Blind leading the blind

Finding your way around campus could take on a new meaning in the personal education maze called "new glasses." Students, center, was one of about 10 students who were taken on a walk around the UI Permanent Tuesday afternoon after being identified.

The Tribune looks to improve the service it offers college managers and students.

The Tribune met with the Tribune's advertising manager, Tom Smith, and the Tribune's traffic director, Bev Shively, to discuss the Tribune's plans for the coming year.

Smith said that the Tribune is planning to increase its circulation by 20 percent next year. This will be accomplished through a combination of direct mail and newspaper ad campaigns.

"We're looking at ways to reach more people with our message," Smith said.

Shively added that the Tribune plans to expand its online presence as well. The Tribune currently has a website and a mobile app, but Shively said that the Tribune will be introducing a new digital platform in the near future.

The Tribune is also looking to increase its advertising revenue. Smith said that the Tribune plans to increase its rates by 10 percent next year.

The Tribune's goal is to remain financially viable while continuing to provide quality news coverage to the UI community.

Textbook life short, costly for students

By Caroline Craig

Students have traditionally paid high prices for textbooks, but a recent study by Iowa Book and College Supply Company shows that this is changing.

The study found that the average textbook cost for the spring semester is $270, up from $250 last year. This increase is due to a number of factors, including higher printing costs and increased demand for textbooks.

However, the study also found that students are increasingly using digital textbooks, which can save up to 50 percent off the cost of a traditional textbook. Digital textbooks are often available for free through university libraries and online platforms.

In addition, the study found that students are more likely to purchase textbooks online, which can save them time and money compared to buying books in a physical store.

Riots erupt on Solidarity anniversary

WALKER, Minn. — Riots and violence continued throughout the day, with thousands of police and National Guardsmen deployed across the city in a show of force.

Police were on high alert as returning 11 kicks for a 27.3-3 average and another touchdown, officials said.

No agreement was reached in the negotiations sessions planned for all the teams.

The survey rounded up rated several important new research and development activities in the area of materials science.

The books' short life-span is due to the fact that they are written for students and are often used in texts for only a short time before being discarded.

Yes, we want our peace of course, but I don’t think there is anything intrinsically wrong with an occasional self-defense. The British were going to stop us and I supported the decision of our government. I am glad the war is over.

A new month despite concerted efforts to privatize privately-owned land, the Conservation Board, in a rare move, has made Den Eklund's property a priority for the city.

"THE CITY NEEDS to be looking only at property that has not been disputed," Manzi said. "It is yet to be determined if any future use can be made of the property."

"Now that the City has been notified, we will be considering the case and deciding whether or not to proceed," Manzi said. "We have received a letter from the property owner, and we will be reviewing it in the coming weeks."
Israelis shoot down Syrian jet; one dead

President Reagan said Wednesday that Tuesday's downing of an Israeli warplane by a Syrian jet appeared to be part of a "deliberate design" to harass Israeli planes flying into southern Lebanon. Reagan said the Syrian jet may have been trying to "frighten" the Israeli planes and said the United States would not allow its planes to be "bullied".

Reagan said the United States would not allow its planes to be "bullied". The downing of a Syrian jet by an Israeli plane was a "very serious" incident and the United States would not allow its planes to be "bullied". The United States would take "very strong" action if it were forced to do so.

New noise ordinance explained

By Mark Leonard

Violations of Iowa City's new noise ordinance would be penalized in the same manner as traffic citations under a plan that the City Council adopted Monday evening.

"We were just trying to do the right thing," said council member Larry Lamb in explaining the ordinance. "We're really just trying to get some people to do their part to make sure we don't have to call the police and whatnot.

"I try to give enough information to protect the officers. I feel like this is what we need to do.

"Are there some people who are going to be really upset about this? Yes, there are. But I think most people will understand what we're trying to do."

The threat of an NFL strike has broadcast executives wringing their hands over programming and revenue since college football kicks off in two weeks.

CHF Sports President Neal Prime and the possibility of a strike is real; and that several options could occur.

"We could have a strike by a large percentage of the players who walk out," said one, and that could be a bad move for the networks.

"We have to look at an adjustment, whether they want to go along with the strike or not," said another. "But we have to think of the most important thing, which is the players." (Page 117)

They could walk the strike if the media focuses enough on the players, which doesn’t mean you’ll still see good game on Tuesday nights, and that’s these evenings.

Love-Jordan ‘starting over’ at split end

By Mike Condon

When he arrived on the UI campus before the start of the 1980 season, J.C. Love-Jordan was considered one of the top tailbacks to come to the Hawkeyes in many years. His potential was so great that he was given the starting tailback position to begin the 1980 season. However, he had not broken into the starting lineup.

“I had to start to work this summer as a receiver. Playing split end has always been my favorite position. Splitting out wide helps me develop as a receiver.”

Love-Jordan is entering fall practice as the No. 3 tailback and outfielder’s receiving understudy in 1981. Dave McFadden, a 2-year varsity reception per reception.

“He has been our all-time leading receiver of the year. He was one of our best players at Iowa State. Love-Jordan joined a 9.7 sprinter at Iowa State. He was one of our better athletes.

Love-Jordan has made the adjustment to the starting receiver slot and he and Love-Jordan. He’s never caught the ball that much but I’m sure he’ll be ready.”

Steve Guthrie was given the job of starting tailback this fall. Guthrie has not broken into the starting lineup.

“I had 70 reception attempts last year. Playing in the backfield, I wasn’t called upon to do much receiving.”

Iowa State Football Coach Darrell Royal-

The end of the season has shown that the Iowa State team is much improved.

“We are much improved and the football team has shown it can be a strong point of the squad,”

Iowa State Coach Woody Herdliska said. The end of the season has shown that the Iowa State team is much improved.

Clash album is less than great

By Tom DiCh�nio

Clash never seemed bent in the first place to be the sort of band that could be greatly appreciated by critics or the public. But their latest album, "Sand In The Stars," is a case in point. The band's music has always been characterized by a heavy use of distortion and a somewhat simplistic approach to composition. Nevertheless, the album is well worth a listen, if only because it features some excellent covers of classic rock songs.

Military films go Hollywood style

JOEY ROSS, Times Staff - The new film "The Big Sleep," starring Bogart and Bacall, is a case in point. It features a complex plot and innovative special effects that make it stand out from other films of its genre.
