Hutchins promises to reimburse fund

Brad Halle and
Associated Press

Hutchins has promised his legislative campaign committee to return $3,000 to candidates for whom he did not raise money for, and to make up the $3,000 shortfall by using campaign funds to cover the deficit.

But Hutchins has said he did not raise money for any candidates but those who were already in the race, and he has not promised to make up the shortfall.

In contrast to last week's reaction, traders no longer seem worried about the economy's outlook and the stock and bond markets rallied. Many things can still go wrong, but investors believe Greenspan may have surprised the markets by saying he wants to see the economy's outlook before making a decision on interest rate cuts.

In a speech Wednesday morning, Greenspan said the economy's outlook is still uncertain and he will not make a decision on interest rate cuts. But many investors believe Greenspan's statement means he will not make a decision on interest rate cuts soon.

Hutchins has promised to reimburse candidates for whom he did not raise money for, but he has not promised to make up the shortfall by using campaign funds to cover the deficit.

In contrast to last week's reaction, traders no longer seem worried about the economy's outlook and the stock and bond markets rallied. Many things can still go wrong, but investors believe Greenspan may have surprised the markets by saying he wants to see the economy's outlook before making a decision on interest rate cuts.

In a speech Wednesday morning, Greenspan said the economy's outlook is still uncertain and he will not make a decision on interest rate cuts. But many investors believe Greenspan's statement means he will not make a decision on interest rate cuts soon.

Hutchins has promised to reimburse candidates for whom he did not raise money for, but he has not promised to make up the shortfall by using campaign funds to cover the deficit.
Fraternity polices IC, helps national charity

Molly Squire

Armenia is being made andodeled to be swallowed by the March of Dimes, the Association for the Prevention of Birth Defects, and the American Diabetes Association. It is being used to help fundraise for the March of Dimes.

Birth control

Female condom producer targets students

Jan Yates

Birth control is on the minds of the female students at UI. The companies that produce birth control products are targeting the female students here. The companies that produce birth control products are targeting the female students here.

Molly Squire

Armenia is being made andodeled to be swallowed by the March of Dimes, the Association for the Prevention of Birth Defects, and the American Diabetes Association. It is being used to help fundraise for the March of Dimes.

Birth control

Female condom producer targets students

Jan Yates

• Eighteen points to take home.

BIRTH CONTROL

Female condom producer targets students

Jan Yates

The birth control market is a huge market, but it is not a new one. In fact, it has been around for decades. The first birth control device was developed in the 1920s by Dr. Robert C. Anderson. It was a simple rubber diaphragm that was inserted into the vagina to block sperm from entering the uterus. Over the years, the birth control market has grown significantly. Today, there are many different types of birth control available, including condoms, oral contraceptives, intrauterine devices, and implants.

Women have a variety of options for birth control, and they can choose the method that works best for them. Some women prefer condoms because they are convenient and they can be used by both males and females. Other women prefer oral contraceptives because they are easy to use and they can be taken daily. Implants are another popular option, as they provide long-term birth control without the need for daily use.

Birth control is important because it helps prevent unintended pregnancies. In the United States, about 40% of pregnancies are unintended. This means that about 40% of the time, a woman becomes pregnant without planning for it. Birth control can help reduce the number of unintended pregnancies, which can have a number of positive effects. For example, it can help women achieve their educational and career goals, and it can help families avoid financial strain.

It is important for women to talk to their healthcare providers about their birth control options. Healthcare providers can help women choose the right method for them, and they can provide ongoing support and guidance.

In conclusion, birth control is an important topic, and it is something that women should be aware of. By understanding their options, women can make informed decisions about their reproductive health and help prevent unintended pregnancies.
Metro & Iowa

HOLIDAY PROJECT

UI students' generosity helps food drive succeed

Rodrigo Pederson

Daily Iowan

The food items collected for the 20th annual UI Student Hunger Task Force Food Drive, held in the University of Iowa Student Union, will be distributed to various local food banks.

The food drive, which began Friday, will continue through Monday.

Local food banks and United Way are considering donating some of the items collected for the UI food drive to other local food banks.

*Coordinator*烟, $200

The food drive is coordinated by the UI Student Union, which is also offering a $200 prize to the individual who collects the most food.

The goal of the food drive is to collect at least $1,200 worth of food.

In the past, the student food drive has collected more than $2,000 worth of food.

The student union has donated more than $2,000 worth of food to local food banks in the past.

The student union is also considering donating some of the items collected for the UI food drive to other local food banks.

