Veiled threat is at a legal school

No funding is secured for the UI College of Law building before Monday afternoon. A special session of the board of regents will meet this morning in Iowa City to approve the $2.98 million bond issue for the building, which is also needed to take care of expenses for the current academic year.

The proposal was awarded $2.98 million to tablize the college and UI President Regent John Eklund recommended passage of the bond issue at the board meeting. The reputation of the UI College of Law is on the line. It is a matter of survival for the college. The college is under attack, and the college is under attack.

The other components of the college's budget - it seems some $10 million - were not covered by the bond issue, but still support several additional projects. The bond issue is $2.98 million, and is for the college's budget. The only way to get the bond issue is to use the bond issue for the college's budget.

Schmidt outster questionable

BISMARCK, N.D. — Governor Guy C. Schmidt, who has been under fire for his handling of the state's energy policies, has announced his resignation, effective immediately.

Schmidt's resignation was announced by his administration on Saturday, following a series of controversies over his administration's handling of the state's energy policies.

The announcement comes after the state's Supreme Court ruled that Schmidt was not a proper candidate for re-election due to a technicality in the election laws.

Schmidt's resignation is expected to set off a series of political developments, including the possibility of a special election to fill the governor's seat.

The governor's resignation follows a series of controversies over his administration's handling of the state's energy policies, including his decision to withdraw the state from the federal Clean Power Plan.

Proposed hotel tax revenues sought by convention bureau

By Stevem Young

Negotiated by the probability Iowa City voters would approve a hotel tax increase by a vote of 51 percent, Iowa City's convention bureau hopes its proposals appear at an informal meeting of the Iowa City Convention and Visitors Bureau on Thursday evening.

The bureau has negotiated a proposal for a 5 percent tax on hotel rooms with 2,000 out of 3,000 hotel rooms that it plans to present to a special committee of the City Council.

The tax is a three-year program that provides the bureau with a new source of income and a new service to the Iowa City Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Rosemary Vital, Iowa City Convention director, said the tax will generate $150,000 if the bureau can get a 5 percent occupancy rate. However, the bureau is not sure what the occupancy rate will be.

Meantime, Iowa City officials agree the proposal is a good way to generate revenue for the Iowa City Convention and Visitors Bureau.

"I THINK we will probably pass it since Convention decided to do it," Convention Manager John Mulligan said.

"We are confident that the Iowa City Convention and Visitors Bureau can generate revenue from this tax. We are confident that the Iowa City Convention and Visitors Bureau can generate revenue from this tax. We are confident that, if passed, the tax will be a benefit to the Iowa City Convention and Visitors Bureau."

Pot' farmers replace bootleggers in Ozarks

We think 4.99 is Enought!

In response to the growing number of powerful, illegal marijuana plants growing in the Ozark area, the state of Missouri has decided to allow the use of helicopters for aerial surveying of the area. This decision was made after a recent report by the Missouri Department of Agriculture indicated that the area was becoming a major source of illegal marijuana.

Senators consider research problems

In a recent meeting, a group of senators voted against the research topics proposed by the Missouri Department of Agriculture. The vote was 23-19, with only one senator in favor. The senators were concerned that the research topics were not specific enough and that the department had not provided enough evidence to support its recommendations.

The vote comes just weeks after the Missouri Department of Agriculture announced that it would be increasing its spending on drug enforcement. The department has been under increasing pressure from the state to reduce the amount of illegal marijuana being produced in the Ozark area.

Missouri marijuana grown without special cultivation sells for about $1,200 a pound, according to researchers. "We think one of the reasons so much marijuana is being produced in the Ozark area is because it can be grown without special cultivation," said one senator. "This makes it very difficult for law enforcement to control the production of illegal marijuana."
Man charged in torture, murder

DALLAS (AP) — A man who allegedly tortured, beat and sexually assaulted a young woman in a two-story apartment managed by the man's father was arrested in Dallas on Wednesday in the slaying of a 39-year-old apartment tenant, police said.

Officers found the body of Luzerne County District Attorney E.L. Whitfield, 39, with aggravated kidnapping and murder charges filed against him.

