UI's utility costs skyrocketh due to poor conservation

By Lisa Legate

The Daily Iowan

The UI may have the dubious distinction of being the most utilitarian in the Big Ten. But that’s mostly due to the fact that Nebraska and Iowa make use of 100% of their local utilities, and this week in the UI, we learned that we pretty much make every decision to have the most energy usage.

The UI’s utility has grown by about 10% in the last year, according to the UI Student Newspaper. “We haven’t seen a ton of growth in the last year,” said university utility spokesperson Harry Christenson. “We’ve been growing for years, and that growth isn’t slowing down anytime soon.”

There is a growing concern among UI administrators and students about the cost of energy at the UI. The university’s utility bill increased by about $213,417 in the past year, and the UI Student Newspaper reported that the UI has not been able to keep up with the increasing costs.

“UI is one of the most utilitarian institutions in the region, and we’re not alone in this,” said UI spokesperson George Thompson. “The UI is not the only institution in the region that has seen an increase in its utility costs.”

In recent years, the UI has been looking for ways to reduce its energy usage. The university has implemented several initiatives to reduce its energy usage, such as turning off unnecessary lights, using energy-efficient appliances, and reducing the use of paper.

But despite these efforts, the UI’s utility costs continue to rise. This year, the university’s utility bill is expected to increase by about $213,417.

LASA: Grant voting rights to EPC student

By Paula Reeser

A student member on the UI College of Liberal Arts Faculty Policy Committee may be given voting privileges if a proposed making as well when the college’s new bills are open.

In a special meeting Wednesday, the College of Liberal Arts faculty passed a resolution made less by the UI Liberal Arts Student Association. LASA proposed that the student member of the EPC be given voting privileges.

“Nothing has been working,” said UI student President Gordon Fischer. “We’re just starting the process.”

Rec Services cites possible replacements for UI armories

By Scott Hunter

The Daily Iowan

The university has been receiving questions about possible replacements for UI armories. The question has been raised whether the university can make use of the structures in the future.

UI spokesperson George Thompson said that the university will continue to make use of the structures in the future. “We’re still looking at the structures in the future,” Thompson said. “We have no plans to demolish the structures in the future.”

Pilot clings to doors after plane falls from plane

By Elise Matvienko

2 city schools honored for excellence in English

By James Cady
The Daily Iowan
and United Press International

Two Iowa city schools were among 130 institutions throughout the United States and Canada named Centers of Excellence in English by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Robert Smith Elementary School, 1000 West Gorzycki Ave., and Iowa City High School, 1950 Muscatine Dr., were honored for their outstanding English teaching programs in English.

Robert Smith will continue an existing program, and Iowa City High School will introduce an all-day English program.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT MUMMER and the council's senior assistant to the high school advisor, Linda M. Bontier, made the presentation.

"The council is pleased to honor these outstanding English centers throughout the country, not only in our state, but in their individual communities," MUMMER said.

The council felt these two centers embodied the spirit of the council's mission and were outstanding examples of what the council is all about.

The council is presently collecting nominations for the next round of Centers of Excellence in English.

"We received over 130 nominations from across the country, and we will be selecting the final centers very soon," Bontier said.

"This year's awards program is very special because we are celebrating 50 years of the council," Bontier said.

The council's mission is to improve the teaching and learning of English language arts programs in schools across the country.

The 130 school sites last spring were chosen by an evaluation of the council's membership, which includes the Iowa City Schools.

Robert Smith Elementary School was first in the city to offer an all-day English program.

That program, "The English Center," has been making a return visit to Iowa City.

The English Center program began in 1986 and was a joint venture between the Iowa City Community School District and the English Department at the University of Iowa.

"The English Center program has been a huge success," said Iowa City Community School District Superintendent David Crockett.

"It has made a huge impact on the students who have participated in the program," Crockett said.

Drinking law fails to deter students

Drinking at the UI, as well as at other universities across the United States, is a popular pastime. Students are among the age groups who have tried to go in two different directions.

"I want the UI to be a place where students can have fun and not be bothered by alcoholism," said Larry Jay, a bartender at the Renaissance, 11th and Jackson.

Article may deter industry from Iowa

DESI MUCKERST (UPI) - Governor Terry Branstad said Thursday an article in this month's issue of Forbes magazine saying Iowa has high industrial crime rates was incorrect.

Branstad said he is disappointed in the state's economic development efforts.

The article summarizes state tax reforms. Iowa legislators would not discount Iowa as a location for business executives who read it.

Although Greek rush at the UI lasted for more participants last week, the UI chapter of Sigma Kappa sorority is currently nationally

The sorority is undergoing a period of reorganization under the direction of the national office. Since the 1986-87 school year, volunteer representatives from that office have been directing the new membership.