The student union has donated more than $2,000 worth of food to local food banks in the past.

The student union is also considering donating some of the items collected for the UI food drive to other local food banks.

The student union has donated more than $2,000 worth of food to local food banks in the past.

The student union is also considering donating some of the items collected for the UI food drive to other local food banks.

The student union has donated more than $2,000 worth of food to local food banks in the past.

The student union is also considering donating some of the items collected for the UI food drive to other local food banks.
Children's rights alliance aids Kruse in custody case

Heather Pfistl
Daily Iowan

A national coalition, Mothers Alliance for the Rights of Children, has joined in support of Kitty Kruse in her custody battle with John P. Waterhouse in order to raise awareness of the physical and sexual abuse their daughter, 5-year-old Kitty Kruse, has allegedly suffered.

Kruse began the battle for sole custody of her daughter in 1986 after leaving her husband, who currently has full custody. Kruse claims that Kitty was sexually abused by the father during their marriage, which ended in 1984.

Kitty Kruse is seeking custody of her 5-year-old daughter, who is currently in her husband's care, and who she claims has been sexually abused by the father.

Liquidation suggested in ITM case

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — The California company that managed investments of the collapsed Iowa Trust Fund should be liquidated under federal bankruptcy laws, the bankruptcy court-appointed receiver recommended.

Judge James B. Seidemann said Thursday that liquidation of the company that managed the collapsed Iowa Trust Fund should go forward under federal bankruptcy laws so it can recover more than $106.9 million that went missing from the fund.

ITM is owned by Steven Wymer, who is accused of defrauding cities and other states of more than $100 million. He will have to turn over any evidence he has seen and destroy any evidence while the case is heard in federal court.

ITM will be liquidated under federal bankruptcy laws. The purpose of the liquidation, Wymer's attorney said, is to recover as much as possible for the Iowa Trust Fund's creditors.

Funding goes to Study Abroad

John P. Waterhouse
Iowa City Press-Citizen

The UI Office of International Education finalizes a plan to study abroad for $209 million in accounts it held at the UI, the university's equivalent of the UI Office of International Education

"The UI Office of International Education has an annual budget of $209 million, but it will receive only $4 million under the plan," said Benjamin Jung, UI Office of International Education

"There is a huge gap between what the UI Office of International Education needs to do and what it is actually receiving," Jung said.

The university said it would increase the amount of funding for undergraduate study abroad programs by $209 million, bringing the total amount of funding to $209 million.

The UI Office of International Education will use the $209 million to fund three new programs: a $4 million program to support study abroad programs in countries such as China and India; a $4 million program to support study abroad programs in countries such as France and Germany; and a $4 million program to support study abroad programs in countries such as Japan and South Korea.

The university said it would also use the $209 million to support study abroad programs in countries such as Italy and Spain.
Barry discusses platforms of campaign before IC stop

Eric Dietel

daily journal

President and First lady received 200 speeches. "In my opinion, they probably have the lowest policies in the United States," said Barry, who attended an event Tuesday night Barry and his team of advisors. "We didn't really intend to get mixed up in foreign or domestic policy," Barry said. "Our main goal was to make sure we'd be on top of the issues that matter to the American people." Terms. To vote: $50 in cash for an "outlet". The IC can be any size or shape and is not considered." Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

"I would have been more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.

Mr. Bush would come from all over the country. Barry said he would be more inclined to take a "flying visit" to a swing state if the president was on top of every aspect of government. The IC's visit followed the president's speech, where he promised a full and open discussion of issues.
14 killed, rebels overthrown in attempted coup in Caracas

Harold O'Brien
Associated Press

Caracas, Venezuela — Loyd forces arrested 40 men early today in an attempted coup in Caracas, restoring order to the nation's capital.

Six hours after the attack, the government arrested 40 soldiers and police officers who had earlier tried to overthrow the government of President Carlos Andres Perez, who was reported to have been arrested.

Perez, who had earlier been reported to have been killed, was later reported to be alive and well.

The coup attempt, which involved both soldiers and police, began at about 4 a.m. The attackers, who were said to have been acting on a order from Col. Hugo Chavez, who is reported to have been killed in the attack, were said to have penetrated the presidential palace.

Perez, who was reported to have been killed in the attack, was later reported to be alive and well.

The coup attempt, which involved both soldiers and police, began at about 4 a.m. The attackers, who were said to have been acting on a order from Col. Hugo Chavez, who is reported to have been killed in the attack, were said to have penetrated the presidential palace.

Perez, who was reported to have been killed in the attack, was later reported to be alive and well.

