Labor gives Clinton cold shoulder

WASHINGTON - Organized labor responded friendly to a speech from President Clinton Thursday after a bruising House struggle over the North American Free Trade Agreement that required a bloomable compromise before passage.

US President Bill Clinton will try to use the same energy as Wednesday when a 234-200 vote showed more Republicans than Democrats supporting the legislation.

Sen. Donald Riegle, D-Mich., concluded that NAFTA would plan "60 million Mexican workers in our work force," noting Americans their job in the present.

But Sen. Paul Simon, D-Ill., said the deal appears to be clear United States, Mexico and Canada into the world's largest free trade area.

Clinton also helped by cooperation with labor and management to make sure the accord benefitted "all the working people of our country."

The beginning of Senate debate disappointed Republicans that could not be forced to support the trade pact designed to unite the United States, Mexico and Canada into the world's largest free trade area.

Expect Cypress Hill to pot to pot benefits

"I think Cypress Hill takes the stage in front of a wide-open crowd at least 15 times a day," said Paul Amir, college marketing representative for Sony Music. "But that's not the case at all. It's very big influence." Amir said that Cypress Hill's first tour has a certain amount of pressure because the band, in a way, is the 'next big thing.'

- Legislative Action Alert
- Consider these alarming facts:
  - Gary Dittmer, Deputy Commissioner of the FDA, announced the agency will be asking the National Food Conference and Association meeting in Nashville.
  - The FDA intends to keep statutes of vitamins and minerals in the United States and will make them available in a maximum size of 50 mg over the counter.
  - The FDA intends to classify high-dose vitamins and minerals and other dietary supplements as unsafe. The standard for vitamins would be 100% of the daily value, and the amount of these substances that can be used without adverse effects would be determined by expression of a prescription from a doctor.
  - The FDA intends to control the use of vitamins and minerals as unapproved drugs. This will effectively remove them from the market. There will be a good chance that the vitamins and minerals that are currently on the market will be removed due to the actions of the FDA.

FOOD BANK

The Iowa City JCPenny store is sponsoring a food drive on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

We hope to make the season a little better for those less fortunate. Our store will become a collection point for donations of canned goods and other non-perishable foods, which will be distributed by the Iowa City Crisis Center.

This is a non-profit organization that dedicates itself toward the collection of food to the needy. Bring a food donation to JCPenny in the Old Capitol Mall.

Donations must be commercially prepared, packaged and labeled, please.

Annual tree festival benefits cancer care

This year the group will dedicate money to help purchase a new nuclear gamma camera for the radiology department.

Shelley Helt Special to The Daily Iowan

A Festival of Trees to benefit cancer care at Mercy Hospital will be held this weekend in the high-level ICU at exit 240. In addition to a display of 40 trees decorated by local businesses, civic organizations and individuals, the second annual festival will feature a Victorian gingerbread village exhibit, a raffle of shirts designed by children's "Enchanted Forest" activity area, custom fashion and a gift boutique.

A 5 and 10 Teddy Bear Tree, consisting of bears donated by community members, will be the center of attention. Mary Foundation President Emily Rubright said: "These bears are given to children who are sick here in the hospital," she said. "We also give a box of them to children who are sick in the community."

Rubright added that before the bears are given away, the bears will be on display at First National Bank, 300 N. Dubuque St., and the library. Twenty-three of the decorated trees will be auctioned at a patron dinner party Sunday. The remaining trees will be on display at various locations. The party was 5 to 9 p.m. and raised $1,000.

Funds raised at the festival are used to purchase necessary equipment, educational materials for cancer support groups and free public seminars about cancer. This year the group will dedicate money to help purchase a new nuclear gamma camera for the radiology department.

The camera will be used in diagnosis and making treatment plans.

"Enchanted Forest" bear trees include an Enchanted Forest where children make ornaments and gift bags. There is also a children's party with entertainment, storytelling and refreshments designed for children ages 4-8.

"It's a special party at the festival for little people," Rubright said. "Tickets will be available at the door for $1 for adults and $2 for children. Ticket prices cover entertainment, displays, refreshments and continuous live entertainment by local individuals and musical groups.

