

The Daily Iowan

Price: 25 cents

Iowa City's Morning Newspaper

Monday, October 17, 1988

Iowa City center helps former cult members adjust

By Heather Maher
The Daily Iowan

Hollywood makes movies about them, books are written about them, ex-members talk about them, but most of all, we wonder about them. Stories of love communes, bizarre diets, rituals and mysterious chantings peak our imagination and prompt a morbid curiosity.

America has a continuing fascination with cults, and names like the Unification Church, Hari

Krishnas, Children of God, Divine Light Mission and Church of Scientology make us wonder what really goes on inside them.

Kevin Crowley doesn't have to wonder. In 1980, with his wife, Diana Paulina, Crowley founded and now runs Unbound, Inc., a local center that helps rehabilitate the victims of what he calls "totalist groups."

He said Unbound has helped more than 240 ex-cult members make the difficult transition from "A cult 'love bombs' you with intense support. Any talent you have is wonderful — anything you say is profound." — Kevin Crowley, Unbound Inc. co-founder the strictly defined lifestyle of a cult — where everything from what you eat to what you think is dictated — back to mainstream life, which involves hundreds of daily decisions. "We're here to help them make the transition from a totalist environment to the real world," Crowley said. "I'm not a cult-buster. I work with victims who say 'I've been in a cult, I've been messed with, help me.'

To understand why an organization like Unbound exists, it's important to understand what the word "cult" really means and what happens to someone who becomes a member.

Crowley said there are two parts to cult psychology: thought reform and the phenomenon of totalism.

"Totalism is the all-or-nothing way cults look at the world. Everything is black or white, right or wrong, us against them — there's no grey area," he explained. "Thought reform is the process you use to instill that totalism in a person. Once you start playing around with that mindset, it doesn't allow you to look outside it."

Unbound staff counselor Jonathon Haas describes a totalist ideology as any method of thought that explains the mysteries of the

See Cults, Page 5A

Jetliner crashes in Rome

ROME (AP) — A Uganda Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner with 51 people aboard crashed early Monday in heavy fog short of the runway of Rome's main Leonardo da Vinci airport. Police said 28 people were feared dead.

Twenty-three people survived Flight 775, said Carlo Iovinella, director of the airport police. The flight was en route from London's Gatwick Airport to Entebbe, Uganda, with an intermediate stop in Rome.

Iovinella said 44 passengers and a crew of seven were aboard the jetliner that crashed at 12:31 a.m. (7:31 p.m. EDT Sunday). However, Gatwick Hangling, agents for Uganda Airlines at the London airport, said there were 45 passengers and a crew of seven. The discrepancy could not be immediately resolved.

The aircraft skimmed the tops of some trees, then crashed, broke into pieces and burst into flames about a half-mile west of the runway, police said. The airport is 15 miles southwest of Rome.

The charred hulk of the airliner lay smoking in a muddy field early Monday while firefighters raked through the debris. Two bodies covered with sheets lay near the shattered aircraft. Seat cushions, boxes, a makeup case and a twisted doll were scattered nearby in the mud.

The front of the jetliner was a charred skeleton of a plane. The fuselage was snapped where it joined with the wings and the cockpit section was broken into hundreds of pieces. The airline's distinctive red and yellow stripes along the scorched fuselage could barely be seen.

Iovinella said 23 survivors had been taken to nearby hospitals and that the rest of the people aboard were believed to be dead. Most of the injured were taken to Rome's Sant'Eugenio Hospital; others went to San Camillo Hospital.

Police said they did not immediately know the nationalities of the dead and injured. The Italian news agency ANSA said most of the injured were believed to be Ugandan citizens.

Iovinella said the cause of the crash had not been determined, but the entire area along the Tyrrhenian Coast near the airport had been shrouded in a heavy fog.

"It was definitely the fog," said one police officer, speaking on condition of anonymity, when asked about a possible cause of the crash.

The news agency ANSA said the tower gave permission for the plane to land and reported a visibility of 4,920 feet. It said the tower called the plane again when it didn't respond. Moments later, it said, workers saw a big fire at the end of the runway.

Firefighters took nearly an hour to put out the flames.

The Daily Iowan/Todd Mizener

Bo erupts

Michigan head coach Bo Schembechler looks at referee John Nealon in disbelief after Nealon called an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on the Wolverines just before the end of the first half Saturday afternoon in Kinnick Stadium. Schembechler was assessed the penalty after complaining about excessive crowd noise during the 17-17 tie. See the game story on page 1B.

Hualing Nieh-Engle revels in life's ironies

By Kevin Goulding
The Daily Iowan

Patience is a Chinese virtue. In China, the winds of change blow away personal fortunes and dynasties alike. Hualing Nieh-Engle has felt the wind's breeze — now she feels the cool breeze of restoration.

At the age of 24, Nieh-Engle and her family had to flee to Taiwan when the Communists took over mainland China. After 15 years in Taiwan, she came to Iowa City to write in the Writers' Workshop. She has lived in Iowa City since then. At various times, Nieh-Engle's books were banned in both countries. In Taiwan her name could not be mentioned.

In 1978, Nieh-Engle returned to China for the first time in 30 years. Last spring, she and her husband, Paul Engle, were invited back to Taiwan for her first visit in 24 years. "Both trips were very emotional," she commented in an interview from her open-air porch overlooking the Iowa River. "After years of being banned on both sides of the Taiwan strait, suddenly I'm welcome — I'm recognized and in demand. It's very fulfilling."

Nieh-Engle's novel "Mulberry and Peach" will be her first work to be published in the United States. Its release is scheduled for this month. Recently, "Mulberry and Peach" was published in Taiwan. "I was first banned in Taiwan for this novel. Now the most handsome edition is produced there. It's a beautiful irony."

While most people in the United States are familiar with her as co-founder (with Paul) and former director of the UI International Writing Program, in China and Taiwan she is well-known as an important writer. She has published 22 books, including English translations of such authors as William Faulkner, Henry James and Stephen Crane. She holds the title of honorary professor for life at the Beijing Institute for Communications, and a Hualing Nieh Research Society has been established to study her works in Yingshan County in central China's Hubei Province.

Her works have been translated into numerous languages. In China, more than 100,000 copies of one of her novels, "Far Away, A River" (set not only in China, but in Stone City, Iowa), have been sold.

"I believe Hualing Nieh-Engle is going to become a very important force, a major writer in this country," commented Fredrick Woodard, acting director of the International Writing Program. "She has achieved a great amount of success in China by making her characters speak to the spiritual needs of the people."

"Mulberry and Peach" has been published 10 times, counting the U.S. edition. The translations include Serbo-Croatian, Hungarian, English, Polish, Romanian and Dutch.

"Mulberry and Peach" is the tragic story of the fragmentation of a personality set against the background of the turbulent history of contemporary China. Mulberry Green and Peach Pink are the two identities of the heroine, whose schizophrenic transformation is the subject of the novel.

The London publication Third World Quarterly described "Mulberry and Peach" as "a strikingly powerful novel... a thoroughly disturbing book, neither gratuitous nor self-indulgent."

The U.S. publication marks another chapter in the novel's ongoing saga. "The publishing story of this book is becoming historic," laughed Nieh-Engle. "I never expected this book to be a barometer of the political weather of both sides of the Taiwan straits."

Indicative of the twists and turns of this controversial novel's history is the variety of responses and criticisms it engenders. "It has been described as all kinds of 'isms,' symbolism, realism, post-modernism, surrealism. It has

See Engle, Page 5A

Bush victory seems likely after debate

By Matt Devine
The Daily Iowan

With the election less than a month away, political scholars and journalists are forecasting the demise of Michael Dukakis and the crowning of George Bush as this country's next chief executive.

Bush entered last Thursday's debate riding on favorable polls and low unemployment. Media figureheads and students of politics speculated Dukakis needed to take drastic measures in the contest to unseat the front-runner. But Dukakis never dipped into his bag of tricks, while the vice president displayed a new congeniality and was widely heralded as the winner of the 90-minute debate in Los Angeles.

Bush may have gone far in the debate to counteract his wimp image, a criticism that has nagged the vice president since the primary season.

"The winner was George Bush," said Arthur Miller, a UI political science professor. "He appeared relaxed and in charge. I think George Bush came across far better than Michael Dukakis. He was forceful and took a strong stand on some of the issues," he said, citing Bush's comments on the environment, his unequivocal support of Quayle, and his no-more-debates stand.

Bush, however, took a mild scolding from observers for saying he would not agree to another debate before the Nov. 8 election.

"I think that debate showed that as debates go on, (the candidates') performances get better, we learn more about where they stand. I think it's a shame he doesn't want to have at least one more," said Steve Borelli, a UI American politics teaching assistant.

The negative debate response left Dukakis aides scrambling to regain lost ground this weekend. His camp unveiled a new campaign strategy that concentrates his campaign on 18 key electoral states. The announcement led journalists to speculate whether this is the last-gasp effort of a dying campaign.

Analysis

"So mystified are many Democrats that, in fact, they have started to wonder whether Dukakis has given up trying to win and is intent now only on losing with dignity," wrote Chicago Tribune reporter Jon Margolis Sunday in a front-page story.

Dukakis faces the task of working to re-pencil electoral college arithmetic that Time magazine reports works out in favor of Bush: "Dukakis' electoral vote gap is becoming so serious that his newly energized campaign tactics may have little effect on the final numbers, barring a major Bush blunder."

Like John F. Kennedy in 1960, Dukakis must convince voters to bump the GOP from the White House despite economic prosperity fattered by a popular two-term Republican. Questions still linger about Bush's role in the Iran-Contra scandal, but Dukakis faces the problem of attacking the administration of a president who, despite the alleged machinations of his underlings, retains widespread support.

"It is interesting that Reagan's popularity continues to grow," said Miller. "That's almost a nostalgia problem for Dukakis. He has to say something positive (about the Reagan administration). He can't be a doomsayer."

The real Achilles' heel of the Dukakis campaign is not the problem of appealing for change against an agreeable status quo, Miller said, but the Dukakis campaign's lack of focus.

"I don't think Dukakis is capable of putting together a theme that co-opts some of the important sectors of politics and the economy," he said.

"What he has to do is come up

See Debate, Page 5A

The Daily Iowan/Scott Norris

Hualing Nieh-Engle, an author in the Writers' Workshop, wrote "Mulberry and Peach." The book will be released this month in the United States for the first time.

Inside

Index
Arts	5B
Business	10A
Classifieds	6B-7B
Crossword	4B
Metro	2A-3A, 4A
Movies	2B
Sports	1A-4A
TV Today	4B
Viewpoints	8A
Nation/world	6A, 9A
Politics	7A

Weather

Today, cloudy with a high in the mid-60s. Oh, yeah, the wire service says there's a good chance of rain.

Metro

from DI staff reports

Distinguished math professor to speak at UI

University of Pennsylvania professor Richard Kadison will deliver a series of talks this week as part of the UI Department of Mathematics Distinguished Visitors Lecture Series.

In addition to being Kuemmerle Professor of Mathematics at Pennsylvania, Kadison has received doctorates from the University of Marseille, France, and the University of Copenhagen, Denmark, for his contributions to mathematics.

Kadison's first lecture titled "A Survey of the Theory of Operator Algebras" is intended for a general audience. Kadison will speak from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. today in Phillips Hall, Room 100.

Head-to-toe health screenings offered

The Visiting Nurse Association of Johnson County will sponsor a "Head-to-Toe" health screening Oct. 25 at the Iowa City/Johnson County Senior Citizens Center, 28 S. Linn St. Those interested may now make appointments for the screening, which is free of charge.

Ten screening activities will be offered by health professionals from the Iowa City community.

Topics for the screenings include feet and skin by the UI College of Nursing, hearing by audiologist Ken Lowder, health insurance by Ray Tollman of First National Bank, dental by UI Dental College, vision by UI Hospital's Eye Clinic and cardiopulmonary function by the Cardiopulmonary Unit of Mercy Hospital.

Other topics also included in the screening are counseling by Kathy Wallace and Lori Kuntz of Lutheran Social Services, basic nutrition by UI College of Nursing, overall wellness by Dr. Mary Beth Dewey and colorectal cancer screening and breast self-examination by Lynn Whisler of Mercy Hospital.

Psychologist Woodrow Morris will also hold an "Adaption to Life" assessment.

Each person will be seen on a one-to-one basis and receive a personal written summary of the screening's findings, as well as suggestions to seek further health care if needed.

"Head-to-Toe" screening is not intended to treat individuals who are ill. Rather, it is designed to examine a person's overall health condition for undetected needs and to determine if any additional health services are necessary.

To receive a screening on Oct. 25, call Vicki at 337-9686 by Oct. 19. Five appointment times are available. The total screening process should take no longer than an hour.

School directors to meet with association

Tonight will be the initial meeting to discuss negotiations between the Iowa City Association of Educational Secretaries and the Board of Directors of the Iowa City Community School District. As required by law, the meeting will be open to the public.

The meeting will be held at 6 p.m. in the second floor conference room at the Central Administrative Office, 509 S. Dubuque St.

Coralville holds special trash pick-up days

The city of Coralville will hold its annual Fall Clean-Up/Major Trash Pick-up Days today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

During these special trash collection days, the city crews will pick up anything that otherwise doesn't qualify for regular refuse pick-up, which includes anything that can be loaded by two persons.

Only residential areas on the regular Coralville solid waste pick-up routes are eligible for this special collection.

Corrections

The Daily Iowan strives for accuracy and fairness in the reporting of news. If a report is wrong or misleading, a request for a correction or clarification may be made by contacting the Editor at 335-6030. A correction or clarification will be published in this column.

Subscription

USPS 1433-6000

The Daily Iowan is published by Student Publications Inc., 111 Communications Center, Iowa City, Iowa, 52242, daily except Saturdays, Sundays, legal holidays and university holidays and university vacations. Second class postage paid at the Iowa City Post Office under the Act of Congress of March 2, 1879.

Subscription rates: Iowa City and Coralville: $12 for one semester, $24 for two semesters, $5 for summer session, $30 for full year; out of town, $20 for one semester, $40 for two semesters, $10 for summer session, $50 for full year.

Metro/Iowa

Drunk driver handed 5 years for killing of local bicyclist

By Belinda Bloor
The Daily Iowan

An Iowa City man convicted of vehicular homicide was sentenced Friday to five years in prison and ordered to pay $606,800 in damages to the victim's wife, according to Johnson County District Court records.

Eliot Clark Jones, 31, of 932 Deforest Ave., was found guilty of vehicular homicide Sept. 19 in connection with the death of an Iowa City resident. Jones was first charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and released from custody.

Iowa Sixth Judicial District Judge Thomas L. Koehler ordered Jones to begin his sentence Nov. 4 at 8 a.m. at the Iowa Medical Classification Center at Oakdale.

Jones was charged with vehicular homicide for striking Brian L. Coons, 32. Coons died at UI Hospitals and Clinics of injuries sustained in the accident. The van Jones was driving struck Coons, who was riding a bicycle south on Riverside Drive in front of Alexis Park Inn on April 22, according to court records.

Jones waived his right to a trial by jury and was found guilty. Koehler said the state proved beyond a reasonable doubt that Jones was operating the vehicle under the influence of alcohol and that his actions unintentionally caused the death of the victim, according to court records.

Jones admitted to Iowa City police at the scene of the accident that he was the driver of the van. Officers detected alcohol on the defendant's breath. Jones also failed field sobriety tests. Jones refused to provide a preliminary breath test, but after his arrest he consented to furnishing a body specimen and a blood specimen was drawn that indicated an alcohol concentration of 0.171, according to court records.

When the sentence was handed down, Jones was advised of his right to appeal the decision. Appeal bond is set at $10,000 plus a 15-percent surcharge, according to court records.

Character witnesses for Jones included UI head football coach Hayden Fry; John Colleton, director of University Hospitals and Clinics; John H. Tinker, head of the Department of Anesthesia at University Hospitals and Clinics; and W. Richard Summerwill, president of Iowa State Bank and Trust Co.

Test finds corn one-third infected

AMES (AP) — Cancer-causing aflatoxin at levels exceeding government limits for human consumption has been found in one-third of 80 samples tested by Iowa State University.

Charles Hurburgh, an ISU agricultural engineer who coordinated the test, said the results do not necessarily mean that one-third of Iowa's corn crop this year is contaminated. He said the 80 samples voluntarily submitted by Iowa grain elevators are not enough to draw statewide conclusions, but he said the results are similar to Illinois, where three times as many samples were tested.

Aflatoxin, the product of a mold that attacks corn grown under drought conditions, was found in 29 samples in amounts above 20 parts per billion, the limit set by the Food and Drug Administration for corn used in human consumption. None of the samples had more than 300 parts per billion, which is the limit for corn fed to animals, but eight of the 29 positive samples had more than 100 parts per billion.

The contamination may be worse in areas where yields are low, Hurburgh said, but enough contaminated samples were found in other parts of the state that "no elevator can assume it's not going to get it."

Some ISU agronomists have said the worst contamination is in the eastern part of the state, and ISU veterinarian Nolan Hartwig agreed.

"I have the same impression and I agree with that impression, but I couldn't reach that conclusion from this survey," he said. "There were positive samples across areas of the state with a good corn yield."

The ISU researchers declined to give names of elevators or counties where the corn was shipped. Aflatoxin wasn't found in samples from south-central Iowa or southwest Iowa, he said, but only six samples were sent to ISU from those two districts.

Most elevators use an ultraviolet "black light" to check for aflatoxin. The toxin and some other contaminants will glow under black light.

Police

By Lisa Swegle
The Daily Iowan

Four Iowa City residents were charged with possession of marijuana early Friday at 227 1/2 E. Washington St. Apt. 1, according to police reports.

David S. Short, 22, 227 1/2 E. Washington St. Apt. 1; Matthew K. Follett, 19, 227 1/2 E. Washington St. Apt. 1; Sarah E. Bergemann, 19, 617 Bowery St.; and Chad A. Scott, 18, 202 E. Davenport St., were all charged with possession of a schedule-one controlled substance, according to the report.

Accident: A two-car accident caused $7,000 damage Saturday at 700 N. Dubuque St., according to police reports.

A driver stopped his car to ask directions from a pedestrian and was hit in the rear by another motorist, according to the report.

Two occupants of the car that was hit were taken to Mercy Hospital for treatment of minor injuries, according to the report.

Theft: An Iowa City man reported seeing two suspicious people in the area after a burglary occurred at 418 S. Van Buren St. Apt. 5, according to police reports.

Several items were taken, including stereo equipment, according to the report.

The man said he believed the men were picked up by someone in a car, according to the report.

Report: Three males were charged Friday with possession of beer as minors, according to police reports.

Iowa City police stopped a vehicle for a traffic offense and subsequently charged Kevin D. Vogt, 20, address unavailable; Drew J. Gentsch, 19, address unavailable; and Michael N. Benjamin, 18, address unavailable, according to the report.

Econofoods, 1987 Broadway St., was charged with making beer available to minors, according to the report.

Theft: The Domino's Pizza "Noid" doll was reported stolen Saturday, according to police reports.

The 6-foot doll was being used at a UI football game before it was stolen, according to the report.

Report: A Buffalo Center, Iowa, man was charged early Sunday with urinating in public, according to police reports.

Douglas D. Darwin, 19, RR 2 Box 198, Buffalo Center, Iowa, was also charged with public intoxication and interference with official acts, according to the report.

Darwin was pursued by officers on foot at 200 S. Clinton at 1:39 a.m., according to the report.

Report: An Iowa City man was charged Saturday with urinating in public at Dubuque and Jefferson streets, according to police reports.

Kenneth L. Guse, 18, 1431 Burge Residence Hall, was charged after allegedly being out with friends, according to the report.

Courts

By Belinda Bloor
The Daily Iowan

A Rockford, Mich., man, formerly of Iowa City, was charged with two counts of second-degree theft Friday.

John Stephen Long, 25, was charged for allegedly writing personal checks for cash in his place of employment that he knew would not be paid during the period from Oct. 13 to Dec. 20, 1986. He was also charged for allegedly misappropriating property placed in his trust by his employer during the time from Nov. 13 to Dec. 30, 1986, according to Johnson County District Court records.

Long was charged with allegedly writing 10 checks, drawn on accounts from two banks, totaling over $1,500 to Domino's Pizza, 889 22nd Ave., Coralville, where he was a manager, which the business cashed and were later returned for insufficient funds or a closed account. He is also charged with allegedly making cash and charge expenditures that were not authorized by the company, according to court records.

As the manager, he had direct control over cash receipts but was not authorized to make cash expenditures. Long allegedly indicated having made several such unauthorized expenditures in the daily records he was responsible for completing. The total of the cash and merchandise Long allegedly misappropriated was about $1,000, according to court records.

Long was confronted by his employer about bad checks, and he allegedly fled the area. The unauthorized expenditures were found during a company audit after he had left, according to court records.

A request for Long's extradition to Iowa was issued from the Iowa governor's office on June 6, 1988, to have Long returned from Michigan to be charged. Long was arrested Thursday on a warrant issued April 14, 1987, for the two counts of second-degree theft, according to court records.

Long is being held on $5,000 bond. A preliminary hearing is set for Oct. 24, according to court records.

Tomorrow

Tuesday

The Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi will sponsor a panel discussion "Informing the Electorate" by political writers and broadcasters from The Cedar Rapids Gazette, The Daily Iowan, KCRG Channel 9 and WSUI at 7:30 p.m. in the Communications Center, Room 308.

The Study Abroad Advising Center will sponsor an information session about the Iowa Regents London Program from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the International Center, Room 28.

The Baptist Student Union will sponsor a Bible study "Prayer — Response" at 7 p.m. in the Union, Big Ten Room.

The Iowa City Chorales will rehearse from 3:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Agudas Achim Synagogue, 602 E. Washington Street.

The Health Iowa Program will sponsor "AIDS on the College Campus" hourly, from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Career Information Services will sponsor "How to Choose the Right Major and Learn About Your Career Possibilities" at 3:30 p.m. in the Union, Room 286.

The Business and Liberal Arts Placement will sponsor a Resume Writing Seminar at 6 p.m. in the Union, Room 347.

Narcotics Anonymous will sponsor a support group for people who want to stop using drugs at noon in 120 N. Dubuque St., Music Room.

The Domestic Violence Project will offer an informational group for battered and formerly battered women from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in MECCA, 430 Southgate Avenue.

The Lutheran Campus Ministry will sponsor the Ecumenical gathering of graduate students at noon in the Congregational Church, on the corner of Clinton and Jefferson streets.

The Department of Physiology will sponsor a seminar "Effects of age on amino acids as neurotransmitters" by Francisco Mora of the University of Madrid.

The School of Journalism and Mass Communication will sponsor a public lecture "History of Media Content: Perspectives on Communication Research" by Winfried Lerg.

The College of Business will sponsor business advising sessions for all interested new or prospective business students at 3:30 in Seashore Hall, Room W18.

The College of Business will sponsor open advising sessions for all students newly assigned to advisors at 4:30 in Phillips Hall, Room 121 and at 6:30 in Trowbridge Hall, Room 125.

Iowa Area Community Colleges will sponsor a seminar "Diamonds in the Rough" in Kirkwood Community College, Building 41. Call 1-800-332-8833 and ask for X94656 for registration information.

Tomorrow Policy

Announcements for the Tomorrow column must be submitted to The Daily Iowan by 3 p.m. two days prior to publication. For example: Notices for Friday events must be submitted by 3 p.m. Wednesday. All notices will appear in the DI one day prior to the events they announce. Notices may be sent through the mail, but be sure to mail early to ensure publication. All submissions must be clearly printed on a Tomorrow column blank (which appears on the classified ads pages) or typewritten and triple-spaced on a full sheet of paper.

Announcements will not be accepted over the telephone.

Notice of events where admission is charged will not be accepted.

1988 UNIVERSITY OF IOWA'S MOTHER OF THE YEAR! NOMINATE YOUR MOM !!!

Applications are available at STUDENT ACTIVITIES CENTER, IMU, or OFFICE OF CAMPUS PROGRAMS and are due OCTOBER 26, 4 PM.

The award will be presented at half-time during the Northwestern game, November 5 by the UI Mortar Board Honor Society.

DOMBY'S 128 E. Washington
Downtown Iowa City

boots of all heights
by BANDOLINO

DO YOU HAVE HIGH CHOLESTEROL?

If you've been given a special diet to follow, we can help you make it liveable. Call to schedule a free consultation.

40% OFF
Any Weight Loss or Cholesterol Program

WEIGHT & WELLNESS MANAGEMENT
2403 Towncrest Ln. • Iowa City
338-9775
Owned & Operated by RJA's

SOCIAL SECURITY? MANY PEOPLE ONLY KNOW HALF THE STORY

Get the whole story from the free booklet, "Social Security: How it works for you!"

Call 1-800-937-2000

Ad Council

Sigma Xi
The Scientific Research Honor Society presents
A Sigma Xi Lecture

DR. LACY DANIELS
Professor of Microbiology
Univ. of Iowa, Dept. of Biochemistry

on
BIOTECHNOLOGY IN THE THIRD WORLD
Experiences from a Project in Indonesia
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 8 PM
GRANT WOOD ROOM,
IOWA MEMORIAL UNION
Dr. Daniels is co-ordinator for The World Bank Biotechnology Project in Indonesia.
Free to faculty, students, and the public
Refreshments served afterwards

New from California!

COTTON KNIT SEPERATES
By the New Company and Joan Geddes

$10-$30 Sugg. up to $56

100% cotton knit shirts, pants, and tops.
Turquoise and black or cream and black hoodstoch.
Black, royal, and charcoal solids. Sizes S-L.
You've got to see this to believe it.

Somebody Goofed
110 E. College St., Iowa City, Iowa 52242
jean shop M-F 10-9; Sat. 10-5:30; Sun. 12-4

SEE THE LATE, LATE SHOW

It's 3 a.m. Your favorite B movie is over. You suddenly realize you still need those reports copied for that 7 a.m. meeting. Don't panic — just go to Kinko's. We're open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Now those rush jobs will be handled as easily as picking up your remote control.

kinko's
Open 24 hours.

14 S. CLINTON
338-COPY (2679)
(Across From the Pentacrest)

Metro/Iowa

Bush att

DES MOINES (AP) — A spokesman for the campaign of George Bush says the Republican is criticizing Iowa or other state which criminals out on furlough have committed new crimes.

Bush has assailed Democrat presidential nominee Michael Dukakis as being soft on crime in speeches that the Massachusetts governor is at least partly responsible for an act of rape committed by murderer Willie Horton who was on weekend furlough in 1986.

But there are more serious crimes occurred in Iowa.

On Sept. 13, 1985, two inmates of them on furlough,

Psych Dep

century of

By Hilery Livengood
The Daily Iowan

The UI Psychology Department will celebrate its 100th anniversary Oct. 20-22 when 150 alumni and former faculty members return to Iowa City to participate in both social and scholarly activities.

"We will have a very large group of extremely well-known psychologists coming from across the nation," said UI Professor J. Cantor, chairperson of the centennial committee. "These Iowans will give a historical look at the past and future of all of the important fields in psychology."

"This will be an extraordinary gathering because our alumni are the experts in many areas of psychology," she said.

The psychology department at UI is one of the oldest and largest departments in the nation, Cantor said.

"We have a highly respected department that is noted for excellence across the country around the world," Cantor said. "Many of our Ph.D. students have gone on to become leaders in their fields."

Psychology classes were first taught at the UI in 1887, when George Patrick, the first head of the department, taught classes in elementary psychology and experimental psychology. In 1890 Patrick established a psychophysical laboratory at the UI, one of the earliest laboratories established in the United States.

The next decades also saw the leading nation in psychology

Medical wa

creates po

By Belinda Bloor
The Daily Iowan

UI health officials said last week that medical waste was spilled behind the Medical Laboratories building.

A UI Hospitals and Clinics employee noticed medical waste, such as broken syringes and bandages — behind the Medical Laboratories building Thursday.

He claimed the waste was in a "very highly used human traffic area." He also said he believed staff disposed improperly of the waste.

On Friday, Director of the Health Protection Office William Twaler acknowledged the problem. "It did occur; it was cleaned. We're trying to implement steps to prevent it from happening in the future."

The Health Protection Office placed containers at the disposal site on Thursday.

Twaler speculated about the source of the medical waste.

"Probably what happened was stuff was improperly disposed in the dumpster and it spilled out," he said. "Or the other possibility is that someone just threw it out," he said, adding he thinks the second suggestion is unlikely.

He said his office does not plan to determine who was responsible for the incident because it would be an almost impossible task.

"It's basically a breakdown with some changes occurring," Twaler said. "People involved were not aware of it. We found some changes that nobody was aware of. We're trying to change it so that doesn't happen again," Twaler said.

We're Fighting

WERE FIGHT

QUI

Metro/Iowa

Bush attacks furlough system, not Iowa

DES MOINES (AP) — A spokesman for the campaign of George Bush says the Republican is not criticizing Iowa or other states in which criminals out on furlough have committed new crimes.

Bush has assailed Democratic presidential nominee Michael Dukakis as being soft on crime, saying in speeches that the Massachusetts governor is at least indirectly responsible for an assault and rape committed by murderer Willie Horton who was on a weekend furlough in 1986.

But in a more serious crime occurred in Iowa. On Sept. 13, 1985, two inmates, one of them on furlough, shot

Newton police officer Dan McPherrin as they robbed a grocery store. One of the killers, Dennis Lamar, had been labeled a "poor risk" for future violence but had received a weekend pass from the Riverview Release Center at Newton that evening. His accomplice, Lawrence Gladson, was an escapee. Both are now serving sentences for the murder.