Cities hurt by defense spending

Move to end school busing told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military spending cuts in a federal budget that returns in a large majority of U.S. states will reduce federal funds to state governments, but it will not be enough to balance the state's budget, officials said.

The study, "Rationing Amendment: The Federal Budget of Defense Spending," which is based on a review of federal data, shows that the majority of states will be affected by the military spending cuts.

The report said every major urban area in the United States will suffer from the cuts, including Los Angeles, New York, Chicago, and Houston.

The report said that the cuts will result in a significant reduction in federal spending, which will have a significant impact on state governments.

Getting a job is today's market is a major challenge and the job interview is the biggest challenge of all. And that's why you think an interview is merely showing up in good clothes, showing your best, and being on time. That's not it. You need to be prepared, you need to be aware, you need to be informed. This book will help you do just that.
Regents' responsibility

Every two years, the nine-member state Board of Regents must hear from people who are interested in education. Every request must be weighted, priorities must be set.

This year's meeting has been made especially difficult because the state budget appears to be headed for a deficit, despite the fact that it already had been balanced out and cut. Budget priorities for the next biennium are also sure to be down. In addition to the state's budget woes, years of inadequate funding have led to programs bordering on financial disaster, in dire need of repair and shortfall on the boards of the budget decision-makers.

To protect their credibility with the public and their clients, they don't want to ask for too much money when the same projections are no lower than ever before for their requests not to be backed.

Education priorities

Iowa is one of 45 states that have reported a shortage of physics teachers and with the shortage of chemistry teachers, North Central Region 8 schools to provide adequate science education is a situation. In order to combat this problem, there is a need for a fundamental rebuilding of attitudes, not only among those who teach science but also the community as a whole, in order to start each approach to point out pressing needs in their schools, their plants colleges, and their families.

Few examiners were made; a budget that ignores many of the schools has been called for in the Iowa Legislature. Another thing that's kept in mind is that the regents' job is to take the state's needs; to decide what should be done; from there it is up to the legislatures to decide. The regents' role is to report on the state of the legislatures' hands if they do not request the funds.

One day if it will. The response is that it is not the need of the institutions that were in question but the mission of the schools. I'm sure that every teacher that teaches in a public high school has experienced the same in their classes, how to maintain quality institutions if still state, we will.

Letters

On the rack

To the editor:

Recently someone wrote about the need for good parking at the state Capitol. What is needed is a parking lot for the City Police Department until they can get a brick lot. We're told they have a parking area and there is an area where they are supposed to park.

I student spent a great deal of money in Iowa City at one time or another. But what can you do? They don't have a parking area. There is a need for good parking at the state Capitol.

The housing shortage, too, is one of the most serious problems. This is especially critical off campus, where the need for transportation is many, if not. It is obvious that if we don't have a good parking lot, we need a good parking lot for the state Capitol.

Workers Union (1000.00), National Committee (8500.00), Women's Concern (15.00), Democratic Party (100.00), the Democratic Party (60.00), and the National Education Association (100.00), we'll need a parking lot.

I submit this column to young people as a plea to you. I understand that you want to get involved in something that has to do with your community. I suggest that you consider the Iowa State Fair. It is a good place to tell what you're going through. The fair is open to all the people of the state.

On the other hand, according to the Iowa State Fair, the Iowa State Fair is open to all the people of the state.

Nichols' kick pushes Hawks past 'Cats

By Mike Condon

"It's the best feeling I've ever had." said Mike Nichols. "It's the feeling you have when it's all about who you are and how hard you work for it. It's the feeling you have when you're the best in the world and you know it." Nichols' kick was the difference in the game, as the Iowa Hawkeyes defeated the Arizona Wildcats 30-24 on Saturday, September 27, 1986.

The game was played in front of a packed stadium, with thousands of fans cheering on their favorite team. The Hawkeyes had come into the game with a 2-1 record, while the Wildcats were 1-2. The game was a battle of two conference rivals, with both teams fighting for the top spot in their division.

The Hawkeyes took the lead in the first quarter, with a 10-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Chuck Long to wide receiver Kevin ma. The Wildcats tied the game in the second quarter, with a 25-yard field goal from kicker Nick Smith. The teams entered halftime tied at 17-17.

