Public library funding proposal accepted

The University of Iowa Library Board of Trustees on Thursday approved a $23 million proposal for a new library building, surpassing the funding goal of $20 million.

The proposal, which was announced in March, would include a new library building on the Pentacrest, a new academic library building on the east bank, and renovations to existing libraries on campus.

The approved proposal, which includes a $23 million capital campaign, will provide the necessary funds to construct the new library building on the Pentacrest. The new building will include 700,000 square feet of space, including 250,000 square feet of new library space and 150,000 square feet of renovated space.

The new library building will feature a variety of spaces, including studying areas, group study rooms, and an exhibition space. The building will also include a large reading room, a children's library, and a special collections area.

The proposal includes an estimated cost of $23 million, which will be funded through a combination of state and private funding. The library board has already received commitments of $13 million from private donors.

The new library building is expected to be completed by 2023. The project is a major step in the university's plan to modernize its library system and provide students and faculty with the resources they need for research and learning.
IC criminal activity arises along with temperatures

As winter draws into spring money

Another factor that contributes to the growth in criminal activity is the infrastructure of the city. In the winter months, people tend to be more guarded in their homes, but in the spring, they tend to let down their guard.

"The time of the year is a big factor in criminal activity," said an officer of the Iowa City Police Department. "It's due to the amount of darkness there is in the winter months," he said.

"The city is more active in the spring," said another officer. "We see a lot of activity, especially on weekends." He also said that the number of calls for service is increasing in the spring months.

Police departments encounter a lot of activity during the spring months because of the increased activity in the community. "We see a lot of activity in the spring," said an officer. "We see a lot of people out and about." He also said that there are more calls for service during the spring months.

Also, the spring fever may not be a real thing, but the increase in criminal activity may be due to the increased activity in the community. "We see a lot of activity in the spring," said an officer. "We see a lot of people out and about." He also said that there are more calls for service during the spring months.

"There are still stiffer penalties as you go into the summer," he said. "But we're really not seeing a lot of criminal activity in the spring." He also said that the number of calls for service is increasing in the spring months.

Kelly: Lack of information, interest preclude filling of senate seats

Approximately 100 positions still vacant

Iowa City

With about 35 senators and 100 executive board members, the UI Student Senate is having problems filling all positions. Former UI Student President Jennifer Hall said that there were more empty seats in the senate last year than there are today. When the senate is not filled, the members that are in can be overworked.

"I think we have a problem with people power," she said.

The senate also includes a provision to create a permanent student body that can be removed if it becomes too powerful. Hall also said that there were problems because of a lack of presidential power.

"There should be a system where major positions will be advertised and filled within two weeks. This would allow students in Joe UISA all year round instead of waiting until the end of the school year," Hall said.

the group met once a week and during the new elections.

There are more than 200 empty seats in the senate, according to UISA President Denis Wilcox. The senate is responsible for managing the money and for organizing the events. Students aren't getting into the senate because there isn't enough interest, according to UISA.

"I think we have a problem with people power," she said.

In order to fill the empty seats in the Senate, the senate will be conducted during the special elections in January of this year. Approximately 100 signatures are required.

FORUM

in that point, UI officials wanted the forum to be open to all individuals, not just students, and the students wanted to have the forum held on their campus.

Ted Habte-Gabr, chairman of the forum, also pointed out that the forum program would have benefited from being held in the Kirk-Vick.

"Foe the past six to seven years, I've been working with the Kirk-Vick program," he said. "I think it's a much better forum." However, he noted, the Kirk-Vick program made it difficult to arrange events in a regular fashion because it was needed for two purposes at one time and a regular basis. WASHINGTON — Retail sales flowing from Mount Etna toward the town Tuesday. LAVA seven months, the government dropped The dip followed strong gains in the first two all and economists had welcomed the recovery was under way.