A 1987 survey showed that all 50 states have some provision for granting short-term furloughs to prisoners, although Massachusetts was the only one granting unescorted furloughs for lifers. In April, Dukakis signed a bill that abolishes furloughs for criminals serving life terms.

Bush campaign spokesman David Sandor said criticism of Dukakis is valid because of the previous policy.

"When we see a state like Massachusetts that has no death penalty, yet allows a criminal as dangerous as Willie Horton to roam the streets, it's really playing Russian roulette with public safety," Sandor said.

He said Bush is not by implication also criticizing Iowa and other states.

"The furlough system isn't what's on trial here. What is at stake is the management of the furlough system," he said.

Dukakis did not originate the furlough-for-lifers system. Patrick Hamilton, former chief of the Governor's Anti-Crime Council in Massachusetts, said his state's use of furloughs for lifers was begun by former Republican Gov. Francis Sargent in 1972.

In Iowa, the McPherrin slaying did not involve the furlough of a lifer. Lamar was a career criminal serving time for armed robbery and drug dealing.

Like Massachusetts, where furlough rules were tightened following the Horton incident, the Iowa Board of Corrections adopted strict regulations for furloughs in October 1985.

Psych Dept. celebrates century of achievement

By Hilery Livengood
The Daily Iowan

The UI Psychology Department will celebrate its 100th anniversary Oct. 20-22 when 150 UI alumni and former faculty members return to Iowa City to participate in both social and scholarly activities.

"We will have a very large group of extremely well-known psychologists coming from across the nation," said UI Professor Joan Cantor, chairperson of the centennial committee. "These Iowa alumni will give a historical look at the past and future of all of the important fields in psychology."

"This will be an extraordinary gathering because our alumni are the experts in many areas of psychology," she said.

The psychology department at the UI is one of the oldest and best departments in the nation, Cantor said.

"We have a highly respected department that is noted for its excellence across the country and around the world," Cantor said. "Many of our Ph.D. students have gone on to become leaders in their fields."

Psychology classes were first held at the UI in 1887, when George Patrick, the first head of the department, taught classes in elementary psychology and experimental psychology. In 1890 Patrick established a psychophysical laboratory at the UI, one of the earliest laboratories established in the United States.

The next decades also saw the UI leading the nation in psychological advances. Carl Seashore led the department from 1905 to 1937, a period of dramatic development and expansion when psychology came of age as a science, said Cantor.

"The development of our national and international respect in psychology began with Seashore and continued with (Kenneth) Spence," Cantor said.

Kenneth Spence served as head of the department from 1942 to 1964. "Many of the Seashore traditions carried over into the Spence era and still continue today," Cantor said.

Both the Spence and Seashore eras witnessed a great outflow of creative experimental research with UI students becoming leaders in the field, she said.

Cantor said she expects between 150 and 200 people to return for the centennial celebration, many of whom will attend the discussions for educational purposes.

"We will be looking at the history of the field, and Iowa's role in that history and also the future of psychology here," Cantor said. "This will be a historical look at the past and future of all of the important fields in psychology."

UI graduates scheduled to speak during the discussions include Howard Kendler, Janet Spence, Albert Bandura, Donald Lindsley, Tracy Kendler, Abram Amsel and Norman Germezy.

Panels of alumni and former faculty members will also discuss advances and theories for each decade in the UI Psychology Department's history.

Medical waste disposal creates potential hazard

By Belinda Bloor
The Daily Iowan

UI health officials said last week medical waste was spilled behind the Medical Laboratories building.

A UI Hospitals and Clinics employee noticed medical waste — such as broken syringes and blood samples — behind the Medical Laboratories building Thursday. He claimed the waste was in a "very highly used human traffic area." He also said he believes staff disposed improperly of the waste.

On Friday, Director of the Health Protection Office William E. Twaler acknowledged the problem. "It did occur; it was cleaned up. We're trying to implement steps to prevent it from happening in the future."

The Health Protection Office placed containers at the disposal site on Thursday.

Twaler speculated about the source of the medical waste.

"Probably what happened was the stuff was improperly disposed of in the dumpster and it spilled over," he said. "Or the other possibility is that someone just threw it there," he said, adding he thinks the second suggestion is unlikely.

He said his office does not plan to try to determine who was responsible for the incident because it would be an almost impossible task.

"It's basically a breakdown of communication. Some changes occurred with people involved were not aware of. We found some changes that nobody was aware of. We're trying to change it so that it doesn't happen again," Twaler said.

Some of the changes that could have contributed to the problem include personnel and procedure changes or changes in what kinds of materials remain in stock for use in waste disposal, he said.

Medical waste does have the potential to be a health hazard, especially if the waste consists of sharp objects such as needles, pathogens (organisms capable of producing disease) or human blood samples, said biological safety professional Shirley Lindell, also of the Health Protection Office.

"Sharps are a double hazard," Lindell said. "They are a hazard because of being able to puncture and the possibility to contaminate."

Lindell said the magnitude of the resulting health problem depends on what the sharp objects are contaminated with. Such things as pathogens or human blood can create a health risk.

Since the nature of the waste and its potential for causing a health hazard can only be known by the person who disposes of it, Lindell said it is the responsibility of the generator of the materials to dispose of them properly.

The correct way to dispose of medical waste is in a puncture-resistant disposable container with a sealable lid. Sharp objects and other hazardous materials should be labeled and their containers' lids sealed, Lindell said.

But Lindell said the Health Protection Office can't police all the laboratories. The office has set some guidelines that they hope will help solve the problem, she said.

"We have just issued documents to the medical laboratories," Lindell said.

COLLEGE STUDENTS:

MONEY

is now available for your

EDUCATION

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN RECEIVING Scholarships*, Fellowships*, Grants*

YOUR ELEGIBILITY IS GUARANTEED!

regardless of financial status or academic performance.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL:

1-800-635-4063

A NATIONAL SERVICE COMMITTED TO HIGHER EDUCATION

*These funds DO NOT require reimbursement ACADEMIC FINANCIAL ADVISORY

UNDERGRADUATE ECONOMIC FORUM

presents

THE "REAL" PRESIDENTIAL DEBATE

featuring

Dr. Solow as Dukakis' advisor

Dr. Albrecht as Bush's advisor

Dr. McCloskey as the Libertarian Party advisor

7:00 PM, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18
LECTURE ROOM II VAN ALLEN HALL

Anyone requiring special assistance or more information call: Amy Phillips 354-0496, Tim Eggleston 338-3664, Ted Dugman 354-5710

Beat Purdue!

UNIVERSITY DEMOCRATS ANNOUNCE THEIR

LAST WEEK OF VOTER REGISTRATION OCT. 17-24

Come Register On The PENTACREST

1. Monday, Wednesday, 10 am-2 pm
2. At our 2nd 24-Hour Voter Registration Drive, Friday, 10 am-Sat., 10 am
3. At Democratic Headquarters, 311 Iowa Ave., 10 am-9 pm

OUT-OF-STATE STUDENTS CAN VOTE IN IOWA CITY. ALL REGISTRATIONS MUST HAVE CURRENT ADDRESS.

Last Day For Post-Card Registration: OCT. 24

Last Day for Walk-In Registration at Johnson County Administration Building: OCT. 29, 5 PM

QUESTIONS? CALL US AT 337-8683 OR THE COUNTY AUDITOR

IT'S ALL NEW! IT'S ALL SPECIAL!

OPEN Daily 10-9 Saturday 10-5 Sunday 12-5

IT'S OUR BIG FALL SALE!

Celebrate with Waterbed Creations during OKTOBER REST... our big fall sale. Special introductory prices on new products and solid value on quality waterbeds starting at $119.95. Shop now during this special event!

SABINO $219.95

Sabino Waterbed with matching furniture $699
Includes: Sabino Waterbed with two-color center mirror plus matching dresser, hutch and nightstand.
Hi Chest $249.95 on sale for

Westbrock 4-Poster Waterbed with Westbrock Waterbed Room Furniture $749

This lovely romantic 4 poster bed features profiled headboard and footboard plus a functional blanket rail. The matching furniture includes dresser, hutch with multi-color mirror design and nightstand.
WESTBROCK 4-POSTER $289.95
High Chest is sale priced at..... $249.95

Oktober Rest Special: 3 Pc. Padded Caps $26 only size

Oktober Rest Special: Mattress Pad $949 with bed purchase!

Santana II Waterbed with Silver Creek Waterbed Room Furniture $799

This bedroom group features a double tier waterbed with lead glass center mirror, double dresser, matching hutch mirror and 2 drawer nightstand.
SANTANA II $249.95
Matching High Chest sale priced at... $279.95

Sterling Waterbed... 189.95
High bookcase waterbed with twin storage doors and center mirror. Available light or dark finish in King, Queen or Super Single size.

Loveland Waterbed... 249.95
Delicate rose etched curio doors and center mirror showcase this bed. Available in honey pine or walnut finish in king or queen size.

Oktober Rest Special: Pacific Coast Feather Waterbed Sheets $18.95

Oktober Rest Special: Designer Bedspreads from Merada of San Francisco 20% off

Covina Waterbed... 289.95
Large bookcase waterbed with 2 glass doors and multi-colored designer mirrors. King or Queen size, choice of honey pine or walnut finish.

Accolade Waterbed... 289.95
Leaded glass crackle mirrors are accented by twin tulip lamps. Available in King or Queen size and light or dark finish.

* BEDS SHOWN WITH OPTIONAL DRAWER PEDESTALS *

We're Fighting For Your Life.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE American Heart Association

90 Days same as cash with approved credit.

Waterbed Creations

Wardway Plaza, Iowa City 337-9713

Open Daily 10-9 Saturday 10-5 Sunday 12-5

Waterbed Specialists Since 1972

OUTERWEAR SALE

Ewers Men's Store

20% OFF

JACKETS Wool, Down & Leather TOPCOATS ALL WEATHER COATS

Metro/Iowa

Owners neglect pets' needs

By Noelle Nystrom
The Daily Iowan

Over 400 animals were destroyed at the Iowa City Animal Shelter last year mainly because their owners refused to give them proper care, according to Beverly Horton, director of the shelter.

"Saying we 'put to sleep' these animals is too nice," said Horton. "They are actually 'put to death' because of the irresponsibility in our society."

Every year, 7.6 million dogs and cats are destroyed in the United States because they are not wanted anywhere, by anyone, according to The Humane Society of the United States.

The Iowa City Shelter dealt with 1,018 animals in 1987. Owners reclaimed 41 percent of those, and 43 percent were destroyed. Fourteen percent were adopted by new owners.

There are roughly three times as many pets as people in the United States today. Over 10,000 cats and dogs are born every hour.

The Humane Society said individual pet owners must be convinced to spay or neuter their pets so they can no longer reproduce and add to the surplus, and also so their pets will live longer, healthier lives.

"If you own a pet, you are obligated to take care of it until the end of its' natural life," Horton said. "You are responsible for it at all times. The streets are for cars, not dogs and cats. It's very dangerous for them out there."

Iowa City's leash law states that pets must be leashed at all times unless confined on or within the owner's property. Unleashed pets accompanied by the owner while jogging, cycling, visiting parks, etc., violate city regulations.

Horton said the first priority for pet owners should be to acquire a city license tag for the animal to wear on its collar. In order to get the tag, owners must first vaccinate their pet for the rabies virus and pay a small fee.

"The license is a requirement of the law," Horton said. "So many more animals would be returned to their owners if they would simply get them the tag. The shelter is full of animals that normally never leave the owner's yard, but when they do, we can't return them if they have no identification."

The tag has a number on it that can be read from a distance in case

"Saying we 'put to sleep' these animals is too nice. They are actually 'put to death' because of the irresponsibility in our society." — Beverly Horton, Iowa City Animal Shelter director a person does not wish to go near the animal. One can phone in the number on the tag to the shelter. The shelter will call the owners and have them retrieve the animal.

When the city picks up an animal or someone reports a stray, the shelter officials check it for city license identification. If there is none, officials take it to the shelter.

"We bring it in and keep it on what we call 'stray status' for a minimum of four days," Horton said. "It seems like a short time, but in New York City they only hold them for 48 hours."

After four days the animals are evaluated before being put up for adoption.

"We look at them and consider a number of things before allowing them to be adopted," said Horton. "We inspect them for health, disposition and general adoptability."

Potential parents for the animals are also regarded with close scrutiny.

The amount of time an animal is up for adoption varies from one day to one month. If it has not been adopted after one month, the animal will be destroyed.

"We can usually never keep animals more than a month because space won't allow it," Horton said. "It's frustrating to have to destroy perfectly healthy animals simply because the owners were careless."

Horton said the officials at the shelter try not to become attached to the animals.

"I swear we have one of the most stressful jobs there is," she said. "We are the biggest animal lovers, and it's so awful that we have to spend so much time killing them."

Company found liable for glass in baby food

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — The Gerber Products Co. was ordered to pay $20,000 to a Marion couple who alleged the company was responsible for pieces of glass found in a jar of baby food that was fed to their 6-month-old daughter two years ago.

"Obviously, we're pleased," said Patricia Petrak, who with her husband Michael had sued for unspecified damages for pain, emotional distress and $692 in medical bills for their daughter Sarah Lou. "And we're glad it's over. We weren't suing for the money but the principle of the thing, the way the company handled the situation."

She testified in the trial that a company consumer relations employee had implied that the Petraks had tampered with the jar. The employee denied that she had made the statement.

Company attorney Robert Waterman Jr., of Davenport, said the verdict was a mixed blessing for the Michigan-based firm. Waterman said the company did not offer to settle the case because the Petraks, through their attorney Tom Riley of Cedar Rapids, demanded $60,000.

"We're disappointed we were found at fault, because we feel we were not," he said. "But in view of the demand (for $60,000), we think the verdict is fair."

Even so, he said, the company may appeal the decision based on the contention that the judge, David Hansen, allowed improper evidence to be introduced. The evidence concerned possible health hazards to the child because of X-rays the child received.

Waterman said the Petraks failed to show that any glass in the jar was the company's fault. Company experts testified the glass pieces could have been caused by tampering or by improper handling after the jars left the company.

But Riley said the company's device that checks for imperfections in the food has only an 85-percent detection rate.

He did not argue for a specific award but said it should be adequate to give the company an incentive to provide better protection.

Metro/Iowa Cults

world and implies all questions can be answered by one doctrine. The doctrine is so intricate that after a member breaks from the cult, they are very confused about what to believe, he said.

Crawley said the Hari Krishna members, are known for their uncanny ability to create an imaginary world and instill in members their totalist doctrine.

"The Krishnas seem to do a better job than others of poisoning your view of the world. They are unusually hostile in their attitudes," he said. "They say the world is illusion ... everything here is not real, and we are diverting ourselves with a sense of gratification."

Crawley also said physical force is used on cult members to ensure group loyalty. A number of members suffer from depression, and some members' level of devotion to spirituality, he said.

"The Moonies do fund-raising marathons where for 40 days they carry large bags of merchandise every day, which leads to serious problems. Members are sometimes not allowed to go to the bathroom for 16 hours, and many times they literally blow their bladders," he said.

Cult members are recruited once in, persuaded to stay, and constant reinforcement of loyalty is encouraged.

"A cult 'love-bombs' you with intense support. Any talents you have is wonderful — anything you say, profound," said Crawley.

These conditions lead to psychological and emotional problems ex-cult members experience when trying to re-enter mainstream society, and it is then Unbound's services are needed.

The dove in flight on the cover of Unbound's informational brochure signifies a kind of breaking — paralleling the freedom victims experience when they leave a totalist group.

But along with the freedom comes problems of self-esteem, values confusion, culture shock and emotional dependency and

Lawyer warns against bias in abuse case

DES MOINES (AP) — A Des Moines man accused of torturing his girlfriend's 7-year-old son tried unsuccessfully to plead guilty to lesser charges Friday, and his lawyer cautioned jurors not to judge the case based on emotions.

Meanwhile, a county prosecutor in the first-degree kidnapping trial of Larry Siemer told jurors that Siemer handcuffed the boy to a bed and later to water pipes, dipped him in near freezing water and poured scalding water on his genitals.

If found guilty, Siemer would spend the rest of his life in prison. Before the trial began Friday, Siemer attempted again to plead guilty to five counts of child endangerment, which would carry a maximum prison term of 50 years. Polk County Judge Harry Perkins rejected the plea.

E. T.

At the Bijou

"Children of Paradise (Les Enfants du Paradis)" (1943-46) — This lush drama concerns the crisscrossed passions of a group of 19th century Parisian clowns, tragedians and charlatans. In French with English subtitles. 6:15 p.m.

"Sleepwalk" (1986) — A young woman working in a print shop is assigned to translate an ancient Chinese text and finds her life turned upside down. 9:45 p.m.

Television

"Discover: The World of Science" — This series' season premiere features an investigation of creatures that live more than a mile beneath the sea (7 p.m.; IPTV 12).

Readings

E.L. Doctorow reads from his fiction at 8 p.m. in Shambaugh Auditorium.

Art

Barbara Weets-Caudill displays some recent watercolors in The Cottage Bakery, 14 S. Linn St., through Oct. 30. Paper vessels by Mary Merkel-Hess are on display in the Iowa Artisans Gallery, 13 S. Linn St., through Oct. 30. "Roman Portraits" features Roman Etruscan portraiture covering a broad cross section of time, style and purpose. "Donatello at Close Range" documents the restoration processes conducted on some of the stucco works of Donatello. Both exhibits run through Oct. 30 in the UI Museum of Art.

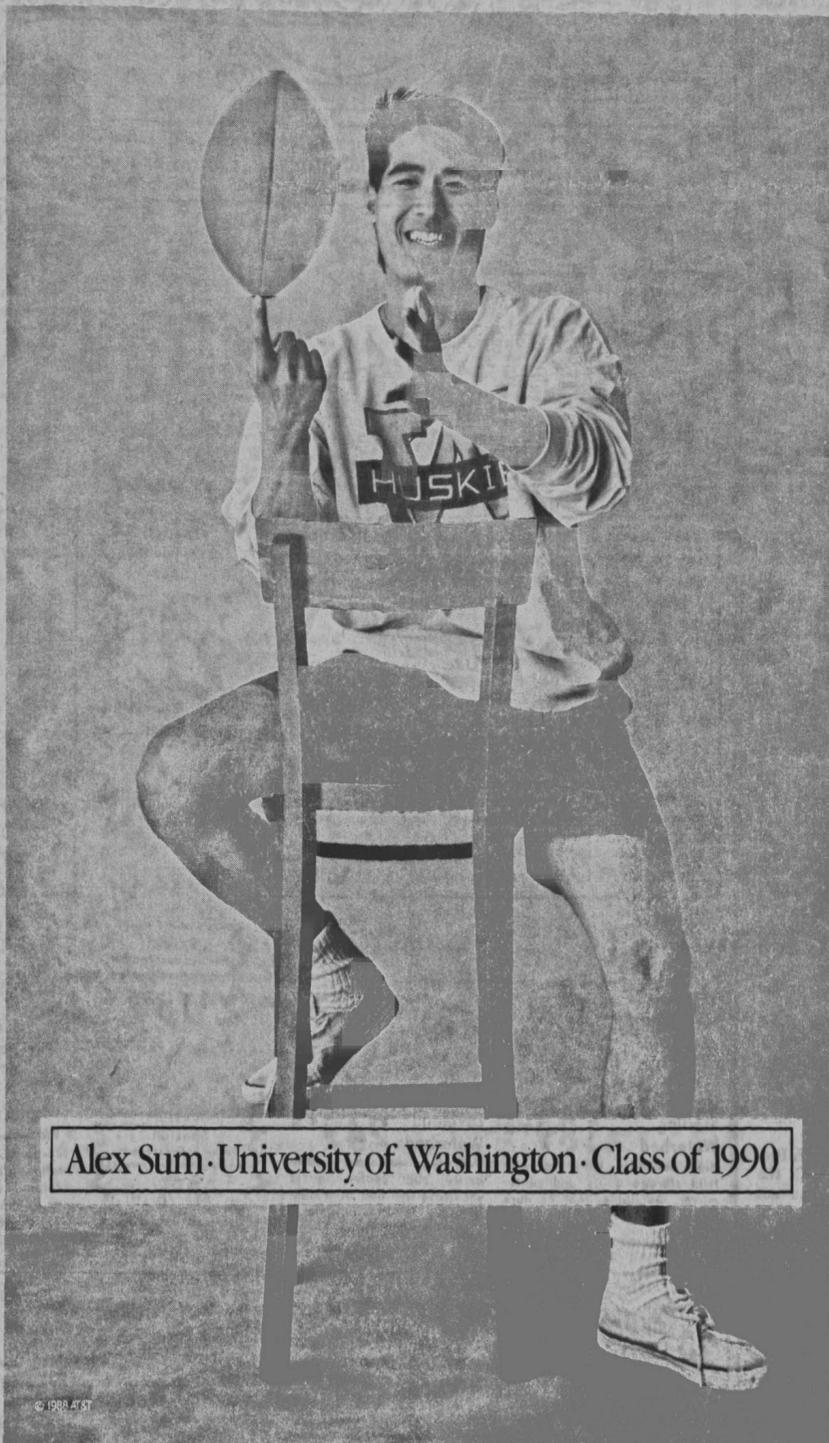

Theater

University Theatres opens its season with Stephen Sondheim's "Sunday in the Park with George," at 8 p.m. Wednesday in E.C. Mabie Theatre.

Radio

Craig Kessler hosts "The Blues Groove," with the best of blues both new and old (8-11 p.m.; KRUI 89.7 FM). Kurt Masur conducts the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in works that include Britten's delightful "Simple Symphony" and Haydn's Symphony No. 85 (8 p.m.; KSUI 91.7 FM).

"I wasn't rubbing it in—I just wanted Eddie to know the score of last night's game."

Alex Sum · University of Washington · Class of 1990

Go ahead and gloat. You can rub it in all the way to Chicago with AT&T Long Distance Service. Besides, your best friend Eddie was the one who said your team could never win three straight.

So give him a call. It costs a lot less than you think to let him know who's headed for the Playoffs. Reach out and touch someone.®

If you'd like to know more about AT&T products and services, like International Calling and the AT&T Card, call us at 1 800 222-0300.

The right choice.

OUTERWEAR SALE

Ewers Men's Store

20% OFF

JACKETS
Wool, Down & Leather
TOPCOATS
ALL WEATHER COATS

Free Catalog

The U.S. Government Office has a free catalog and popular books sold by the Government. Books at agriculture, energy, chess, space, health, history, vacations, and much more. What Government world and implies all questions in life can be answered by one group doctrine. The doctrine is so intense that after a member breaks from a cult, they are very confused about what to believe, he said.

Metro/Iowa

Cults

Continued from page 1A

Crawley said the Hari Krishnas, in particular, are known for their uncanny ability to create an illusory world and instill in members their totalist doctrine.

"The Krishnas seem to do a better job than others of poisoning your view of the world. They're unusually hostile in their techniques," he said. "They say the world is illusion... everything here is not real, and we are only diverting ourselves with a false sense of gratification."

Crawley also said physical stress is forced on cult members to extract group loyalty. A number of cults use suffering as a way to prove a member's level of devotion and spirituality, he said.

"The Moonies do fund-raising marathons where for 40 days, they carry large bags of merchandise all day, which leads to serious back problems. Members are sometimes not allowed to go to the bathroom for 16 hours, and many times, they literally blow their bladders out," he said.

Cult members are recruited, and once in, persuaded to stay by constant reinforcement of love and encouragement.

"A cult 'love-bombs' you with intense support. Any talent you have is wonderful — anything you say, profound," said Crawley.

These conditions lead to the psychological and emotional problems ex-cult members experience when trying to re-enter mainstream society, and it is then that Unbound's services are needed.

The dove in flight on the cover of Unbound's informational folder signifies a kind of breaking away — paralleling the freedom ex-cult victims experience when they break with a totalist group.

But along with the freedom comes problems of self-esteem — values confusion, culture shock, emotional dependency and physiological effects — especially if the victim was forceably taken from the group.

"Unbound provides a place where they can work through these things," said Haas. "We encourage them to make all sorts of decisions, from when they want to get up in the morning to what they want to buy at the grocery store. At the supermarket, they get a little lost — it may take hours to choose something like coffee."

The center itself is a high-tech house, Crawley said. There is a video library with VCRs and movies about cults, as well as "regular movies." There is an extensive book library containing classic, science-fiction, thought-provoking and inspirational volumes.

Clients, as the ex-members are called, talk informally with counselors about confusions or experiences. They also take part in activities planned to bring them gradually back into the real world — going to the movies, to the Amanas or events at Hancher Auditorium.

The basic two-week program costs $4,000, but if a client is unable to come up with enough money, the center will often accept them as long as clients are currently going through the program, Haas said.

Some of the staff members, like Crawley, have backgrounds in counseling and some are actually ex-cult members. And some, like Haas, have had friends who joined cults or simply wanted to help others in the same situation.

Crawley said the approach taken by counselors is low-key and supportive. Clients are encouraged to work through their conflicting feelings and consider alternatives to the extreme thoughts and ideas about life taught by the totalist group.

"What we do is give people sound psychological reasons for what they are feeling," said Crawley. "We tell them what they're feeling is not unique, given the circumstances. They need to feel normal again."

Debate

Continued from page 1A

with a vision of tomorrow that people will react to," he said. "I'm not sure Michael Dukakis' camp has enough talent to do that, so instead you have a don't-rock-the-boat politics. It's sort of the old 1968 Hubert Humphrey approach: wait and wait and let partisanship play its part."

Bush's albatross, his selection of running mate Dan Quayle, remains a viable issue despite Bush's unrelenting support of him in their Thursday debate.

"I don't think (the Quayle issue) is dead," said Peverill Squire, a UI political science professor. "I think if you had questions about Dan Quayle, you still have questions about Dan Quayle. I don't think (Bush) will be able to convince people that Quayle isn't a liability."

An open attack on Quayle could backfire on Democrats if it casts Quayle as a political martyr, potentially spurring a backlash of sympathy for the Bush ticket.

"At the level of symbols and values George Bush has made the case that Dukakis is outside the mainstream. And that, as much as the winning personality the vice president displayed in the final debate here Thursday, is why he stands on the verge of victory." — David Broder, Washington Post columnist

"The public still has misgivings about Dan Quayle and I think Dukakis can still get some mileage out of that, but he has to be careful not to beat a dead horse," Arthur Miller said.

Throughout the campaign Bush has hammered Dukakis on his soft spots, painting the Massachusetts governor as a criminal-coddling liberal who opposes the death penalty and is weak on environmental issues. The Tribune's Mar-golis contends one of Dukakis' main failings has been his inability to defuse such attacks.

"These attacks were based on a loose interpretation of the facts and the historical record and would appear to be easily refutable by an articulate candidate determined to fight back," he wrote.

The labels had the cumulative effect of widening the gap between the candidates, leaving Bush camped out in moderate territory while holding Dukakis at bay on the periphery. The Washington Post's David Broder writes:

"At the level of symbols and values George Bush has made the case that Dukakis is outside the mainstream. And that, as much as the winning personality the vice president displayed in the final debate here Thursday, is why he stands on the verge of victory."

Some media representatives dismissed value topics as distracting and trivial, but the public looks to them to make points of connection and to round out a character otherwise no more complete than the composite of his position papers.

"I don't think people are really that much interested in the issues," said Mike Miller, a UI American political science teaching assistant. "They're more interested in seeing what kind of person (the candidate) is. Voting is almost an intuitive type of decision."

Engle

Continued from page 1A

been called pornographic. It was banned in Taiwan because it was considered political, yet a London review criticized it for showing a 'disconcerting disdain for all politics.' The book can be praised in any way and criticized in any way," commented Nieh-Engle.

To further heighten the significance of the U.S. release, it will be the first full version of the novel. The novel was first serialized in Taiwan in 1972, but cut off midway due to its "political overtones and sexual boldness," according to Nieh-Engle. The second edition, published in China in 1980, did not include the fourth section, due to "self-censorship, which is frightening," she explained. "You know what you can and can't write. You censor yourself in your own mind." The third edition, published in Hong Kong in 1984, was, until last year, thought to be the first full version. It turns out that, unbeknownst to its author, certain sentences and phrases had been omitted. "I wasn't aware of this until Beacon Press, the U.S. publisher, discovered it. We went back to the original manuscript and restored it." All subsequent editions had been based on the 1984 manuscript.

Despite being banned as a writer, enduring the murder of her father by the Communist army and two wars ('Anti-Japanese War' and Chinese Civil War), Nieh-Engle is not bitter. "You have to understand that Chinese life is full of contradictions. I was banned, now I'm welcome. This kind of situation only happens to Chinese writers. China has a very complicated history, but now drastic changes are occurring on both sides. In Taiwan especially, oh dear, there are now opposition parties, people can visit China, once-banned books are now published and you can criticize anyone. It's a different world than the one I left in 1964."

Nieh-Engle considers her Taiwan years to be "a potent period. I began writing fiction then, and I was doing translations. I became literary editor and a member of the editorial board of the leading intellectual magazine, Free China, which was closed down by the government in 1960, including the arrest of four of the members. Now people say more radical things than the magazine did."

Currently, Nieh-Engle is planning on writing a three-volume "fictionalized autobiography" titled "One Life, Three Worlds." The three worlds are, of course, China, Taiwan and America. She intends to write each volume in a different form.

