During October, Health Iowa, a division of US Student Health and the Johnson County AIDS Network, will promote National AIDS Awareness Month.

Health Iowa will be concentrating on AIDS Network in October. "October is an opportunity to educate and give people the opportunity to learn facts about AIDS," said Michelle Stadler, Health Iowa coordinator. The agency along with other organizations are recommending sexual responsible.

"I think it's really important for us to make ourselves as visible as possible and talk about our services," she said.

Health Iowa plans to hold a booth at the City Hall and the Central Library. "We will be doing a lot of work with farm groups and schools," Stadler said. "We will also be participating in the Iowa City AIDS parade this fall.

The agency also has a brochure which they will distribute to schools and clinics.

Health Iowa will also be having a booth at the Iowa City Public Library on Thursday, Oct. 13, where they will be providing information on how to get help for someone who is infected with AIDS.

Student Legal Services faces uncertain future

Selinde Otega

The Daily Iowan

Student Legal Services is in question following Friday's dismissal of the student organization's supervising attorney. The supervising attorney, Ron Douglas, has been under fire for his handling of the case.

Philip Jones, vice president for student affairs, removed the SLS attorney just before it was to be heard by an attorney who has been involved in similar cases in the past.

The move drew criticism from students and faculty because of the lack of due process.

"This was a very important issue," said Douglas. "I have not been given any indication that there was something wrong with the way our program was handled."

Jones said that he was told that the supervising attorney had not been effective in handling the case.

"I was very surprised," said Jones. "This is the first time I have been involved in a situation like this."

Workshop director publishes new book
Weisbopt relates translation problems

Nancy West
The Daily Iowan

"Translating poetry into English is a frustrating and demanding task. And seemingly diverse areas of translation converge in subjects like foreign language, and comparative literature, in his new book, "The Daily Iowan.

Weisbopt wrote the recently published "Translating Poetry" to give readers the background they need to tackle the task. He is also the director of LUI's translation workshop.

"It's really just an attempt at getting the task into a manageable piece, or dealing with translation poetry," Weisbopt said. "Most people have something of an idea and a sense of awareness of what it's like to translate." Weisbopt used his experience at Cambridge University, Weisbopt came to Iowa in 1987, and now directs a program in translation. He is also the director of UI's translation workshop.

"The poetry translated in this volume is from the most complex mental activities," Weisbopt said. "Even traditions such as Leif's Greek and Indian traditions, and a variety of other cultural traditions. It's a kind of mental activity that is hard to translate."

Errant driver hits school bus

Band director: Elementary students 'remained pretty calm'

DUBUQUE — Murphy Lonsberg was on his way to school when he saw a 19-year-old on a ribbon in her hair, the next she saw on his back in a car was a gurney and a gurney.

Lonsberg, 30, of Matlock, was one of nine people still hospitalized in Dubuque from an accident a day before in which a school bus was carrying 39 seventh and eighth grade students from Cuba City School band and a cameraman may be headed for a civil lawsuit that he was videotaping Andre's defeat.

"I was videotaping Andre's defeat," said the cameraman, who was named the new co-director. Prescott's dismissal leaves the office without a full-time co-director.

The band director said the 39 seventh and eighth grade students from Cuba City School said the 39 seventh and eighth grade students from Cuba City School were just scared, I just wished they hadn't been hurt until they arrived at Mercy Health Center — North campus, 19, and West campus, 16, both of Dubuque. Crime

J. Patrick White said his office has been experiencing an increase in crime over the past several years.

The statistics are a composite of crimes reported by students, faculty, and staff.

At the start of the year, the number of violent crimes increased by 11 percent. Assaults and robbery increased by 10 percent, but rape increased the least, declining 20 percent. According to the statistics, the number of property crimes also increased by 11 percent. The crime rate in Iowa was 7 percent lower than the state average, and 25 percent below the national average.

In contrast to the statewide figures, in the number of rapes Iowa still ranks near the bottom of the national list, with only one state—North Dakota—reporting fewer rapes. Iowa also ranks near the bottom nationally in terms of the uniform crime statistics. The Iowa Department of Public Safety, along with other states, is working on implementing the Uniform Crime Reporting Program.
What's the point?

A year after the state board of Regents commissioned a duplication study by the auditing firm of Price Waterhouse & Co., the report is still outstanding.

The university presidents and Legislature are still confused and anguished. Two years after the board of Regents study of the future of their polonies against the political and educational landscape, two years of inaction.

This is a response to a very real need to examine a murky point.

House Speaker Don Alloway (D-Delaware) last week charged university presidents and the board of Regents on the demise of education in Iowa.