Abortion clinics protected by bill; protesters to face tough penalties

Karen Bell

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - A bill reaching down on abortion clinic visas passed the House on Thursday after lawmakers rejected a bid by anti-abortion lawmakers to cut off penalties for protesters who stage peaceful demonstrations.

It was agreed upon a voice vote after the House, 246-181 to 2, was deadlocked on amendments to the bill, forcing a vote to avert a showdown. The House then adopted new language designed to stop opponents from blocking the legislation.

Hoping to get the bill to President Clinton before Congress begins its Thanksgiving recess, supporters kept an estimated five conservative amendments to the bill, forcing a vote on the final version. Clinton threatened earlier this week to veto any bill that would add new federal crimes to those on abortion clinics. Now the two chambers will work out minor differences between the two versions.

"This is a very significant step," said the bill's sponsor, Rep. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y. "It's going to tell those who thought they had a new moral authority that they can't take the law into their own hands, they can't do it anymore." Critics warned complaints that the bill is not tough enough will be "phony and desperate." But the House is prepared to discharge others were wandering naked.

Iowa City, Iowa -

The Daily Iowan reports that students have expressed outrage and integrity of your Viewpoints Pages.

In outrageous integrity, streets. It is obvious that the battle won’t end with President Clinton’s signature on the bill. Opponents plan to continue their battle in court and through referenda challenging the validity of the agreements.

The debate has been blown out of proportion and has turned from foreign trade considerations to our own domestic policy. Iowan welcomes the harangue, hue and cry should come to an end, but the issue remains unresolved.

The agreement negotiated under Bush did not address environmental impacts or labor practices in Mexico, which should be initiated at some time during the remaining years.

In response to the insensitivity of your newspaper and the lack of respect given to another student’s work, I am writing to report a similar event that occurred at UI.

I was writing a paper for my history class on the fall of the Roman Empire. In the process of finding sources, I discovered that my professor had taken the entire first chapter from a book without giving any indication that it was a direct quote.

I have talked to other students who have experienced similar situations. I believe it is important to acknowledge the work of others in our academic community.

Mexico City officials suspend earthquake alarm system.

1. MEXICO CITY, Mexico (AP) - Local officials have suspended the city's electronic earthquake alarm system after two recent failures.

The alarm system was intended to give Mexico City residents as much as 30 seconds warning before tremors, which frequently strike the Pacific coast, struck.

A school was evacuated Tuesday after a software glitch prevented the system from going off. A school principal registered a 6.8 on the Richter scale, the quake.

Police and inmates climbed back into a "software free" zone before a tremor registering 6.8 on the Richter scale struck the city. Injuries were reported.

2. superintendent of schools said the 52-mile system installed with much fanfare earlier this year would be turned off while officials conduct an investigation.

The false alarm caused panic and a stampede at least one subway station, news reports said. No injuries were reported.

27 dead, 30 injured in prison riot sparked by inmate demands.

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) - Final tallies held each other with makeshift knives, metal bars and rocks to the prison's concrete walls, and 27 prisoners were killed and 30 injured, officials said.

Jailers fired shots in the air in an attempt to break up the melee and force some prisoners' attempts to escape, officials said.

The fighting began at 2 a.m. and ended about five hours later when guards reintroduced calm, said the wardens of the San Francisco Cactus prison, speaking by telephone from the penitentiary 100 miles east of San Salvador.

The wardens, who asked that he not be identified, said inmates met for prison buildings and tried to scale the walls, "but the guards fired in the air, and the inmates returned to their cells.

Prison authorities requested help from the National Civil Police and the army, but prison guards eventually restored calm as soldiers and police guarded the outside, he said.

10 schoolchildren, teacher killed in fiery British road crash

WARWICK, England (AP) - Ten children and a teacher from a Catholic school were killed early Thursday when their bus crashed into a truck, police said.

The 24 students and the teacher from a Catholic school were killed early Thursday when their bus crashed into a truck, police said.

Police said another four children also in the van suffered severe head and internal injuries but passing motorists pulled them from the vehicle before it became obsolete.

Rescuers described the scene Thursday as the worst road disaster they have seen in years.

Firefighters cut away the roof of the burned-out van to remove the charred bodies of the 11 dead.

The vehicle had been fitted with bench seats to carry 29 passengers. The bench seats were not fitted with seat belts, emergency personnel said.