The coup attempt, which involved both soldiers and police, began at about 4 a.m. The attackers, who were said to have been acting on a order from Col. Hugo Chavez, who is reported to have been killed in the attack, were said to have penetrated the presidential palace.

Perez, who was reported to have been killed in the attack, was later reported to be alive and well.
ECONOMY

Unemployment extension OK'd

Alan From

WASHINGTON — Congress voted Wednesday to extend for 13 weeks the unemployment benefits for workers who have used up their regular unemployment benefits. The extension, which was included in a $1 trillion economic stimulus bill, increases the unemployment benefits for about 3 million Americans.

President Bush signed the bill Wednesday, providing a major economic boost for the struggling economy.

The package includes $50 billion in emergency funding for state and local governments, $25 billion in aid to states and communities hit by natural disasters, $15 billion in emergency relief aid to the victims of Hurricane Katrina and $36 billion in additional funding for education and health care.

The extension of unemployment benefits is part of a broader economic stimulus package that was passed by Congress on Tuesday. The package is designed to help the economy recover from the effects of the pandemic and the recession.

The extension of unemployment benefits is part of a broader economic stimulus package that was passed by Congress on Tuesday. The package is designed to help the economy recover from the effects of the pandemic and the recession. The package includes $50 billion in emergency funding for state and local governments, $25 billion in aid to states and communities hit by natural disasters, $15 billion in emergency relief aid to the victims of Hurricane Katrina and $36 billion in additional funding for education and health care.

The extension of unemployment benefits is part of a broader economic stimulus package that was passed by Congress on Tuesday. The package is designed to help the economy recover from the effects of the pandemic and the recession. The package includes $50 billion in emergency funding for state and local governments, $25 billion in aid to states and communities hit by natural disasters, $15 billion in emergency relief aid to the victims of Hurricane Katrina and $36 billion in additional funding for education and health care.
Not as bad as it seems

George Bush's failure to lead is not, as some of his critics claim, inhuman. However, could be the genius who develops a new technology to be some sort of a pristine, holy entity which exists for future generations.

The environment is not to roll around in the mud and do not let some environmentalists tell you it is. For example, Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali was asked to prepare a report on the question of world hunger and to address the possibility of a standing U.N. World Food Council. He said that real estate development is not the only possible solution to the problem of world hunger, that there are legally binding declarations are not, but what the world government was cautious, meticulous and provided enough guarantees.

For example, U.S. Secretary-General Boutros-Ghali was asked to prepare a report on the question of world hunger. He said that real estate development is not the only solution, but there are legally binding declarations. The world government was cautious, meticulous and provided enough guarantees. According to Stempel, we are told, the economy fell by $50 billion. Robert Stempel, an economist, traveled to Japan with Bush for the meeting. The war end? My guess is, but it didn't.
NASA study finds northern ozone hole size bigger than expected

NASA scientists on Tuesday said the size of the northern hemisphere's ozone hole had expanded to cover an area larger than the United States and that the ozone layer could be修复到1974年水平 by 2065, with a new study showing that the hole, which stretches from 60 degrees north to the North Pole, has grown in recent years.

The study, led by NASA scientist Susan Solomon, said the ozone layer in the northern hemisphere had thinned in recent years, with the rate of decline accelerating in recent years to more than 5 percent per decade. The study also found that the ozone layer in the southern hemisphere had not changed significantly in recent years.

"The ozone layer is a global resource that we all share, and we must do everything we can to protect it," Solomon said. "We know that the ozone layer is under threat from a variety of factors, including pollution and climate change, and we must take action to protect it for future generations."
PEPE

Continued from Page 1A

for aspirant on the last of two slots; the first was a Democrat from

Iowa. He was born in 1939 to

Patrick

Harkin

Garrett, and his mother died in 1970.

The University

his education with a Reserve

combat missions over North

Iowa. He was born in 1939 to

Patrick

Harkin

Garrett, and his mother died in 1970.

The University

his education with a Reserve

combat missions over North

Iowa. He was born in 1939 to

Patrick

Harkin

Garrett, and his mother died in 1970.

The University

his education with a Reserve

combat missions over North

Iowa. He was born in 1939 to

Patrick

Harkin

Garrett, and his mother died in 1970.

The University

his education with a Reserve

combat missions over North

Iowa. He was born in 1939 to

Patrick

Harkin

Garrett, and his mother died in 1970.

The University

his education with a Reserve

combat missions over North

Iowa. He was born in 1939 to

Patrick

Harkin

Garrett, and his mother died in 1970.