Nieh-Engle writes all her fiction in Chinese. "It is wonderful to be an American citizen, but as a writer my language is my country. It's my root, the only thing I can grasp since I'm so far away from my native land."

"If my life is like a tree, my roots are in China, my trunk is Taiwan and my branches, leaves and flowers are coming out in America."

Iowa population continues slide

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's population continues to slide, according to the latest report by the Census Bureau, with only nine of the state's 99 counties showing a gain during the first seven years of the decade.

The report also shows that the state's overall population dropped 16,000 in the 12 months ending July 1, 1987, and that eight counties lost at least 10 percent of their populations since 1980.

At least one expert said the Census report showed more losses than have actually occurred.

"I'm not sure their numbers are even valid," said Harvey Siegelman, state economist. "When the 1990 census comes out, I suspect there's going to be some recalibration of some of these numbers."

There was modest growth in nine counties, most of them in or near urban settings, but it wasn't enough to prevent the state's overall population to decline to about 2,834,000, a 2.7 percent decline from the 1980 census.

The largest growth comes in Polk County, which has 319,300 people, an increase of 5.3 percent so far in the decade.

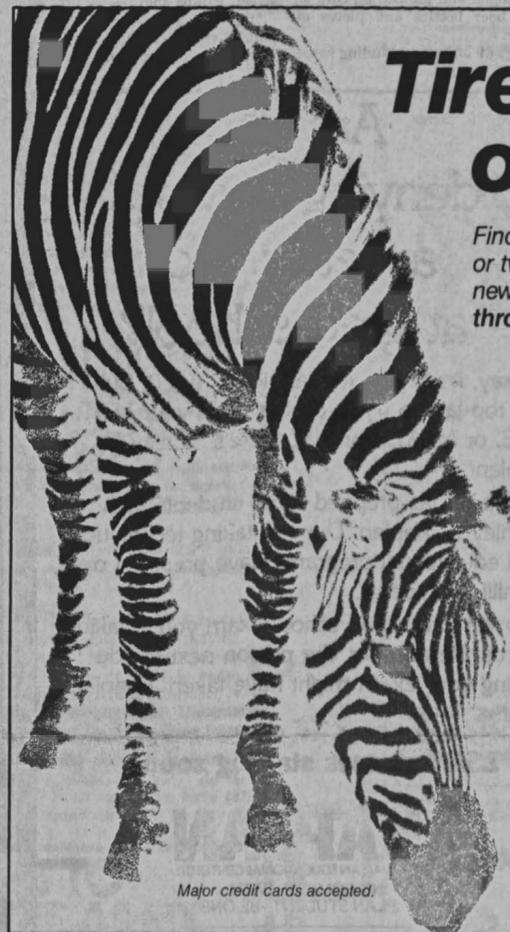

Free Catalog of GOVERNMENT BOOKS

The U.S. Government Printing Office has a free catalog of new and popular books sold by the Government. Books about agriculture, energy, children, space, health, history, business, vacations, and much more. Find out what Government books are all about. Send for your free catalog.

Free Catalog

P.O. Box 37000
Washington DC
20013-7000

Major credit cards accepted.

Tired of the same old stripes?

Find some new ones—or plaids, or checks, or tweeds—during our Annual Sale of new fall & winter fashions. Now through October 23rd.

Suits

Reg. $250-$325.00

$189 to $249

Sportcoats

Reg. $175-$210.00

$138 to $168

All-Season Blazers

Reg. $165.00

$128

Cashmere Blend Topcoats

Charcoal or black. Reg. $275.00

$219

All Wool Slacks

Plain or pleated front. Reg. $65-$72.50

$48-$58

Trenchcoats

Tan, charcoal or loden. Reg. $175.00

$139

111 S. Dubuque Street
Downtown Iowa City

A103

Art and reason

When Mark and I decided to spend the weekend at his mother's house, I never imagined I would be walking into a mouse's nightmare. There were cats everywhere.

Cat plaques, cat statues, cat clocks, even a cat mat. I couldn't begin to duplicate her collection of kitty litter if I spent a year at a garage sale. Conspicuously absent, however, was a real cat. Strange, I thought, and began to fear that a weekend with cat woman could be a lot less than purr-fect.

But then she came home, and Mark introduced her. She was dressed surprisingly well—no leopard pants. In fact, you could say she was the cat's meow, but I'd rather not.

She offered me a cup of Dutch Chocolate Mint. Now that was something I could relate to. Then she brought it out in the most beautiful, distinctly unfeline china I'd ever seen. As we sipped, I found out that Mrs. Campbell has my same weakness for chocolate, loves the theater as much as I do, but, incredibly, never saw "Cats." So Mark and I are taking her next month.

General Foods' International Coffees. Share the feeling.

© 1988 General Foods Corp.

Briefly

from DI wire services

Protestant extremists kill 2 in N. Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland — A Protestant extremist group said Sunday its gunmen killed a leader of the Protestant Ulster Defense Association because he betrayed the association's cause in Northern Ireland.

The outlawed Ulster Freedom Fighters said its members killed James Craig and George Raney at east Belfast's Castle Inn pub on Saturday.

Four other people were wounded as the killers sprayed the crowded room with gunfire.

South African violence kills 5 blacks

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Five black men were killed in a series of attacks, including four in violence-plagued townships outside Pietermaritzburg, police said Sunday.

Two men were killed and 11 men and women suffered burn injuries when attackers threw gas bombs at a home in the Mpumalanga township near the southeastern city of Pietermaritzburg, police said.

In the same township, police found the body of a man who had been stabbed to death. Police also found a man who had been fatally stabbed in the nearby township of Hammersdale.

The townships outside Pietermaritzburg have been the site of the worst black-on-black faction fighting in South Africa in recent years. At least 600 people have been killed in black-on-black fighting the last two years, according to most estimates.

Rival Moslem militias clash in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Rival Moslem militias fired mortars, rocket-propelled grenades and machine guns in a five-hour clash in which six people died and 25 others were wounded, police said Sunday.

They said Saturday night's firefight between Syrian-backed Amal militia and militants of the pro-Iranian Hezbollah — the first major clash between the two groups in nearly five months — ignited blazes in numerous apartment buildings in south Beirut.

A police spokesman said on condition of anonymity that Syrian soldiers deployed in densely populated districts of Ghobeiri and Shiyah stopped the fighting.

Hezbollah, or Party of God; and Amal, Arabic for Hope, have been vying for dominance of Lebanon's 1.2 million Shiites, the nation's largest sect.

Syria stationed troops to the devastated suburbs on May 27 to put an end to a three-week bloody confrontation between the two militias in which nearly 300 people were killed and 1,000 wounded.

Israelis block roads to quell Jewish protests

JERUSALEM — Soldiers erected roadblocks throughout the occupied West Bank on Sunday to prevent dozens of Jewish settlers from choking major roads in protest against the Palestinian uprising, the army said.

In Israel, a Palestinian collaborator fatally shot the 13-year-old and 17-year-old sons of his landlord and critically wounded their mother after the family ordered him to leave an apartment in Jaljoulia village bordering the West Bank, residents said.

Police spokesperson Yehudit Edri confirmed the casualties. She said the assailant was a policeman originally from the West Bank and said he attacked Saturday night during a rent dispute. She declined to elaborate.

The Israeli Yediot Ahronot daily said Rifat Odeh shot the three in their apartment at a range of six feet and that dozens of police came to quell a riot that ensued in the village of 5,000.

The army blocked settlers from protesting on two main West Bank highways against increased Palestinian attacks on Jewish targets, Israel radio reported. It came a day after an Israeli man was stabbed and wounded in the West Bank city of Jenin.

Minnesota boaters cruise over 40-foot dam

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Two boaters distracted by the colors of the fall foliage shot over a 40-foot dam into the rushing overflow below, where they were rescued by two fishermen, authorities said.

"They should have been killed but were lucky," said Deputy Bill Chandler of the Hennepin County Sheriff's Department. "A lot of that had to do with two fishermen on the shore below the dam who went in with their boat and rescued them. They're heroes in my book."

Don Oestreich, 57, of St. Louis Park walked away relatively unscathed Saturday; Bernice Johnson, 58, of Minneapolis suffered bumps and bruises and received four stitches on her forehead.

"Don was driving, and I was riding backwards because of the wind, and the colors were gorgeous," Johnson said. "And when we noticed the (warning) signs it was just too late."

"I think the first thing I thought was, 'This is it.' My life might have flashed before me, but I didn't have any time to think about it — there was too much noise and water."

Quoted . . .

I'm not a cult buster. I work with victims who say 'I've been in a cult, I've been messed with, help me.'

— Kevin Crawley, founder of Unbound, Inc., a local center that assists cult victims, commenting on the purpose of his center. See story, page 1A.

Nation/World

St. Cloud riots mar Homecoming

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — Hundreds of rioting students burned furniture and clashed with police in a second night of Homecoming weekend violence that resulted in 50 arrests by officers clad in riot gear, police said Sunday.

At least six people, including a police officer and a person found in a trash carrier, were treated at a hospital for minor injuries suffered Saturday night and early Sunday, said hospital nursing supervisor Patricia Anderson.

As many as 1,500 St. Cloud State University students were involved in the rioting in a four-block area on Friday and Saturday nights, Assistant Police Chief Jim Moline said.

Students set off firecrackers and some played the Beatles' song "Revolution" on a stereo as police swept through the crowd, estimated at about 700 people Saturday night. Other people tore down street signs and jumped on cars or threw beer bottles and pieces of lumber.

About 60 officers, including some from the State Patrol and neighboring counties, shot tear gas to disperse the crowd and made 46 arrests, most on misdemeanor charges of unlawful conduct or criminal damage to property, Moline said.

"The catalyst for this whole thing was a lot of young people with a lot of booze in them. They're not experienced enough with alcohol and they just go kind of crazy." — St. Cloud, Minn., Assistant Police Chief Jim Moline

After a lull of a few hours, 150 officers were sent in early Sunday to break up crowds of 150 to 200 people, some of whom had set fire to furniture and a trash carrier that had been dragged into the street, Moline said.

"It's like a battle between the police and the students," said Karen Jacobs, the managing editor of the student newspaper, the University Chronicle, who watched the disturbance from her dormitory room.

The riots broke out in the midst of Homecoming celebrations by the school's 16,400 students. Witnesses the police force, the weekend's violence could be topped only by demonstrations against the Vietnam War in the 1960s.

Student Randy Ridenour, 23, of Minneapolis said officers backed off several times Saturday night to avoid a potentially disastrous confrontation.

"It was mob mentality," he said. Many people had been drinking heavily and were enjoying the havoc, he said. "A lot of kids thought they were being kind of funny. The students were acting stupid."

Some of the handful of people arrested Friday night probably will be charged with felony assault for throwing beer bottles, and the arrests Sunday morning will result in several more misdemeanor charges, Moline said. Thirty-four of the 50 people arrested were university students.

University President Brendan McDonald said he would appoint a task force to investigate the violence and meet with school officials to discuss the situation further.

said the problems began when officers tried to break up loud parties and fights.

"The catalyst for this whole thing was a lot of young people with a lot of booze in them," Moline said. "They're not experienced enough with alcohol and they just go kind of crazy."

Moline said that in his 31 years on

Are you denying yourself a better shot at grad school?

Okay, it may be too late to get a 4.0. But it's not too late to try to do better on your LSAT, GRE, or MCAT. For that, there's Stanley H. Kaplan.

No one has prepped more students than Stanley H. Kaplan. Our test-taking techniques and educational programs have prepared over 1 million students.

So whatever grad school exam you're taking, call us. Remember, the person next to you during your exam might have taken a Kaplan course.

LSAT classes starting soon

KAPLAN

STANLEY H. KAPLAN EDUCATIONAL CENTER LTD.
DON'T COMPETE WITH A KAPLAN STUDENT—BE ONE

325 E. Washington
Suite 208 338-2588

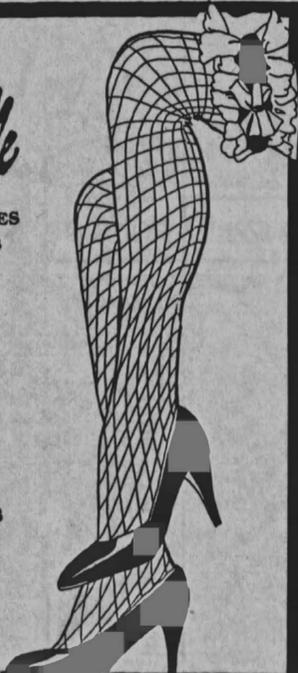

GARY KRITZ - Administrator

DISCOVER
IOWA
TREASURESSM

The finishing touches are at Thingsville

MASKS • COSTUMES
WIGS • SKELETONS
MAKE-UP HANDS & FEET
NOSES • HORNS
EARS & TAILS
TEETH • BEARDS
HOODS • CAPES
HATS • BOAS
COLLARS • PITCH
FORKS • CANES
SKULLS • SNAKES
BODY GLITTER
GREASE STICKS
EYELASHES • NAILS BLOOD • WHIPS
HANDCUFFS

CREATE YOUR OWN
"THING"
Old Capitol Center
351-3477

WHY WEIGHT?

We've never looked better
Join Iowa City Tennis and Fitness Today

- Indoor Tennis
- Racquet Ball
- Aerobics
- Nautilus & Free Weights
- Swimming

Our initiation fee goes into effect November 1st.

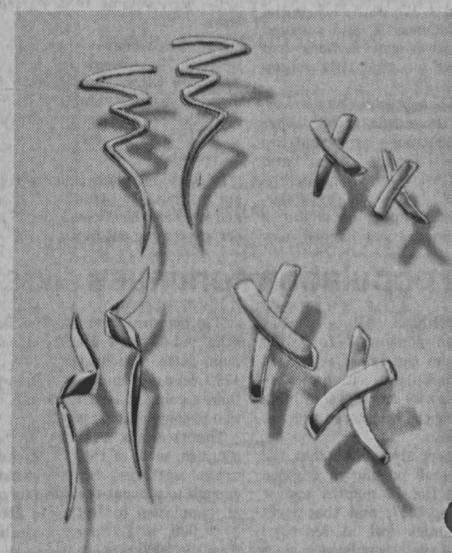

This is your last chance to join now and save!

IOWA CITY TENNIS & FITNESS CENTER
2400 NORTH DODGE • IOWA CITY, IOWA 52240 • 319-351-6883

TIFFANY & Co.

Paloma Picasso's
Flourishes and Scribbles

Paloma Picasso's exclusive earring designs in eighteen karat gold for pierced ears. Clockwise from upper left: Scribbles, $350. Small "X's," $300. "X's," $680. Tapered scribbles, $250.

m.c. ginsberg jewelers, inc.

110 east washington street
Iowa city, Iowa 319-351-1700
800-373-1702

Politics 19

Fund-raising for final

By Mike Glover
The Associated Press

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — was frustration in the air with the usual heated rhetoric Democrats gathered Saturday in the Iowa Democratic Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner party's largest annual fund-raiser to gear up for the final thrust of the campaign.

The heated rhetoric is a sign that party leaders speak with "dirty dealing" who have paid person and came expecting fired up for the final days trenches.

The frustration comes with party's standard-bearer, Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis.

It showed itself in attack Republican George Bush to becoming increasingly Democratic Sen. Tom Harkin fessed himself "outraged" "dirty dealing" and "deception" the Bush camp.

Iowa Democratic Chair Bonnie Campbell in recent has taken to assaulting "macho, chest-beating" television ads.

Democratic Rep. David Bonior former state Democratic man, was more blunt.

"We, as Democrats have into the trap of fighting in cans on a national level game," he said. "The pul responded; it has said 'call it's over.'"

Those leaders, and a lot activists, are veterans of the

World Series

WASHINGTON (AP) — D found inspiration Sunday Los Angeles Dodgers' win first game of the World Series that Michael Dukakis still pull off a come-from-victory over Republican Bush in the remaining three of the presidential campaign.

"I think we're going to be Dodgers last night," said running mate, Lloyd Bentsen looked like they were do out, and all of a sudden the home run and won it. I think can do that in the next 24

Bush, alert to that possibility that despite polls that show widening his lead over Dukakis "we're going to keep on our original game plan, keep hard, keep traveling to keep moving forward."

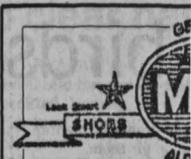

"All I know is to just drive

THE BECOM

on the right earning a living
Clifton, NJ

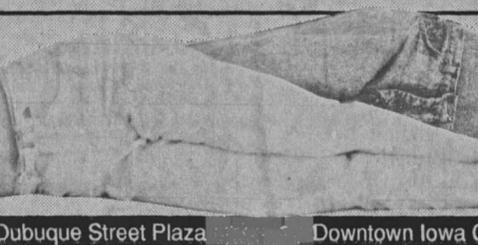

ARMY

Hunter
BRICK
TAUPE
'62

CALL TOLL FREE
1-800-772-1755
In. Wats Postage $1

moda JEANS THAT FIT
AMERICANA

Dubuque Street Plaza Downtown Iowa City

The fire last time...

Chris Harman, author & leading member of the British Socialist Workers Party will speak on the struggles of the late 60s.

1968 and after

Monday, October 17 at 7:30 pm
Minnesota Room, Iowa Memorial Union

Sponsored by Iowa International Socialist Organization

Anyone requiring special assistance to participate in this event, please contact Paul Adams, 335-1252

Politics 1988

Fund-raiser misses fire-up attempt for final weeks of Democratic bid

By Mike Glover
The Associated Press

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — There was frustration in the air along with the usual heated rhetoric as Democrats gathered Saturday for the Iowa Democratic Party's Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner, the party's largest annual fund-raiser, to gear up for the final three weeks of the campaign.

The heated rhetoric is expected when party leaders speak to the faithful who have paid $50 a person and came expecting to be fired up for the final days in the trenches.

The frustration comes with the party's standard-bearer, Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis.

It showed itself in attacks on Republican George Bush that are becoming increasingly harsh. Democratic Sen. Tom Harkin professed himself "outraged" at the "dirty dealing" and "deception" in the Bush camp.

Iowa Democratic Chairwoman Bonnie Campbell in recent days has taken to assailing Bush's "macho, chest-beating" television ads.

Democratic Rep. David Nagle, a former state Democratic Chairman, was more blunt.

"We, as Democrats have fallen into the trap of fighting Republicans on a national level at their game," he said. "The public has responded; it has said 'call us when it's over.'"

Those leaders, and a lot of other activists, are veterans of the electoral trail, and they know well the chemistry of an election.

Analysis

That chemistry doesn't look good for Dukakis at this point, and that frustrates a lot of Democrats who at one point thought this election was won.

Their frustration is intensified because they're forced to publicly defend their candidate, though many are mystified by the direction the Dukakis campaign has taken.

Harkin has taken to using his favorite analogy that politics is "a contact sport," and urged Dukakis to be more aggressive.

In private, the criticism is stronger, as they paint a candidate on the defensive and allowing himself to be defined by the Republicans.

And there's little residual affection for Dukakis among the activists. He finished third in the state's Feb. 8 precinct caucuses after a campaign that earned him respect but little fervor. The activists have endorsed him and will work on his behalf, but it's not a holy war.

House Speaker Donald Avenson, busily campaigning across the state for legislative candidates, made that clear when he spoke with reporters before Saturday's Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner.

While predicting that Dukakis will carry the state, Avenson said he's assuring legislative candidates that the presidential election is "irrelevant" because neither candidate will pile up a big enough margin to have coattails.

The biggest worry, Avenson said, is that neither will the two candidates generate enough enthusiasm to bring out a lot of voters.

"Turnout is my concern," he said. Low-turnout elections, as Avenson well knows, are dangerously unpredictable.

There were other signs that Iowa Democrats have things on their mind other than next month's election.

Aides to Harkin were busily passing out a remarkable document titled "the first step toward victory in 1990."

In it, aides detailed Harkin's political activity on behalf of others for the past four years, with the implicit message that the favor should be returned as Harkin gears up for his re-election bid.

The document pledges that in the week following this year's election, Harkin will launch a series of fund-raisers in Washington and around Iowa.

"Tom's political operation will begin planning 1990 strategy within one week of election day 1988," the document promised. "Tom Harkin plans on being a winner again in 1990," it concludes.

Say goodbye to post-election breaks from campaigning.

If Harkin lives up to his promise, the week following Nov. 8 should be interesting.

World Series analogies inspire politicians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats found inspiration Sunday in the Los Angeles Dodgers' win in the first game of the World Series, saying that Michael Dukakis can still pull off a come-from-behind victory over Republican George Bush in the remaining three weeks of the presidential campaign.

"I think we're going to be like the Dodgers last night," said Dukakis' running mate, Lloyd Bentsen. "It looked like they were down and out, and all of a sudden they hit a home run and won it. I think we can do that in the next 24 days."

Bush, alert to that possibility, said that despite polls that show him widening his lead over Dukakis, "we're going to keep on with our original game plan, keep working hard, keep traveling to key states ... keep moving forward."

"All I know is to just drive down to the wire," the vice president said.

Dukakis acknowledged in Boston that he is entering the last leg of the long campaign as an underdog, but advised Republicans not to pop champagne corks too early because "we're going to be the ones celebrating on election night."

He said he will continue fighting for the values he believes in. He said Bush, as vice president, "sat on the sidelines for eight years while America got beaten in world markets, while they mortgaged our children's future to a mountain of debt, and a piece of America was being sold off every day at bargain basement prices."

The World Series analogy was used by several Democrats.

"It's an extremely close race," said Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., on ABC's "This Week with David Brinkley."

"You're going to see Mike Dukakis come on like Kirk Gibson in the bottom of the ninth inning last night in that game with two outs ... he could barely walk around the base path, but he knocked a home run to win the game," Gore said.

The Dodgers beat the Oakland Athletics, 5-4, in that first game of the Series.

Bush told reporters in Denver that he already has a team studying the transition to a Bush presidency and that he is ready to name his Cabinet quickly. Former Navy Undersecretary Chase Utermeyer heads the Bush transition team.

"He has drawn up wiring diagrams, what we should do if we win," Bush said. "You have to hit the ground running."

Harkin calls Quayle on 1980 embargo vote

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Vice-presidential nominee Dan Quayle, while hammering away at Democrats this year for the 1980 grain embargo, himself voted four times against lifting the controversial trade policy in 1981, according to an Iowa Senator.

"Four times in one day, Dan Quayle voted against ending the grain embargo," said Sen. Tom Harkin, D-Iowa.

The embargo was imposed by former President Jimmy Carter after the Soviets invaded Afghanistan and was lifted by President Ronald Reagan on April 24, 1981, about three months after he took office.

Harkin noted a series of votes in the Senate on March 24, 1981, concerning the embargo. Harkin said that Quayle voted to continue the grain embargo on these four occasions:

- An amendment sponsored by Sen. Edward Zorinsky, D-Neb., that would have ordered President Reagan to lift the embargo on April 15, 1981. Quayle voted with the majority in defeating the amendment 65-33.

- An amendment offered by Iowa Republican Sen. Roger Jepsen calling for a non-binding resolution to end the embargo. It was approved on a 58-36 vote, with Quayle voting in opposition.

- Two other non-binding amendments, one sponsored by then Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., calling for another non-binding resolution prohibiting agricultural imports from the Soviet Union so long as the grain embargo on U.S. exports to the Soviet Union was in effect. The Baker amendment passed 80-14, the other 90-6, with Quayle in opposition.

Peace Corps... the benefits are out of this world.

While working in the Peace Corps, you help others to help themselves and you benefit yourself. Some of these benefits are:

- Valuable overseas work experience—helpful when applying to graduate schools and jobs after Peace Corps;
- Language skills;
- Postponement of educational loans;
- A $4,200 readjustment allowance at the end of your two years;
- And much more! Look us up. You won't regret it.

Come see the new Peace Corps film:

Mon., 10/17 & Tues., 10/18

7:00 pm-Indiana Rm., Iowa Mem. Union

Placement Office Interviews:

Tues., 10/25 & Tues., 1/11

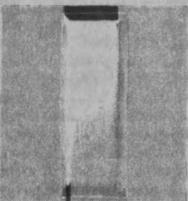

Sign up now in Memorial Union, Rm. 380

Peace Corps.
the toughest job you'll ever love

THERE ARE TWO SIDES TO BECOMING A NURSE IN THE ARMY.

And they're both represented by the insignia you wear as a member of the Army Nurse Corps. The caduceus on the left means you're part of a health care system in which educational and career advancement are the rule, not the exception. The gold bar on the right means you command respect as an Army officer. If you're earning a BSN, write: Army Nurse Opportunities, P.O. Box 7713, Clifton, NJ 07015. Or call toll free 1-800-USA-ARMY.

ARMY NURSE CORPS. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

GENUINE

Authentic

Hunter
BRICK
TAUPE
'62

FRESH
FASHION DESTROYED LEATHER...

Whitney
BLACK
BRICK
'74

Walk In To ...

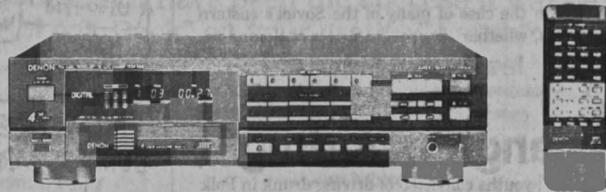

Men's • Women's & Children's Shoes

CALL TOLL FREE 1-800-772-1755
In. Wats Postage $1

OLD CAPITOL CENTER 338-2946

We Offer Park & Shop

If you're buying a CD-player, do yourself a favor. Buy it without the hype.

Just the facts ma'am. At Audio Odyssey, we don't bombard you with a barrage of hype and hoopla. We explain what makes one CD-player sound better than another in simple, easy-to-understand terms.

Better selection. We have over 15 different models to choose from and manufacturers that read like a "Who's who" in the audio industry: Adcom, Denon, Nakamichi, and SONY ES.

Competitive prices. You don't survive in this business for 18 years by not offering competitive prices. But no matter how much of a discount we or any other store offer, if it's on the wrong product for you, you've paid too much. That's why we have experts who work with you to determine exactly the equipment you need.

After the cash register has rung. A lot of stores advertise "service after the sale." At Audio Odyssey we live up to that promise with local service on every player we sell plus a loaner program if we can't fix your player in seven days.

Save 10% on every CD-player through 10/22!

Audio Odyssey... We Sell Excitement!

409 Kirkwood • Iowa City • 338-9505
Mon & Thurs. 10:30-8:30; Tues., Wed. & Fri. 10:30-6:00; Sat. 10:30-5:00

Viewpoints

© 1988 Student Publications Inc.

Volume 121 No. 74

Editor/Chris Lamb
Managing Editor/Joe Levy
Editorial Page Editor/John Golden
University Editor/John Bartenhagen
Assistant University Editor/Hilary Livengood
City Editor/Sara Anderson
Assistant City Editor/Heather Maher
News Editor/Ami Shaw
Nation/World Editor/Paul Stolt
Sports Editor/Brent Woods

Assistant Sports Editors/
Neil Lewis
Matthew Zlatnik
Arts/Entertainment Editor/Steve Donoghue
Assistant Arts/Entertainment Editor/
Locke Peterseim
Freelance Editor/Jay Casini
Photo Editor/Todd Mizener
Assistant Photo Editor/Scott Norris
Graphics Editor/Laura Speer

Publisher/William Casey
Business Manager/Maria Fecht
Advertising manager/Jim Leonard
Assistant advertising manager/Cathy W
Classified ads manager/Maxine Eicher
Circulation manager/Francis R. Lalor
Day production manager/Gene Dieken
Night production manager/Robert Foley

Ray of hope

Environmentalists should be encouraged by action taken by the Brazilian government last week. In a surprising move, Brazilian President José Sarney announced a program to slow the destruction of the country's rain forests.

The surprising reversal in Brazilian government policy consists of the cessation of tax credits and other government incentives that formerly encouraged development harmful to the rain forests. Also, cattle grazing will be greatly curtailed in the Amazon rain forest and totally forbidden in the Atlantic forest.

The changes came not a moment too soon. The Atlantic rain forest is believed to have formerly extended for 140,000 square miles; today, only 4,000 square miles remain, less than 3 percent of the original.

The turnaround in policy is credited partially to Brazilian scientists. Other important factors, however, are believed to be pressure from foreign critics and especially influence from international monetary organizations. The World Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank have also played particularly crucial roles. These organizations showed social conscience by not approving new loans that would have funded further projects destructive to the rain forests.

Both Brazil and its critics deserve credit and praise for this new environmental policy. This eleventh-hour action is a laudable first step toward a more global environmental view. Nations should be pressured to preserve natural resources within their own borders in order to make a better future for all of Earth's inhabitants.

All of us share the Earth, and irresponsible environmental policies by one nation harm all of us. Brazil's action can serve as an impetus to the United States to get its own ecological house in order.

John Nichols
Editorial Writer

Watching reform

The need for Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's policies of glasnost and perestroika can be seen by looking at the current situations in many of the Soviet Union's eastern European neighbors.

In Poland, government leaders are moving this week to open negotiations with the currently banned Solidarity labor union. The decision to negotiate is not being prompted by any new love of freedom but by an economic crisis that has brought the country to the verge of collapse.

In Hungary, communist party leaders have announced radical plans to force most of Hungary's industries to operate on a free-market basis, trying to force the economy of the country out of its decade-long lethargy.