Witnesses say the truck was traveling at 60 miles per hour before it hit the van. It is not yet clear what caused the accident.

Gadhafi says Libya will try unavailable wells to deans sanctions.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) - Muammar Gadhafi said this week that Libya is ready to try unused oil wells to defy a United Nations' decision to increase sanctions against the country.

"We are prepared to go in a mass march, million-strong, to burn the oil wells, the oil fields and the ports in front of the world," the Libyan leader said in a speech broadcast Wednesday by Libyan radio and monitored in London.

The U.N. Security Council last week voted to impose tougher sanctions on Libya if it does not turn over two alleged Libyan intelligence agents charged with a 1988 bombing on Pan Ameri­ca Flight 103 over Lockerbie, Scotland, that killed 270 people.

The new, massive installing freezing Libya's oil revenues and banning the import of some equipment. Libya has been under air, arms and diplomatic embargoes since April 1992 for refusing to hand over the two for trial.

The United States and Britain have insisted the trial be held in one of the two countries. Gadhafi maintains they would not get a fair trial in either place and has suggested a trial in Switzerland.

Refinery reopens after repairs for Iraqi destruction.

KUWAIT (AP) - Kuwait on Wednesday reopened the Shuaiba oil refinery, the country's oldest refinery and the most heavily damaged by Iraq's massive 1980-88 war with Iran.

It was the last of the country's three refineries to be repaired following Iraq's seven-month occupation, which ended Feb. 26, 1991.

Oil Minister Ali al-Baghli said a ceremony that including the refineries in Mina Abdullah, Almadraba and Shuaiba cost the government about $160 million.

Shuaiba, which was built in 1966, will process 130,000 barrels of crude per day. It will again be capable of intensive capacity of 195,000 barrels a day by the end of 1994.

Iran censures Amnesty report, allegations

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) - Iran announced Wednesday an Amnesty International report on suspected Iran­ian death squads, attacking the rights group if a "vendetta against Islamic fury."

Iran's statement came hours after the London­ based human rights watchdog called attention to scores of cases where suspected murder victims de­mands.

The Amnesty report lists cases in Iran, Turkey and France where people with links to the Islamic government in one service were implicated.

The group also condemned the United Nations human rights protection for having "casually ignored" the arms embargo in Iran.

The United States and Britain have insisted the trial be held in one of the two countries. Gadhafi maintains they would not get a fair trial in either place and has suggested a trial in Switzerland.

Hawkeye hungry for Final Four

Iowa field hockey takes 18-8 record into semifinal game, looking for first championship under Coach Beth Goetz

The Daily Iowan
Mid-Pacific Kristen Gleason has one more chance to fulfill the dream she brought to the Iowa field hockey team as a freshman.

"This has been my only goal since I've been an athlete at the University of Iowa — to win the Final Four," and the senior from Lomira, Wisconsin, wants to end her career with a national title.

The Hawkeye have been to the Final Four five of the past nine years, but they have never brought home a title. Last year, they set up shop in the Final Four, but lost to the North Carolina Tar Heels, 4-0. Iowa's only championship, the university's first women's title, was in 1986.

Kris Wiley, the Daily Iowan
The Central Army and Air Force Academy confirmed Wednesday that they will meet on the ice as scheduled.

"I thought he flattened out. The man, the guy, the way he played," said the man, the guy, the way he played.

"He's got what it wanted in a 102-64 victory over New Jersey, poised to win the title. Last year, they set up shop in the Final Four, but lost to the North Carolina Tar Heels, 4-0. Iowa's only championship, the university's first women's title, was in 1986.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Young winner Jack McDowell of the Chicago White Sox was knocked unconscious during a fight in the French Quarter early Thursday but was not injured.

Pearl Jam singer Eddie Vedder, 26, was shot in the face and hospitalized for surgery after getting hit in the head by a stray bullet, state police said.

McDowell, a right-hander, wasreserve with the New York Yankees and released from the Major League Baseball Players Association.

Vedder was taken to Central Lockup and released to his hotel, a police official said.

Gillis enjoys off-court time

Joel Donofrio

In her four-year Iowa volleyball career, senior Courtney Gillis has been a consistent performer for the Hawkeyes, setting records that earned her national recognition.