Sigma Kappa National Recruitment Director Donna McLaughlin said, "We held sororities in the past. We're now expanded our programs to include a series of informational interviews, parties and personal interviews for prospective members.*

"Getting involved in the Greek system has always been the best way to meet new people," Donald said. "The sorority continues to develop new areas of membership, parties and personal interviews for prospective members.*

Sigma Kappa is one of the largest sororities on campus, with over 100 members. The sorority currently has 33 members, and the reorganization is expected to bring in new members."*

WASHINGTON - House Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill Jr. said Thursday that the Reagan administration is "dragging its feet" in the Central American conflict to placate opposition forces there, both Nicaragua's leftist government and the United States-backed contra rebels. The visit by O'Neill, a vocal critic of the administration's policy, is expected to further sharpen the administration's image as a lame-duck administration.

Voters to decide four district seats; Malloy wins term

CONNIE CHAMPION, one of this candidate's qualifications for Tuesday's school board election, is her two years on the board's executive committee and her willingness to listen.

By Craig Barnett

The Daily Iowan

The Iowa City Community School District will hold elections for its fall school board.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 9 p.m. on Tuesday, November 4.

Eight candidates are running for four seats on the school board. The candidates are Connie Champion, Gary Fischer, Grier Groep, Ginger Phillips, Mark Penningroth, John Sterrett, Paul Champion, and Kathy Thomas.

In order to improve communications in the district, several candidates believe it is important to improve the communication between the school board and the public. They suggest setting up a website or a blog where parents can provide input on decisions made by the school board.

"The district needs to be more transparent and open," Champion said. "It is important for the school board to communicate with the public and explain their decisions."
Biden: Bork is no moderate

WASHINGTON — A White House position paper on Supreme Court nominee Robert Bork "seriously distorts" Bork's record on the federal bench, Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Joseph Biden Jr., D-Del., said today.

"If I were a review released by Senator Biden, it would not alter the balance on the high court."

"The paper paints the White House in contempt and lies," said the senator, prepared by the Senate Judiciary Committee's counsel, Jeffrey Beck and Duke University Law Professor Charles Christo.

"While Bork's advocates have a few clear examples of Judge Bork's advocacy and implementation of conservative activism," said Mr. Biden, "his attempt at a moderate characterization is no moderate attempt."

"The paper distributed by the White House is inaccurate and incomplete," he said.

"Inaccuracies" in the Bork paper included: Bork's advocacy and implementation of conservative activism.

"Bork is a moderate, its stream" jurist who, in succeeding sessions are clear examples of Judge Bork's advocacy and implementation of conservative activism."

Primary plans may backfire

by reporter David Broder

The evening after Sen. Gary Hart's announcement that he would seek the Democratic presidential nomination, an extraordinary event occurred in New York City. In an attempt to secure favorable press, Sen. Hart was scheduled to meet with the editors and publishers of various New York newspapers and magazines at a New York hotel. However, a group of anti-Hart demonstrators, who had been working with the National Organization for Women on other projects, decided to disrupt the meeting. They arrived at the hotel and, after a brief scuffle, forced Sen. Hart and his staff to leave the hotel. The incident caused a great deal of embarrassment for Sen. Hart and his campaign. It also raised questions about the effectiveness of the anti-Hart movement and its ability to influence the Democratic primary race.

Lax laws

by Marc Bona

In April, after years of protests and delays, legislation to increase the available drug prescription for children was signed into law in a number of states. The legislation was intended to address the growing problem of prescription misuse and abuse, particularly among adolescents. However, many critics argue that the legislation does not go far enough to address the root causes of prescription drug misuse and abuse, and that more comprehensive measures are needed to tackle this problem.

Lifemakers

by Michael Humes

I KNOW HOW Gary Hart's life looks, even to him. For the Democratic presidential nomination, he is planning to make his run in the primary. The goal of Gary Hart is to change the system, but he is not the only one. Many people are running for the nomination, and they all have their own strategies.

Physical argument by Barry Scott

They went to the south side of U.S. 50 and toward the southern end of the city. At the point where they met, they saw a group of people, including some anti-Hart demonstrators, standing in the street. They went to talk to them and, after a brief argument, the anti-Hart demonstrators agreed to peace talks. Sen. Hart and his staff returned to the hotel, and the meeting continued.

Dempsey traded inside to over hear him, he had to check a visible thing. He was reported, is the plane was set to be there.

Dempsey looked over the plane and tipped it to the side. He said the plane was set to be there.

Dempsey and Boucher, the co-pilots, were over the plane when they were told that the plane was set to be there.

The pilots continued to check out the plane and tipped it to the side.

Delta crew faulted for near-collison

WASHINGTON - The Delta Air Lines pilot who flew through the National's mercy run over the North Atlantic and was later found to be drunk, was forced to land without adequate charts and was later found to be drunk.

The incident occurred July 8 when a Delta 747 from London to Newark, New York, was forced to land at the National's emergency runway.

The National Transportation Safety Board said that the Delta pilot was performing only one of six possible navigational procedures available to pilots who were flying without adequate charts and who were later found to be drunk.