In Czechoslovakia, thousands of demonstrators turned out several months ago, despite a government ban, to protest the twentieth anniversary of the Soviet invasion of that country which ended the so-called "Prague Spring," an attempt at reform similar to what Gorbachev is attempting in the Soviet Union today.

And in Yugoslavia, ethnic rivalries and a huge inflation rate have caused rioting all over the country, forcing the shakeup of the government and leading some observers to predict civil war could break out at any time.

The problems occurring in Eastern Europe are a direct result of the inefficiencies of the communist systems established there, systems that are patterned on the Soviet form of government.

Gorbachev's policies of reform are an attempt to turn the Soviet system around. The question is whether those policies can do that or, as in the case of many of the Soviet's eastern European neighbors, whether they're simply too little and too late.

James Cahoy
Editorial Writer

Most dangerous drug

In the near future, youths convicted of driving drunk in Polk County are going to be subjected to a slightly different form of punishment by local authorities. Citing the continuing problems associated with youths who drive while under the influence of alcohol — there have been 239 arrests in the past nine months alone — a form of "scare therapy" will now be implemented to treat the growing problem.

Previously, youths found guilty of driving under the influence of alcohol were required to perform varying amounts of community service. This punishment/rehabilitation method is fairly common but, according to numerous studies, is also fairly ineffective in stopping the problem.

So the Polk County form of rehabilitation will forsake the community service requirement and instead implement a program where convicted youths will be given the grand tour of specific facilities and departments in the area. Namely, local morgues, emergency rooms and accident scenes.

The plan, called "Witness the Victim," is basically designed to scare the hell out of these youths with firsthand examples of what happens to those who drink and drive. The youths participating in this program will also be required to complete a 1,000 word essay concerning what they through their participation in the program.

"Witness the Victim" is modeled after a similar program in California — a program that has been successful in initial stages. Much attention should be paid to this innovative approach in the coming months. While the current administration continues to harp on the evils of "drugs" in our society, here's an example of a community admirably taking measures against the effects of America's number one drug — alcohol.

John Golden
Editorial Page Editor

Opinions expressed on the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan are those of the signed author. The Daily Iowan, as a non-profit corporation, does not express opinions on these matters.

Blessed are the many liberals

Some people say we have enjoyed, for the past eight years, a reign of unprecedented prosperity. Another point of view says we have endured rather than enjoyed these years. The entire debate brings to the fore complex issues of point of view, not to mention annual income and job security. Conservatives tend to characterize this time period in glowing terms. Liberals tend to look worried when the topic comes up.

I know conservatives and liberals who are not insane. I know at least one of each who can reason through knotty philosophical problems with precision and care. Whence this difference in perception of the last eight years? We all live in one country. We share the same news media, clothing styles and musical fads. How can two sane people see their world so differently?

Though I do not have the answer, some unusual angles occurred to me last night while reading the Bible. It wasn't exactly Luther's thunderstorm or Paul's blinding on the road to Damascus. Still, in reading the prophets, who despite or because of their severity are my favorite biblical authors, I developed instructive connections. Contemporary liberals are reminiscent of the prophets in their behaviors and society's reaction to them.

God has never been one to allow his prophets to mince words. Isaiah (1:23) didn't worry about accusations of negativity. He tells us immediately what people are doing which so infuriates God: "Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them." He goes on to detail why they are a sick society, culminating with a titanic rebuke: "What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor?" (Isaiah 3:15)

Kim Painter

Many Americans who had a home in 1980 now find themselves without one; the statistics include alarming numbers of children. It is also true that during this time the economy, particularly the service sector, has grown by leaps and bounds. Many people are convinced that we are embarked on the right governmental path because of this news. I pored the breadth of the Old Testament; there were no references to the service sector of the economy. Maybe that comes after the rapture.

Since 1980, the wealthiest 1 percent of our population has gathered unto itself more of the country's wealth than ever before. God's displeasure with periods when society's wealth is concentrated in too few hands rivals that of the stock market. In Jeremiah (5:28-39), we find a typical remark directed from God, through a prophet, to the rich and powerful: "They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper, and the right of the needy do they not judge. Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?" God seems to be of the opinion that those who possess wealth possess responsibilities in direct proportion to it. All I hear from those representing the wealthy in public life today is that they should not be taxed; it might be bad for economic expansion.

God's prophets consistently told the mainstream things they didn't want to hear. Today it is much the same. Those who cast society in terms less than perfect are all but throttled for their impertinence. Yet Isaiah (5:13-14) said to his countrymen: "Therefore my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge: and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst. Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it." Imagine hearing that in a political debate.

One can envision the reaction back then, one knows full well why prophets know no honor in their own countries. "Hey, wouldja shuddup about the dad-blasted reckoning? We're in the middle of a hostile takeover bid here!" "Give it up about the faces of the poor, okay? We've had enough of you liberals calling this a sick society. Righteousness is a nice ideal, but it's incompatible with the modern world. Grow up and get yourself an interview suit. You'll never amount to anything with those rags, tangled hair, and wild-eyed looks." In a world where there are no prophets, liberals are the next best thing. Further, it is no great wonder that conservatives hoard the Bible, that they make great shows of thumping it, waving it, and promoting rituals loosely based on it. There are mighty heathen worlds in there. But for whom are they intended? The group which successfully controls access to the sanctuary wins the temporal battle. They get to call the other guys names and chase them from the temple. But the Bible is larger than the sum of all the tiny people who make a dishonest living off it.

It may be true what conservatives say, that liberals are not fit to govern efficiently over long periods. The political pendulum may swing from side to side for good reason. But in this election year, let us not forget that the liberal's task of taking society to task is a great and ancient tradition, honored by God (Isaiah 31:5-8):

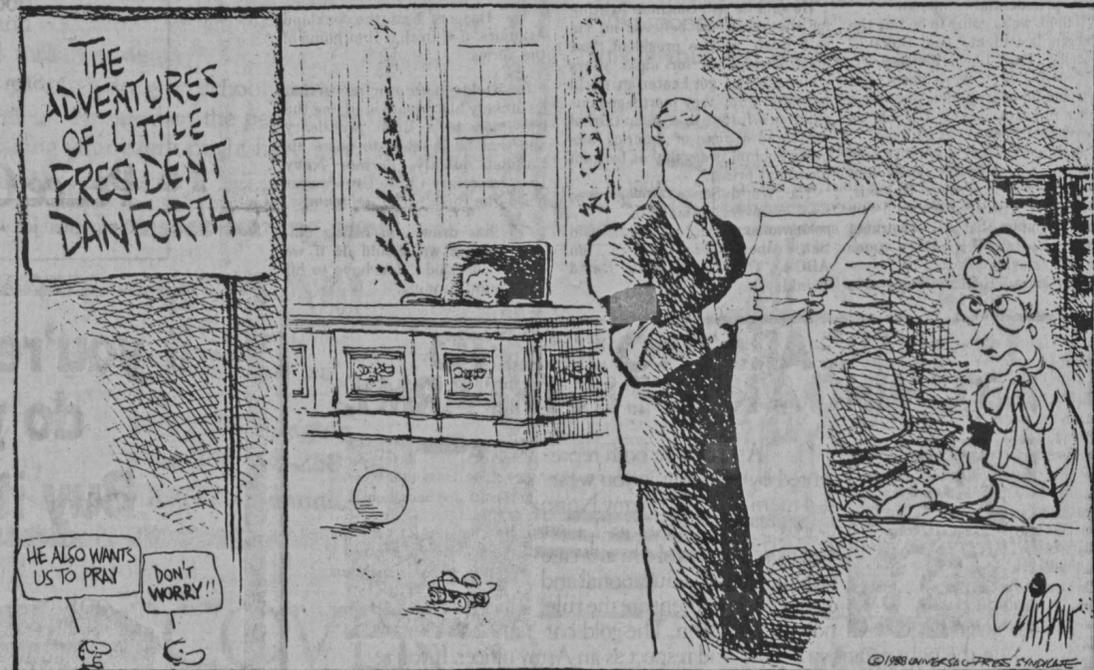

The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful.

For the vile person will speak villainy, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the Lord, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right.

But the liberal deviseth liberal things, and by liberal things shall he stand.

Kim Painter's weekly column appears on the Viewpoints page Mondays.

'HERE ARE THE NEW PRESIDENT'S FIRST INSTRUCTIONS: ICE CREAM AND PLENTY OF IT. TWENTY HAMBURGERS, LARGE FRIES AND TEN COKES. HE GETS TO STAY UP LATE AS HE LIKES, AND HE WANTS A PONY.'

Shopping is strictly for the birds

I still haven't figured out why it's such a big deal that Bloomingdale's, the New York department store, has opened a branch in Chicago.

The newspapers, TV stations and disk jockeys have become giddy over the arrival of the store.

And the silliness may have peaked when a gushy female reporter from The New York Times called and asked me to describe my own excitement.

I explained to her that while certain activities excite me, most of which I would not describe to a respectable woman, the opening of the Bloomingdale's store is not one of them.

Furthermore, I said, this is not Wyoming. We already have enough famous, high-priced stores in Chicago to satisfy the self-indulgence of every coke-sniffing pork-belly trader in town, as well as their wives, mistresses or any other sex objects of their choice.

Not easily discouraged, the New York reporter asked: "Are you going to shop at Bloomingdale's?" "No," I said. "Why not?" "Because I don't shop." "Everybody shops," she said. "Not me. I do not shop."

"Then how do you get your clothes?"

An interesting question. So I explained.

About five years ago I was in my closet looking for something to wear that didn't have any gray stains on the lapels. As I searched the cluttered room, I realized that I had enough garments and shoes to open a men's shop.

Mike Royko

That's because I never throw any clothes away. I have suits, shoes, jackets, slacks and shirts that are more than 25 years old.

Some of the trousers are worn thin in the seat. But if you wear shorts that match the trouser color, few will notice. And many of the jacket sleeves have holes at the elbows. But you can get a leather patch sewn on for a few bucks, then pose as a professor of literature.

Most of the shoes have holes in the bottom. But in dry weather it doesn't matter. And for winter I have Luigi, my neighborhood shoemaker, give a few pair a rehab. As I went through this ancient but vast wardrobe, counting each item, digging some out from under old luggage, something remarkable occurred to me.

After making a count, I called an actuary and asked him how long I could expect to live. He said that based on my personal habits, a few minutes or maybe an hour. But based on his statistical tables, a few more decades. I did mental calculations: How many shirts per year, how many shoes, how many slacks, sweaters, jackets and so on.

And I realized that even if I lived to a ripe, even rancid, old age, I would never again have to buy another garment.

I even set aside my least shiny suit and a shirt with a sturdy collar button to be buried in. (However, that won't be necessary, because I have since redone my will, instructing my wife to stuff my remains in a Hefty bag, and call the ward sanitation superintendent for a special pickup.)

One of the benefits of having all these old clothes is that every once in a while, some of them come back in style. If I could find my original zoot suit, bought when I was 17 from Smokey Joe's on Halsted Street, I'd be a sensation in the Hard Rock Cafe.

On the other hand, one of the disadvantages is that I frequently look like a bum. However, there are advantages to that disadvantage. For one thing, if you look as rumpled and frayed as I usually do, you're less likely to be mugged. In fact, when I walk down a street, people who see me approaching sometimes cross to the other side, fearing I might mug them.

Anyway, I explained all this to the New York reporter. Being clever, she said: "Yes, but what about socks and undergarments? You have to shop for them."

Not so. My wife buys them for me, although my favorite brands are becoming harder to find with the decline of Army-Navy surplus stores.

Sounding amazed, the reporter said: "You're the first person I've talked to who never shops. I can't believe it."

So I told her that I wasn't being entirely truthful. I admitted that I sometimes make purchases at a Salvation Army resale shop.

"Ah," the reporter said, "I'll shop after all."

Of course, I said. I have loved ones and I have to get them something for Christmas and birthdays.

Mike Royko's syndicated column appears periodically on the Viewpoints page.

Letters to the Editor must be typed and must be signed. Unsigned or untyped letters will not be considered for publication. Letters should include the writer's telephone number and address. Letters should be brief and The Daily Iowan reserves the right to edit for length and clarity.

Nation/W Foul play in Pakis

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — Sabotage or another crime caused a plane crash that President Mohammed Zia the U.S. ambassador, others, said a report released by a U.S.-Pakistani team.

The 365-page report ruled out a mechanical failure in the crash of Hercules C-130 port plane, said Pakistan commander Abbas Mirza, a 27-page summary to report a hastily called news conference. "After a thorough analysis, available evidence, the board was unable to substantiate technical reason for the accident," the report by four U.S. investigators and six Pakistani officers.

"In the absence of the technical cause, the only other cause of the accident is the presence of a criminal act or leading to the loss of control and the (crash)," it said.

In Washington, U.S. State Department spokesperson Nancy said U.S. officials received a report and "we are sure it. She made no further comment. All 30 people aboard the plane were killed, including U.S. ambassador Arnold Raphel; defense adviser, Brig. Gen. M. Wasson; and five top Pakistani generals.

Fighting

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — radio reported Sunday the Afghan rebels were killed in a Western diplomat cast.

Meanwhile, the official said 40 Afghan rebels were another firefight Saturday troops in southern Afghanistan.

Radio Kabul, in a broadcast, said two Americans were killed Saturday during Muslim guerrilla positions 60 miles southeast of the city. A Western diplomat in Islamabad did not identify the American.

A Western diplomat in Islamabad said the Pakistani government said he had heard nothing, being killed inside the war zone.

In Washington, State Department spokeswoman Nancy Beck also said she could not say whether the Americans were in Afghanistan.

In recent years, three American citizens in Afghanistan were killed Saturday during Muslim guerrilla positions 60 miles southeast of the city.

The Pakistani government said the Afghan retaliation for repeated rocket attacks said 1,592 rockets blasted days, killing 31 people and 100 wounded.

In a dispatch from Kabul, casualties and said three taken prisoner during a battle near the Pakistan border.

Bakhtar, the official news agency, said the Pakistani government, reported Muslim rebel factions split up war booty in Lahore. Tass said.

Swindall

to waive rights to clear name

ATLANTA (AP) — U.S. Sen. Swindall said Sunday he expected to be indicted Monday by a grand jury investigating money laundering, although he doesn't know on what charges.

Swindall, a Republican, would demand to be tried week so that the case could be heard before the Nov. 8 election bid for a third term against Democrat Ben Jones.

"Not many people are willing to waive all my rights so I can clear my name," said Swindall in a televised interview Sunday.

Swindall's attorney, J.S. Attorney Charles, said he would have no comment on Swindall's statement. Attorney Bob Barr did not immediately return a message left for him.

"I'm actually excited about the indictment. It's the first step I've had to clear my name," he said. "It will clear the air, name and give the voters a clear picture based on the issue."

Angered by continued linking his name with the money laundering charges, Swindall said he would demand the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives on Oct. 17.

Swindall said he would demand he be indicted immediately so he could respond to charges before the election.

Swindall first was linked to the federal money laundering investigation earlier this year when it was disclosed that

Nation/World

Foul play revealed in Pakistan crash

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — Sabotage or another criminal act caused a plane crash that killed President Mohammed Zia ul-Haq, the U.S. ambassador, and 28 others, said a report released Sunday by a U.S.-Pakistan investigative team.

The 365-page report ruled out mechanical failure in the Aug. 17 crash of Hercules C-130 transport plane, said Pakistan air force commander Abbas Mirza, who gave a 27-page summary to reporters at a hastily called news conference.

"After a thorough analysis of the available evidence, the board has been unable to substantiate a technical reason for the accident," said the report by four Pakistani investigators and six U.S. Air Force officers.

"In the absence of the technical reason, the only other possible cause of the accident is the occurrence of a criminal act or sabotage leading to the loss of aircraft control and the (crash)," it said.

In Washington, U.S. State Department spokesperson Nancy Beck said U.S. officials received a copy of the report and "we are studying it." She made no further comment.

All 30 people aboard the plane were killed, including U.S. Ambassador Arnold Raphael; a U.S. defense adviser, Brig. Gen. Herbert M. Wasson; and five top Pakistani generals.

Mirza, who headed the team, said no conclusive evidence had been found to determine the method of sabotage.

He said eyewitness reports and a test of debris ruled out the possibility that the plane had been hit by a surface-to-air missile or suffered a powerful mid-air explosion. But he said a smaller explosion remained a possibility.

He said witnesses had reported the aircraft pitched violently for about two minutes before making a nose-dive.

Mirza also said lab tests of the debris showed unusually large quantities of chemicals used to make explosives, including phosphorus, chlorine, potassium, antimony and pentaerythritol tetranitrate.

He said investigators had assembled a detonator from the same chemicals found in the debris.

The report noted that phosphorus had been found on mango seeds in the wreckage. Earlier reports speculated an explosive device was hidden in a box of mangos offered as a gift and placed aboard at the last minute. Mirza did not comment on the theory.

Among the scenarios Mirza suggested were that the flight crew was drugged, causing them to lose control. But he said that due to the condition of the bodies no autopsies could be performed to test that theory.

Mohammed Zia ul-Haq

The deadly drugs could have been hidden in a gift package or beverage cans, Mirza said.

The report said the plane's elevator booster package, part of the plane's hydraulic system, showed a "high level of contamination." But it stressed that such contamination, while it could cause excessive wear, could not have caused the crash.

Mirza said the phrase "criminal act" referred to the possibility that the pilot or co-pilot could have disrupted cockpit controls intentionally, causing the crash in an open field.

Because there was no voice recorder aboard the aircraft, he said, it was impossible to determine what the crew said.

Fighting claims U.S., Afghan lives

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — Official Afghan radio reported Sunday that two Americans helping Afghan rebels were killed in fighting in Afghanistan. A Western diplomat cast doubt on the report.

Meanwhile, the official Soviet news agency Tass said 40 Afghan rebels were killed or wounded in another firefight Saturday with Afghan government troops in southern Afghanistan.

Radio Kabul, in a broadcast monitored in Islamabad, said two Americans and two Pakistani officers were killed Saturday during a government attack on Moslem guerrilla positions near Gardez city, about 60 miles southeast of the Afghan capital, Kabul. It did not identify the Americans.

A Western diplomat in Islamabad said: "There is no U.S. citizen in Afghanistan on official business."

The diplomat, speaking on condition of anonymity, said he had heard nothing of an American citizen being killed inside the war-torn country.

In Washington, State Department spokeswoman Nancy Beck also said she knew nothing of the report and said she could not even say whether any Americans were in Afghanistan.

In recent years, three Americans have been killed in Afghanistan — Lee Shapiro, Jim Landiloff and Charles Thornton, a reporter for the Arizona Republic newspaper. Details on the first two were not immediately available.

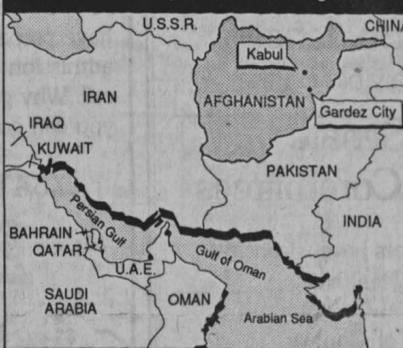

The Pakistani government had no immediate comment on the latest report.

Radio Kabul said the Afghan army offensive was in retaliation for repeated rocket attacks on Gardez. It said 1,592 rockets blasted Gardez in the past 25 days, killing 31 people and injuring another 42.

In a dispatch from Kabul, Tass reported 40 guerrilla casualties and said three armed insurgents were taken prisoner during a battle in Qandahar province near the Pakistan border.

Bakhtar, the official news agency of Afghanistan's Marxist government, reported a shoot-out between rival Moslem rebel factions who clashed over how to split up war booty in Laghman province near Kabul, Tass said.

Two Americans reported dead in Afghanistan

The Daily Iowan/Michael R. Eacott

Six people were killed and one wounded in the fighting between members of the Islamic Party of Afghanistan and Haraket-i Inqilab-Islami, the report said.

In other developments, the Afghan Foreign Ministry sent its 100th note of protest alleging Pakistani violations of the U.N.-brokered agreement aimed at ending the fighting in Afghanistan, Tass said.

The accord, signed April 14 in Geneva, requires the Soviet Union to withdraw its armed forces from Afghanistan by February. The Soviets say half of their more than 100,000 troops are back home.

The Soviets and the Afghans accuse Pakistan of violating the agreement by allowing its territory to be used as a base by U.S.-backed rebel groups and by permitting arms and munitions to cross Pakistan to the insurgents.

The Soviets intervened in Afghanistan in December 1979 to preside over the replacement of one Marxist ruler by another and stayed on to fight the insurgency.

Swindall plans to waive rights to clear name

ATLANTA (AP) — U.S. Rep. Pat Swindall said Sunday he expects to be indicted Monday by a federal grand jury investigating drug money laundering, although he doesn't know on what charges.

Swindall, a Republican, said he would demand to be tried next week so that the case could be heard before the Nov. 8 election. Swindall is locked in a tight reelection bid for a third term against Democrat Ben Jones.

"Not many people are willing to do what I'm going to do. I'm going to waive all my rights so I can clear my name," — U.S. Rep. Pat Swindall

"Not many people are willing to do what I'm going to do. I'm going to waive all my rights so I can clear my name."

Swindall was introduced to the undercover agent by Charles LeChasney, a former Atlanta businessman who was active in Republican circles. LeChasney was indicted in January on multiple money-laundering charges stemming from the federal investigation.

LeChasney and several Swindall aides testified before the grand jury last month. Swindall testified before the grand jury in February.

In June, Atlanta newspapers obtained several tape recordings from the investigation and published excerpts from a series of conversations between Swindall, LeChasney and the undercover agent.

Angered by continued reports linking his name with the grand jury investigation, Swindall took the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives on Oct. 3 to demand he be indicted immediately so he could respond to the charges before the election.

Swindall first was linked publicly to the federal money laundering investigation earlier this year when it was disclosed that his Aug.

3 S. Korean convicts die in shoot-out

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Three escaped prisoners holding a family hostage died and a fourth was captured Sunday in a dramatic shoot-out. One prisoner remained at large climaxing a weeklong manhunt involving tens of thousands of police.

The five prisoners were among 12 who opened handcuffs with a makeshift key during their transfer in a prison bus Oct. 8 and fled with a loaded pistol. Seven prisoners have been recaptured or surrendered.

Saturday night, four fugitives armed with the pistol and knives raided the home of Ko Yong-soo, a 50-year-old office worker, in northwestern Seoul and held Ko's wife, four daughters and a son hostage.

Ko returned home early Sunday but said he escaped and called police after the drunken guards fell asleep. More than 500 armed policemen immediately sealed off the house and anti-terror units huddled under the walls.

During their confrontation with police, the prisoners fired several shots, threatening the lives of hostages. They ignored appeals from their relatives to surrender but released Ko's wife and 11-year-old son.

Shortly after noon Sunday, there were several minutes of screams and gunfire, and police rushed into the house, removing one prisoner and dragging out another.

Agreement reached for Philippine bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has agreed to pay the Philippines $481 million annually and back a bond program to help ease the country's foreign debt as part of a lease agreement for U.S. military bases, Foreign Secretary Raul Manglapus said Sunday.

Secretary of State George Shultz and Manglapus planned to sign the pact on Monday. In Manila, Philippine President Corason Aquino announced the expected signing but provided no details.

A U.S.-Philippines working group picked away at the details of the agreement on Saturday and again on Sunday. While some technical points remained to be resolved, the signing ceremony tentatively was set for Monday afternoon.

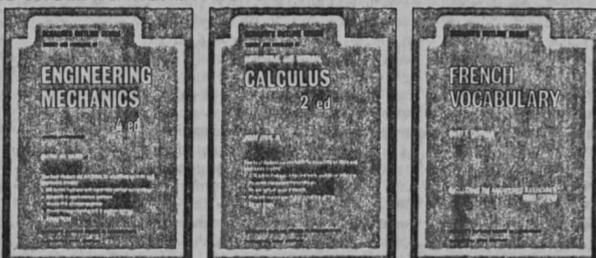

"We still continue to be hopeful to conclude the negotiations," said Alex Almasov, a State Department press officer.

Manglapus, in a telephone interview, said Aquino had given the "go signal" for the pact, but he said some issues were still being discussed. "There is still time to move things around," he said. Manglapus provided some specific details of the two-year agreement.

The cash payments would be a big increase over the current $180 million in U.S. military and economic aid attached to the bases but only a slight boost over the amount of U.S. aid channeled to Manila since Aquino came to power in 1986. The amount is less than half that sought by the Philippines when talks began in April.

Students agree — when it comes to better grades, Schaum's makes the difference.

SCHAUM'S OUTLINE SERIES

Today's #1 choice in study aids—offering BASIC THEORY plus hundreds of SOLVED PROBLEMS. How would you like a personal tutor...available 24 hours a day...for a fraction of the cost? That's the kind of expert help Schaum's Outlines put at your fingertips. Confused about basis theory? Schaum's makes it simple. Eager to test yourself before others test you? Schaum's has the problems and the answers. You're really prepared with Schaum's—and your grades will show it.

Look for all the titles in Schaum's Outline Series—including:

- | | | |
|--|---|---|
| ACCOUNTING
Accounting I, 3/ed
Accounting II, 2/ed
Bookkeeping and Accounting, 2/ed BUSINESS, ECONOMICS
Business Statistics, 2/ed
Macroeconomic Theory
Microeconomics Theory, 2/ed
Money & Banking COMPUTERS
Computer Graphics
Computers and Programming
Programming with Basic, 3/ed Programming with Fortran
Programming with Pascal
Programming with Structured COBOL ENGINEERING
Electric Circuits, 2/ed
Electromagnetics
Electronic Circuits | Engineering Mechanics, 4/ed
Feedback and Control Systems
Fluid Mechanics & Hydraulics
Strength of Materials, 2/ed
Thermodynamics ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY
Basic Circuit Analysis
Basic Electricity
Digital Principles, 2/ed
Electronic Communications ENGLISH, FOREIGN LANGUAGES
English Grammar
French Grammar, 2/ed
French Vocabulary
German Grammar, 2/ed
German Vocabulary
Spanish Grammar, 2/ed
Spanish Vocabulary MATHEMATICS
Advanced Calculus
Beginning Calculus | Calculus, 2/ed
College Algebra
Differential Equations
Linear Algebra
Mathematical Handbook of Formulas and Tables
Probability & Statistics
Trigonometry
Vector Analysis SCIENCE
Applied Physics, 2/ed
College Chemistry, 6/ed
College Physics, 7/ed
Genetics, 2/ed
Human Anatomy & Physiology
Organic Chemistry
Physical Chemistry, 2/ed SOCIAL SCIENCES, EDUCATION
Introduction to Psychology
Introduction to Sociology |
|--|---|---|

Iowa Book & Supply Co.

Downtown Across from the Old Capitol
Open this week: 8-8 M-F, 9-5 Sat; 12-4 Mon.

The 1988 Homecoming Executive Council would like to thank the following businesses and people for their contributions during Homecoming '88.

Without their cooperation and donations, Homecoming at the University of Iowa would not have been the success it was. We "Look Back" on your gratitude and "Move Ahead" with future endeavors!

- | | |
|--|---|
| Arby's
Barfunkel's
Bushnell's Turtle
Bo James
Eicher Florist
Every Bloomin' Thing
Canton House
Fries Barbeque and Grill
Giovanni's
Heaven Scent
Herten and Stocker
Jacks Discount
Mama Capone's
Osco Drug
McDonald Florist
Super Spud
Sueppel's Flowers
Soap Opera
Rocky Roccoco's
People's Drug
University Spirit
First National Bank
Perpetual Savings and Loan
Cerka Costume Rental
Hartig Motors
FM101 and Ted Jacobsen
Hy-Vee Food Stores and Lynn Blanchard
Delta Tau Delta Pledge Class
Phi Kappa Theta fraternity
Monte Whitlock
Bob Kutcher
Aero Rental
Iowa City Community Schools-
and Beth Saxton | Window Decoration Contest-participating businesses
KING/QUEEN JUDGES
Emil Rinderspacher
Jim Niblock
Lillian Washpun
Liz Pearce-Burton
Andy Piro
Rich Wretman
Norma Brooks
Beth Weber
Sports Information Department and George Wine
Bump Elliot
The University of Iowa
Sports Night participating athletes and coaches
Fred Mims
IMU ADMINISTRATION
Jean Kendall
Candace Fowler
University of Iowa Relations Committee
University of Iowa Foundation
IMU State Room
University Box Office
City of Iowa City
Police Department
Fire Department
Army ROTC
N&N Sanitation
Eagle's in Coralville |
|--|---|
-
- | | |
|--|--|
| FLOAT WINNERS
Overall-Sigma Phi Epsilon/Zeta Tau Alpha Creativity-Sigma Alpha Mu/Sigma Kappa Originality-Sigma Pi
Most Artistic-Starship Riverside
Star Trek Fan Club WINDOW DECORATIONS
1. Delta Gamma/Phi Delta Theta at T. Galaxy
2. Pi Beta Phi/Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Banc Iowa
3. Alpha Phi/Sigma Tau Gamma at Art World | HIGH SCHOOL BAND WINNERS
1A-Norway High School
2A-Wilton High School
3A-Cascade High School
4A-Iowa City West High School LAWN DISPLAY
1. Bob and Mary Frees
2. Pi Beta Phi/Sigma Alpha Epsilon
3. Alpha Chi Omega |
|--|--|

Liam Casey manager/Marlea Fecht manager/Jim Leonard vertising manager/Cathy s manager/Maxine Eicher anager/Francis R. Lalor on manager/Gene Dieken tion manager/Robert Foley

erals liberals are the next best rther, it is no great won-conservatives hoard the at they make great showing it, waving it, and g rituals loosely based are mighty he...