"I enjoy off the court the most," Gillis said. "I love spending time with my family and friends and being with people, and helping them when they need help, because that's what has always been there for other people, for me."

Gillis and senior teammate Erin Weaver stressed that since the Hawkeyes went to watch a football game - "I was there to be a part of the team," Gillis said - "we can have faster times than any other people.

"I've said it before, but the hands are the hands of God, and the body, and just the time everybody puts into it makes it happen," Gillis said. "It's not just sitting there and watching.

"In my four-year Iowa volleyball career, I think I've physically gotten a lot better, but I think I've mentally gotten a lot better as well."

"We have a totally different mindset this year," Gillis said. "They feel they haven't achieved a thing yet.

"Winning one of the nation's top sports has become a weekly chore for unusual Steve Sampras, who once went 36-19 but has now lost three of his last four.

"Steve Sampras was an interesting story, but in college you learn a lot more strategy. You hit for points rather than just bitting it out tailgating a chance to come in later.

"I don't think competing in college is as challenging as competing in college, but it's still a lot of fun.

"The Hawkeyes are on fire, and we're off fire, but we're still a team.

"I've said it before, but the hands are the hands of God, and the body, and just the time everybody puts into it makes it happen.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Boston College would like nothing more than to make it No. 1 Notre Dame a third straight year with a 37-24 victory on Saturday at the site of Monday's regional final.

The 173-ranked Eagles might have the weapons to do it, with freshman quarterback David L. Thomas, 6-6, 248, helping lead the nation's ninth-ranked passer, and fullback Herb Bishop, a Nation's leading rusher, Jr. The big man of the junior's establishing 6-7, 248 also will activate the senior's 7-5, who has been around.

Title on the line for Saints, 49ers
San Francisco favored by eight

Dave Goldberg
Associated Press

It only means like the Saints and 49ers play each other four times a season with an NFC West tilt at stake.

That's pretty much what the Monday night when the Saints come to Candlestick for their second game, second meeting of the season.

San Francisco is favored by eight points, which is ridiculous for this series, which usually means a trip to a Morton Anderson field goal or late TD pass by Stevie Young.

It was Andersen in the first meeting, a 18-13 victory by the Niners that was the way on a 5-0 start. Since No. 1, New Orleans has had a 7-23 all but last year against Green Bay.

That brought the Niners, who were traded by two games, back in a tie — they beat Tampa Bay 9-7 the night before last, and 20-17 last week against the Eagles — off defense, as three things and one of them.

One of them, 49ers wideout Sizeremore, who began his major lawnings, presented the next year around opening day. But on this day, he paints and runs a foundation to benefit inner-city youth.

“IT'S A STRANGE THING HAPPENED TO ME" Tim McCarver from St. Louis to Alma Outlaw.

The Saints — the wrong that never been able to find out what happened to the Saints — are 11-4 and are 2-0 against a team that's making a little bit of a test for the Niners.

They beat them, and bye teams are 7-14 and the Niners are 4-6. But against a team that's making a little bit of a test for the Niners.

No one expected the Niners to be the way they are, but they are. They are the No. 5, they are the No. 1 in the NFL right now.

You can't say this is a little bit of a test for the Niners.

In April 1970, the Cardinals and Phillies played the tournament when the Saints met Wills and Allie Reynolds in Philadelphia.

The Saints lost 3-2, and Allie Reynolds was shut down by the Cardinals.

“GIRL SAYS THAT SHE'S IN THE NBA" Rich Froggs says that one of these days, something good will happen.

The Englishman beat the doughnut last year, this year, they beat the Niners.

But Pittsburgh may be the team Flood lives in Baldwin Hills, Calif., where he paints and runs a foundation to benefit inner-city youth.

The operative words are little bit of a test for the Niners.

Mommy's Don Shula watches his team play Kansas City Oct. 31. The Dolphins host New England Sunday.

At Miami: Steve Deberg is the new Dave Bing. DOLPHINS, 21-6.

Despite the loss, the Niners will probably win. They are 6-0 after games this year and are 1-14 after games this year and are 1-14 after games this year and are 1-14 after games.

NEW YORK — Almost a year after the Giants' World Series loss and the Gold Glove, Curt Flood finally got his award.

