “Bear” Bryant of Alabama has decided that the University of Alabama will be used for academic scholarships.

The University will continue to bear Bryant Scholarship Fund with the gift from Bryant, who started his career in football in 1962 as a player with the Crimson Tide.

Hockey

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens and the Chicago Black Hawks were named Thursday by The Hockey Writers, Inc., as the league’s top teams in the National Hockey League for the 1970-71 season.

The weekly publication, which selected the Canadiens to top the East Division, followed by the New York Rangers, Boston, Buffalo, Toronto, Chicago, Vancouver and the New York Islanders.

Chicago was picked to lead the West, then, in the hockey writers’ choice, in each of the NL cities — St. Louis, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Atlanta and California.

On the line...

Frazier, Ali in ’74 rematch

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost three years and three defeats later, Joe Frazier and Muhammad Ali will meet again.

One of the premieres of the year, it seems, was that they would make more than the $3.5 million earned in the first match.

The two former world heavyweight champions will meet March 8 in the Astrodome. The two will meet a second time Oct. 6, 1974.

The guarantees for the two men are $600,000 each, but they have options for the third fight if any money for the first fight.

The guarantees were for the first three $425,000 each and $225,000 for each Came.

Agnew's county successor indicted

CHICAGO (AP) — Declaring that many of the Democratic social change programs of the 60's were empty talk, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Thursday that the jury in his murder trial would find that the work of his administration was "unprecedented success". He said he was ready to carry through on his goals "all the way to the end, even if it means doing the right things twice." Agnew was charged with perjury and tax evasion.

The Chicago Sun-Times reported that Agnew had been asked to resign as vice president by President Richard Nixon, who said he had lost confidence in Agnew's ability to carry through with the program. However, the President said he had not asked Agnew to resign at the time. Agnew, who had been under investigation for five years, denies the charges.

At a press conference on Thursday, Agnew said he would continue to fight the charges and that he would not resign. He said he had no intention of resigning and that he would continue to work for his goals.

The trial, which is scheduled to begin on November 1st, is expected to last for several months. The charges against Agnew include tax evasion and perjury.

Statistical advice available free to students, faculty

A university-wide statistical Consulting Center has recently been established in the Iowa University office of the vice president for education and research.

The center, located in Room 109 Dickey Hall, will provide a full range of statistical consultation without charge to students and faculty. Most of the consultations will be carried out by graduate students in statistics under the supervision of faculty members. However, larger or less straightforward problems will normally be handled by members of the statistics faculty.

An advisory committee for the center has been appointed and consists of faculty from the departments of psychology, sociology, education, economics, agriculture, computer science, and mathematics.

The committee, which includes experienced workers in public health, sociology, economics, and mathematics, has been meeting regularly to develop a set of criteria to guide the consultation services.

The center will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

An animated film class offered for no credit by Action Studies

By Mary Wagner

A group of students at Iowa University has developed an animated film class for credit. The class is offered as part of the Action Studies program, which is designed to provide opportunities for students to engage in creative and constructive activities.

The course is taught by Professor Robert W. Smith, who has been involved in directing and teaching animation for several years. The course is open to students who are interested in exploring the potential of animation as a medium for storytelling and creative expression.

The course will cover the fundamentals of animation, including the principles of motion, the use of drawing and modeling techniques, and the techniques of animation. Students will be expected to produce a short animation film as a final project.

The course is designed for students who have some experience in animation or who are interested in learning about animation as a creative medium. It is open to students of all levels of experience.

The course will meet twice a week, on Tuesday and Thursday, from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. It will be open to students who have been admitted to the Action Studies program.

The course will include weekly assignments and projects, as well as opportunities to work on larger projects throughout the semester. Students will be encouraged to experiment with different animation techniques and to develop their own unique styles.

Killer to aid victim's wife

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Miami judge wants to put on trial a man who is accused of murdering his former wife, who had been a police detective. The man, who was a former police detective, is scheduled to go on trial in two months.

The man, Richard Smith, is charged with murder in the shooting death of his former wife, Mary Smith. Smith was killed on April 18, 1970, in a shooting incident that occurred while she was working as a police detective. Smith was shot in the chest and back of the head.
