Abortion, bonding issues hurt Branstad

Abortion issue may sway those now undecided

By Jeff Savoie

A storm of issues is raging as Iowa voters head to the polls this week. Abortion, bonding and education are the main battlegrounds for the Democratic candidates.

According to a recent poll by the Iowa Public Policy Poll, 62 percent of likely voters said they would rather have a Democratic governor than a Republican governor.

Analysis

Pro-choice candidates

Pro-choice candidates have a strong chance of winning in Iowa. The state has a long history of supporting pro-choice candidates. In 1980, Evan Bayh was the first pro-choice candidate to win the governor's race.

Pro-life candidates

Pro-life candidates have a difficult road ahead. The state has a strong pro-life sentiment, and it is unlikely that a pro-life candidate will win the governor's race.

Bonding plan puts Branstad on defensive

Despite his lead in the polls, Branstad is facing a strong challenge from the Democratic candidate, Tony Alles. Alles has made the bonding issue a focal point of his campaign.

Analysis

While Branstad's lead is significant, Alles is making a strong push to close the gap. The bonding issue has put Branstad on the defensive, and he is struggling to make his case.

By Mary Tabor

Iowa is a state with a strong tradition of political activism. Women have played a significant role in the state’s politics, and they have been active in a variety of causes.

Analysis

Women candidates have gained traction in recent years. In 2018, Abby Finkenauer became the first woman to be elected to Congress from Iowa.

Beer, chili mix heat for Cutler’s contest

By Doug Herold

The 1988 Iowa primary was a defining moment for the state of Iowa. The primary was held in May, and it was the first time that the state had a primary for governor.

The event — actually Cutler’s 4th birthday — was held in Des Moines, the capital of Iowa. The event was attended by local politicians, friends, and supporters.

She’ll be 44th birthday, and she’s going to celebrate with a bang. The statewide Democratic candidate will be the first Iowa woman to be elected to Congress.

WARMING UP TO THE IDEA OF A 1988 PRIMARY FOR GOVERNOR

By Tom Caperton

The idea of a 1988 primary for governor is gaining momentum in Iowa. The primary would give Iowa voters the chance to choose a governor who is more aligned with their values.

Analysis

A 1988 primary for governor would be a significant step forward for democracy in Iowa. It would give voters a say in who represents them in the statehouse.
East Beirut search delayed

The Lebanese army, preparing its own search effort, has delayed an organized search of the south Beirut neighborhood of Haret Hreik put off a day earlier because of Christian-Muslim clashes in the area.

The clashes on Monday prompted the army to put off both a search for 16-year-old Elie Fadda and a major search of the area.

Elie's father daily asks for his safe return. Christian civilians were transporting weapons to the Lebanese army until the rioting began. "We feel that our son is in danger," the father said.

Nazi hunter scheduled to speak

By Kristine Garnar

In 1980, and now in 1982, the University

Chapter is determined to bring to

Meetings surrounding the theme of Nazi events eminent Holocaust researcher and

What is the main theme of the Hunter's scheduled speaking engagement? The main theme of the Hunter's speaking engagement is Nazi hunts and anti-Nazi movements. He is scheduled to speak in Iowa City on October 11-12, in Des Moines on October 13, and in Cedar Rapids on October 14.

What is the significance of the Hunter's work in relation to the Holocaust? The Hunter is a Nazi hunter who has made it his life's work to track down and prosecute Nazi war criminals. His efforts have been crucial in bringing justice to survivors and their families.

What are some of the challenges the Hunter faces in his work? The Hunter faces challenges such as the difficulty of tracking down war criminals, the risk to his own life, and the need for international cooperation. However, he remains committed to his work and continues to inspire others to join the fight against hate and violence.

What is the goal of the Hunter's work? The goal of the Hunter's work is to bring Nazi war criminals to justice and to prevent the repetition of the Holocaust. He seeks to ensure that history never repeats itself, and that the world learns from the past to avoid future tragedies.

How can one support the Hunter's work? Supporting the Hunter's work can include donating to non-profit organizations dedicated to Holocaust education and prevention, volunteering with such organizations, or simply spreading awareness about his work and the importance of remembering the past.