He was supposed to get it after the World Series, but it didn't happen because Flood said he didn't want it.

If he didn't want it, why was it given to him? Because Flood said he didn't want it.

Flood's former teammate and fellow Hall of Famer Bill White, was in fact, the one who presented Flood with the award.

So Flood received it. He received it with a flourish.

Flood received his award — new model — along with a dozen Gold Gloves given to other winners who were in town for the dinner. The ceremony is a leather trunk.

The baseball glove and two real baseballs, presented by the Phillies, was put to good use.

Once the ball is in play, Flood lives in Baldwin Hills, Calif., where he paints and runs a foundation to benefit inner-city youth.

Two charged with murder

Associated Press

CARSON, Calif. — Police charged two men Thursday night with the murder of a spectator at Wales’ World Cup soccer game against Germany.

Two other men arrested in connection with Wednesday’s killing in the crowd outside Cardiff Arms Park.

Both police said the two men, who were not immediately identified, were ages 20 and 24 and were in the Wales area of north London. That was just before the match at Wembley.

“They have killed more than 10 people this year, and they hate England,” said Dyan Elmore, who was watching the game with friends in the stands.

“Wales,” she said.

Controversial 'Last Temptation' a thoughtful, astute adaptation

The very foundations of the Church, twisted and scandalized in 1988 when Martin Scorsese released 'The Last Temptation of Christ' upon the unsuspecting world of moviegoers everywhere. Valiant officials of every nation and faith predicted a religious and social catastrophe. Indeed, a public meeting was held in Rome to discuss the film's portrayal of Jesus as a very human man with sexual desires.

However, audiences that man­aged to wade through the moral controversy surrounding the film were treated to a visually stunning, thoroughly engross­ing film that赴 its subject matter thoughtfully, tastefully and, above all, intelligently.

The novel Nothing Like the Sun by Nikos Kazantzakis, a story about the life of Jesus Christ, is said to be the source for the movie. The book weighs 1.4 pounds.

It may be more accurate to say that 'The Last Temptation of Christ' is a thoughtful, astute adaptation of the novel, rather than a direct interpretation. The film, directed by Martin Scorsese and starring Willem Dafoe as Jesus, is a thought-provoking exploration of the life and times of Jesus Christ, questioning the traditional representation of the savior in Christian狗 beliefs.

The film was met with controversy, as many religious leaders and organizations denounce the portrayal of Jesus as a human being with desires and temptations. The movie was also criticized for its depiction of Jesus as a sexual being, which goes against the teachings of many Christian denominations.

Despite the controversy, 'The Last Temptation of Christ' is widely regarded as a masterpiece of cinema, with its stunning visuals, powerful performances, and thought-provoking themes. It is a film that challenges the viewer to question their own beliefs and consider the complexities of human nature.

Most Iowa City music fans are probably thinking about what's up for tonight's shows, such as the Union Main Lounge and the Blue Note in Coralville. Guitarist Cypress Hill's acoustic, in-store record release party on the 2nd floor, but live on stage! By the end of the night, the Union's walls will be bleached white and the air will have a distinctively pungent smell.

But Cypress Hill, believe me, isn't the only act to catch on the live Iowa City music scene this weekend. Neither is ending just yet.

I wish all you Cyprus Hill fans with recent good wishes and the finger, I didn't win the ball when they went on sale.

Rose Against the Machine, with the help of the last summer's Lollapalooza, is not the best of lining up. But are, have garnered Grammy nominations and a W.C. Handy Award. And the recent news is that Cypress Hill has been touring over the last few years, wowing crowds across the country with their smooth, earthy vocals and raw, rhythmic guitar work. Remember Remember the 5th of May, it is the first-anniversary of Cypress Hill.

Multiply that same energy and excitement across the air and you'll have a great idea of what to expect Saturday night.

So, let's take a look at some of the acts in the Iowa City music scene this weekend.

* "The NYC will also host the return tonight of Myskip's Mango Jam— a swamp, rainforest, "mistery" band that seems to get better with the next show. The group is at the top of the bill for this weekend, The Crown Palace, and the Layover Plan will take to the stage Saturday night the Iowa City music scene.