In the third quarter, the Hawkeyes took control of the game, with a 3-yard touchdown run from fullback Terry Harper. The Wildcats responded with a 1-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jimmy Hall to wide receiver Mike Smith. The teams were tied at 24-24 entering the fourth quarter.

With less than 10 minutes left in the game, the Hawkeyes faced a 4th down and 10 yardage at the Arizona 16-yard line. Mike Nichols, Iowa's placekicker, stepped up to the tee and made the kick, giving the Hawkeyes a 13-point lead. The Wildcats were unable to score on their next possession, and the Hawkeyes held on for the win.

Mike Nichols was named the Most Valuable Player of the game, and was awarded the game ball. The Hawkeyes improved to 3-1 on the season, and are now tied for first place in their conference.

"This is the best feeling I've ever had," said Nichols. "It's the feeling you have when you know you've done your best, and you've given it your all. It's the feeling you have when you know you've earned your place in the history of the game. It's the feeling you have when you know you've made a difference."
Iowa impressive in dual win over Wildcat runners

By Steve Franc

Iowa's Zane Clausen was the first runner across the finish line at the Hawkeye Invitational on Saturday, posting an overall time of 19 minutes, 40 seconds. The time is a new Hawkeye course record, and it puts Clausen in the top 10 all-time in the nation.

"I'm happy to get the win," Clausen said. "I'm looking forward to the meet this weekend at Illinois. It's a great course, and it's a good opportunity to see how we're doing so far this season.

"I think our team will do nothing but get better." Clausen's time was the fourth-fastest in the nation so far this season.

"It's good to have guys like that who can push those guys (Betz and Seyfarth) to their limit," Iowa assistant coach John Waltman said. "That's what makes us so good." Betz and Seyfarth finished second and third, respectively, in the meet.

"Northwestern's weakness was the lack of a top runner to challenge the course," Waltman said. "Iowa's Penny O'Brien, who finished fourth in the meet, is a great cross-country runner. She's taking a well-deserved breather for the race.

"We're excited to see how we do at the Big Ten meet." Northwester's Clay Grist and Scott Mead finished fifth and sixth, respectively, in the meet.

Harriers capture first at Finkbine in double meet

By Thomas M. Jorge

"It's a great day for Harrier country," Coach Tom Jones said. "Our guys ran really well today, and it looks like this is a challenging course." The Finkbine course is challenging, Jones said, and "it looks like it's a great time on that course.

"The Harriers are doing a great job, and it looks like they're on the way to the Big Ten meet." The Harriers finished second in the meet, with a time of 17 minutes, 29 seconds.

"It looks to me like it's a challenging course and if Iowa looks like it is," Jones said. "Iowa looks like it's a challenging course and if Iowa looks like it is, it's a challenging course and if Iowa looks like it is.

"The Harriers are doing a great job, and it looks like they're on the way to the Big Ten meet." The Harriers finished second in the meet, with a time of 17 minutes, 29 seconds.
Bubon's 232 leads Hawkeyes as Buckeyes capture crown

By Thomas M. Jurga

Iowa's Amy Bubon shot a three-round total of 222 in the final event to carry the Hawkeyes to the championship. Bubon, a middle-hitter and setter, is the first Iowa player to win the Individual National Hardware Award. She was named Outstanding Player.

Bubon's contribution was crucial, but it was the Hawkeyes' defense that carried the team to the title. The Hawkeyes held their opponents to a total of 417 points in the three rounds, the lowest total in the history of the tournament.

The Hawkeyes finished with a total of 50 points, one point ahead of second-place Ohio State. Illinois finished third, followed by Michigan and Michigan State.

On the line

After sailing all before him, the sports staff at The Daily Iowan (now Iowa City Press-Citizen) was able to predict the outcome of the game against the Buckeyes. They correctly predicted that the Buckeyes would win.

For his efforts, Gilder will be able to join the Hawkeyes' winning party with a burger courtesy of Mother's. Gilder has no regrets concerning the game. He says he's looking forward to the next match against Iowa.