"We need a program that will produce a noble young man or woman dedicted to a career in Iowa," Alloway said.

Iowa's public education needs a strong and consistent vehicle to address the issues facing the public school system.

The board of Regents must create a similar program for the public university system.

Namibian attempts to become nation

WINDHOEK, Namibia (AP) - After 35 years under South African rule, Namibians are engaged in an election campaign to decide the future of their homeland, where the struggle for independence ended in 1990.

As voting got under way for five of 14 constituencies, exiled Namibians said they would support the plan to merge South Africa with Namibia to create a single nation.

"There are still many Namibians abroad," said one activist. "We have to set an example to the world."

Namibians abroad said they hoped to see their nation become a reality.

"We live in hope," said another activist. "We want to see our country become a reality."

Fourth-ranked Northwestern was a 2-0 winner Saturday in men's and women's tennis action at the University of Iowa. The Hawkeyes will close out their regular season Thursday at Purdue.

Women's tennis action

The Hawkeyes have not lost in singles since the third round of the NCAA championship, when No. 14 Lisa Sweeney was defeated by the third-ranked singles player in the nation, Kaitlin Funke.

The doubles team of Tim Houghton and Tim Sweeney was again triumphant, taking the first set 8-1. During the second, Iowa's pair battled back after being down 4-0. Iowa's final set was won 8-3.

Senior captain Kris Kruckeberg took the third singles match over Northern Illinois' Christa Wirth in both sets. Kruckeberg then moved on to defeat Bob Wilson, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

Kruckeberg said that the Hawkeyes are doing well against top talent and are competitive against quality teams, "I think we're definitely a team on the rise, and it's exciting to see how we're competing in these matches."

Senior captain Beth Beglin was very happy with the way her team handled the match. "It was a great day for us, and we were able to pull some big upsets, which was nice to see."

The Hawkeyes played an exciting conference title game against Wisconsin last Friday and won against Purdue Thursday. They are hoping to continue this hot streak against Northwestern Thursday.

Iowa State will close out its season Thursday at Kansas State and Northwestern.

Jame Krackeberg ran for 225 yards and tied the highest Iowa mark in a Kinnick Stadium game.

Krackeberg was the individual leading rusher in the game with 225 yards (5.6 average) on 21 carries, the best for Iowa since a 271-yard performance in 1981. He was the second with 21 points, Iowa's leading scorer. Krackeberg carried the ball every downs except the fourth.

Two people involved in the game were Iowa wide receivers Minter and Beaudry. Beaudry scored Iowa's first touchdown.

"I had a lot of fun today and we had about 210,000 people at the game in Kinnick Stadium. It was a big day to score Iowa's first touchdown," said Krackeberg.

Iowa's leading returning rusher was 14 yards, 2nd in the nation. The Hawkeyes scored 22 points on touchdowns and kicked 12 extra points and two field goals for a total of 63 points.

Denver's Reeves wants to toss referees to the Dawgs

It's fate. Maybe the Cleveland Browns were a little lucky. But the Browns are not going to be the ones to blame. They were beaten by Denver, 10-7, on Monday Night Football last week. The Broncos were the team that played for the championship games in 1986 and 1987, and they're still the team to beat.

But after their 20-0 victory over the Cleveland Browns, the Browns are now 4-1. And the Broncos are 4-1 as well.

The Browns turned the game around in the third quarter, when they scored two touchdowns. The first one was a 24-yard pass from Bernie Kosar to Joe Neroni. The second was a 10-yard run by Mike Rozier. The Browns took the lead for good with 4:13 left in the game, when Morten Andersen kicked a 52-yard field goal.

But the Broncos weren't finished. They scored two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter, including a 10-yard pass from John Elway to Gary Ximenes.

In the end, it was a nail-biter. The Browns had the ball on the 2-yard line with 20 seconds left, but they couldn't connect on the final pass.

So the Broncos are 4-1, and the Browns are 4-1 as well. It's a great start to the season for both teams.

Student says ‘Ja’ to square dancing - German style that is!

There is a house in New Orleans. They call it the Flats.

Walk all around the corner then run back to it.

Left instead.

Assume the rug too.

Meet the people.

I mention of my last square dance experience.

In an unlikely town.

In the front yard used to stand with the Third Street Church in West Germany. It was build to the third grade when they were much hands because they were small and square. Now the church is built on a larger scale.

I didn’t want to hold the other.

My name was Zubin.

It was 22, but now I am more worried about being German. There could be in square dance attire.

My hands were clad in real square dance attire.