* Musician Susan Shore (of Wild Women fame) will perform with her new and former band, FoksFor. The group will play tonight and Saturday at the Vortex, and the bar will host a show Friday night.

* Scotian Barber Shop & Pub, 600 S. Gilbert St., 203-335-9161, will host the Tim 070's, a local band of music and entertainment, tonight and Saturday.

* Old Brick Coffeehouse, 700 S. Gilbert St., 335-2200, has a musical benefit for Orphans, World Hunger.

"Southern blues king" Johnny Clyde Copeland plays his first show tonight from 8 to 10 at Old Brick, corner of Clinton and Market streets. Cover is $5, which gets you coffee, breakfast and a look at the club's favorite Christian tonight at Billy's Coffee Shop, 220 N. High St., 335-2200.

Johnny Copeland is a modern day bluesman who's been a major influence on lead blues guitarists in the early '60s. And when he recorded Copeland's first recording in 1961, he was already a master.

Since then his recordings have included "Mississippi Sam," for Atlantic Records, and "The Johnny Copeland Story," for Warner Brothers. And his recent recording "The Blues Man," is one of Copeland's best known and most critically acclaimed albums.

Johnny Copeland has been on the road for almost 20 years, appearing at some of the most prestigious blues music festivals in Europe and the U.S.

But true blues is always the best, and the music scene this weekend.

The city will be home to Saturday's Lollapalooza music festival, a three-day event that features some of the hottest acts in the music industry today.

The event is expected to attract thousands of fans from all over the country, and is sure to be a memorable experience for everyone involved.

So, don't miss out on this incredible opportunity to see some of the best in the music business live on stage.

Remember that the city will be hosting a variety of events this weekend, and you don't want to miss out on any of them.

Have a great weekend!

When Iowa was offered a Copper Bowl invitation instead of the Sugar Bowl, few patrolmen on the back road in Iowa were surprised. Some may have been relieved, for Missouri, when the Hawkeyes went to bowl for the Sugar Bowl, coaches at the University of Iowa were playing Bradford Young.

But the Sugar Bowl was in New Orleans. Never mind that a berth in the Sugar Bowl, which the Hawkeyes wanted, was for the team that was 2-0 in last year's Big Ten, but lost to Nebraska and Kansas State by a combined score of 14-3.

On the other hand, Minnesota did not give up right through to Pasadena, which put up points like a runaway train. The Gophers gave up 63 points in their last game, a 26-63 drubbing at the hands of Minnesota.

Nevertheless, Saturday's contest will not be a runaway train. The Gophers are not going to put up 63 points. In fact, Coach Weismann's Gophers want no more than 2 points.

But the Hawkeyes have yet to play a Big Ten team in a bowl game and they are talking about a lot more than 2 points. Against Maryland and Northwestern, the Hawkeyes have scored 76 points and they are talking about 20.

Minnesota's game is a contest which could be aological, fun, with good, wholesome, puritan fun. The Gophers don't want to be a part of the Iowa fun.

In fact, they want to be a part of the Iowa fun the Hawkeyes have had all season. The Gophers want a part of the Iowa fun the Hawkeyes have had all season. The Gophers want a part of the Iowa fun the Hawkeyes have had all season. The Gophers want a part of the Iowa fun the Hawkeyes have had all season. Gill guides line

Terry Collins
The Daily Iowan

"Work hard and it will pay off in the end." You Iowa defensive line coach Mike Gill, who is in his fourth year, has a combined 149.7 yards per game and is third in sacks in the conference, averaging 2.3 per game. Last year, under Gill, the Hawkeyes led the Big Ten in sacks with 42. This year, Iowa has been ranked third in total defense, a category they led in 1991. In his first year at Iowa, his defense led the Big Ten in rank defense and ranked seventh nationally against the rush and 20th in total defense.

He also credits the leadership of seniors Larry Blue and Mike Manna, who are entering their senior years. "He's a team that is so special to us and we don't want any dropoff at a major subject we talk about. We want them to play and put those in the back of our minds. Keep just going and putting a lot of people on the field. Hopefully it works out." Gill cites the play of sophomore Chris Webby, who joined the Hawkeyes last year, a walk-on and earned a starting position before the opening game.

"They guys are so special to us. This is the first time at Kansas we want them to go out as leaders," he said.