"It was inevitable those huge increases in January and February weren't sustainable," said economist Sunday Thaler of the Futures Group, a Washington-based consulting firm. March marked the first drop since October and the worst since August. Still, even with the decline, first quarter sales were up 0.7 percent from a year earlier, the best in more than three years.

"This is a relatively small decline and it certainly doesn't equal entering another downturn," he said.

March's drop in sales was caused by a variety of factors, the government said, noting "many respondents commented that unseasonably warm weather, particularly in the West, may have delayed the typical spring uptick in sales." Retailers themselves expressed frustration with the weakness, which they said was unrelated to weather.

"It's frustrating," said a spokesperson for the National Retail Federation. "We expected a stronger showing. We're seeing a lot of retailer support for the recovery, but it's not translating into increased sales."
President Bush is looking more and more like a candidate Bush. To do so, the president has begun using his executive powers to forestall the right from taking control of the news. But the right, and the left, Bush may be wary of that advantage. If that occurs and the economy does not turn around in the next three or four months, even a battered Bill Clinton may be able to dominate.

The president's message seemed specifically tailored for the Michigan audience. Unemployment is over 9 percent in that state and Bush appears vulnerable.

"After an initial burst of excitement, H. Ross Perot has fallen into disfavor with the media and the right because they thought he could beat Bush." Reminiscing about Baku & Yerevan, the capitals of Azerbaijan & Armenia

Ten years ago, a one-semester research leave took us to the former Soviet republics of Azerbaijan and Armenia. We arrived in Baku, Azerbaijan, and then moved on to Yerevan, the Republic of Armenia. This account represents a personal memoir and chronicles our travels to these two capitals.

The road was different from Leningrad and Moscow. People are relaxed and friendly. To the evening we go to a cinema. Yes, with dancing bears. Limited food serves favorite performances with special local wines.

Tour of a one-semester study tour. We visit the Kirov Gardens, a giant of fire. Naphtha flares here have the sand of a country.

Along the shore promenade, there are many odors, fruits, vegetables, and more. My wife says she's never been in such a dry, desert feel. Children beg to buy souvenirs and special cities.

We tour oil fields and visit temples and stenciled with a built-in, stone carpet. We visit the Intourist guide from Estonia, joins us.

INDIANAPOLIS — The Indianapolis Colts plan to go into this year's draft with the 30th overall pick, and they have met with several top prospects, including quarterback Ryan Leaf, during the pre-draft process.

“I think the whole idea was to get a feel for what kind of player we can get with the 30th overall pick,” said general manager Tony Polian. “We wanted to see if we could get a good player who could help us win games.”

Leaf, who played for the University of Washington, is considered one of the top prospects in the draft. The Colts, who finished last in the AFC East last season, are hoping to improve their record and make the playoffs this season.

“I think we’re in a good position to make a move this year,” said head coach Tony Dungy. “We have a lot of young players who are ready to step up and contribute.”

Robo QB strikes again

Raiders quarterback Todd Marinovich reportedly tested positive for a banned substance at the end of the 1991 season.

EL PASO, Texas — The Los Angeles Raiders quarterback Todd Marinovich, who was testing positive for a drug diversion program, was tested positive for the NFL for a banned substance, ESPN reported on Tuesday.

ESPN said Marinovich refused to be interviewed and refused to release the report through his agent, Tom Fruin. The NFL said the league-conducted test was conducted before the last game had kicked off when drug possession charges were filed against Marinovich if he successfully completed the program.

Leaf appeared satisfied with the Colts’ progress during the weekend and said, “It’s been a good week for us.”

He added, “We’re getting a lot of good work on the field and I think we’re moving in the right direction.”

On Tuesday, the Colts announced they had signed free agent linebacker Mike Jones to a one-day contract that will expire after Sunday’s game against the Kansas City Chiefs.

Jones was released by the Chiefs last week after missing the entire 1993 season with a knee injury. He is expected to join the team for practice on Wednesday.

The Colts also announced they have signed free agent wide receiver Steve McMillan to a one-year contract.