A year ago today, Iowa soon-to-be senior defensive back Jaron Secrest was the hero for the Hawkeyes in the Orange Bowl. But this year, Iowa is one of the favorites to win its first national championship in school history.

The Hawkeyes are coming off a 12-1 record in 2017, including a 10-1 record in conference play and winning the Big Ten West Division. Iowa’s defense allowed only 274.5 yards per game and recorded 33 takeaways.

In the Orange Bowl victory, Iowa allowed just 14 points and the only touchdown was a 1-yard touchdown pass by Oklahoma quarterback Baker Mayfield. The Hawkeyes won 54-48 in overtime.

The Hawkeyes will face Miami of Ohio in their first game of the season on Saturday.

"We’re excited to play Miami of Ohio and be able to take care of some business early in the year," head coach Kirk Ferentz said. "They’re a solid football team that has a lot of experience back on the defensive side of the ball."

Miami of Ohio is coming off a 4-8 record in 2017, including an 1-7 record in conference play in the Mid-American Conference.

"We’re excited to face a team that will challenge us physically and mentally," Ferentz said.

The Hawkeyes are favored to win the game, according to most oddsmakers. They are listed at -22.5 points.

"We’re looking forward to playing a team that will challenge us mentally and physically," Ferentz said.

Miami of Ohio will host Ohio State on Saturday.

"We’re excited to be able to play in Miami and take care of some business early in the year," head coach Mike Caudill said.

Field Hockey

TALLCOTT, IN (AP) - Northern Illinois had to stop the winless season after putting together a winless streak. The Huskies played well against an improving team in the second half, but a second-half goal by the Boilermakers sealed the result.

The Boilermakers (1-0-0) had 13 shots on goal, including six in the second half, and outscored the Huskies 1-0. The Huskies (0-1-0) had 10 shots on goal, but failed to convert any of them into goals.

The Boilermakers scored their only goal of the game in the second half, when an Illinois player was taken down in the box. The penalty shot was awarded to the Boilermakers, and after a chaotic play, the ball went into the net for the only goal of the game.

Smith makes 200 meters gold in come-from-behind victory

By Mike Sarrac

ROME—Calvin Smith, who lost his 100-meter world record when Ben Johnson stripped him last year, will have to wait for his revenge. Smith, born in Canada, has been upstaged by the East Germans, who are leading all nations with six gold medals and 16 medals overall.

The Americans, who were ttapped off by the East Germans, were in second place overall with six gold medals and 10 medals overall.

Rocking Mojo Nixon brings unique sound to Iowa City

By Jeff Raynal
The Daily Iowan

Looking for something a little wild and off the beaten path this weekend? Mojo Nixon has been known to show up in just such a manner and will be playing on the downtown Iowa City stage.

Nixon and his partner, Roper, have been the subject of recent attention, emerging from their hometown of Virginia to stand on the shoulders of some of the greats. They have been certain to pull off a show that is different and original, bringing their own style and flair to the stage.

The Duo T.V. bring in support of their latest LP, "Begging". Nixon and Roper have combined their different talents to create a unique and captivating performance. The show will feature a wide range of music and style, from rock to blues, comedy and even a touch of insanity to keep the audience on their toes.

"The press is buzzing about all the new stuff," said the latest LP. "It's a lot more produced by our own hands. Nixon and Roper have completed five other albums together, and I'm really proud of how they've grown as a duo."

The show will feature a few covers, including Howlin' Wolf, and some originals that are sure to impress. With their unique blend of genres and styles, Nixon and Roper are sure to make a splash in the local music scene.

"We've got a few surprises in store for the audience," Roper said. "We'll be playing some old favorites, but we also have some new material that we're excited to share."

The show is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. on Friday, November 8, at the Old Brick. Tickets are available at the door for just $15. Don't miss your chance to see one of the most exciting duos in the music industry right now.

NBC tops ratings for 46th time in 49 weeks

NEW YORK (UPI) - NBC became the network with the top-rated show on Tuesday, according to Nielsen Media Research, for the 46th time in 49 weeks, prompting a prediction that the network may be on its way to winning the season, which concludes in May. NBC's "Nightly News" with Tom Brokaw won the news race for the week ending Aug. 30, according to NBC executives, who said the network had already won 19th time in 20 weeks, prompting a prediction that NBC may win the season. The network has been on top for most of these weeks, leaving little doubt that it will win the season. Ultimately it may be the station that is in the lead for the network's future, although one might be able to take away some lessons from this week's win. NBC's "Law & Order" was the most-watched show on Monday, with nearly 20 million viewers. The show is in its 15th season and is one of the perfect bunch, one would think, for a movie with razor-sharp edges.

The plot concerns the life of Pablo Picasso, a flamboyant Spanish artist and painter. The movie is a self-reflective theme and a lot of cinematic techniques, a purely extension of advertising poetics - the perfect bunch, one would think, for a movie with razor-sharp edges.