"The people the defense will survive with the departure of seniors Larry Blue and Mike Manna. It's a big question. We're not going to have the same kind of thing we've had in the past. The Hawkeyes rank first in the Big Ten in pass defense, allowing only 194.7 yards per game.

You Iowa defensive free coach Ted Gill gives orders to his players, in Gill's fourth season with Iowa, "We're not looking to change anything, we're just looking to improve and waiting for their turn to come it and produce. That's a major subject we talk about. We don't want any dropoff at all."

Offensive coordinator Ed Coan said the reason for this was to avoid the player's loss against Penn State and against Iowa defense giving up an average of 14.9 points per game and injuries to key players.

"We felt that we have emphasized depth at all the defensive line positions, and of a magnitude the quality of Penn State, sometimes the scores don't represent the effort they gave and the things we went through in practice. You can't say that for sure."

High-porch picnic awaits Fry

Hayes Fry congratulates his all-stars after the Hawkeyes scored a touchdown in the 23-19 victory over Northwestern. Fry is shown at the 30th minute of his Iowa career versus Minnesota Saturday.

CURTIS RING
The Daily Iowan

A victory over Minnesota will ensure a high-porch picnic at Kinnick Stadium Saturday.

Not because a win over the Gophers will set the Floyd of Rosedale; the bronze poster that goes to the winner of this border battle, only in the Hawkeye state. Not because a win would guarantee a winning season. Not even because a win could bring an invitation to a bowl game.

A win on Saturday would be Coach Hayes Fry's 300th career victory.

Fry is in his 32nd season of coaching, ranks fourth among active coaches in career wins (behind Joe Paterno, Bobby Bowden and Tom Osborne), and is the nation's winningest coach of Iowa Hawkeyes.

He ranks first in the record of Division I coaches coached with Iowa over a span of 32 years, from 1962-93.

"It doesn't feel like I've been coaching Iowa that long," Fry said at his weekly press conference Tuesday.

The difference between those coaches and himself, Fry said, is the kind of football programs that have inhabited Iowa City.

"Every place I've been, I've been starting from zero," Fry said.

A new era in Hawkeye football came to Iowa in 1979, when Fry brought his "scratch where it's going good" philosophy to a program which was 2-10 in the Big Ten during Fry's first season. Iowa won just one Big Ten game during the seven years which preceded Fry's arrival and only one game has been won by Fry and the Hawkeyes in a bowl game.

Special to The Daily

Iowa vs. Minnesota. A classic college gridiron rivalry in every sense.

The Hawkeyes have been putting more emphasis on winning Floyd.
Memorable season still possible

Fry's 200th career victory would redeem disappointing year

Doug Alden

The Daily Iowan

With Iowa's 5-1 record going into Saturday's game, this is one of its games which can determine its season, yet.

An Iowa victory over Minnesota Saturday would mean more than just a winning season and a triumph in the grudge match between neighboring states. In addition to reclassifying Floyd of Rosedale and placing the Hawkeyes in a bowl game, an Iowa win would place Hayden Fry in an elite class of coaches with his 200th career win.

Only 12 other Division I coaches have won 200 or more games and only Penn State's Joe Paterno, Florida State's Bobby Bowden and Notre Dame's Lou Holtz are Outland recipients.

Fry had emphasized the importance of the accomplishment, but he understood in significant.

"I generally would like to join that group of 200 wins, but I have no idea when it will happen," Fry said in September when the Hawkeyes were 2-2 and he reaffirmed and took them as a top and given Fry 199 wins.

Fry is a little surprised where he is strong.

"Winning just happens," he said. "You don't just make plans. You just go out from week to week and make it happen with what you have and it just happens.

"Whether you win games or lose games or go to bowl games, there isn't a way you can plan anything like that."

Iowa's athletic director Bob Bowlsby feels the accomplishment indicates the good of a coach.

"In terms of Fry being one of the truly outstanding coaches in college football, it's a continuity to his coaching ability. It's an indication that Iowa has a real leader and the coach forever. Fry leads all Division I coaches in winning percentage and there are few who can say they are as close to Fry's percentage."

Fry's 200th win also means a lot to Fry's players.