McMillan, who played for the Cincinnati Bengals last season, will provide depth at the wide receiver position.

INDIANAPOLIS — The Indianapolis Colts plan to go into this year’s draft with the 30th overall pick, and they have met with several top prospects, including quarterback Ryan Leaf, during the pre-draft process.

“I think the whole idea was to get a feel for what kind of player we can get with the 30th overall pick,” said general manager Tony Polian. “We wanted to see if we could get a good player who could help us win games.”

Leaf, who played for the University of Washington, is considered one of the top prospects in the draft. The Colts, who finished last in the AFC East last season, are hoping to improve their record and make the playoffs this season.

“I think we’re in a good position to make a move this year,” said head coach Tony Dungy. “We have a lot of young players who are ready to step up and contribute.”

Robo QB strikes again

Raiders quarterback Todd Marinovich reportedly tested positive for a banned substance at the end of the 1991 season.

EL PASO, Texas — The Los Angeles Raiders quarterback Todd Marinovich, who was testing positive for a drug diversion program, was tested positive for the NFL for a banned substance, ESPN reported on Tuesday.

ESPN said Marinovich refused to be interviewed and refused to release the report through his agent, Tom Fruin. The NFL said the league-conducted test was conducted before the last game had kicked off when drug possession charges were filed against Marinovich if he successfully completed the program.

Leaf appeared satisfied with the Colts’ progress during the weekend and said, “It’s been a good week for us.”

He added, “We’re getting a lot of good work on the field and I think we’re moving in the right direction.”

On Tuesday, the Colts announced they had signed free agent linebacker Mike Jones to a one-day contract that will expire after Sunday’s game against the Kansas City Chiefs.

Jones was released by the Chiefs last week after missing the entire 1993 season with a knee injury. He is expected to join the team for practice on Wednesday.

The Colts also announced they have signed free agent wide receiver Steve McMillan to a one-year contract.

McMillan, who played for the Cincinnati Bengals last season, will provide depth at the wide receiver position.

PIETERSE vs. SLANEY
rematch in the works

EUGENE, Ore. — If South Africa reunites with international track and field competition at the end of May, it could be a match-up between Zola Budd-Pieterse and Blanda Slaney.

The International Amateur Athletic Federation has indicated it will let South Africa compete South Africa has been banned from international athletics for 20 years. "I don't expect to see South African track for a long time. It might just be a week or maybe longer."

Tom Jordan, promoter

Budd-Pieterse, now 20, was a star athletes at the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Games. Slaney was touted as a wonder kid and was considered a sure thing hanging from the boughs of greatness. Eventually, Budd-Pieterse finished seventh.

"Budd-Pieterse ran against Slaney in the past as a representative various U.S. teams, "Jordan said. "She has never beaten Budd-Pieterse and he would certainly agree that he was her equal."

"Budd-Pieterse missed the Olympic tryout last April for the first time in five years. She had injured her soleus muscle and had to miss the four-week training camp."

"I don't expect to beat her too fast. I have about six weeks to prepare for the next meet," Jordan said. "I want to show the world that I can still run against the best."

Jordan said he has made an "attractive offer" to lure Budd-Pieterse's agent and had not heard from her since last month.

"She is healthy now and she is fast. I think she will be ready for the final word," Jordan said. "We have made the invitation and they are considering it."

Jordan said no one was encouraging Slaney to make a decision on transferring to Purdue before tying to coach Gene Keady, who was due to return to West Lafayette on Tuesday after winning the Big Ten championship.

"I don't know how long it will take Slaney to decide. I'm supposed to sit down with the coach and the runner in the next few days," Jordan said.

"Windy Wisconsines and Marsha Norman are well matched. Normal's not normal... but they won't find themselves waltzing off to make up for the lack of a sense of place. "The stainless steel" is a well-written, well-acted play. The action is fast-paced and the writing is tight."