What is the significance of the Hunter's work in the context of the current world climate? The Hunter's work is significant in today's world as it serves as a reminder of the dangers of hate and violence. It serves as a cautionary tale to ensure that we do not allow such hatred and imbalance to lead us down the same road as the Nazis.

What are some of the achievements of the Hunter's work? The Hunter has made significant contributions to the field of Holocaust research and has played a key role in bringing Nazi war criminals to justice. His efforts have contributed to the prosecution of several high-profile cases and have helped to ensure that the memory of the Holocaust continues to be preserved.

What is the Hunter's message to current generations? The Hunter's message to current generations is the importance of remembering the past and learning from it. He encourages people to be vigilant against rising hate and violence and to remain committed to creating a world that is free of such tensions.
Abortion

To help your money for the abortion society against Gen. Robert Ray, a former editor and publisher of the "Des Moines Register" and "The Des Moines Register" newspaper, and one of the state's leading Republican candidates for governor. Rudolph said that the abortion issue against Gen. Robert Ray is an "absolute right" in the state of Iowa. Rudolph said that he is against the abortion issue because it is a personal choice and it should be up to the people and their families to decide if they want to have children or not. Some of Iowa's top level Republicans, including Vice President George Bush and Senator John Danforth, also oppose the abortion issue against Gen. Robert Ray.

Analysis

But Branstad was clearly feeling the heat on the abortion issue, and his actions were reflecting that. The Governor's office said that Branstad was in a meeting with state officials and that he was discussing ways to change the law on abortion. Branstad's office said that he was discussing ways to change the law on abortion, but that he was not planning to announce any changes soon.

The abortion issue is less visible than it was in the past, but it remains a major issue for many Hawkeyes. The Governor's office said that the abortion issue is a "very sensitive issue" and that it is a "very difficult issue" to deal with.

Press

An open forum on the abortion issue was held in the Governor's office on Tuesday afternoon. The forum was attended by a number of state officials, including the Governor, the Attorney General, and the Secretary of State.

The forum was held to discuss the abortion issue and to hear from the public. The Governor's office said that the forum was a "very successful event" and that it was a "very important event" for the state.

The forum was held in the Governor's office and was attended by about 50 people. The Governor's office said that the forum was a "very successful event" and that it was a "very important event" for the state.

Repaying patriotism

A survey of 900 veterans who witnessed prisoner tests more than 20 years ago shows that 97 percent are now suffering from cancer, 15 percent from muscular problems and 10 percent from bone deterioration. Fifty percent of their children and 18 percent of their grandchildren were born with pathologies.

The solution to this problem, the veterans say, is to demand that Congress order the government to return to the Fiji Islands and all other Pacific Island nations, to conduct a thorough medical study of the people and to make the necessary correction.

The government's position is that until either medical or scientific proof beyond a doubt that these tests caused the problem they are inconclusive and will not be admitted as evidence.

This is the position of the Veterans' Administration. The American Medical Association, the National Association of Atomic Veterans, the FBI, the Department of Justice, the Department of Defense, the Department of Labor all say that there is no scientific proof of the connection.

The government then, in order to avoid the claims, has admitted that the tests were conducted and that there is no proof that the people were harmed, but has swept the evidences under the rug.

What is required by the veterans, they say, is an independent commission to study the problem, to conduct a thorough medical study of the people, to conduct the proper investigations and to make the necessary corrections.

Such a commission has been proposed but it has been rejected by the government and the veterans.

In the meantime, they say, the government should return to the Fiji Islands and all other Pacific Island nations, to conduct a thorough medical study of the people and to make the necessary corrections.

Ex-hospital employee apprehended for cyanide-related extortion threat

The Cincinnati Enquirer - Authorities with a hospital employer on extortion charges said they have identified a person of --- Extra-Strong-Type-Tyson cops with a classical.

They said there was no evidence to link the person to the seven Chicago-area deaths that were linked to Extra-Strong-Type-Tyson. Extra-Strong-Type-Tyson, which is a common street drug, has been linked to a series of deaths in Chicago in recent months. The deaths were caused by cyanide poisoning.

The Enquirer identified the person as a 42-year-old man who worked at the hospital. The man has not yet been charged with any crime. The hospital is expected to release a statement later today.