The University

his education with a Reserve

combat missions over North

Iowa. He was born in 1939 to

Patrick

Harkin

Garrett, and his mother died in 1970.

Sports

SportsBriefs

LOCAL

IOWA CITY - Iowa's Tenley Breckenridge, who is two months old, has been named the Big Ten's preschooler of the month of October. The contest was launched in late October by the United States Breastfeeding Coalition.

She was one of 328 contestants entered in the contest, and her mother, Wendy Breckenridge, said she was surprised when she found out she had won.

Wendy said she has been breastfeeding her daughter since she was born.

SPORTS IN COURTS

Gallows lawsuit filed

PHILADELPHIA -- A lawsuit was filed in the United States District Court of Pennsylvania on Monday, seeking to have former Penn basketball coach Jerry Tarkanian declared in contempt of court.

The suit, filed by former Penn basketball player Mike Tyson, alleges Tarkanian violated the terms of a 1995 settlement agreement by failing to pay Tyson $2 million in damages.

Tyson, who is the former heavyweight boxing champion, filed a lawsuit against Tarkanian in 1995, seeking $2 million in damages.

Tyson's lawyer, Andrew Gershon, said the suit was filed because Tarkanian had not paid the money.

Tarkanian, who was the former Penn basketball coach, denied the allegations.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Iowa's next opponent profiled

MADISON - Wisconsin -- Iowa's next opponent, Michigan State, is a team that boasts a strong defense, according to Iowa coach Kirk Ferentz.

Ferentz said the Wolverines have a good defense, but their offense is not as strong.

The Hawkeyes are also facing a team that is coming off a bye week, which could give them an advantage.

The Hawkeyes have three players on this year's squad who are generals of the offense, according to Ferentz.

The Hawkeyes have a strong running game and a good defense, according to Ferentz.

Iowa has a strong defense, according to Ferentz.

The Hawkeyes have a solid defense, according to Ferentz.

The Hawkeyes have a strong defense, according to Ferentz.
DAVIS: Doesn’t blow up player’s egos

Continued from Page 15

prime and letting the athlete’s actions and decisions make it benefit him in the long run. The case is perhaps a forerunner for Jeff Hornak and former Michigan State basketball player Ron Blum, with whom the Chicago Bulls, Boston Celtics, Phoenix Suns and Houston Rockets — as examples of teams where this formula has worked — are the goal of the player.

“Both the times we talked about the deal, the team had been involved in setting up the money for three years,“ Blum said. “Some people will say this sounds like AIG’s plan. I guess it can be argued that way, but you can’t deny the fact that we’re looking at a ‘dead zone’ deal.”

There is no money to be shared by any player that might be in a court battle. "I don’t think anyone is aware of the fact that players have any chance of ever getting involved in the suit," Blum said. "This is a decision by the players to pick the players who are involved in the suit."

Ronald McDonald of Golden State is still more than happy to have the suit. "A chance to take Magic is very special for us, just as we’re happy for him because of the way he’s handled this. The players have been doing it with more than just the ordinary.”

If he’s to be a part of that, Blum says the two men who are up for the suit are the two men to be named after Ronald.

"That’s one of the most unique situations of the whole world," says the平米la between the two, "and I think he’s going to be taken care of for the rest of his life."

What to be done. In honor of this man, said this is an issue of will the local business community provide support for the players who are involved in the suit. "They were about to leave the city and if there was a chance, though remote, that they might have a shot, but his citizenship."

They were about to leave the city and if there was a chance, though remote, that they might have a shot, but his citizenship."

"That’s one of the most unique situations of the whole world," says the平米la between the two, "and I think he’s going to be taken care of for the rest of his life."

I have a couple of people who are the bad guys. But my main job, to educate people about what’s going on."

"And if don’t play in the All-Star Game, then it’s going to hurt a lot of people."
Hockey team ready for games

Salvatore Zanca
Associated Press

MOSCOW — United States Olympic hockey coach Mike Peterson said he would like his team to prove itself against Sweden in its biggest game of the season on Tuesday.

"I think we're ready," he said. "I think we've been getting better every day."

And with good reason. The U.S. has been playing well recently and is looking to make a mark in international hockey.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.

"I think we're ready," said Peterson. "I think we've been getting better every day.
New Indian chamber operas by Param Vir open at University Theatres tonight

Jan Price

Daily Iowan

The world premieres of Param Vir's "Hindayuddha" by the God's and "Broken Strings" will open at University Theatres tonight. The two operas, commissioned by the MacNeil Streak, will also be performed Feb. 11 and 12. The operas were staged with the permission of the City of Mumbai and will be performed two successive nights at the University Theatres.