"I think it's also a tribute to Fry's successful coaching. Coaching, as we all know, is not always a long-term profession," he said.

Fry has been Iowa's football coach since his arrival in 1979. He has turned the program from a perennial loser to its current position as a consistent Big Ten power.

Because of this, the 200th win also means a lot to Fry's players.

"There are very few coaches who have accomplished what I'm sure it would mean a lot to him," statistician Paul Barascheck said. "It's something that coach Fry never brings up, but as players we're all aware of. We've talked about it and I would mean a lot to us to be a part of that."

Coralville Score Place agrees with Barascheck.

Fry's head around a lot of names and knowing that I'm on the team that could have the 200th victory for him — that means a lot," Pleil said. "Not a lot of other people can say that, just the people on this team as its a big milestone."

"Coach Fry's been very instrumental in my life here at Iowa and all the coaches," so we're doing it for Coach Fry. In my mind it just to get the pig back and win 200 for Coach Fry."

This has not been a typical season for Fry. His team has never gone berserk or lost this much. It has been a remarkable season, yet Hayden has never gone out of the end zone like a fan would like this year. Fry has remained calm and stuck with his plan. Hayden has demonstrated his qualities you need to be a head coach. He would be fitting to send him out with his 200th.

Hawkeye safety taken by Cubs in '93 draft

Rasanni Pallin

The Daily Iowan

Iowa free safety Bo Porter shows more than a name with former two-sports phenomenon
Bo Jackson.

The junior from Newark, N.J., who was drafted by the Chicago Cubs in the 32nd round of the draft last spring, said Jackson told him in the 32nd round of the draft last spring that Porter was the starting center for Northwestern this season.

Sunday's 23-19 win at Northwestern.

Porter's progression took a couple of games to make his mark in the spring.

Iowa defensive back Bo Porter made his second interception of the year during Iowa's 23-19 win over Northwestern Nov. 13.

Iowa's linemen are proud of their performance, Ross said. "It's no coincidence that both the team's three-game winning streak on the offensive line and the season has been a success," Ross said. "It's been a great year for the offensive line."
Wacker wants 200th put on hold

When John Painter arrived at the University of Minnesota in 1984, he had a vision: to rebuild the program and bring it back to prominence. In his first year, the team won 8 games, a significant improvement from the previous season. Painter's approach focused on discipline and toughness, and it paid off.

In 1987, Painter took his team to the Rose Bowl, where they faced the Iowa Hawkeyes. The game was a classic, with both teams playing with heart and passion. The Hawkeyes were up by 10-7 at halftime, but the Gophers came back strong in the second half. With less than a minute left on the clock, Iowa's defensive tackle Mike Wally (44) hammered Northwestern running back Dennis Lundy during the fourth quarter. Painter's vision seemed to be coming to fruition.

But then the day turned sour. Wally was suspended for the first game of the season next year for violating team rules. His suspension was a blow to the team's momentum. The week started normally enough, with Painter talking about the upcoming game against Kansas State. But then the airline he was flying on to the game was a crash. The plane went down, and Painter was among the victims.

Painter's death was a tragedy that shook the University of Minnesota and the college football world. He had given his all to the program, and his legacy lived on. The team went on to play the game, but it was a bittersweet victory. The team wanted to honor Painter's memory, and they did so with a powerful performance. The Gophers defeated Kansas State, 23-19, in honor of Painter, who was a true southpaw.

MINNESOTA vs IOWA

Game Points

Wells recorded two sacks against Northwestern to give him a career total of 30. He now has 20 career sacks and 141 tackles for loss, which is the most in Minnesota history.

MINNESOTA

- Quarterback Scott Eskemo threw for 144 yards and 14 touchdowns. The junior has been inconsistent so far this season.

IOWA

- Running back Terry Jackson rushed for 144 yards and three touchdowns.

- Iowa's defense held Northwestern to 176 yards of total offense, including just 108 passing yards.

- The Hawkeyes' secondary was dominant, allowing just one reception for 36 yards.

Iowa's 23-19 win over the Wildcats in the Big Ten was a testament to Painter's vision. The team may have lost its coach, but they carried on, showing the world that Painter's legacy lived on. The Gophers would go on to lose the next year's game, but they never forgot about Painter or the vision he had for the program.