Spikers problems continue as losing streak hits seven

By Mark Gehr

Iowa's besieged volleyball team continued its losing ways this weekend, falling twice to Big Ten powerhouse Nebraska and Missouri.

The Hawkeyes lost to Nebraska in the opening game, 15-3, 15-1, 15-10, and were also defeated by Missouri, 15-10, 15-13, 15-11.

"It's been a tough season," said Iowa head coach Gary Barta. "We're just not playing well as a team. We need to improve our blocking and hitting."
Anger films display dark side of culture

By Greg Elley

‘Flammeur’ means ‘flame’ in French and in the work of U.S. filmmaker, John Cassavetes, this term aptly describes the searing light and the brooding darkness of his camerawork and acting. In his searing, self-reflective, and often self-destructive films, he became a cauldron of themes and images that, in the early 1970s, brought to light the torments of modern American life.

Anger’s films, characterized by their raw, unrefined style and intense emotional expressiveness, are a rare combination of the personal and the political. They are not just a showcase for his acting ability but a mirror for the audience to reflect on the moral and emotional decay of contemporary society.

Anger’s characters are often portrayed as both victims and perpetrators, exploring the nature of evil and its role in human nature. His films often depict the complexity of human relationships and the struggles for identity and self-definition.

Belushi death probe

The Los Angeles County Coroner has begun an investigation into the circumstances of the March 5 overdose death of actor-comedian John Belushi. Belushi, star of the ‘Saturday Night Live’ cast, died at 1:30 a.m. on March 5. The cause of death is being investigated by the Los Angeles County Coroner’s Office. The investigation includes an examination of Belushi’s autopsy report and toxicology tests.

Bellushi’s death has raised questions about the adequacy of the show’s drug policy and the impact of the celebrity lifestyle on the mental and physical health of its performers.

THE AEROSOLIST

By Jeffrey M. Fox

The AEROSOLIST is a new comic strip that will appear in The Daily Iowan, featuring a young man named Ethan, who discovers he has the power to spray aerosol paint from his hands. Ethan’s friends and family are intrigued by his newfound ability, but they soon learn that the paint can be used for both good and evil.

The story follows Ethan as he explores the possibilities of his power, while also facing the consequences of his actions. The AEROSOLIST is a story about discovery, creativity, and the impact of one’s choices on the world around them.
ARTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

‘Pyramid’ back, almost good as new

By Jeffrey Miller

Rickard Dill and Donny Kaul, co-hosts of the "3:00 WQAO KGAN 106.7pm 10-10," have returned.

Still in the Pyramid mold, "the 3:00 WQAO KGAN 106.7pm 10-10," is a game show that has been on the air for 30 years. The format, which produced Bob Barker (now 6-foot 4) and Jeanie Cooper (married to Barker) in the 1950s, has been adapted for the current generation.

The format is an exciting and involved game that Dick Cavett is presenting. The real appeal of "Pyramid" lies in its inherent democracy.

Television

EARLY celebrity game shows like "What's My Line?" and "The $64,000 Question," got their name because of the large prize. The $64,000 Question is a game show where the contestants have to answer questions about celebrities.

But with the increasing popularity of "Dynasty" and "Mork & Mindy," game shows evolved into a new format. The 1980s people prefer to be challenged next to the host, while the stars were expected to interact and challenge their opponents.

"Pyramid" is here to stay, and Dick Cavett is here to appeal.

Music

Ravel mistically confounds and confuses.

THE OPENING Moment, a DANCE (in B-flat major, Op. 10) by Maurice Ravel, is a great opening number. The piano playing is well done, and the tone of the performance is sympathetic to the music.

Ravel's "Ma Mère l'Oye" is a collection of four short pieces for piano and orchestra. The music is delicate and intricate, and the orchestration is complex and rich.

The performance is well done, and the tone of the performance is sympathetic to the music.

Stravinsky quartet recital disappointing

By John Voland

Stravinsky's Four Quartets for Strings, Op. 73, are a series of four string quartets by Igor Stravinsky. The first three are composed in 1913, 1915 and 1917, respectively, while the fourth, "The Rake's Progress," was completed in 1941.

The performances by the New York String Quartet were uneven, with some fragments of the music sounding out of tune or dissonant.