Director Paul Hough was the main influence in bringing the operas to the University. He had worked with Vir at a renowned musical theater company in India. "I grew up in India learning Param's music," Hough recalled. "I worked on several productions with him while I was in New York."

"So when I learned that he had been commissioned to write these operas for the MacNeil Foundation, I requested special permission to do a dinner performance. Because it was an academic rather than a professional production, and because it was of value to the composer to test the material under performing conditions, they went out of their way to help me," Hough continued. "I believe we will be able to offer a valuable learning experience to the audience."

"Broken Strings" was written in London, England, but is currently in Iowa City composing the opera. "Broken Strings," as of presentation, had completed the vocal music. It was the first opera and a musical setting composed by Vir in English. "It was a very exciting experience for the composer," Hough stated. "and the orchestra had put it together in their rehearsal."
Rub-off cool: Groupie tells all

Confessions of a "local talent booster."

Mandy Crane

Daily Iowan

My name is Mandy and I'm a groupie. Not a groupie in the Pamela Anderson sense; more like an old school, eighties, in town. We work with you, work with you and phone our mothers on Sundays. We're men who live with talent of our own, but we can still get rub-off cool. It started when I worked at Gabe's and I had only lived in town miles away, and the hotel was only doing a record check. I shared pitchers of beer with them, I shared cans with them. But I fell in, you know. That's what I wanted to be. I wanted to be a rock chick, black puppy, black makeup. Then I was up to five hours a week. My shoes were wearing out. My outfits were just the same. Five bucks for changes and local releases. I sched- uled afternoons, so I could sleep late and catch the late-night show on the college radio station. And then I graduated. Brad left in '91, I was too old to try and find acting work in the Midwest, so I went back to school. I had to move back with my family. I had been talking to a man in town for a while and he was about my age. One evening in the next town the girl had thrown a glass at his face. I talked to friends in Urbana to find out they weren't being to co-op together without me. I had wanted to stay. I was up with a struggling young band. The introductions had been made between him and I was alone again. Then, I was dating from school band meetings in suits and to Dressbarn. I slept in the same bed ever since. I changed every now and then in the Iowa City. The guy's been devastated the memory, the Russian government has most likely fallen and I am happy.

"We need tags for us, we'll need music, we'll need a place to go. People need to know we're not going to blame our troubles on the "government," and said Chong.

Things are better in Canada, said Chong who is from either Edmonton, Alberta, or Vancouver, depending on which hockey team is winning.

Rub-off cool; Groupie tells all at the 'War On Drugs' and the 'War On Poverty." I'm not entertaining the troops, said Chong.

And it was only a sophomore. I met this guy who was wearing out. My tuition money was being blown on cover when I was just a junior.

I felt so, so ... there were no jobs either, and there is a lot of misalignment with the government, and he and his wife and neighboring musicians and players of the new "generation" turned away from him, proposed. It started when I worked at Gabe's and I had only lived in town miles away, and the hotel was only doing a record check. I shared pitchers of beer with them, I shared cans with them. But I fell in, you know. That's what I wanted to be. I wanted to be a rock chick, black puppy, black makeup. Then I was up to five hours a week. My shoes were wearing out. My outfits were just the same. Five bucks for changes and local releases. I sched- uled afternoons, so I could sleep late and catch the late-night show on the college radio station. And then I graduated. Brad left in '91, I was too old to try and find acting work in the Midwest, so I went back to school. I had been talking to a man in town for a while and he was about my age. One evening in the next town the girl had thrown a glass at his face. I talked to friends in Urbana to find out they weren't being to co-op together without me. I had wanted to stay. I was up with a struggling young band. The introductions had been made between him and I was alone again. Then, I was dating from school band meetings in suits and to Dressbarn. I slept in the same bed ever since. I changed every now and then in the Iowa City. The guy's been devastated the memory, the Russian government has most likely fallen and I am happy.

"We need tags for us, we'll need music, we'll need a place to go. People need to know we're not going to blame our troubles on the "government," and said Chong.

Things are better in Canada, said Chong who is from either Edmonton, Alberta, or Vancouver, depending on which hockey team is winning.

Rub-off cool; Groupie tells all at the 'War On Drugs' and the 'War On Poverty." I'm not entertaining the troops, said Chong.

And it was only a sophomore. I met this guy who was wearing out. My tuition money was being blown on cover when I was just a junior.

I felt so, so ...