But for whom are they
? The group which succontrols access to the y wins the temporal they get to call the other es and chase them from le. But the Bible is larger sum of all the tiny people e a dishonest living off it be true what conservatives liberals are not fit to ciently over long periods ical pendulum may swing to side for good reason, is election year, let us not at the liberal's task of ciety to task is a great nt tradition, honored by h 31:5-8):
e person shall be no more ral, nor the churl said to ful.
e vile person will speak and his heart will work o practise hypocrisy, and error against the Lord, to empty the soul of the hune will cause the drink
y to fail.
truments also of the churl
e deviseth wicked devices y the poor with lying even when the needy right.
e liberal deviseth liberal nd by, liberal things shall er's weekly column appears vpoints page Mondays.

birds undergarments? You

p for them."
y wife buys them for me, ny favorite brands are arder to find with the Army-Navy surplus
g amazed, the reporter re the first person I've who never shops. I can't her that I wasn't being thful. I admitted that I make purchases at a army resale shop.

reporter said
...ll."
I said, I have loved ones to get them something as and birthdays.

's syndicated column
odically on the Viewpoints

the Editor must be typed signed. Unsigned articles will not be considered on. Letters should include telephone number and address should be brief and clear and reserves the right to edit and clarify.

Business

Stocks remain safe for wise investors

By Dean Jarnow
Special to The Daily Iowan

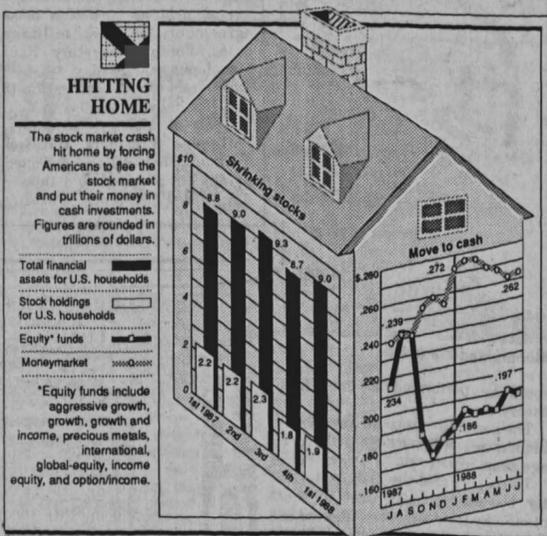

As we approach the anniversary of the infamous crash of the stock market in October of last year, we can't help but ask ourselves what should be our continued strategy as investors. So far it appears that "Black Monday" didn't set the pillars of the financial and economic world crumbling to dust as some had suggested it would. In fact, the economy is in danger of being too strong and sparking inflation rather than recession.

There are a couple of sound and fortunate reasons why nothing else crashed when the stock market did. The "wealth effect" theory stated that people would reduce spending as a result of lost wealth in the stock market. As it turns out, stocks only represent about 20 percent of household assets, and much of that is in unobtainable pension and retirement accounts. The timing of the crash is probably a stronger reason for the resiliency of the economy. Manufacturing, export and heavy industry in general was just beginning to make its revival. The strength of the revival became more apparent after the crash. The Federal Reserve Board also helped by lowering interest rates to enhance continued growth.

So the economy is in fair condition, but what about the stock market? Has it stabilized? Is it falling apart? Stocks are running in place, the Dow has been trading between 1,900 and 2,100 most of the year. Volume and price earnings ratios have dramatically decreased since last October, and there is lower volatility. A closer look at the numbers will show that they are consistent with numbers prior to 1987. Just for fun, if one could have bought the Dow Jones Industrial Ave. on Jan. 1, 1987 and sold on Dec. 31, 1987, there would have been a gain of approximately 0.5 percent. It seems that the market ran up almost as fast as it came down in 1987. Many never really had a chance to realize their gains, so, in effect, wealth was not dramatically reduced for the long-term fundamental investor. The market just slapped us all in the face to make sure we were awake. It would appear to have gotten our attention.

Currently, stocks are not as overpriced as last year, and earnings are increasing in many industries.

Stocks are still recommended for many people in their portfolio; however, make sure that a portfolio is properly diversified among different types of stocks and industries as well as different types of assets. Remember to buy quality, good earnings and revenue growth.

Poor principles and methods will get poor results. Sound principles and methods will create sound results. Dean Jarnow is president of DJIA Financial Services, a full-service brokerage firm, located at 513 Kirkwood Ave., Iowa City.

Poll finds market crash left Iowans virtually unscathed

DES MOINES (AP) — Despite dire predictions, the stock market crash a year ago has not had much of an impact on individuals or businesses in Iowa, and many Iowa stocks have recovered all of the value lost when the bottom fell out of the market on Oct. 19, 1987.

In Iowa, retail sales have been consistently higher since the crash, which saw a 500-point drop in the Dow average. Also, the unemployment rate has dropped and there were 44,300 more Iowans working by late summer this year than there were when the market reached its pre-crash peak in August 1987.

An Iowa Poll by the Des Moines

Register shows most Iowans didn't feel the sting of the crash, with 70 percent saying it didn't affect them at all. An earlier Iowa Poll showed about the same percentage of Iowans do not own any stock.

The new poll shows that families with higher incomes were effected more than those with lower incomes. Eighty-one percent of those earning less than $15,000 said the crash did not effect them at all, while the corresponding figure for those earning more than $50,000 was only 48 percent.

Overall, 25 percent said the crash effected them "a little" while only 5 percent agreed the impact was "a lot."

Stock market reports daily

—Attention Students—

Positions are available on the Student Senate

All-University Committees

The following committees have vacancies:

- Student Health
- Iowa Memorial Union
- Athletic Board of Control
- Traffic Court

Applications are due Oct. 20

Pick up applications in the Student Senate Office.
For more information please contact James Lee at 335-3417.

ASK ABOUT LARGEST STUDENT DISCOUNTS

CORALVILLE VISION CENTER
Professional Eye Examinations
Specializing in Contact Lenses
Wide Selection of Quality Eyewear

354-5030 1050 5th St. Coralville, IA 52241

Dr. John W. Weihe
Doctor of Optometry

20% Off Sunglitz™ Highlights

Reg. $35. Sunglitz™, summer sun highlights that won't fade into fall! Sunglitz™ One-Step process uses natural shades to perfectly complement hair color. Price includes styling. Sale ends Friday, October 21.

Nexxus® and Sebastian® hair care products always available.

We Offer
Park & Shop
Bus & Shop

Walk in or call for an appointment
Salon hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30 am to 9:00 pm
Sat. 8:30 am to 6:00 pm, Sunday noon to 5:00 pm

The Styling Salon at JCPenney
Salon phone: 338-6475
Old Capitol Center

HERE'S ONE WAY TO REACH OVER 45,000 PEOPLE EVERYDAY.

The Daily Iowan
COUNTLESS THOUSANDS LOVE IT!

HERE'S ANOTHER.

The Daily Iowan
Iowa City's Best Read Newspaper
319-335-5790

Levolor Riviera Mini Blinds

40% 25% OFF

theLinen Closet

116 E. College 351-1099

What if you don't get into the grad school of your choice?

Of course, you may get into another school, but why settle? Prepare for the LSAT, GMAT, GRE, MCAT or any grad school entrance exam with the best test prep organization—Stanley H. Kaplan.

For 50 years, Kaplan's test-taking techniques have prepared over 1 million students for admission and licensing tests of all kinds. So call. Why go to just any grad school, when you can go to the right one?

LSAT classes starting soon

KAPLAN
STANLEY H. KAPLAN EDUCATIONAL CENTER LTD.
DON'T COMPETE WITH A KAPLAN STUDENT—BE ONE

325 E. Washington Suite 208 338-2588
GARY KRITZ - Administrator

S

SIDELINE

Tiebreaker figures again

Another week, tie, another Line winner. Since Iowa again tied, we threw out the counted the Ramapo-C State tiebreaker showdown 10th game.

Marty Scott claimed this week, going 9-1, missing the Purdue upset over State and missing the tie score by just one point.

Ramapo won 21-16, and people had 9-1 ballots.

We were ready to glorify a great American hero, but you know, we had no key away this week and we played just for the sport ulterior motives, just the competition and the spirit.

Wrong. Marty was shocked to hear he had won was a war shake and the pat on the back. "Oh well," he said. "It's a wonderful thing, but it's an empty victory."

So much for patriotism. Marty will surely be playing week, though, because the College St. Club, 1217 1/2 Ave. S.E., have generously donated a frosty keg of a winner, if that person older.

In the Daily Iowan race, staff member Mike "Magic" Trilk the lead from Sports Editor Woods. Trilk went 9-1 to record to 52-18, while slumped to 6-4 to drop his 51-19.

Assistant Sports Editor Zlatnik and Neil Lewis also ground, going 8-2 to improve records to 49-21.

Our guest picker, North football Coach Earle Bruce in a respectable 8-2 shot his team blew out Illinois Saturday. Congratulations. Bet you were sorry to see the Buckeyes lose to Purdue.

The readers as a group. We fully expect a big turnout, as the lack of a ke number of OTL players in past week.

We appealed to your party it didn't work.

This week, thanks to the St. Club, we will appeal just for lager.

To play, circle the teams will win, including the tie on the ballot below. A down a score for the tiebreaker.

Then fill in your name and number and drop it off in Business Office, 111 Correlations Center, by noon Thursday.

There is a three-ballot person, and don't try to crack staff of handwriting here will catch you and embarrass you via this column.

And whoever entered week under the name Schmoie, you get very low originality.

Don't forget to circle the and write down your number.

Amazingly, some of you those two basic requirements with a C or D.

This Week's Games

Iowa at Purdue
Indiana at Michigan
Ohio State at Minnesota
Wisconsin at Northwestern
Michigan State at Illinois
Louisiana State at Florida
Air Force at Notre Dame
Oklahoma at Colorado
Penn State at Alabama
Brigham Young at Hawaii
Tiebreaker:
Fitchburg State
at Curry

Name: _____
Phone: _____

Mini Blinds
OFF Closet
351-1099

don't ne
l of ce?

another school,
LSAT, GMAT, entrance exam ation—Stanley

g soon
N
TER LTD.
NE
on 588 nistrator

The Daily Iowan
Sports
Section B Monday, October 17, 1988

IOWA

field hockey

INSIDE SPORTS
In Evanston, Ill., the sixth-ranked Iowa field hockey team loses to fourth-ranked Northwestern but shuts out Cal-Berkeley. See Page 3B

Tiebreaker figures again

Another week, another tie, another On The Line winner. Since Iowa and Michigan tied, we threw out that game and counted the Ramapo-Glassboro State tiebreaker showdown as the 10th game. Marty Scott claimed the victory this week, going 9-1, missing only on the Purdue upset over Ohio State and missing the tiebreaker score by just one point. Ramapo won 21-16, and 15 other people had 9-1 ballots. We were ready to glorify Marty as a great American hero, because as you know, we had no keg to give away this week and we thought he played just for the sport of it. No ulterior motives, just the thrill of the competition and the American spirit. Wrong. Marty was shocked to hear that all he had won was a warm handshake and the pat on the back. "Oh well," he said. "It's (winning) a wonderful thing, but it's kind of an empty victory." So much for patriotism. Marty will surely be playing next week, though, because the folks at the College St. Club, 121 E. College, have generously consented to donate a frosty keg of ale to the winner, if that person is 21 or older. In the Daily Iowan race, sports staffer Mike "Magic" Trilk wrestled the lead from Sports Editor Brent Woods. Trilk went 9-1 to move his record to 52-18, while Woods slumped to 6-4 to drop his mark to 51-19. Assistant Sports Editors Matt Zlatnik and Neil Lewis also gained ground, going 8-2 to improve their records to 49-21. Our guest picker, Northern Iowa football Coach Earle Bruce, turned in a respectable 8-2 showing and his team blew out Illinois State Saturday. Congratulations, Earle. Bet you were sorry to see the Buckeyes lose to Purdue. The readers as a group went 7-3. We fully expect a big turnout this week, as the lack of a keg cut the number of OTL players in half this past week. We appealed to your patriotism — it didn't work. This week, thanks to the College St. Club, we will appeal to your lust for lager. To play, circle the teams you think will win, including the tiebreaker, on the ballot below. And write down a score for the tiebreaker. Then fill in your name and phone number and drop it off at the DI Business Office, 111 Communications Center, by noon Thursday. There is a three-ballot limit per person, and don't try to cheat. The crack staff of handwriting experts here will catch you and publicly embarrass you via this column. And whoever entered this past week under the name of Joe Schmo, you get very low points for originality. Don't forget to circle the tiebreaker and write down your phone number. Amazingly, some of you forget those two basic requirements every week. Cluck.

This Week's Games

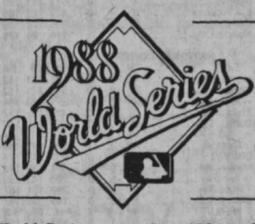

Iowa at Purdue
Indiana at Michigan
Ohio State at Minnesota
Wisconsin at Northwestern
Michigan State at Illinois
Louisiana State at Florida State
Air Force at Notre Dame
Oklahoma at Colorado
Penn State at Alabama
Brigham Young at Hawaii

Tiebreaker:
Fitchburg State
at Curry

Name: _____
Phone: _____

Hershiser's shutout gives L.A. 2-0 lead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Orel Hershiser did everything for the Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday and gave the Oakland Athletics nothing. He held the Bash Bunch to three hits and got three of his own Sunday night as the Dodgers beat the Athletics 6-0 and took a stunning 2-0 lead in games as the World Series moves to Oakland. It was another game, another shutout for Hershiser, another Series victory for "destiny's Dodgers."

World Series game since 1924 and the first ever to throw shutouts in both the playoffs and the World Series. He even threw in a fine fielding play. "I was just fortunate to get my bat on the ball," Hershiser said of his hitting. The A's were fortunate to do the same against him. Hershiser, who has worked almost half his team's innings in the postseason, has an 0.80 earned run average in the postseason and has allowed just three earned runs in his last 92 innings. He is scheduled to start Game 5 in Oakland on Thursday and said he could come back on two days' rest for Game 7 if necessary in Los Angeles on Sunday. "There's a handful of players that if there's a league beyond the majors, they'd be in it. I'm just glad he's on our side," said Dodger right fielder Mike Marshall, who contributed a three-run homer and a triple. "You can see the confidence when we take the field and No. 55 is out there."

The Dodgers again did everything right against the heavily favored Athletics. This time, Los Angeles didn't need miracle man Kirk Gibson, who won Game 1 with a two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth but did not play Sunday because of hamstring and ligament damage. Gibson's status remained day-to-day going into Game 3 Tuesday night in Oakland, when Bob Welch will oppose Los Angeles' John Tudor. Of 38 teams that have won the first two games in the World Series, 28 have gone on to win the championship. The victory marked the 12th consecutive game the home team has won in the World Series. But the Dodgers didn't require the home-field advantage; they had Hershiser. Baseball's most dominant pitcher showed baseball's winningest team something it hadn't seen. Only Dave Parker could solve Hershiser, getting three singles, but twice Mark McGwire followed by grounding into double plays, and Hershiser got even with Parker by striking him out to end the game. McGwire had one more chance, after Parker's two-out single put runners on first and second in the seventh. "I really beared down on him because he with one swing could get them back in the game," Hershiser said. See Series, Page 2B

Hawks, Michigan settle for tie

By Brent Woods
The Daily Iowan

Iowa and Michigan traded fumbles on the 1-yard line and settled for a 17-17 tie before 67,700 at Kinnick Stadium Saturday. The Wolverines appeared ready to put the game away with 1 minute, 21 seconds remaining, but Iowa defensive end Joe Mott salvaged the tie for the Hawkeyes when he recovered Tracy Williams' fumble as Williams was on his way into the end zone for the winning score.

Iowa defensive end Mike Burke, left, noseguard Dave Haight, center, and defensive tackle Jeff Koeppel, right, sandwich Michigan running back Tony Boles during the first half Saturday at Kinnick Stadium. The Hawkeyes held Michigan to 48 yards rushing in the first half.

Football

The turnover set up a desperation drive in the final minute of play, which ended with a batted-down Hail-Mary attempt from Chuck Hartlieb to Marv Cook with no time left. "We had all 11 guys tackle the football, and thank gosh it worked," Iowa Coach Hayden Fry said of the fumble. "I'm sure Bo (Schembechler) and Michigan are just sick." The Hawkeyes also lost the ball on the goal line in the third quarter, when running back Tony Stewart lost the handle attempting to go up and over from the 1-yard line on a fourth-down play. Perhaps more important than the fumble, or the tie, were the new injuries sustained by Iowa players. The Wolverines, 3-2-1, knocked six more Iowa players out of action in the contest while dealing Iowa, 3-2-2, its second tie in Big Ten play. Strong safety Mark Stoops was forced to an early exit when he suffered ligament damage to a knee; freshman free safety Gary Clark was carried off the field on a stretcher after blowing a knee; center Bill Anderson reinjured the knee that forced him to miss two games already this season; linebacker Brad Quast left the game with an undetermined injury; and Stewart limped off the field in the game's final seconds. Noseguard Dave Haight suffered a bruised knee in the second quarter but returned in the second half, and linebacker Jim Reilly, who was in on 14 tackles on the day, left the contest intermittently. "We just got wiped out again from an injury standpoint," Fry said. "It's just incredible." Reilly said Iowa's constant battle with injuries this year is "just one of those things."

"I'm feeling fine; I'll be up and running around tomorrow," Reilly said with his leg in an immobilizing cast. "It's hard to explain. We are well-conditioned, strong — but when you get the right shot there's nothing you can really do." While Fry was worried about trying to keep healthy players on the field, Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler was complaining about the crowd noise. Schembechler said the noise took his team out of its offense, and he appeared to take his team out of scoring position with a second-quarter tirade after the Wolverines were penalized for delay of game. Despite repeated motions by officials, Michigan quarterback Michael Taylor refused to See Football, Page 2B

Fumbles cost teams chances to win

By Bryce Miller
The Daily Iowan

With under two minutes left in the game Saturday at Kinnick Stadium and the Michigan Wolverines inside the 5-yard line, it was time for the Iowa defense to grow up. "You want to get in and strip the ball," Iowa defensive end Joe Mott said. "Michigan kicker Mike Gillette, from as close in as they were, would probably stick it in."

Gillette never got the chance. Tracy Williams took a handoff from quarterback Michael Taylor on second-and-goal from the 1-yard line and plunged over right tackle. Sophomore linebacker Melvin Foster delivered a hit that separated Williams and the ball. Hawkeyes and Wolverines piled on, looking for the ball. Michigan's opportunity to win squirted around under that pile until Mott hauled in the ball and salvaged the Hawkeyes' second tie of the Big Ten season. "The ball was sitting there and I saw it," Iowa senior linebacker Jim Reilly said. "I tried to jump over and I had two hands on it and Joe swiped it up underneath. . . . Luckily, it was somebody on our team." For Iowa's defense, that last stand was the bright spot of a game in which Michigan rallied from a 17-3 deficit behind Big Ten rushing leader Tony Boles.

Boles, who compiled 148 yards on the day, spearheaded a Michigan drive that began on their one-yard line and culminated 99 yards later with a Taylor-to-John Kolesar pass. The ensuing kick knotted the game at 17. "The 99-yard drive is just embarrassing for us," Mott said. "We didn't win, but we didn't lose at the same time." Williams had only touched the ball See Fumbles, Page 2B

Bengals fall to Patriots for first loss

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — The passing of Boomer Esiason was the main ingredient in Cincinnati's 6-0 start. It also was the main reason the Bengals no longer are undefeated. Esiason, the league's leading passer, was picked off five times — he had only three interceptions in the winning streak — and New England, 3-4, used a time-consuming ground attack to upset the Bengals 27-21 Sunday. The Patriots' victory meant every NFL team has lost at least once. With four first-half interceptions and two second-half touchdowns by Reggie Dupard, the Patriots, 3-4, made the big plays. Redskins 33, Cardinals 17 WASHINGTON — Mark Rypien threw for 303 yards and four touchdown passes, two apiece to Art Monk and Gary Clark, for the Redskins, who ended the Cardinals' four-game winning streak.

Rypien hit Monk with 19 and 46-yarders and Clark for 19 and 60 yards. Both teams are 4-3. Browns 19, Eagles 3 CLEVELAND — The Browns' defense throttled Randall Cunningham, sacking him nine times, and let the Eagles get past the Browns' 40 just once. Cunningham, coming off his best professional game in a Monday night win over the Giants, completed 15 of 27 passes for just 114 yards. Bears 17, Cowboys 7 CHICAGO — The Bears knocked Dallas quarterback Steve Pelluer from the game and had five sacks of Danny White, who injured his knee late in the contest. Pelluer suffered a concussion on the third play. Chicago, 6-1 and winner of four straight, had a shutout until 5:07 remained, when Dallas, 2-5, scored as White hit Everett Gay for a 13-yard score. Giants 30, Lions 10 EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — The inept Lions lost their sixth straight after a season-opening victory, being outscored 23-0 in the second half. Detroit lost 19 yards in the third quarter and had a mere 113 yards in offense against the

1988 World Series
WORLD SERIES TV
NBC-TV

GAME 1 Saturday, Oct. 15, 7:30 p.m. Los Angeles defeated Oakland GAME 2 Sunday, Oct. 16, 7:25 p.m. Los Angeles defeated Oakland GAME 3 Tuesday, Oct. 18, 7:30 p.m. Los Angeles at Oakland GAME 4 Wednesday, Oct. 19, 7:25 p.m. Los Angeles at Oakland GAME 5* Thursday, Oct. 20, 7:39 p.m. Los Angeles at Oakland GAME 6* Saturday, Oct. 22, 4:25 p.m. Oakland at Los Angeles GAME 7* Sunday, Oct. 23 7:25 p.m. Oakland at Los Angeles

*if necessary All times CDT

ER.

Sportsbriefs

Fox leads Purdue past Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Brian Fox threw for two touchdowns and ran for another in the second half as Purdue defeated Ohio State 31-26 Saturday in a Big Ten Conference game.

The victory improved Purdue to 3-3 overall and 2-1 in the Big Ten, while Ohio State dropped to 2-4 and 0-3.

Ohio State's 2-4 record is its worst since 1966. The Buckeyes had not lost three straight Big Ten games to open the season since 1943.

Indiana 33, Minnesota 13

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Anthony Thompson rushed for 139 yards and three touchdowns Saturday and became Indiana's career scoring leader as the 18th-ranked Hoosiers beat Minnesota 33-13.

Thompson, a junior with 204 points, supplanted teammate Pete Stoyanovich, whose three extra-point kicks on Saturday gave him 199 points for his career.

The Hoosiers, 3-0 in the Big Ten and 5-0-1 overall, built a 19-7 halftime lead.

Illinois 34, Wisconsin 6

MADISON, Wis. — Keith Jones ran for three touchdowns and Jeff George passed for 306 yards Saturday as Illinois scored 27 second-half points to whip winless Wisconsin 34-6 for its fourth straight victory.

The Fighting Illini, 4-2 overall and tied for the Big Ten lead at 3-0, struck for 17 points in the final five minutes of the third quarter to break open a close game.

Michigan 36, Northwestern 3

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Andre Rison caught two touchdown passes from Bobby McAllister and broke Kirk Gibson's school reception-yardage record as Michigan State beat Northwestern 36-3 for its first victory of the season Saturday.

Gibson, who has switched sports and leads the Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series against the Oakland Athletics, had 2,347 yards in receiving yardage before graduating after the 1978 season. Rison, a senior, caught four passes for 99 yards Saturday and now has 2,395 yards on 123 catches in his four years as a Spartan.

The Homecoming win left the defending Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions 1-4-1 for the season, 1-1-1 in conference play. Northwestern dropped to 0-5-1 and 0-2-1.

Tyson-Bruno fight moved to Jan. 14

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Tyson is now scheduled to defend the heavyweight title against Frank Bruno of Britain on Jan. 14, instead of Dec. 17, at a site to be determined, Bill Cayton, Tyson's manager, said Sunday.

Bruno was scheduled to fly from London to New York on Monday and hold a news conference, apparently to plead his case for the fight to be held in London as scheduled.

Cayton said he understood the news conference was scheduled for 1 p.m. at the New York Hilton.

Tyson doesn't want to fight outside the United States at this time.

"I think the fight belongs in London, but I sympathize with Mike's position," Cayton said. "His attorney (Harold Weitzman) doesn't want him to leave the country for 90 days."

Tyson is involved in a divorce action with his wife of nine months, actress Robin Givens, and also is seeking to have the marriage annulled.

This would indicate the fight will take place in the United States. Three Las Vegas casinos reportedly are bidding to hold the match, which has become an attraction in the United States because of the publicity involving the 22-year-old champion's marital problems.

Cayton met Thursday and Friday with Mickey Duff, Bruno's manager, and with Jarvis Astair, vice chairman of Wembley Stadium and Wembley Arena in London.

Nothing was resolved, Cayton said, except the new date "which has full approval of HBO," which will televise the match.

Bruno was to be accompanied on the flight from London by trainer Terry Lawless.

Scoreboard

Dodgers 6, Athletics 0

OAKLAND	abr h bi	LOS ANGELES	abr h bi
Lanard 3b	3 0 0	Sax 2b	4 1 1
Hendrix cf	3 0 0	Stubbs 1b	2 1 1
Canseco rf	4 0 0	Wooden 1b	1 0 0
Parker lf	4 0 0	Hatcher lf	4 1 2
McGwire 1b	3 0 0	Marshall rf	4 1 3
Hasey 3b	3 0 0	Gonzalez rf	0 0 0
Hubbard 2b	2 0 0	Shelby cf	4 0 0
Weiss ss	3 0 0	Sciocic ss	4 0 0
GDavis 1b	0 0 0	Hamlin 3b	4 0 0
Nelson p	0 0 0	Griffin as	4 1 1
Polonia ph	1 0 0	Hershiser p	3 1 3
Young p	0 0 0
Baylour ph	1 0 0
Oxley ph	0 0 0
Totals	34 6 10 6
Oakland	000	000	0-0
Los Angeles	005	100	00-6

Game-Winning RBIs: Stubbs (1), Hamilton, DP—Los Angeles 2, LOB—Oakland 4, Los Angeles 5, 2B—Hershiser 2, 3B—Marshall, HR—Marshall (1), SB—Weiss (1).

Oakland	H	R	E	R	B	B	S	O
GDavis L-O-1	3	1	3	8	6	6	0	2
Nelson	1	2	3	1	0	0	0	1
Young	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	3
Honeycutt	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	3
Los Angeles	IP	H	R	E	R	B	B	S	O
Hershiser W-1-0	9	3	0	0	2	8
Umpires—Home, Merrill (AL); First, Froemming (NL); Second, Cousins (AL); Third, Crawford (NL); Left, McCoy (AL); Right, Harvey (NL).

Iowa-Michigan Statistics

Michigan	3	7	7	0	17
Iowa	7	10	0	0	17
Iowa—Cook 5 pass from Hartlieb (Skilllet kick)
MU—Gillette 43
Iowa—FG Skillett 32
Iowa—Hudson 5 run (Skilllet kick)
MU—Taylor 5 run (Gillette kick)
MU—Kolesar 24 pass from Taylor (Gillette kick)
A—67,700.

