WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate Finance Committee today approved a bill that would lower the price of gasohol and alcohol-gasoline blends, but the bill would be sent to the House for a vote. Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., the sponsor of the bill, said the amendment would reduce the cost of gasohol by $1 per gallon. However, Sen. Walter戏, D-Wis., who chairs the Senate Finance Committee, said he was willing to consider the bill.

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate voted 92-6 to approve the bill, but the House of Representatives did not vote on the measure. Sen. Proxmire said he was anxious to read the ruling of the House of Representatives, which would take place later Thursday.

Student cooperative housing which makes its debut in Iowa City this month and which will grow during the summer, according to plans made by the Iowa City Housing Cooperative, Inc.

The collective will maintain a house located at 230 Melrose Ave., which is one of the houses located in Co-op City. The cooperative is a group of students who live together and will begin operating on July 1, 1978, according to a statement released by the cooperative. The cooperative is under way.

The house will be used by the students, who will live together and pay rent to the cooperative. The cooperative will be run by the students, and the rent will be used to pay for the cooperative's expenses.

The cooperative is a part of the Student Cooperative Housing Program, which is a program of the Iowa City Housing Cooperative, Inc.

Cruisin' takes a bruisin'

MARSHALL, Ia. — The '78 Iowa state high school football season opened Thursday with officials still not sure what will happen.

Policeman Chief Herold Beane said officers have not been given any guidelines on enforcing the law — "not to arrest anyone the first time they go through" the southeastern Iowa town.

"There's not going to be a crackdown," Beane said. "But I think the law will come into effect the first week or two until the people get used to the prohibition." Beane said he was referring to the law to determine whether somebody is 21 years old.

The administration was passed by the city council last week and takes effect July 1.

Postal rate hike rouses few complaints

By BARRY BARRON
Staff Writer

Public criticism of the public postal service's recent rate hike has been surprisingly scarce, considering the widespread complaints about the increased prices raised by the price of a first-class postage stamp," said Iowa City Postmaster Bill Mullen. "The increase has been fairly gradual and overall it has not had a significant impact. It's not like people don't have mail. Our increase is being taken less as a hike than an increase in the price of postage.

According to Richard Dolezal, an employee of Iowa City Post Office, the Cafe, which is one of the few stores that people use just as a convenience store, has seen a significant decrease in sales due to the postage hike. "People are looking for alternative ways to send their mail," he said. "There has been a decrease in the volume of mail handled in the City, approximately 500,000.

While it's not as popular as the first-class stamp, the second-class stamp has been increasing in popularity. The price of the second-class stamp is $0.50. The increase has resulted from the hike in postal volume has not dropped.

The stamp has been raised from 33 cents to 37 cents, which is a slight increase. However, the increase is not as significant as the first-class stamp.

Readers: More on Goldman bombing

Closed minds

To the Editor:

In regard to the incident at the Emma Goldman Clinic in Thursday, two sides of comment is forthcoming. I believe the clinic was closed in order to prevent the attack of the personnel seeking to initiate the action.

I believe in the principles espoused by the Goldman Clinic and the women's movement in general. A protest seems to me the only thing that can be done without being illegal. Although I do not agree with the Goldman Clinic on many issues, I do believe in the principles of non-violence and non-proliferation, and I applaud the Goldman Clinic for standing firm in the face of pressure.

I believe that the Goldman Clinic was right to close down in order to prevent the attack and the possible loss of life. The Goldman Clinic has always shown a willingness to stand up for what it believes in, and I believe that it is right to continue to do so.

Privilege

President Carter has just pleadingly called on everyone, right to the very people who purport to represent the American people, to be as one in the battle for the American people. But when it comes down to the real American people, it is quite another story. It is quite another story when it comes to the real American people.

The President's call is not merely a call to arms, but a call to action. It is a call to arms that is not only a call to arms, but a call to action. It is a call to arms that is not only a call to arms, but a call to action.
