State seeks draft non-registrants

By Scott Sorensen

In a move that could be seen as a "kick in the teeth," the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) of Iowa has announced its intention to file a lawsuit challenging the draft registration system. The ACLU has been working closely with the National Lawyers Guild and other organizations on this issue.

The ACLU's action comes on the heels of a similar lawsuit filed by the American Civil Liberties Union of California. That lawsuit was filed in January and is currently pending in federal court.

In Iowa, the ACLU has been working with local organizations and community members to build support for a challenge to the draft registration system. The ACLU has been engaging in public education and organizing efforts to raise awareness about the issues involved in the draft registration system.

"The draft registration system is an unconstitutional violation of our constitutional rights," said Scott Sorensen, executive director of the ACLU of Iowa. "We are committed to using all legal means necessary to challenge this unjust system and to protect the rights of all Americans.

"We intend to file a lawsuit challenging the draft registration system in Iowa and to work with other organizations to build a nationwide coalition to challenge this unconstitutional system," he added.

The ACLU is continuing to build support and pressuring the federal government to end the draft registration system. The ACLU is also working to increase public awareness about the issues involved in the draft registration system.

Freedman inauguration planned

By Jeff Beck

This fall UI President James G. Freedman will be inaugurated with a public ceremony and celebration — but negligible, officials say. Freedman will be inaugurated at a University of Iowa dormitory that was recently renovated as a residence hall. The ceremony will be held on October 10.

The president will be joined by university officials and students. The event will begin with a reception in the Student Union followed by a dinner in the Pavilion, where the address will be delivered.

Following the dinner, there will be a parade through campus, ending at the Old Capitol where Freedman will be inaugurated. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the University Club.

In his inaugural address, Freedman will discuss his vision for the university's future and plans for its continued growth and success.

The event is open to the public and will be streamed live on the university's website. For more information, please visit uconnect.uiowa.edu/inauguration.
Housing crisis

"Abominable" is one word commonly encountered while reading about housing. High rents and scarcity of residential units within Iowa City and the failure of the authorities to act has resulted in chaos.

The overall vacancy rate is lower than 1 percent. But below the surface, a much more substantial problem exists:

- The percentage of rental units that are occupied by families earning less than 30 percent of the median income is very high.
- The average rent for a two-bedroom unit is more than $600.
- The city has not developed enough affordable housing units.

For the elderly, the situation has reached a crisis.

Poor housing and inadequate facilities are a serious problem. The current vacancy rate is 3.5 percent for affordable units, 2 percent for one-bedroom units, and 60 percent for two-bedroom units.

Mother knows best

"Mother knows best" is a phrase that is often mentioned when it comes to family matters. However, the phrase can also be applied to other areas of life.

When it comes to making important decisions, it's often beneficial to listen to the advice of those who have more experience or knowledge.

Dangers of monopoly

The Justice Department recently announced new rules governing corporate mergers. The行政机关 has been criticized for its leniency in the past, but these new rules may help prevent monopolies from forming.

Some economists argue that, while monopoly power in industries like beer and tobacco may not be

- Unfair to consumers.
- Harmful to the environment.
- Inherently inefficient.

For example, the merger of two large beer companies might lead to higher prices and reduced innovation.

Curved grading

I am writing in regard to the curved grading system used in my high school.

The system is based on the belief that

- Students vary in their abilities.
- Grading should be fair and consistent.
- Grades should reflect effort and performance.

I believe that curved grading is an unfair system because

- It does not accurately reflect a student's knowledge.
- It can be manipulated by teachers.
- It does not provide feedback to students.

I would prefer a system that

- Grades each student fairly.
- Provides constructive feedback.
- Encourages improvement.

Registration

"Voter turnout," according to the National Center for Health Statistics, "is not a true measure of the number of eligible citizens who actually vote. Only about 50% of those who are registered to vote actually vote in any given election. Even among those who are registered, less than 20% of those who are eligible to vote actually vote, according to the same report."

Terrorist attacks in the United States have led to an increased interest in voter registration and the importance of civic engagement. The National Voter Registration Act of 1993 requires all motor vehicle registration offices to provide voter registration services to citizens who are old enough to vote. This has helped to increase voter turnout in recent elections.

Reagan vetoes crucial money bill because of housing aid provision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan vetoed a crucial money bill Thursday night because it contained a $1.3 billion housing aid program that he opposed as president.

The five-day-long session, hit a snag in late afternoon, was called to extend the 1983 budget reconciliation bill. Reagan said he opposed a third substitute approved by the House and the Senate.

The savings must be approved by the full Congress to delete a program that will add $1.3 billion over the next three years and will only make the housing recession worse.

The House passed and sent the bill to the Senate without the housing provision because it failed to get out other "noncontroversial" items. The Senate failed to override Reagan's veto, the House passed and sent the bill to the Senate. The Senate failed to override Reagan's veto.

The movie is also about the power of hope and the importance of second chances. The movie is about the power of hope and the importance of second chances. Six-under 64 lifts Gilder to lead

BARRINGTON, N.Y. (UPI) — Bob Gilder, whose consistency has made him one of the most popular men on the PGA tour, followed up his course record 62 three blocks ago with a brilliant, 64-34-33-67 round Monday to grab a three-shot lead in the 24th Westchester Classic at Westchester Country Club.

"I didn't realize I had won the tournament until I got to the 18th green," Gilder said. "I thought we were tied until one of the other players told me. But I'm glad to be back on top and I'm glad to be in New York."

Gilder, 31, tied for fourth last week in the three-shot playdown for the Amana VIP Golf Classic and a $50,000 top prize. He was a part of the Westchester Country Club team, which tied for third.

"It's a great feeling," Gilder said. "It's been a long time since I've won a tournament."

Down the tubes

The makers of the Iowa River may not have all the rights of Wisconsin's Apple River but Dan Brown, of Cedar City, Iowa, and Larry Brown don't seem to mind as they take a tubing trip Thursday afternoon.

AmanaVIP

Retaining a four-set winning streak, the U.S. Fed Cup team is looking for a chance to win in Monday's Amana VIP softball game against the U.S. Open.

But it's not all about winning games here. It's about the fun of the whole experience.

"I think we're all in it for the fun," said Jillian Eichelberger, a 15-year veteran of the Fed Cup tournament. "We all love being part of the Team USA family and it's always a fun experience."

Zwener: Finkbine in best shape ever

By Matt Farris

Getting anything out of the venerable Finkbine Golf Course this year is extremely difficult. But the Iowa State No. 1 golfer, Shlomo Zwener, is a master at making the most of his opportunities.

"I think we're all in it for the fun," he said. "We all love being part of the Team USA family and it's always a fun experience."