First downs	19	17
Rushes-yards	46-157	34-99
Passing	172	283
Return yards	0	17
Comp-Att-Int	13-22-0	26-33-0
Punts	5-36	3-42
Fumbles-lost	2-2	2-1
Penalties-Yards	8-65	5-34
Time of Possession	31:15	28:45

Big Ten Standings

Conference		Overall
W	L	T	Pct
Indiana	3	0	0	1.000	5	0	1	.917
Illinois	3	0	0	1.000	4	0	0	.857
Michigan	2	0	1	.833	3	2	1	.583
Iowa	1	2	0	.667	3	2	2	.571
Purdue	2	1	0	.667	3	3	0	.500
Mich. St.	1	1	1	.500	2	1	1	.500
Minnesota	0	2	1	.167	2	3	1	.417
N. Western	0	2	1	.167	0	5	1	.083
Ohio State	0	3	0	.000	2	4	0	.333
Wisconsin	0	3	0	.000	0	6	0	.000

Saturday's Results

Illinois 34, Wisconsin 6
Michigan 36, Northwestern 3
Indiana 33, Minnesota 13
Michigan State 36, Northwestern 3
Purdue 31, Ohio State 26

Michigan State at Iowa

Michigan State at Iowa

College Football Scores

MIDWEST
Colorado 21, Kansas 9
Illinois 34, Wisconsin 6
Indiana 33, Minnesota 13
Iowa 17, Michigan State 36
Iowa St. 21, Missouri 3
Michigan 36, Northwestern 3
Nebraska 63, Oklahoma St. 42
Notre Dame 31, Miami, Fla. 30
Purdue 31, Ohio St. 26
EAST
Army 24, Lafayette 17
Connecticut 35, Massachusetts 14
Cornell 35, Brown 0
Dartmouth 38, Harvard 7
Dellaware 10, Villanova 7
Holy Cross 48, Lehigh 24
James Madison 29, Northeastern 13
Maine 26, Rhode Island 14
Penn. St. 30, Colgate 22
Pittsburgh 42, Temple 7
Princeton 41, Buckle 35
Ramapo 21, Glassboro St. 16
Rutgers 17, Boston College 6
Syracuse 24, Penn St. 10
Yale 24, Columbia 10
SOUTH
Alabama 28, Tennessee 20
Auburn 42, Akron 0
Citadel 23, Tr.-Chattanooga 17
Clemson 49, Duke 17
Florida St. 45, East Carolina 21
Jacksonville St. 38, North Alabama 3
LSU 15, Kentucky 12
Louisville 30, Virginia 28
Mississippi St. 25, Arkansas St. 22
Vanderbilt 24, Florida 9
Wake Forest 27, Maryland 24
William & Mary 33, New Hampshire 31
SOUTHWEST
Arkansas 27, Texas 24
Houston 82, Tulsa 28
Oklahoma 70, Kansas St. 24
Texas A&M 28, Baylor 14
Texas Tech 38, Rice 38
Texas-El Paso 34, Colorado St. 14
FAR WEST
Air Force 56, Utah 49
Arizona 45, Washington St. 28
Brigham Young 31, Texas Christian 18
Hawaii 32, San Diego St. 30
Idaho 31, E. Washington 22
Long Beach St. 24, Fullerton St. 22
Nev.-Las Vegas 28, New Mexico St. 20
Oregon 52, Idaho St. 7
San Jose St. 35, Pacific U. 17
Southern Cal 26, Washington 27
Stanford 24, Arizona St. 3

NFL Standings

AMERICAN CONFERENCE
Team	W	L	T
Buffalo	3	2	1
N.Y. Jets	3	2	1
Miami	4	3	0
New England	3	4	0
Indianapolis	5	0	0
Central
Cincinnati	1	0	0
Houston	5	2	0
Cleveland	4	3	0
Pittsburgh	1	6	0
West
Denver	4	3	0
Seattle	4	3	0
L.A. Raiders	3	4	0
San Diego	2	5	0
Kansas City	1	5	1

NATIONAL CONFERENCE
Team	W	L	T
N.Y. Giants	4	3	0
Phoenix	4	3	0
Washington	4	3	0
Philadelphia	3	4	0
Dallas	2	5	0
Central
Chicago	6	1	0
Minnesota	4	3	0
Green Bay	2	5	0
Tampa Bay	2	5	0
Detroit	1	6	0
West
New Orleans	5	2	0
L.A. Rams	5	2	0
San Francisco	5	2	0
Atlanta	1	6	0

Sunday's Games
New England 27, Cincinnati 21
Chicago 17, Dallas 7
New York Giants 30, Detroit 10
Green Bay 34, Minnesota 14
Houston 34, Pittsburgh 14
Los Angeles Raiders 27, Kansas City 17
Cleveland 19, Philadelphia 3
Washington 33, Phoenix 17
Indianapolis 35, Tampa Bay 31
Miami 31, San Diego 28
San Francisco 24, Los Angeles Rams 21
New Orleans 20, Seattle 19
Denver 30, Atlanta 14

Monday's Game

Buffalo at New York Jets, 8 p.m.

Sunday, Oct. 23

Dallas at Philadelphia, 12 p.m.
Denver at Pittsburgh, 12 p.m.
Detroit at Kansas City, 12 p.m.
Houston at Cincinnati, 12 p.m.
Los Angeles Raiders at New Orleans, 12 p.m.
Minnesota at Tampa Bay, 12 p.m.
New England at Buffalo, 12 p.m.
New York Giants at Atlanta, 12 p.m.
Washington vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, 3 p.m.
New York Jets at Miami, 3 p.m.
Seattle at Los Angeles Rams, 3 p.m.
Indianapolis at San Diego, 3 p.m.
Cleveland at Phoenix, 3 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 24

San Francisco at Chicago, 8 p.m.

NHL Standings

WALE CONFERENCE
Team	W	L	T
Patrick Division	4	0	0
Philadelphia	4	0	0
Pittsburgh	3	1	0
N.Y. Islanders	2	2	1
N.Y. Rangers	1	5	1
New Jersey	2	3	0
Washington	2	3	0
Adams Division
Quebec	4	2	0
Boston	3	3	0
Buffalo	3	3	0
Hartford	2	3	0
Montreal	2	3	0

CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

Team	W	L	T
Norris Division	3	0	0
Toronto	2	1	0
St. Louis	1	2	0
Chicago	1	2	0
Minnesota	1	4	0
Smythe Division
Los Angeles	4	1	0
Calgary	2	1	0
Edmonton	2	2	1
Winnipeg	2	2	1
Vancouver	1	3	2

Saturday's Games

New York Islanders 2, Montreal 1
Hartford 7, Chicago 5
Washington 5, New Jersey 5
Pittsburgh 9, St. Louis 2
Detroit 5, Toronto 3
Minnesota 5, Boston 1
Philadelphia 4, Los Angeles 1

Sunday's Games

Edmonton 3, Winnipeg 3, tie
Quebec 5, Buffalo 3
New York Rangers 3, Vancouver 2
Boston at Chicago, (n)

Monday's Games

Toronto at Montreal, 6:35 p.m.
Minnesota at Edmonton, 8:35 p.m.
Los Angeles at Calgary, 8:35 p.m.
Tuesday's Games
Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, 6:35 p.m.
Chicago at Detroit, 6:35 p.m.
Chicago at New York Islanders, 7:05 p.m.

Transactions

BASKETBALL
National Basketball Association
NEW YORK KNICKS—Waived Jeff Cook, center-forward.
FOOTBALL
National Football League
ATLANTA FALCONS—Activated John Scully, offensive guard; Tim Green, linebacker, and Elbert Shelby, safety. Waived Paul Oswald, offensive guard, and Danzell Lee, tight end. Placed Joe Costello, linebacker, on injured reserve.
DENVER BRONCOS—Activated Mark Jackson, wide receiver, from injured reserve.
GREEN BAY PACKERS—Placed Randy Wright, quarterback, and Mark Lee, cornerback, on the inactive list. Waived Albert Bell, wide receiver. Activated Phil Epps, wide receiver.
SEATTLE SEAHAWKS—Claimed Darren Comeaux, linebacker, from waivers. Released Doug Hollie, defensive end.

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

Transactions

Continued from Page 1B

TONIGHT IS JAZZ NIGHT AT MAMA'S
5 South Dubuque St.

MUMM'S MONDAY SPECIAL
Open to Close
$2 Pitchers
Bud, Blue Ribbon, Miller Lite or Bud Light
21 W. Benton (Next to McDonald's)

Micky's Bar & Grill
MONDAY
HAMBURGER w/FRIES in a Basket $1.99 4 to 10 pm
MARGARITA PINTS $2.00
ALL DAY
Open Daily at 11 am
11 S. Dubuque

GABE'S OASIS
330 E. Washington
TONIGHT Chameleon Recording Artists:
The New Marines
75¢ Whiskey Cokes
Tues: Stickdog
Thurs: Game Theory

DOOLEY'S
Starts at Sunset
$1 Margaritas
$3 All The Beer You Can Drink

MOVIES
Astro PUNCH LINE (R) 7:00, 9:30
Englert I & II YOUNG GUNS 7:10, 9:30
EIGHT MEN OUT (R) 7:00, 9:30
Cinema I & II FUNNY FARM (PG) 7:00, 9:15
ALIEN NATION (M) 7:15, 9:30
Campus Theatres FISH CALLED WANDA (M) Daily 1:45, 4:15, 7:10, 9:30
THE ACCUSED (M) Daily 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
ARTHUR 2 ON THE ROCKS (PG) Daily 1:30, 4:00, 7:05, 9:30

MEAT-ME FOR BREAKFAST SPECIALS
5 am to 8 am Monday-Friday during the month of October
2 eggs, 3 links or bacon, toast or 2 mini-cakes.
$1.99
Our 5 most popular Omelets...
IOWA-DENVER-HAWAIIAN-RUEBEN-MEXICAN plus toast
$2.99
only
HAMBURG INN NO. 2 INC.
214 S. Linn 337-5512

College Club
121 E. College
MONDAY NIGHT
50¢ DRAWS $1.50 PITCHERS
ALL NIGHT LONG!
Non-alcohol drinks available for 19 & 20 year old customers

Sports

Northwestern tops Hawkeyes again

By Bryce Miller
The Daily Iowan

The Iowa field hockey team, 10-5, split two games this weekend as its problems with top-five teams continued.

The No. 6 Hawkeyes lost to fourth-ranked Northwestern 2-1 Friday but came back Saturday to beat Cal-Berkeley 2-0 in Evanston, Ill.

Coach Beth Beglin's squad headed to Northwestern with revenge in mind for a 1-0 loss to the Wildcats on Oct. 1 in Iowa City.

The result was similar this time as Northwestern used the most of its opportunities to slide past the Hawkeyes 2-1.

Field Hockey

Both Wildcat goals came on odd plays.

With about ten minutes left in the first half, a long shot went softly toward the cage.

Goaltender Andrea Weiland said she lost the ball in the sun as it flew toward her. The goal gave Northwestern a 1-0 lead.

"I had problems seeing aerial balls in warm-ups because of the sun," Weiland said. "It was just one of those fluke things."

Big Ten scoring leader Erica Richards tied the game in the second half with a marker from the circle off an assist from co-captain Michelle Murgatroyd.

Shortly thereafter, Iowa's Deb Robertson was clearing the ball from the defensive zone when her shot went out of bounds.

Northwestern was awarded a penalty corner on the grounds that Robertson intentionally put the ball out of bounds.

The Wildcats made the penalty shot.

The Hawkeyes questioned the call and Iowa assistant Janet Ryan said the ruling was wrongly made.

"There was no question, that was not intentional," Ryan said. "It was clearly a case of the ball coming off of the stick wierd. They should not have been awarded a corner."

The win gives the Wildcats a two-game lead in the Big Ten.

On Saturday against Cal-Berkeley, Richards scored both goals to bring her season total to 17.

The Hawkeyes have lost each of the five games they've played against teams ranked in the top five. Murgatroyd said Iowa's problems with highly-ranked teams were due to missed chances.

"For the most part, teams in the top ten are relatively equal," Murgatroyd said. "Oftentimes it is who wants it the most or who is (playing well) on a given day."

Hawks place 8th in Kentucky tournament

By Mike Polisky
The Daily Iowan

Interim Coach Jeanie Sutherland and the Iowa women's golf team ended their fall season Saturday in Lexington, Ky.

The Hawkeyes dropped a place from their first-round standing, taking eighth in the 19-team Lady Cat Tournament.

Sutherland, who is graduating this fall, was pleased with how the

Women's Golf

Hawkeyes ended the season.

"I thought we played real well," Sutherland said. "Our two sophomores (Shirley Trier and Stacey Arnold) played great. And considering the conditions (twice the morning rounds were delayed because of frost), the girls played great."

Finishing eighth in a tournament with so many good teams impressed Sutherland.

"We beat all the Big Ten teams, except Minnesota," Sutherland said. "Plus we finished ahead of a lot of tough southern teams — like Western Kentucky and Longwood."

But Trier was disappointed at the tournament's outcome.

"We should have done better," Trier said. "I think that we were pretty tired. Next spring we are going to be tuned up to play."

Arnold already has her sights set on the spring season.

"I can't wait till next season," Arnold said. "We will be a much better team. I know we will all work real hard this winter. There is a lot of hope for the Big Ten tournament."

Iowa finishes last in five-team meet

By Neil Lewis
The Daily Iowan

Illinois showed its team strength to the Hawkeyes once again, taking individual places three through five and taking the team title from the five-team Illinois Invitational field.

Iowa, which finished last, showed it will need to make big strides if it expects to become competitive. Perhaps the first signs of improvement showed this past Saturday in Champaign-Urbana, Ill.

The Hawkeyes' first six finishers each ran personal bests, and senior Rod Chambers placed seventh overall.

Illinois finished with 36 team points. Missouri Valley contends Illinois State and Southern Illinois turned in scores of 43 and 81 respectively. Marquette placed fourth with 94 and Iowa finished with 105.

The individual title was Johnathan Dennis of Southern Illinois with a time of 24 minutes, 20 seconds.

Other Iowa finishers were Sean

Men's Cross Country

Corrigan, in 13th, with a time of 25:19; L.J. Albrecht, 24th, 25:55; Tim Slingsby, 27th, 26:06; Bruce Nie, 34th, 26:40.

Iowa Coach Larry Wiczorek said the satisfaction of seeing his team improve has to be balanced with the fact the team finished last.

"I was real happy with the way all our runners performed," Wiczorek said. "When you run at a new level it's always satisfying."

Chambers was in position to win with 1,000 meters remaining on the 8,000-meter course and contended for third with 600 yards to go.

The Hawkeyes' next competition will be at home for the Big Ten Championship at Finkbine Golf Course Oct. 29.

NFL

lowest-ranked defense in the league.

Packers 34, Vikings 14

MINNEAPOLIS — Suddenly surging Green Bay, which lost its first five games, won for the second consecutive week as Max Zendejas tied a club record with four field goals against Minnesota, 4-3. Don Majkowski hit 19 of 32 passes for 243 yards and the Packers took advantage of 15 Vikings penalties.

Oilers 34, Steelers 14

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Warren Moon made a triumphant return after sitting out five weeks with a fractured shoulder blade. He threw for two touchdowns — hitting Ernest Givins for 43 yards and going 24 yards to Drew Hill.

Houston, 5-2, turned two blocked punts and four Pittsburgh turnovers into all but six of its points.

Raiders 27, Chiefs 17

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Bo Jackson made his 1988 NFL debut in a familiar area and rushed for 70 yards and a touchdown for Los Angeles. Jackson reported to the Raiders last Wednesday after hitting 25 home runs and batting .246 for the Kansas City Royals.

Broncos 30, Falcons 14

DENVER — John Elway passed for 235 yards and a touchdown before leaving the game with an injury in the third quarter, and backup Gary Kubiak fired a 68-yard pass to Steve Sewell as the Denver Broncos defeated the Atlanta Falcons 30-14 Sunday.

Continued from Page 1B

Denver, posting its third straight victory, raised its record to 4-3, while Atlanta, 1-6, suffered its fourth straight loss.

49ers 24, Rams 21

ANAHEIM, Calif. — Roger Craig had the finest day of his pro career and the best outing by an NFL runner this year by rushing for 190 yards and three touchdowns Sunday to lead the San Francisco 49ers to a record-tying 24-21 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

The 49ers' victory gave them 11 consecutive wins on the road, dating back to the second game of last season. The winning streak, which includes seven last season and four this year, matches the mark of the Los Angeles Chargers-San Diego Chargers in 1960-61 in the AFL.

Saints 20, Seahawks 19

SEATTLE — Dave Waymer ran a blocked field goal 58 yards for a New Orleans touchdown in the third quarter Sunday as the Saints won their sixth straight game, 20-19 over the Seattle Seahawks.

It was the ninth consecutive road win for the Saints, 6-1, and Seattle, 4-3, suffered its second straight home defeat.

Dolphins 31, Chargers 28

MIAMI — Dan Marino had his first 300-yard passing game of the season and hit Mark Duper with a 51-yard pass to set up the winning touchdown Sunday as the Miami Dolphins, 4-3, beat San Diego 31-28.

the Vine Tavern
24 Imported Beers At Gilbert and Prentiss
$1.95 SLOPPY JOES 11:30 AM-8:00 PM
10¢ DRAWS 7:00-11:00 MON. THRU THURS.
$2 PITCHERS 11:00 TO CLOSE

The Monday Night Buffet
featuring
Burritos, Enchilladas
Chimichangas, Tacos &
other menu favorites
$5.35 Adults $2.00 Children
GRINGOS
115 East College • 338-3000

Kentucky Fried Chicken.
All You Can Eat

The "You Say When" Special
Monday $3.49
TILL 8:00 PM
IOWA CITY 2310 Muscatine Ave. 351-6180
CORALVILLE 626 1st Ave. 351-5028

212 S. Clinton MAMA CARONE'S 354-8000
MONDAY
LUNCH SPECIAL 11-2:30
PASTA CROCK w/SODA $2.50
DINNER
ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT SPAGHETTI w/salad & Italian bread $3.95
Open To Close

Letta's PIZZA
MONDAY ONLY $4
All-You-Can-Eat Pizza and Salad 5-9 pm
Dine In or Carry Out
Free delivery to Iowa City.
Mon.-Sat. 4 pm-Midnite
Sun. 4-10 pm
321 S. Gilbert Street 337-8200
(Across from Ralston Creek Apts.)

TUESDAY NIGHT TACOS
All you can eat! 5 to 8 pm
featuring
Hard Shell Tacos, Soft Shell Tacos, All-You-Can-Eat Tacos
Adults: $3.50 Children Under 12: $1.95
GRINGO'S 115 E. College 338-3000
Full Menu Also Available
HAPPY HOUR Mon.-Fri. 4 to 6 PM

Monday & Wednesday SPECIAL
TWO SMALL 12" Wedgies
for only $5.95
Cheese plus one topping.
Additional toppings 50¢ each.
Soft Garlic Breadsticks $1.50/order.
351-9282 PAUL REVERE'S PIZZA 354-1552
Westside Dorms Coralville North Liberty River Heights
FREE DELIVERY
Iowa City Eastside Dorms

EDDIE DANIELS
clarinet
"It is a rare event in jazz when one man can all but reinvent an instrument, bringing it to a new state of its evolution"
— L.A. Times
"... possesses a full-bodied tone that flows like a lazy stream in late summer."
— Salt Lake City Tribune
Sunday October 23 8 p.m.
$15/$12/$9 Nonstudent
$12/$9.60/$7 UI Student
UI Students may charge to their University accounts
Call 335-1160 or toll-free in Iowa outside Iowa City
1-800-HANCHER
The University of Iowa Iowa City, Iowa

Hancher
KECK 88.3 Where you and jazz get together

Fellini's 8 1/2
Thursday 8:45 Friday 7:00
ALSO SHOWING THIS WEEK:
Children of Paradise Mon. 6:15
Sleepwalk Mon. 9:45
Nothing Sacred Tues. 7:00, Wed. 9:00
The Strange One Tues. 9:30, Wed. 7:00

"Thoroughly original. Magical!"
— NEW YORK TIMES
From the producer of "CHARLOTS OF FIRE"

LOCAL HERO
Thursday 6:45 Friday 9:30
BNOW

MONDAY SPECIAL Open to Close
Pitchers Bud, Blue Ribbon, Beer Lite or Bud Light
GABE'S 330 E. Washington DASIS
TONIGHT Chameleon Recording Artists:
The New Marines Whiskey Cokes
Stickdog Game Theory
MOVIES
astro
LUNCH LINE (M) 10, 9:30
ngert I & II
MUNG GUNS 10, 9:30
IGHT MEN OUT (PG) 10, 9:30
ema I & II
NNY FARM (PG) 10, 9:15
IEN NATION (M) 10, 9:30
ampus Theatres
SH CALLED
ANDA (M) 11:15, 4:15, 7:10, 9:30
IE ACCUSED (M) 11:15, 4:00, 7:05, 9:30
RTHUR 2
N THE ROCKS (PG) 11:15, 4:00, 7:05, 9:30
Lower Prices On Pop, Juice And Soda Water
50 PITCHERS
de some.
F TACO
into a Taco Bell and beef, crisp sauce. All in a n for extra zest!
13 1st Ave. Coralville

Sports

Iowa takes 2nd in Big Ten with two conference wins

By Anne Upson
The Daily Iowan

Following weekend victories against Michigan and Michigan State in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, the Iowa volleyball team is alone in second place in the Big Ten.

The Hawkeyes defeated Michigan Friday night 15-9, 15-12, 15-12. Saturday night they rolled past Michigan State 15-5, 15-5, 15-9. Iowa's record now stands at 16-4 overall, 6-2 in conference play.

Iowa Coach Sandy Stewart said the second-place position is a meaningful achievement for the Hawkeyes.

"It was our goal for the year to finish in the top three," Stewart said, "and one of our top goals was to win it or to take second."

In sizing up the rest of the conference, Stewart said she has high aspirations for the second half of the season.

Volleyball

"Minnesota is struggling and it will be a tough match up there," Stewart said. "If we play well in the second round then I think we are looking at our NCAA bid, which has been our long-term goal of the season."

"What is good about the second half is that we have some of the toughest matches at home: Illinois, Purdue, Ohio State and Indiana. We do have Northwestern on the road, but we do have the confidence that we have beaten them once."

The Hawkeyes dominated Saturday's match against the Spartans.

Iowa had 53 kills to Michigan State's 28. The Hawkeyes also had four players score in double-digits in kills.

Stewart said she was pleased with the team's performance compared to the match against Michigan.

"Tonight was much better in terms of total team performance," she said. "We had much better passing. Our offense was much more consistent. Janet (Moylan) did a much better job setting the offense."

The Wolverines' outside hitter Karen Marshall led their offense with eight digs. Marshall said she wasn't satisfied with Michigan's play.

"We slowed down, we relaxed a bit and that's something we can't do," Marshall said. "They are a good team. We wanted to come out here and play hard but we didn't."

Hawks to run in Iowa State invite

By Erica Weiland
The Daily Iowan

The Iowa women's cross country team, ranked 11th nationally, will run its most competitive meet of the season to date this morning at the Iowa State Invitational in Johnston, Iowa.

The 20 participating teams include: No. 3 Kentucky, No. 4 Yale, No. 6 Wisconsin, No. 8 Texas, No. 10 Northern Arizona, No. 13 Brigham Young and No. 15 Clemson.

"We're looking forward to this meet as a team," Iowa Coach Jerry

Women's Cross Country

Hassard said. "It includes a number of national competitors from the NCAA meet last year."

Freshman Jennifer Brower said the size of the meet would be a change for her. In high school, her biggest meet included 95 runners; 140 are expected to participate in this invitational.

"I'm looking forward to the competition," Brower said. "There's a little anxiety, but I really think we'll show people what we're made of."

This meet is attracting so many teams because it will be the site of the NCAA championships Nov. 21.

The course includes many ups and downs but no giant hills, Hassard said. It has never been used for cross country, so none of the athletes have the advantage of knowing the course.

The Daily Break

The Daily Iowan will henceforth publish Saturday's "Doonesbury" and "Bloom County" with the Monday strips.

BLOOM COUNTY

by Berke Breathed

BLOOM COUNTY

by Berke Breathed

Doonesbury

BY GARRY TRUDEAU

Doonesbury

BY GARRY TRUDEAU

Arts/Ente

Long sh

in '1000

By Steve T. Donoghue
The Daily Iowan

The space in H Auditorium is vast and dark; the audience hushed; then a silence of expectation. The music that is like the audi of an ivy — a nervous jangling — on-melody that louder and louder, boring and deeper into the diap Huge, unarticulated images out of the curtains that stage, and the music builds.

Finally the curtain part "1000 Airplanes on the begins, with actress Jodi thatched in a wood, sighing, "1000 Airplanes," the probl genre-defying brainchild of Glass, David Henry Hwar Jerome Sirlin, came to Iow Friday night and did its mystify, edify, stultify and t extent justify itself again expectations a month of hy reviews and word of mout generated.

The narration of the single ter, "M." — played on Frida by Jodi Long — seems a teetering unreliable, stream-of-consciousness that may or may not be elaborations on "real" event.

Throughout the perform massive array of slides proje background and setting. Long to move within a spa was not a space, to utilize and solidity that was comp images. Glass' music, likew more than accentuate the Renowned gives readi

By Dan Vitale
Special to The Daily Iowan

L. Doctorow, America's respected v and an Ida Visiting Professor, will read his fiction tonight at 8 in baugh Auditorium.

Doctorow has published six including "The Book of "Loon Lake," "World's F which won him an America Award in 1986 — and the acclaimed and now near-leg "Ragtime." He is also the ar "Lives of the Poets," a colle stories and a novella; "Before Dinner," a play; a screenplay for the film ver "Daniel." He is a member international writers' organ PEN and the American A and Institute of Arts and L

After college and a stint Army, Doctorow spent a de the publishing business, New American Library and the Dial Press, where he wa in chief and later publish first two novels, "Welcome Times" and "Big as Life" sionist Western and sci-fi respectively — grew fro exposure to the genre man that crossed his desk. He l during "The Book of Dani has been writing full-tim since.

His novels take recognizati of the American past and p them, polish them and re them into stories that wor the reader with the immed newspaper and the reson myn. The taming of the "Welcome to Hard Time first rumblings of capitalist belly of the American Ce "Ragtime"; the Great Ce — "Loon Lake," "World' the passing of '30s rac through the crucible of the th era and into the Age o us — "The Book of Dani is reimagined vividly an

We ne

It's Not But You

See our

HEART THR♥B!

A benefit for the American Heart Association
Wednesday, October 19 at Vito's
Drink Specials Starting at 7:00
Immediately following: HEART THR♥B!
Bid for a dream date including dinner with campus males & females as well as other great prizes!
Drink Specials All Night Long!!
50¢ DRAWS
2 for 1 BAR DRINKS including Long Island Iced Teas, Margaritas, Blue Maxes, Fuzzy Navels!
Food Specials all night long! • Door Prizes

Sponsored by the men of Phi Gamma Delta

"...the most originally perverse, humane, unsettling dramatic imagination in American dance today."
— The New Yorker

PAUL TAYLOR DANCE COMPANY

"Comedy, drama and athletic virtuosity. Put them all together, and you have Paul Taylor's marvelous brand of modern dance."
— Kansas City Star

In two different programs
Friday and Saturday
October 21 and 22
8 p.m. Tickets available
$19.50/$17.50 Nonstudent
$15.60/$14 UI Student
UI Students may charge to their University accounts

Preperformance discussions with Betty de Jong, rehearsal director, and Ross Kramburg, company manager, in Hancher greenroom, 7 p.m. Free tickets required

Supported by the National Endowment for the Arts
Call 335-1160
or toll-free in Iowa outside Iowa City
1-800-HANCHER

The University of Iowa
Iowa City, Iowa
Hancher

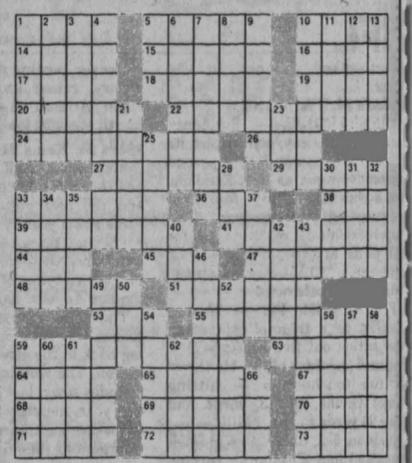

Crossword

Edited by Eugene T. Maleska

- ACROSS
- 1 Appear
 - 5 Valuable violin
 - 10 Stitched joining
 - 14 Nimbus
 - 15 Planet second nearest to the sun
 - 16 Seaweed
 - 17 Toward the mouth
 - 18 Cavities in bones
 - 19 Layer
 - 20 Complete
 - 22 Female ballet dancers
 - 24 "— Depths," Gorky drama
 - 26 Chalice veil
 - 27 Turkish inn
 - 29 Nosh'er's delight
 - 33 Comprehends
 - 36 Browne or Houston
 - 38 Be sorry
 - 39 Planet eighth nearest to the sun
 - 41 Planet nearest to the sun
 - 44 Collection of anecdotes
 - 45 — Mahal
 - 47 Depends
 - 48 Summer TV fare
 - 51 Plate armor for a thigh
 - 53 Joplin specialty
 - 55 Appropriates
 - 59 Unmanned space probe launched Aug. 20, 1977
 - 63 Claw
 - 64 Esprit
 - 65 False
 - 67 C. American gum tree
 - 68 Knee, to an M.D.
 - 69 Arabian ruler
 - 70 Road to Roma
 - 71 Inquires
 - 72 Concise
 - 73 Arrange
- DOWN
- 1 Outcry
 - 2 Planet third nearest to the sun
 - 3 Happily
 - 4 Maker of toy planes
 - 5 Actress Gardner
 - 6 Seamstress, sometimes
 - 7 Giant red star in Scorpio
 - 8 Revolve
 - 9 "Your face, my thane, — book — Shak
 - 10 Planet sixth nearest to the sun
 - 11 Site of first Olympics
 - 12 Askew
 - 13 Planet fourth nearest to the sun
 - 21 Broken, in Brest
 - 23 Some M.I.T. grads
 - 25 Didn't exist
 - 28 Cap for Scotty
 - 30 N. African wild sheep
 - 31 Heal
 - 32 Pitches
 - 33 Snarl
 - 34 Descartes or Magritte
 - 35 An armadillo
 - 37 Actress Oberon
 - 40 Corrode
 - 42 Find a new tenant
 - 43 Plant called traveler's-joy
 - 46 Planet fifth nearest to the sun
 - 49 Planet seventh nearest to the sun
 - 50 Slow horse
 - 52 Yellow flags
 - 54 Daywright Jean
 - 56 Planet farthest from the sun
 - 57 Paint tester
 - 58 Stable sound
 - 59 Star in Lyra
 - 60 Bullring calls
 - 61 G.I.
 - 62 Apple variety
 - 66 Galena is one

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

BAKED RAMP EMIT
ARECA ELIA LENA
SIRUP DONS ARCS
EZRAPOUNDSITOUT
LUXE INHERE
HAPPEN AMT
OLLA CAIN HABIT
STANGETZTHEGATE
TONTTO LESE RITE
LII AVALON AUGEAN DAVE
GLENNCLOSESDOOR
NENE HUGH TEMPO
EMIR OBIE ALIAS
SACO NEER LETHE

Prairie Lights
Voted "Best Bookstore In Iowa City" by U of I students.
15 S. Dubuque St. • 337-2681

Read Kim Painter's columns Mondays on the Viewpoints page

	KGAN	KWWL	KCRG	IPT	SPTS	ESPN	WGN	WTBS	HBO	MAX	USA
6:30	News M*A*S*H	News Fortune	News Cosby Show	Business Health	Racing NFL Football	SportsCtr. NFL Trivia	Cheers Night Court	9 to 5 Sanford	Heart is... Encyclopd.	See Forever	Miami Voo
7:30	60 Minutes	ALF Hogan	MacGyver	Discover: Sports Writers on TV	NFL Mag.	MOV: The Holcroft	MOV: Har-per Valley	MOV: The Princess	MOV: Moun-tain Men	Murder, the Wrote
8:30	MOV: Out of Africa	MOV: Double Stan-	NFL Foot-ball	Spyship	Golf Journal NHL Hockey	Classic Summer	Covenant	PTA	Bride	MOV: Eyes of a Strab-
9:30		Gard		View/ Abroad		Water Skiing	News INN News	MOV: The Duchess	Lip Service	MOV: The Wild Bunch	ger
10:30	News M*A*S*H	News Tonight		Interests Ideas		Baseball SportsCtr.	Darkside Hill Street	and the Dir-twater Fox	MOV: The Principal		Miami Voo
11:30	Cheers Night Court	Show David Let-	News Affair	Masterpiece Theatre	Ed Randall	NFL Theatre	Blues MOV: Wake	National			Dregret Edge-His
12:30	AM Hill Street Blues	Nightline Bob Costas	Nightline Hawaii-0	Sign Off	Racing	NFL Great	Me When It's Over	Geographic Explorer	MOV: Dead of Winter	Garrett and Billy the Kid	Tennoru Paid Prop.

