Israel warns: save your life

The Labor federation of the Israeli garment workers, led by Labor leader and Labor federation member, has called for a national strike to protest against the Israeli government's decision to deport Palestinian workers. The strike is expected to last for one week, and it is expected to affect all Palestinian workers in Israel.

In the meantime, the Israeli government has announced that it will continue to deport Palestinian workers, despite strong opposition from the Palestinian community and international organizations.

Meanwhile, the Palestinian government has called for a boycott of Israeli goods as a way to protest against the deportations. The boycott has been widely supported by Palestinian organizations and individuals.

Iowa Socialists working to get 2 percent of vote

By Mark Leonard

The Iowa Socialist Party is hoping not to be left behind in this year's election.

Supporting a diversified economy and opposing nuclear power at all levels, the party is in the process of organizing its membership in the state in order to become a major political force.

For example, at the recent Democratic convention in Des Moines, the party put forward a platform that it hopes will be adopted by the delegates. The platform calls for a number of changes, including the following:

- An end to the death penalty
- A moratorium on nuclear power development
- A defense against nuclear arms
- A tax on the wealthy

The Socialist Party is made up of people who are committed to working towards a better society for all. They believe that the government should be run by the people, for the people, and that everyone should have the opportunity to take part in the decision-making process.

The party is not just about politics, but also about building community and fostering a sense of solidarity among its members. They meet regularly to discuss issues and plan actions, and they are always looking for new ways to get involved and make a difference.

If you are interested in learning more about the Iowa Socialist Party or in becoming a member, please contact the party at [party_email] or [party_phone]. They would love to welcome you into their community of activists and organizers.

Midsummer Night's Dream vibrant, enchanting

By Harvey Green

As the audience itself arrives, the opening performance of Midsummer Night's Dream, the twenty-eighth night of the production, is already underway. The evening is warm and humid, the stage set with trees and flowers, and the actors are dressed in costumes that suggest a fairy-tale world. The audience is captivated as they watch the play unfold, each scene more enchanting than the last.

Theater

The play opens with the scene where Lysander and Hermia, two young lovers, are discovered sleeping together under a tree. The audience is struck by the beauty of their relationship, and the way they express their love for each other. The actors are excellent, and the production itself is a feast for the eyes.

Television

As the evening progresses, the audience is treated to a variety of performances, from musical numbers to spoken word poetry. The performances are well-rehearsed and expertly executed, and the audience is left feeling both entertained and inspired.

Incompetent 'MegaForce' a turkey

By Cindy Warick

For years, the movie 'MegaForce' has been considered a turkey by many film critics and audiences alike. But, as it turns 40 years old, we take a look back at the film and see why it's still considered a classic of sorts.

Films

In 1978, a group of soldiers were chosen to test an experimental new weapon, the 'MegaForce'. But when the weapon goes out of control, the soldiers must fight against both the weapon and the government to save their lives. The film is a classic example of the action genre, and it's still worth watching today.