The Enquirer reported that the man worked at the hospital's emergency room and that he was contacted by police after a tip from a concerned citizen. The citizen had observed the man behaving in a suspicious manner and had reported it to the hospital.

The man was taken into custody and is currently being held without bond. The hospital is expected to release more information later today.

U.S. may send jets to Honduras

The New York Times - The U.S. government is preparing to send a large fleet of warplanes to Honduras to support the country's efforts to combat drug trafficking.

The move comes as tensions rise between the U.S. and Honduras over the country's growing narco-terrorism problem. The U.S. has been providing military aid to Honduras for years, but the aid has been controversial.

The U.S. is expected to send four F-15 fighter jets and a C-130 transport plane to Honduras. The aircraft will be used to support the country's efforts to combat drug trafficking and to help with other security operations.

The move is part of a broader U.S. strategy to increase its presence in Central America, where drug trafficking is a significant problem. The U.S. has been providing military aid to several countries in the region in recent years.

The move is also expected to be welcomed by Honduras, which has long been a U.S. ally in the region. The country has been facing a growing drug crisis in recent years, and the U.S. move is seen as a welcome development.

Cardinal St. Louis sweeps 'America's team' for 11th straight time

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-4 on Thursday night, extending their streak of wins over the Cubs to 11 straight games. The Cardinals are the only team in the major leagues to have not lost a game this season.

The Cardinals, who are currently in first place in the National League Central, have a 7-0 record over the Cubs this season. The teams played on Thursday night at Busch Stadium in St. Louis.

The Cardinals scored three runs in the first inning and added another in the third to take a 4-0 lead. The Cubs scored a run in the fifth inning, but the Cardinals added another in the sixth to seal the win.

The win is the 11th straight for the Cardinals over the Cubs, who had previously won six straight games over the Cardinals. The Cardinals are the only team in the major leagues to have not lost a game this season.

Iowa holds on for third-straight victory

BY CHUCK JONES

At the beginning of Iowa's game with Loyola, Iowa's Mike crest was sitting on the sideline. He was expected to start, but was substituted out by Iowa's head coach, Gene Mauch.

The Hawkeyes were up 7-2 in the third inning when Iowa's first baseman, Scott McNabb, was named the main offensive weapon of the game. All of McNabb's hits came in the third inning, including a triple.

However, the Hawkeyes' defense faltered in the late innings. In the seventh inning, Iowa's pitcher, Steve Laufenberg, gave up a home run to Loyola's Bob Gunn. The Hawkeyes were down 8-7.

In the eighth inning, Iowa's defense collapsed again. Loyola's Pat Brown hit a single and reached second on an error. Two outs later, Loyola's Jim McNabb hit a three-run home run to give Loyola a 10-7 lead.

In the ninth inning, Iowa's defense held strong. Loyola's final two batters of the game were retired by Iowa's pitcher, Steve Laufenberg. The Hawkeyes won 10-8.

Mike crest said after the game, "I'm proud of the way our team played today. We had a chance to win the game, but we didn't take advantage of the opportunities we had."

They all sound alike. That hack Eddie Johnson wrote the opus. It’s taken you a couple of years of guitar licks are stiff and the dynamics were more than a little clogged.

They playing became more comfortable as well the ‘Great Guitars’ earn their stripes.

Finale. There’s pulled into a dead end, as it seems hard to believe the kinks had been worked out.

The audience cost a hundred dollars. A lot of money for a concert of this sort. The playing was more comfortable as well the launching of a quintet and showed up on the same career stage.

It’s good and if you ever get your act together I think you’d enjoy the kinks.

It wasn’t meant to be the album of the year and it didn’t come together within it. I was in a hurry to get home and the sensibility and the spark was there, I mean.

Thats.

P.S. It is this law in “National Defense,” and it was a law that was passed in the late 1960’s - it refers to the lockdown of something that may now.

Annual Country Music Awards

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — For the first time, the 10th annual Country Music Association Awards show to be telecast tonight.

End of the line - Bagpipes - The Bakersfield Sound - The Definitive Country Music Albums

Evening’s Only drawback (If you’ll pardon the word) was that they had more tempo and chord changes than most symphonies.

Music

The kinks had been worked out of the act.

The only drawback is that they had more tempo and chord changes than most symphonies.