Arts/Entertainment

Long shows strong in '1000 Airplanes'

By Steve T. Donoghue
The Daily Iowan

The space in Hancher Auditorium is vast and dark; the audience is hushed; then into the silence of expectation throbs a music that is like the audiograph of an "hill" — a nervous and jangling on-melody that booms louder and deeper into the diaphragm. Huge, unarticulated images distill out of the curtains that mask the stage, and the music builds.

Finally the curtain parts, and "1000 Airplanes on the Roof" begins, with actress Jodi Long thatched in a wood, sighing. "1000 Airplanes," the problematic, genre-defying brainchild of Philip Glass, David Henry Hwang and Jerome Sirlin, came to Iowa City Friday night and did its best to mystify, edify, stultify and to some extent justify itself against the expectations a month of hype and reviews and word of mouth have generated.

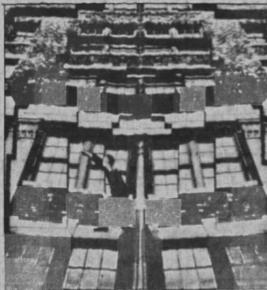

The narration of the single character, "M." — played on Friday night by Jodi Long — seems at first teetering-unreliable, full of stream-of-consciousness images that may or may not be deluded elaborations on "real" events.

Throughout the performance, the massive array of slides projected as background and setting allowed Long to move within a space that was not a space, to utilize a depth and solidity that was composed of images. Glass' music, likewise, did more than accentuate the mood onstage; it at times formed a set in itself. The center of stage was slanted, with partitions hiding levels into which Long could "disappear" by jumping behind blanketing slide images.

Long's marathon performance — 90 minutes spent almost continuously on stage and undergoing meteoric shifts of mood — was as bravura a piece of stagecraft as Hancher has seen in many a month — laughing, crying, stretched to the limits of self-respect or even sanity and faced with the unenviable task of conveying, remembering or even forgetting memories that no one else will ever believe. "M." believes she has been abducted many times by visitors from a distant world, and she must repeatedly deal with the caution they have implanted in her head: "It is better to forget, it is pointless to remember, no one will believe you, you will have spoken a heresy, you will be out-cast."

Hwang's script is terse and at times lyrical, although sometimes it lapsed into overwritten pretentiousness. Often the script — and the actress and even the music — was overshadowed by the pictures, and therein lies the principle strength — and weakness — of "1000 Airplanes." The visual effects, designed by Jerome Sirlin, were in many ways the backbone of the entire show, bracketing it with limits, expanding it in ways the dialogue and the music could not. In this way it was similar to working with animals or small children: It was enlightening when the images worked, but it was potentially disastrous when they didn't.

A scene from '1000 Airplanes on the Roof'

In light of this, it's mystifying how three geniuses such as Sirlin, Hwang and Glass could overlook — or rationalize — the fact that the entire three-dimensional effect of the raked stage and the partitions was increasingly crippled the further away from center the viewer sits. Off to the sides where many sat on Friday night, Long could be followed after she was supposed to have "vanished" from stage, and the images of streets and buildings and rooms were fractured into Dali-esque versions of themselves.

Ultimately, however, Friday night's performance was a success, building in pitch and frantic tempo to a fine and oddly satisfying etchwork of the madness that surrounds — and occasionally abducts — all our lives. This madness is put to simple words, spoken by a narrator who no longer seems so unreliable: "No place could be as alien as this world has become."

Actor inconsistent, but 'Airplanes' flies

By Kevin Goulding
The Daily Iowan

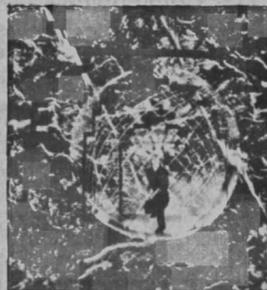

"1000 Airplanes on the Roof," the psycho-surgical, science-fiction, urban-alien, hallucinogenic, post-modernist (how can you use something that hasn't happened yet as a reference point?) musical — you know, the Sodom and Gomorra-devastating, cattle-mutilating, future offspring-visiting, fifth-dimension ("up, up, and away, in my beautiful balloon...") traversing... Have you ever been to New York City? This show is a pretty accurate portrayal of daily life "in the town that never sleeps." When "M." (Patrick O'Connell on Saturday night) asks "What time is gray?" it's obvious he's in "the City."

"1000 Airplanes" is a tightly-woven dynamic collaboration of story, music and visual design. A sports announcer would describe this show as a home run that could be broken up into several triples. The musical score, composed by Philip Glass and performed by the Philip Glass Ensemble, was exquisite in its capturing of the terror and the fantasy, soaring and roaring when the dramatic passages required power and backing off when "M." needed his moments of intimacy. Almost worth the price of admission was the ethereal, other-worldly voice of soprano Dora Ohrenstein. Her haunting wails, floating high above the music, lingered long after the show had ended.

Curiously, the volume was insufficient in the balcony. The memorable opening scene, with the noise building to a crescendo similar to that of a jet takeoff, lacked the shattering effect generated on the main floor.

Jerome Sirlin's kaleidoscopic design provided a fantastical backdrop, often enveloping "M." in a textured, three-dimensional world by means of front scrim and mesh. Further depth and spatial distortion was created by staggering a series of arched side panels. In the opening moments of Saturday night's performance the audience shrieked and howled on several occasions when "M." dancing atop the New York rooftops and scurrying along ledges, suddenly leaped, disappearing midflight. Moments like these came the closest to creating the effect of cinematic illusion, that of a live figure captured in a movie — at times tumbling out of, at other times becoming absorbed into a twilight land of half-reality, half-fantasy.

David Henry Hwang's text was a provocative and humorous exploration of a very murky subject — that of alien abductions. Hwang utilized contrasting elements to capture some sense of some very complex and heady issues. For instance, "M." being selected to witness "blueprints of the universe," is a droll character. After being transported across universes and dimensions by aliens, witnessing past and present occurrences and seeing worlds dissolve in front of his eyes, he laments lamely, "I've had a bad day."

A scene from '1000 Airplanes on the Roof'

O'Connell, in an admirable 90-minute roller coaster of a performance, occasionally let down the forward thrust of the story. More at fault for this lagging would be the text. Extended middle sections dragged. O'Connell, often playing the role for its humor, tended to race through moments that needed more impact and specificity than the sections characterized by their abstract philosophical musings. One instance of this is when "M." is interrogated by a doctor concerning his disappearance: "Where have you been?!" asked the doctor. "M." screams in horror. O'Connell did not ascend to the height of terror necessary for the moment.

"1000 Airplanes" was a sparkling vision of "cutting edge" performance art — the work of major artists willing to submerge ego in the pursuit of making new waves. Futuristic and "high tech," yet anchored by an individual's quest and tale of redemption, "1000 Airplanes" informs and entertains.

Renowned author Doctorow gives reading of his fiction

By Dan Vitale
Special to The Daily Iowan

E. L. Doctorow

E. L. Doctorow, one of America's most respected writers and an Ida Beam Visiting Professor, will read from his fiction tonight at 8 in Shambaugh Auditorium. Doctorow has published six novels, including "The Book of Daniel," "Loon Lake," "World's Fair" — which won him an American Book Award in 1986 — and the much-acclaimed and now near-legendary "Ragtime." He is also the author of "Lives of the Poets," a collection of stories and a novella; "Drinks Before Dinner," a play; and the screenplay for the film version of "Daniel." He is a member of the international writers' organization PEN and the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters.

After college and a stint in the Army, Doctorow spent a decade in the publishing business, first at New American Library and then at the Dial Press, where he was editor in chief and later publisher. His first two novels, "Welcome to Hard Times" and "Big as Life" — revisionist Western and sci-fi thriller, respectively — grew from long exposure to the genre manuscripts that crossed his desk. He left Dial during "The Book of Daniel" and has been writing full-time ever since.

His novels take recognizable slabs of the American past and play with them, polish them and refashion them into stories that work upon the reader with the immediacy of a newspaper and the resonance of myth. The taming of the West — "Welcome to Hard Times"; the first rumblings of capitalism in the belly of the American Century — "Ragtime"; the Great Depression — "Loon Lake," "World's Fair"; the passing of '30s radicalism through the crucible of the McCarthy era and into the Age of Aquarius — "The Book of Daniel"; each is reimagined vividly and movingly, not so much to teach us the lessons of history as to show us the effect of societal forces on the human soul.

He makes no apology for the occasional partings with verifiable fact some critics have perceived in his work. "I think fiction intrudes on history, it always has," he told The New York Times in 1985. What Doctorow is after is the revealed, discovered truth that is the goal and method of art.

His approach to the craft of the novel demonstrates this fierce respect for the kind of larger truths attainable only in fiction. Rather than impose his own personality or a patented style on his material, Doctorow lets each book find its own voice. The result, from the fractured syntax of "Loon Lake" to the lyrical pseudo-memoir that is "World's Fair," is a body of work astonishing in its stylistic versatility and its seemingly inexhaustible display of unique technical accomplishments.

Of his trust in the fictional process, Doctorow has said: "It's like driving a car at night. You never see further than your headlights, but you can make the whole trip that way." American literature is richer for his faith.

Voter Participation and Higher Education

A Call to Action

Speakers Include:

- Christine Grant, Director, UI Women's Intercollegiate Athletics
- Mary Jo Small, UI Associate Vice President for Finance and University Services
- James Lee, President, Black Student Union
- Jeno Berta, State Relations Chair, UI Student Senate
- Melinda Hess, President, UI Student Senate
- John McDonald, Mayor, City of Iowa City

Tuesday, October 18, at 2:30 pm
South Room, IMU
(This is a non-partisan event)
Sponsored by the UI Student Senate

NOBODY BEATS MIDAS FOR GUARANTEE

BRAKES $59.00 PER AXLE (MOST CARS)

* We install new guaranteed brake pads or shoes (semi-metallic pads extra) • Resurface drums or rotors • Inspect front grease seals • Inspect front wheel bearings • Road test your car.

Additional parts and services may be required which are not included in this price. See warranty terms at your local Midas dealer.

Offer good with coupon only through at participating Midas dealers. Coupon expires Nov. 5, 1988.

NOBODY BEATS MIDAS FOR VALUE

COMPUTERIZED ALIGNMENT DIAGNOSIS $9.95

OR FREE WITH ALIGNMENT. Don't pay for an alignment... unless you need one!

Offer good with coupon only through at participating Midas dealers. Coupon expires Nov. 5, 1988.

IOWA CITY

19 Sturgis Drive
351-7250

SKI

Thanksgiving Break
November 23-27

Winter Park, Colo.

Trip package includes:

- Round trip bus transportation
- 3 nights lodging at the deluxe Hi Country Haus condominiums (fully equipped kitchen, fireplace, phone, cable TV & more)
- 3 day lift ticket valid at Winter Park, Mary Jane and Vasquez
- Optional ski rental $9/day
- Great parties, skiing & friends!

$115 without transportation
$195 with transportation

335-3270 University Travel

Student Activities Center, IMU 335-3270

We need you.

American Heart Association

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

It's Not Too Late to See the Very Best Theatre in Eastern Iowa! But You Can't Wait Forever.

For 68 years the University of Iowa Theatres have been in the forefront of the theatre world, offering a season of live theatre unmatched in its quality. This year, we offer perhaps our most ambitious season ever—a sampling of 20th Century Theatre. And tickets are going fast. Some performances are nearly sold-out.

The best way to insure yourself great seats, and at the same time save yourself some money, is to subscribe. We offer three different subscription packages so that you can select only those plays you want to see. Each subscription package entitles you to free ticket exchange with 24-hours notice, so if your plans change, you can trade your tickets for a different night. You get our subscriber newsletter with inside information about the plays, the playwrights, and the artists. And best of all, you get all of this at a substantial discount, up to 27% depending on the package.

See our season opener, Sunday in the Park With George. If you like it, trade your ticket stub in on a subscription.

Sunday in the Park With George

Music and Lyrics by Stephen Sondheim
Book by James Lapine

Originally Directed on Broadway by James Lapine, Originally Produced on Broadway by The Shubert Organization and Emanuel Azenberg. By arrangement with Playwright's Horizons, Inc. New York City, which produced the original production of Sunday in the Park With George in 1983.

Sunday in the Park With George is presented through special arrangement with Music Theatre International, 610 Seventh Avenue, New York, NY 10019-5816.

"...more daring and surprise than the American musical stage has seen in a long time." Jack Kroll, Newsweek

University Theatres, North Riverside Drive, Iowa City
October 19-22 & 26-29 at 8 pm, Matinees on October 23 & 30 at 3 pm
Tickets: $9, $7 for students & seniors. Call 335-1160

	HBO	MAX	USA
See Forever			Miami Vice
MOV: Mountain Men			Murder, She Wrote
MOV: Eye of a Storm			per
MOV: The Wild Bunch			Miami Vice
MOV: Pat			Dragon: Ego-Hu
MOV: Garrett and Billy the Kid			Tennessee

October 17

	HBO	MAX	USA
See Forever			Miami Vice
MOV: Mountain Men			Murder, She Wrote
MOV: Eye of a Storm			per
MOV: The Wild Bunch			Miami Vice
MOV: Pat			Dragon: Ego-Hu
MOV: Garrett and Billy the Kid			Tennessee

DI Classifieds

111 Communications Center • 335-5784
11 am deadline for new ads & cancellations.

PERSONAL

ICE CREAM BIRTHDAY CAKES
in 31 delectable flavors & almost any design you can dream up.
BASKIN-ROBBINS
in the Pedestrian Mall
115 S. Dubuque • 354-3131

FREE Bible correspondence course. Send name, address to:
BCC
P.O. Box 1851
Iowa City IA 52242

GHOSTWRITER. When you know WHAT to say but not HOW. For help, call 338-1572. Phone hours 8am-10pm every day.

ADULT magazines, novelties, video rental and sales, theater and our NEW 25¢ video arcade.
Pleasure Palace
315 Kirkwood

ABORTION SERVICE
Established since 1973. Privacy of doctor's office. 1-800-642-6164.
1000 73rd St., Suite 18
Des Moines IA
Dr. Frong

NEED A Dancer? Call Tina, 351-0299. Stags, Private parties.

PREGNANT?
We are here to help!
FREE PREGNANCY TESTING
confidential counseling
Walk-in 9am-1pm M-W-F or 7-9pm T-Th or call 351-6556
CONCERN FOR WOMEN
United Federal Savings Bldg.
Suite 210 Iowa City

REMOVE unwanted hair permanently. Complimentary consultation. Clinic of Electrology, 337-7191.

THE SEARCH is on for the new MISS IOWA USA, 1989
If you are interested or wish to nominate someone, call Suzy 712-322-0811 or Dian 402-291-0817.

BIG TEN Rentals, Inc. has microwaves and refrigerators. Lowest prices in Iowa. Free delivery. 337-RENT.

BUTTONS Fast Service! BOB'S BUTTON BONAZZA Lower Prices!
338-8709 338-3056

GAYLINE—confidential listening, information, referral, T.W.Th 7-9pm, 335-3877.

STUDY Abroad Advising Center is open 1pm-5pm, M-F. To reach the International Center, climb the steps opposite the Art Building. Discover the world.

GAY/LESBIAN SUPPORT
To discuss issues and concerns beyond the coming out process TUES, OCT. 18TH AT 8 PM
19 S. Gilbert
Sponsored by the Gay People's Union
For more information call 338-3877
ALL WELCOME!

YES, THE DAILY IOWAN CLASSIFIED AD DEPARTMENT IS OPEN DURING THE NOON HOUR. WE ARE OPEN 8AM-5PM MONDAY-THURSDAY, 8AM-4PM FRIDAYS.

PERSONAL

MRS. TAYLOR, palm and card reader. Tells past, present, future. Moved to new location. Call for appointment. 338-6437.

CHAINS, RINGS, STEPH'S Wholesale Jewelry 107 S. Dubuque St. EARRINGS, MORE 338-2135

CONCERNED about aids? Support groups meet each week. Call: I CARE 338-2135

EMERALD CITY Magical Mystery objects of lambswool, pearl, gold and gemstones. Jewelry repair. 114 East College.

WANTED "Barber of Seville" video tape. Call Jim, 351-5498.

LOST: Burgundy wallet in downtown mall. PRECIOUS PICTURES! REWARD Lauri DI, 354-7966.

FREE PREGNANCY TESTING
No appointment needed. Walk in hours: Monday through Friday, 10:30am-1:00pm.
Emma Goldman Clinic
227 N. Dubuque St.
337-2111.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.
Iowa City Press Conference
Hosted by GARY SANDERS
Cable Channel 26
8:00 PM MONDAY
5:00 PM WEDNESDAY

FREE MEDICAL CLINIC
120 North Dubuque St.
337-4459
Mondays and Thursdays
6:30pm-8:30pm

MEDICAP PHARMACY
in Iowa City. Where it costs less to keep healthy. 354-4354.

MAIL BOXES, ETC. USA
Your postal alternative
"PACKAGING" SHIPPING UPS
Postal
Emery
"MAIL BOX RENTALS"
"ANSWERING SERVICE"
"FAX"
221 East Market
(2 blocks east of Burge)
354-2113
NO LONG LINES!

THE AFFIRMATIVE Counseling Center. Professional counseling. Affordable sliding fee scale. 338-9860.

WASHBOARD LAUNDER-IT
Laundromat, dry cleaning and drop-off.
1030 William
354-5107

NEW SUPPORT GROUP FOR WOMEN
To address: Self-esteem, Relationships, Depression, etc. Call:
Margaret Passeri MSW
Counseling and Health Center
337-6998
Sliding scale

COUNSELING ASSOCIATES
Professional Staff
Sliding Scale
338-3671
Hours by appointment

SUBMINIMAL Audio Cassettes: custom produced for you. Motivational, confidence, smoking, weight. Self-Management Center, 338-3984.

PERSONAL SERVICE

THE SHIATSU CLINIC
Stress reduction, drug-free pain relief, relaxation, general health improvement.
319 North Dodge
338-4300

RAPE ASSAULT HARASSMENT Rape Crisis Line
335-6000 (24 hours)

FEELING BLUE? STRESSED?
Things not working out? COUNSELING & HEALTH CENTER offers professional help and support services. Sliding scale. 337-6998.

TREAT yourself to a soothing pedicure at:
Red's World Too
24 1/2 S. Clinton
338-4965

PAST LIFE READINGS- Astrology, I Ching, Psychometry. 18 years experience. Andrea (1) 373-0245.

WAXING RED'S WORLD TOO
24 1/2 S. Clinton
338-4965

WANT TO MAKE SOME CHANGES IN YOUR LIFE?
Individual, group and couple counseling for the Iowa City community. Sliding scale fees. 354-1226
Hera Psychotherapy.

AIDS INFORMATION and anonymous HIV antibody testing available.
FREE MEDICAL CLINIC
120 North Dubuque St.
337-4459
Mondays and Thursdays
6:30pm-8:30pm

BEAD AND BREAKFAST homestay/ reservation service. Reserve rooms now. 1-643-2433.

CONCERNED? Worried? Don't go it alone. Birthright, an emergency pregnancy service. Confidential, caring, free testing. 338-8665, 1-800-848-LOVE(5683).

THE CRISIS CENTER offers information and referrals, short term counseling, suicide prevention, TDD message relay for the deaf, and excellent volunteer opportunities. Call 351-0140, anytime.

ASTROLOGY charts and tarot readings. Call Tracy for information. 354-9213.

TAROT and other metaphysical lessons and readings by Jan Gault, experienced instructor. Call 351-8511.

YOU'VE heard the rumors—now get the facts. JOHNSON COUNTY AIDS COALITION SPEAKERS BUREAU. Presentations tailored to your group's needs. Topics include: AIDS; 101; Women And AIDS; HIV Testing. Call 337-9242.

BUTTONS! Badges for every occasion. Made to order. Ten years experience. 354-1132.

COUNSELING ASSOCIATES
Professional Staff
Sliding Scale
338-3671
Hours by appointment

YES, THE DAILY IOWAN CLASSIFIED AD DEPARTMENT IS OPEN DURING THE NOON HOUR. WE ARE OPEN 8AM-5PM MONDAY-THURSDAY, 8AM-4PM FRIDAYS.

PEOPLE MEETING PEOPLE

SINGLES DATING CLUB

Meet that special person, friendship, marriage. This ad may change your life. Special introductory offer. Please send $1.00 for information packet. 221 East Market, Suite 250-DI, Iowa City IA 52240.

BIGAY Monthly Newsletter. Opportunity to meet new friends. SASE: For You; P.O. Box 5751; Coralville IA 52241.

ALONE & SINGLE? Free brochure. Date-Mates Inc. Box 2328-D73, Decatur IL 62526-0328; 1-800/747-MATE.

SBM, Liberal, 36, seeks SF, conservative, nonsmoker, nonuser of drugs. Objective: moderate fun, radical marriage, neutral children. Write: The Daily Iowan, Box RK-200, Room 111, Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

WANTED: Sultry siren singing sweet songs. If your relationship with your personal portable stereo has developed sad notes, bring it to us for professional attention. Home stereos, car stereos and VCRs, too.

HESSIAN ELECTRONICS
401 South Gilbert Street
Iowa City IA 52241

38 Y/O WM professional would like to meet attractive Indian or Middle Eastern male for discreet friendship/relationship. If interested, write to Box 5384, Coralville IA 52241.

FEMALE, attractive 30, seeks caring, secure, romantic male for friendship, dancing, dinners, walks by the river. Write to: The Daily Iowan, Box JL-1570, Room 111, Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

DO YOU STUTTER?
Join the Iowa City Chapter of a National Self-Help Group for Stutterers. Scott, 351-8367 or write 2535 Bartlett Road, Apartment 2A, Iowa City IA 52242.

WANTED: Pragmatic woman, nonsmoker, 18 or older for marriage, children. No drugs. Write to: The Daily Iowan, Box BA-25, RM 111 Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

AGNOSTIC SM seeks SF, Christian for communion, rapture, matrimony, family. Come, let's reason together. Write to: The Daily Iowan, Box CM-2622, RM 111 Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

SWM 25, agnostic, seeks SWF, intelligent, ambitious, confident. The type who wouldn't answer an ad. Write to: The Daily Iowan, Box TT-520, Room 111, Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

ASTROLOGY charts and tarot readings. Call Tracy for information. 354-9213.

TAROT and other metaphysical lessons and readings by Jan Gault, experienced instructor. Call 351-8511.

YOU'VE heard the rumors—now get the facts. JOHNSON COUNTY AIDS COALITION SPEAKERS BUREAU. Presentations tailored to your group's needs. Topics include: AIDS; 101; Women And AIDS; HIV Testing. Call 337-9242.

BUTTONS! Badges for every occasion. Made to order. Ten years experience. 354-1132.

COUNSELING ASSOCIATES
Professional Staff
Sliding Scale
338-3671
Hours by appointment

YES, THE DAILY IOWAN CLASSIFIED AD DEPARTMENT IS OPEN DURING THE NOON HOUR. WE ARE OPEN 8AM-5PM MONDAY-THURSDAY, 8AM-4PM FRIDAYS.

ADOPTION

A BABY TO LOVE

Devoted happy couple wants to give your newborn a warm loving home and secure future. Expenses paid. Call Helen and Howard collect, 201-869-6137.

ADOPTION A BETTER FUTURE FOR YOUR BABY
Happy, financially secure, educated couple will give newborn love and life's best opportunities. Expenses paid. Legal. Call collect Lynn and Martin (212) 362-6884.

ADOPTION
We need 50 people who want to earn $100's weekly in their spare time at home. Please send self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Insight Research, Box 2751, Iowa City IA 52242.

SELL AVON EARN EXTRA $$$
Up to 50%
Call Mary, 338-7823
Brenda, 645-2276

SAVE LIVES
and we'll pass the savings on to you! Relax and study while you donate plasma. We'll pay you CASH to compensate for your time. FREE MEDICAL CHECKUP, BONUS and MORE. Please stop by and SAVE A LIFE.
Iowa City Plasma
318 East Bloomington
351-4701

HESSIAN ELECTRONICS
401 South Gilbert Street
Iowa City IA 52241

38 Y/O WM professional would like to meet attractive Indian or Middle Eastern male for discreet friendship/relationship. If interested, write to Box 5384, Coralville IA 52241.

FEMALE, attractive 30, seeks caring, secure, romantic male for friendship, dancing, dinners, walks by the river. Write to: The Daily Iowan, Box JL-1570, Room 111, Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

DO YOU STUTTER?
Join the Iowa City Chapter of a National Self-Help Group for Stutterers. Scott, 351-8367 or write 2535 Bartlett Road, Apartment 2A, Iowa City IA 52242.

WANTED: Pragmatic woman, nonsmoker, 18 or older for marriage, children. No drugs. Write to: The Daily Iowan, Box BA-25, RM 111 Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

AGNOSTIC SM seeks SF, Christian for communion, rapture, matrimony, family. Come, let's reason together. Write to: The Daily Iowan, Box CM-2622, RM 111 Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

SWM 25, agnostic, seeks SWF, intelligent, ambitious, confident. The type who wouldn't answer an ad. Write to: The Daily Iowan, Box TT-520, Room 111, Communications Center, Iowa City IA 52242.

ASTROLOGY charts and tarot readings. Call Tracy for information. 354-9213.

TAROT and other metaphysical lessons and readings by Jan Gault, experienced instructor. Call 351-8511.

YOU'VE heard the rumors—now get the facts. JOHNSON COUNTY AIDS COALITION SPEAKERS BUREAU. Presentations tailored to your group's needs. Topics include: AIDS; 101; Women And AIDS; HIV Testing. Call 337-9242.

BUTTONS! Badges for every occasion. Made to order. Ten years experience. 354-1132.

COUNSELING ASSOCIATES
Professional Staff
Sliding Scale
338-3671
Hours by appointment

YES, THE DAILY IOWAN CLASSIFIED AD DEPARTMENT IS OPEN DURING THE NOON HOUR. WE ARE OPEN 8AM-5PM MONDAY-THURSDAY, 8AM-4PM FRIDAYS.

HELP WANTED

SUMMER JOBS OUTDOORS

Over 5,000 Openings! National parks, forests, fire crews. Send stamp for free details. 113 E Wyoming, Kalispell MT 59901.

ELEMENTARY music teacher wanted, 4-6 hours/week. Tuesday, Wednesday afternoons. 338-6061.

OVERSEAS JOBS. Also Cruiseships. $10,000-$105,000/year! Now hiring! 320 plus Listings! (1) 805-687-6000 Ext. QJ-9612.

HOUSE PARENTS' COUNSELORS
Excellent opportunity to gain unique experience supervising developmentally disabled children and adults in the Iowa City area. Live in positions include: room, board and salary plus medical, dental, life insurances and paid vacation. Some positions allow applicant to study or have daytime employment. Call Mary Kelley at 338-9212, Systems Unlimited, Inc. EOE/AA.

NOW HIRING full or part time cocktail servers. Must have some lunchtime availability. Apply in person 2-4pm, Monday-Thursday. Iowa River Power Company. EOE.

RODEWAY INN
HOUSEKEEPERS WANTED.
Accepting applications for our Housekeeping Department. Full and part-time positions available. Applicant must be hardworking and possess the desire to satisfy our guest's needs.
Apply in person at:
The Rodeway Inn
1-80 & Hwy 95
Exit 240, Coralville, IA
Equal Opportunity Employer.

IMU FOOD SERVICE
Is now accepting applications for FALL EMPLOYMENT.
Sign up for interview at Campus Information Center Iowa Memorial Union

NOW HIRING part time buspersons and dishwashers. Apply in person 2-4pm Monday-Thursday. Iowa River Power Company. EOE.

MOTHER'S HELPER for baby and 5 year old girl. Professional cooking, beautiful community, 35 miles from NYC. Driver's license required, light help with house, own room, board, expenses, own car and TV. Most weekends and evenings off. Start ASAP. Call Joan Eldin collect 203-822-8996 after 6pm CST or Write:
25 Dingleton Road
Greenwich CT 06830

PART TIME desk clerk positions open, ideal for students.
3pm-11pm; 11pm-7am. Apply in person.
Mar-Keel Motel
707 1st Ave. Coralville

RECEPTIONIST and massage positions available for massage studio. Good pay, flexible hours. 3pm-11pm; 11pm-7am, between 2-4pm, weekdays.

OVERSEAS JOBS. Summer, year round, Europe, South America, Australia, Asia. All fields. $900-$2000/month. Sightseeing, free information. Write LIC, P.O. Box 52-1404, Corona Del Mar, CA 92625.

EASY WORK! Excellent Pay! Assemble products at home. Call for information 312-741-8400, Ext. A-1894.

ASTHMATICS NEEDED
for a 1 year study.
Must be nonsmoker, 18-65 years old, and using regular or frequent asthma medications.
Reimbursement provided.
Call 356-2135, 9 am-4 pm

HELP WANTED

HOUSE PARENTS' COUNSELORS

Excellent opportunity to gain unique experience supervising developmentally disabled children and adults in the Iowa City area. Live in positions include: room, board and salary plus medical, dental, life insurances and paid vacation. Some positions allow applicant to study or have daytime employment. Call Mary Kelley at 338-9212, Systems Unlimited, Inc. EOE/AA.

NOW HIRING full or part time cocktail servers. Must have some lunchtime availability. Apply in person 2-4pm, Monday-Thursday. Iowa River Power Company. EOE.

RODEWAY INN
HOUSEKEEPERS WANTED.
Accepting applications for our Housekeeping Department. Full and part-time positions available. Applicant must be hardworking and possess the desire to satisfy our guest's needs.
Apply in person at:
The Rodeway Inn
1-80 & Hwy 95
Exit 240, Coralville, IA
Equal Opportunity Employer.

IMU FOOD SERVICE
Is now accepting applications for FALL EMPLOYMENT.
Sign up for interview at Campus Information Center Iowa Memorial Union

NOW HIRING part time buspersons and dishwashers. Apply in person 2-4pm Monday-Thursday. Iowa River Power Company. EOE.

MOTHER'S HELPER for baby and 5 year old girl. Professional cooking, beautiful community, 35 miles from NYC. Driver's license required, light help with house, own room, board, expenses, own car and TV. Most weekends and evenings off. Start ASAP. Call Joan Eldin collect 203-822-8996 after 6pm CST or Write:
25 Dingleton Road
Greenwich CT 06830

PART TIME desk clerk positions open, ideal for students.
3pm-11pm; 11pm-7am. Apply in person.
Mar-Keel Motel
707 1st Ave. Coralville

RECEPTIONIST and massage positions available for massage studio. Good pay, flexible hours. 3pm-11pm; 11pm-7am, between 2-4pm, weekdays.

OVERSEAS JOBS. Summer, year round, Europe, South America, Australia, Asia. All fields. $900-$2000/month. Sightseeing, free information. Write LIC, P.O. Box 52-1404, Corona Del Mar, CA 92625.

EASY WORK! Excellent Pay! Assemble products at home. Call for information 312-741-8400, Ext. A-1894.

ASTHMATICS NEEDED
for a 1 year study.
Must be nonsmoker, 18-65 years old, and using regular or frequent asthma medications.
Reimbursement provided.
Call 356-2135, 9 am-4 pm

HELP WANTED

HOW HIRING

night line cooks, experience required. Apply in person 2-4pm, Monday-Thursday. Iowa River Power Company. EOE.

"STOP!"
The Rodeway Inn
is looking for hardworking, conscientious individuals for housekeeping and laundry. Starting wage with experience $4/hour plus benefits and bonuses. Full/part time. Apply in person at:
THE RODEWAY INN
1-80 & Hwy. 95 (Exit 240) Coralville EOE

WANTED! WRITING TUTOR. Proofreading and editing, $6/hour. 353-0890, Yoo.

NANNY. Loving family seeks responsible young woman for childcare—two children, Greenwich CT, 30 minutes to New York City. Own room and car, nonsmoker only, room and board PLUS. Call for application. 1-203-869-7135.

EARN MONEY reading books! $30,000/year income potential. Details (1) 805-687-6000 Ext. Y-9612.

WANTED! WRITING TUTOR. Proofreading and editing, $6/hour. 353-0890, Yoo.

NANNY. Loving family seeks responsible young woman for childcare—two children, Greenwich CT, 30 minutes to New York City. Own room and car, nonsmoker only, room and board PLUS. Call for application. 1-203-869-7135.

EARN MONEY reading books! $30,000/year income potential. Details (1) 805-687-6000 Ext. Y-9612.

WANTED! WRITING TUTOR. Proofreading and editing, $6/hour. 353-0890, Yoo.

NANNY. Loving family seeks responsible young woman for childcare—two children, Greenwich CT, 30 minutes to New York City. Own room and car, nonsmoker only, room and board PLUS. Call for application. 1-203-869-7135.

EARN MONEY reading books! $30,000/year income potential. Details (1) 805-687-6000 Ext. Y-9612.

HELP WANTED

PAPER CARRIERS NEEDED IN THE FOLLOWING AREAS:

• 10th St., 20th Ave. Place (Coralville)
• Aber Ave. (1400-1600), Sunset (1200-1300), Ealing, Wrexham, Ashley
• Deerfield, Dover, Esther, Sterling Dr.

Apply:
The Daily Iowan
Circulation Department
335-5783

NANNY'S EAST
Has mother's helper jobs available. Spend an exciting year on the east coast. If you love children, would like to see another part of the country, share family experiences and make new friends, call 201-740-0204 or write Box 625, Livingston NJ 07039.

FREE ROOM and board for nonsmoker in exchange for helping our 10, 7 and 5 year old get off to school. Share other responsibilities within household. Flexible. 338-7047.

IMU FOOD SERVICE. Immediate openings mornings. Dishwashers, bakery, chef trainee. Apply at Campus Information Center IMU.

HOUSEKEEPERS WANTED
Weekends only. Hours 9 am-3 pm. No experience necessary.
Start at $4/hour
Apply at:
Super 8 Motel
611 1st Ave., Coralville

DEPENDABLE, intelligent, people-oriented individuals for an exciting new restaurant and club. All positions available. Apply by letter of introduction to:
P.O. Box 5542
Coralville IA 52241
EOE

PART TIME laundry aid, flexible hours with rotating weekends if interested please apply in person
Lantern Park Care Center
915 N. 20th Avenue
Coralville
351-8440
AA/EOE

WE PLACE persons with childcare experience and/or education in quality homes; Tennessee/Kentucky areas. Excellent salaries, no fee to nanny. Call TLC For Kids, Nashville TN, 615-646-8251.

SECRETARY
Goodwill Industries is seeking a hardworking professional individual to perform secretarial/receptionist duties at our Iowa City training center. Ability to type 40 wpm and to work well with the public and persons with disabilities a must. Experience

HELP WANTED

PAPER CARRIERS NEEDED IN THE FOLLOWING AREAS: 10th St., 20th Ave. Place (Coralville)...

HANNY'S EAST Has mother's helper jobs available. Spend an exciting year on the coast...

FREE ROOM and board for nonsmoker in exchange for housekeeping...

HOUSEKEEPERS WANTED Weekends only. Hours 9 am-5 pm. No experience necessary...

DEPENDABLE, intelligent people oriented individuals for an exciting new restaurant and club...

PART TIME laundry aid, flexible hours with rotating weeks...

SECRETARY Goodwill Industries is seeking a hardworking, personable individual...

BOOKKEEPING CLERK Goodwill Industries is seeking a hardworking, organized individual...

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT The Iowa Humanities Board is seeking a consultant...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

HELP WANTED

TELEMARKETING announces new part time telemarketing sales positions open for qualified applicants...

EXPERIENCED farm hand (farm background essential) part time...

THE MONTESSORI School of Iowa City is compiling a substitute teaching list...

SINCLAIR convenience store on North Dodge is hiring full time and part time staff...

WORK STUDY ONLY Supply Clerk for electronic background check...

PART TIME third shift help wanted. North Dodge is hiring full time and part time staff...

GAZETTE motor route driver needed early morning routes. Need own transportation...

PART TIME Christmas help needed. Apply in person: Loree Cheese House...

PART TIME jobs to do light raking in Iowa City area...

FULL TIME relief cook, flexible hours. If interested please apply in person...

WE PLACE persons with childcare experience and/or education in quality homes...

DRIVE A Mercedes; wear tailor made clothes. Earn $10,000/month...

ROCKY ROCOCO'S 118 S. Dubuque Do you want to earn VERY GOOD MONEY...

BOOKKEEPING CLERK Goodwill Industries is seeking a hardworking, organized individual...

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT The Iowa Humanities Board is seeking a consultant...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

HELP WANTED

I NEED a quality day care provider in my home weekdays for child, age one. Ideal for dependable, trustworthy, night student or retiree...

STUDENTS, housewives, earn extra money, up to $300 a day taking phone orders...

PART time and full time housecleaning person needed. Must have car. Daytime hours...

ENERGETIC and enthusiastic people needed to fill positions, immediately. Apply in person at Bruggar's Bagel Bakery...

CNAs Lantern Park Care Center is looking for full time and part time CNAs...

THE DAILY IOWAN offers Park and Shop & Bus and Shop ($10 minimum purchase)...

NOT JUST another nanny position! Live with a young, exciting New Jersey family...

WILLIAMSON High School needs assistant boys' basketball coach immediately...

STUDENT, part time. Data entry, coding, telephone and clerical work. Must have knack for detail...

Kathy Holston 287 Med Labs Community Based Programs

NOW HIRING prep cooks/ lunch line cooks for part time including weekends...

WANTED: Sitter from 3pm-11pm, M-F. Must be dependable and love children...

DRIVE A Mercedes; wear tailor made clothes. Earn $10,000/month...

ROCKY ROCOCO'S 118 S. Dubuque Do you want to earn VERY GOOD MONEY...

BOOKKEEPING CLERK Goodwill Industries is seeking a hardworking, organized individual...

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT The Iowa Humanities Board is seeking a consultant...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

STUDENTS Earn extra $$$ raising money for well-respected nonprofit organization...

HELP WANTED

BARTENDERS/DOORMAN wanted evening shifts. Apply in person at 826 South Clinton 1pm-5pm...

CASHIER/CLERK positions available. Apply in person M-F at Paul's Discount Food Service...

TRADITIONAL couch with two matching chairs, like new, $200. 644-2757

SOFA, contemporary, beige. Converts to round hide-a-bed. 351-5498 after 6pm

COMMUNITY AUCTION every Wednesday evening sells your unwanted items. 351-8888

WANTED TO BUY WANTED: Old costume jewelry by the piece or lot. 354-2379

BUYING class rings and other gold and silver. STEPH'S STAMPS & COINS, 107 S. Dubuque, 354-1958

CASH paid for antiques: Wooden furniture, quilts, glassware, toys, anything old. 354-1909

FIREWOOD HEAT cheap! Seasoned oak, split, stacked, delivered, $60/ton. 3115 cord. 554-6244, 683-2322

PETS BRENNEMAN & PET CENTER Tropical fish, pets and pet supplies, pet grooming...

FOR SALE: CFA Himalayan kittens. Flame-point and blue-point. Ferrets, all colors. $25. 354-0997

ANTIQUE LET US HELP YOU WITH CHRISTMAS IDEAS! Shop early! Show now...

HAUNTED BOOKSHOP 520 Washington Used books in all fields...

WURLITZER piano, pean wood, excellent condition. $75. 351-4926

REPAIR OF AMPS, MIXERS, EQS, KEYBOARDS, etc.

LIGHTING SYSTEMS RENTALS Call us about your band's next job.

HESSIAN ELECTRONICS 401 S. Gilbert, Iowa City 351-5290

NEW 14"15" timbales with stand and cymbals. $385. 085-1744

ROLAND D.R. 220A drum machine. Acoustic sounds, fully programmable...

FENDER Stratocaster. U.S. Electronics. Near mint. HSC. $350. 085-1651

COMPUTER WE DO repairs on most computer models at COMPUTER SOLUTIONS 327 Kirkwood, Iowa City 351-7549

COMPLETE LASER-XT Systems from $895. Check out with the COMPUTER CELLAR before you buy...

EXQUISITE San Martin, pink bridal gown/vail. Details $31-5498

1920's AND 19TH CENTURY clothing. Lace, formal; 1950's $3-8k. Rentals Available.

THE BOOKERY 116 South Linn

URGENT benefit rummage sale for South African UI students. Saturday, October 22, 7:30-1:30...

HOUSEHOLD ITEMS BOOKCASE, $19.95; 4-drawer chest, $59.95; futon, $34.95...

USED vacuum cleaners, reasonably priced. BRANDY'S VACUUM. 351-1453

WANT A Sofa? Desk? Table? Rocker? Visit HOUSEWORKS. We've got a store full of clean used furniture...

HOUSEHOLD ITEMS

FUTONS and frames. Things & Things 1330 South Clinton, 337-9641

TRADITIONAL couch with two matching chairs, like new, $200. 644-2757

SOFA, contemporary, beige. Converts to round hide-a-bed. 351-5498 after 6pm

COMMUNITY AUCTION every Wednesday evening sells your unwanted items. 351-8888

WANTED TO BUY WANTED: Old costume jewelry by the piece or lot. 354-2379

BUYING class rings and other gold and silver. STEPH'S STAMPS & COINS, 107 S. Dubuque, 354-1958

CASH paid for antiques: Wooden furniture, quilts, glassware, toys, anything old. 354-1909

FIREWOOD HEAT cheap! Seasoned oak, split, stacked, delivered, $60/ton. 3115 cord. 554-6244, 683-2322

PETS BRENNEMAN & PET CENTER Tropical fish, pets and pet supplies, pet grooming...

FOR SALE: CFA Himalayan kittens. Flame-point and blue-point. Ferrets, all colors. $25. 354-0997

ANTIQUE LET US HELP YOU WITH CHRISTMAS IDEAS! Shop early! Show now...

HAUNTED BOOKSHOP 520 Washington Used books in all fields...

WURLITZER piano, pean wood, excellent condition. $75. 351-4926

REPAIR OF AMPS, MIXERS, EQS, KEYBOARDS, etc.

LIGHTING SYSTEMS RENTALS Call us about your band's next job.

HESSIAN ELECTRONICS 401 S. Gilbert, Iowa City 351-5290

NEW 14"15" timbales with stand and cymbals. $385. 085-1744

ROLAND D.R. 220A drum machine. Acoustic sounds, fully programmable...

FENDER Stratocaster. U.S. Electronics. Near mint. HSC. $350. 085-1651

COMPUTER WE DO repairs on most computer models at COMPUTER SOLUTIONS 327 Kirkwood, Iowa City 351-7549

COMPLETE LASER-XT Systems from $895. Check out with the COMPUTER CELLAR before you buy...

EXQUISITE San Martin, pink bridal gown/vail. Details $31-5498

1920's AND 19TH CENTURY clothing. Lace, formal; 1950's $3-8k. Rentals Available.

THE BOOKERY 116 South Linn

URGENT benefit rummage sale for South African UI students. Saturday, October 22, 7:30-1:30...

HOUSEHOLD ITEMS BOOKCASE, $19.95; 4-drawer chest, $59.95; futon, $34.95...

USED vacuum cleaners, reasonably priced. BRANDY'S VACUUM. 351-1453

WANT A Sofa? Desk? Table? Rocker? Visit HOUSEWORKS. We've got a store full of clean used furniture...

HOUSEHOLD ITEMS

FUTONS and frames. Things & Things 1330 South Clinton, 337-9641

TRADITIONAL couch with two matching chairs, like new, $200. 644-2757

SOFA, contemporary, beige. Converts to round hide-a-bed. 351-5498 after 6pm

COMMUNITY AUCTION every Wednesday evening sells your unwanted items. 351-8888

WANTED TO BUY WANTED: Old costume jewelry by the piece or lot. 354-2379

BUYING class rings and other gold and silver. STEPH'S STAMPS & COINS, 107 S. Dubuque, 354-1958

CASH paid for antiques: Wooden furniture, quilts, glassware, toys, anything old. 354-1909

FIREWOOD HEAT cheap! Seasoned oak, split, stacked, delivered, $60/ton. 3115 cord. 554-6244, 683-2322

PETS BRENNEMAN & PET CENTER Tropical fish, pets and pet supplies, pet grooming...

FOR SALE: CFA Himalayan kittens. Flame-point and blue-point. Ferrets, all colors. $25. 354-0997

ANTIQUE LET US HELP YOU WITH CHRISTMAS IDEAS! Shop early! Show now...

HAUNTED BOOKSHOP 520 Washington Used books in all fields...

WURLITZER piano, pean wood, excellent condition. $75. 351-4926

REPAIR OF AMPS, MIXERS, EQS, KEYBOARDS, etc.

LIGHTING SYSTEMS RENTALS Call us about your band's next job.

HESSIAN ELECTRONICS 401 S. Gilbert, Iowa City 351-5290

NEW 14"15" timbales with stand and cymbals. $385. 085-1744

ROLAND D.R. 220A drum machine. Acoustic sounds, fully programmable...

FENDER Stratocaster. U.S. Electronics. Near mint. HSC. $350. 085-1651

COMPUTER WE DO repairs on most computer models at COMPUTER SOLUTIONS 327 Kirkwood, Iowa City 351-7549

COMPLETE LASER-XT Systems from $895. Check out with the COMPUTER CELLAR before you buy...

EXQUISITE San Martin, pink bridal gown/vail. Details $31-5498

1920's AND 19TH CENTURY clothing. Lace, formal; 1950's $3-8k. Rentals Available.

THE BOOKERY 116 South Linn

URGENT benefit rummage sale for South African UI students. Saturday, October 22, 7:30-1:30...

HOUSEHOLD ITEMS BOOKCASE, $19.95; 4-drawer chest, $59.95; futon, $34.95...

USED vacuum cleaners, reasonably priced. BRANDY'S VACUUM. 351-1453

WANT A Sofa? Desk? Table? Rocker? Visit HOUSEWORKS. We've got a store full of clean used furniture...

WHO DOES IT?

STUDENT HEALTH PRESCRIPTIONS? Have your doctor call it in. LOW PRICES - WE DELIVER FREE UPS SHIPPING FEDERAL EXPRESS Six blocks from Clinton St. dorms...

SEWING with/without patterns. Alterations. Sewing prom dresses, silks. 626-2422

CHIPPER'S Tailor Shop, men's and women's alterations. 128 1/2 East Washington Street. Dial 351-1223

THE DAILY IOWAN PUBLISHING DATES CORRESPOND WITH THE UNIVERSITY SCHEDULE, MONDAY THROUGH FRIDAY, 42 WEEKS PER YEAR.

CHILD CARE 4-C's KIDCARE CONNECTIONS COMPUTERIZED CHILD CARE REFERRAL AND INFORMATION SERVICES. United Way Agency. Day care homes, centers, preschool listings, occasional sitters, FREE-OF-CHARGE to University students, faculty and staff M-F, 338-7684

BABYSITTING available: Mid-afternoons to early evenings, all day Saturdays. Coralville Elementary area. 337-2684

POPULAR KEYBOARD, jazz, improvising J. HALL KEYBOARDS 1015 ARTHUR, 338-4500

Classical - Suzuki - Rhythm Lead - Folk and Eclectic Blues GUITAR FOUNDATION Find your guitar! 351-0932, 514 Fairchild DISCOUNT MUSICAL MERCHANTISE

MATHEMATICS 22M-001-0045 STATISTICS 22S-002-120 PHYSICS 29,001-013 CHEMISTRY 4,007-013 FRENCH 9,001-022,100 338-0506

"THE CHESSMEN" Sound & Lighting Pro Weddings, Parties, Bands, DJ's 351-8743

MURPHY Sound and Lighting DJ service for your party. 351-3179

P.A. PROS. Party music and lights. Ed. 351-6639

IOWA SOUND DJ SERVICE "Parties" Functions "Weddings" Reunions. Better prices. 337-3078

IN CONCERT Friday, October 21, 8pm. Davenport Col. Ballroom. Tickets on sale, BJ's in Iowa City.

DAD MOVING SERVICE PHONE 338-3909 I WILL MOVE YOU COMPANY Help moving and the truck, $25/ load. Two movers, $45/ load. Offering loading and unloading of Rental Trucks. Call now. John Breno, 683-2703

SPECIAL on mini-cube storage $60 for six months $100 for year Sizes to 10x20 also available Mini-Priced Mini-Storage 338-6155, 337-5544

EXPERIENCED, accurate, check spelling, know medical terms, IBM Selectric III. Term papers, manuscripts. 338-1647

QUALITY Presentation Means Better Grades. Fast, accurate, reasonable rates. 338-5974

PROFESSIONAL RESUME WRITING Experts in preparing interview winning resumes. Pechman Pro Professional Services 351-8523

NANCY'S PerfectWord PROCESSING Quality work. Rush jobs. APA. Resumes. Foreign language. Transcription. Discounts over 50 pages. 354-1671

PHYL'S TYPING 15 years' experience. IBM Correcting Selectric Typewriter. 338-8996

COLONIAL PARK BUSINESS SERVICES 1901 BROADWAY, 338-8800 Typing, word processing, letters, resumes, bookkeeping, whatever you need. Also, regular and microfilm transcription. Equipment, IBM Displaywriter. Fast, efficient, reasonable. 338-9130

Typing, word processing, letters, resumes, bookkeeping, whatever you need. Also, regular and microfilm transcription. Equipment, IBM Displaywriter. Fast, efficient, reasonable. 338-9130

Typing anything, including applications, quick turnaround, accurate. Call Elaine. 338-9130

$15/PAGE Spellchecker Datasheet Printer Mastercard/Visa Pickup/Delivery Satisfaction Guaranteed 354-3224

$10/PAGE Emergencies possible Resumes: $6.50 first page 354-1982, 8am-10pm

Typing: Experienced, accurate, fast. Reasonable rates! Call Marlene. 337-9339

WORD PROCESSING QUALITY WORD PROCESSING 10 FREE COPIES with any order *Free Parking *Free Resume Consultation *Same Day Delivery *APA Legal Medical *Grant Applications/Forms

10 East Benton 354-7222, 7am-M-F 626-2589, anytime EXCELLENCE GUARANTEED BEST OFFICE SERVICES 318 E. Burlington Iowa City, IA IMPROVE YOUR academic and professional communications with our word processing, editing and copywriting by the professionals at BOS. 338-1572 8 am-10 pm, 7 days/week

WORD PROCESSING

NANCY'S PerfectWord PROCESSING Quality work. Rush jobs. APA. Resumes. Foreign language. Transcription. Discounts over 50 pages. 354-1671

LASER typesetting - complete word processing services - 24 hour resume service - these - "Desk Top Publishing" for brochures/newsletters. Zephyr Copies, 124 East Washington, 351-3500

ON CAMPUS. U.I. graduate does professional word processing. Jennifer, 338-3394

SUZANNE'S Word Works. Professional Word Processing. Large project specialist - proficient in University thesis style; APA; manuscripts for publication. Call M-F ONLY, 9:30am-4:30pm. 354-7357

WORD PROCESSING and typing 50¢ per page Phone 353-5281

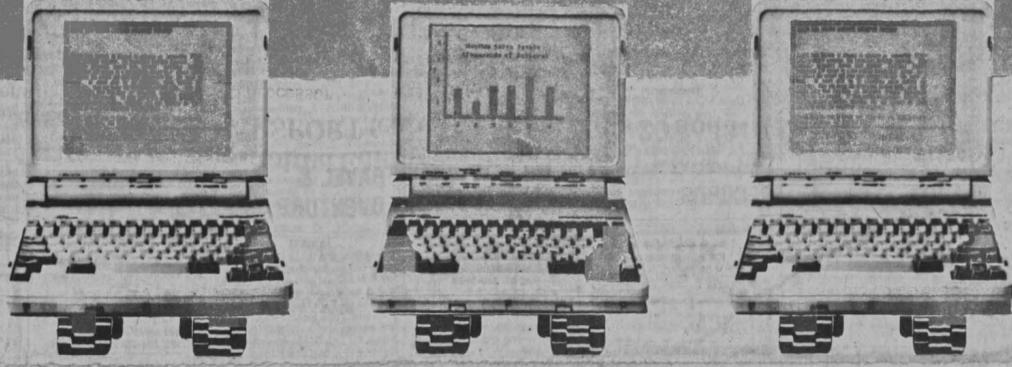

LOST & FOUND LOST: Ladies' yellow gold watch with gold band, while walking from Kirkwood Stadium to Hancher on 10th. REWARD for return! 351-2415

LOST: Long-haired gray cat, male, neutered, declawed. Coralville. Randall's rd. area, September 16. 338-2991

LOST: Female grey tiger striped cat on Sunset. Reward! 354-6428

LOST: Keys on Mazda chain. Around 8/18, at IBS. Information? Please call

Roll with the group that's going places

The new ZENITH SUPERSPORT personal computers put your education and career on the up and up

On the move and traveling fast are you and one of the new portables from Zenith. From college to career, you'll be at your productive best.

With the quickness of a "fast-charge" battery, which recharges in less than two hours; flexibility of a detachable battery pack and sleek, small compact design; intelligence of maximum battery operation through Zenith's advanced "intelligent power management", the Zenith Super Sports make your education and career really fly!

The Limited Edition SUPERSPORT features:

- 8088 processor
- 8-4.77 MHz
- 640K RAM
- Internal 1200 baud modem
- 10.5" diagonal LCD super twist screen
- Serial port
- Parallel port
- RGB port
- 5.25" floppy interface
- Rechargeable-detachable battery
- MS-DOS

ZWL-184-HR with 720K floppy drive, 20MB fixed disk
$1799

The SUPERSPORT 286 models 20 and 40 feature:

- 80286 processor
- 1MB RAM expandable to 2MB
- 10.5" diagonal LCD super twist screen
- Serial port
- Parallel port
- RGB port
- 5.25" floppy interface
- Numeric keypad port
- Expansion chassis connector
- Rechargeable-detachable battery
- MS-DOS

Z-286-20 with 20MB fixed disk
$2799

Z-286-40 with 40MB fixed disk
$3099

The SUPERSPORT features:

- 8088 processor
- 640K RAM
- RAM option 1.64MB with EMS
- 10.5" diagonal LCD super twist screen
- Serial port
- Parallel port
- RGB port
- 5.25" floppy interface
- Numeric keypad port
- Expansion chassis connector
- Rechargeable-detachable battery
- MS-DOS

Super Sport with dual floppy $1299

Super Sport with 20MB fixed disk
$1999

ZENITH | data systems

THE QUALITY GOES IN BEFORE THE NAME GOES ON

Contact Weeg Computing Center to pick up your Zenith Information Packet.

Prices subject to change without notice.

Price: 25 cents

Early

by Jean Thilmany
The Daily Iowan

Next lung cancer, breast is the biggest killer of women, but early detection increases the survival rate. Jane Levy of the National Cancer Institute.

The National Cancer Center, New York, N.Y., is sponsors of the fourth National Breast Cancer Week Oct. 17-23.

"We need to make won

Graduation prompts decision

By Hilery Livengood
The Daily Iowan

Graduation. For some it only means deciding what school they'll soon go to for the rest, mentioning graduation brings night navy blue suits, résumés and the "real world."

But making plans for shouldn't scare anyone December graduates. The time for everyone to make schedule interviews and before graduation, according to Nancy Noth, director of Business and Liberal Arts Office.

"If you're a December graduate you should be very busy," Noth said. "You should be viewing, contacting employers on your own, out résumés, making plans and using all the contacts you have."

"If you're a May graduate, be doing those things, too. The crunch isn't as bad for you," said. "But in both cases, you should be conducting a very active search now."

But for some UI students a job search is still in the future.

For about 13 percent of arts graduates, 14 percent of business graduates and 15 percent of UI engineering graduates, midterms and final exams end with commencement exercises, graduation means going on to a higher level of education — graduate school.

The benefits that a degree bring a student in the field that student enter. In education, a degree almost always means salary increases, said Judy Hendershot, director of the National Placement Office.

"If they intend to stay in a master's degree is almost essential," Hendershot said. "In education teachers have money they can earn. Graduate education allows for their certificates up to help them stay current in their field."

In other professions, a degree does not necessarily mean financial benefits.

"A lot of companies are looking to reward people for those degrees," Noth said. "The structures are not designed to reward employees with degrees."

"Overall, the bachelor's degree is still very sellable in the world," she said. "In advanced degrees, the more students will benefit from going out there and working. It gives them the opportunity to reach their goals, and they are more likely to be targeted if they return to education."

"It's really not a good idea to go up a fifth or sixth year of college just because you don't know what to do."

Call 555-1234 See G

Inside

Index

- Arts.....
- Classifieds.....
- Crossword.....
- Metro.....
- Movies.....
- Nation/world.....
- Sports.....
- TV Today.....
- Viewpoints.....

Weather

Mostly sunny today with temperatures between 55 and 65